

OREGON ENTERS TRIANGLE MEET

Debaters Will Face Idaho and British Columbia

FORENSIC WORK LISTED

Women to Contest O. A. C. and Willamette

The question of recognition of Soviet Russia, which is creating so much interest just at this time, will be the subject of the triangular debate to be held next Friday, January 18, between the Universities of Oregon, British Columbia, and Idaho.

The four men who will uphold Oregon in the triangle are Ralph Bailey, Joe Frazer, Walter Malcolm, and Marion Diekey. They have all had experience in varsity work, having won the state championship by defeating O. A. C. and Reed in the triangular meet last term.

Affirmative Team Here

Bailey and Frazer will stay here and make up the affirmative team to meet British Columbia's negative, while Malcolm and Diekey, Oregon's negative will travel to Moscow to meet the Idaho affirmative.

The world court question will come up for argument later on, when Oregon will meet the University of Washington and Stanford in one contest and the University of California in another.

A squad of 12 men is at work on the world court question, and from this squad, the coaches will next Saturday, select the four who have shown up best in the work.

Wemen's Meet Planned

Much the same plan is being carried out in preparation for the women's triangle debate scheduled for February 15 with Willamette and O. A. C.

The eliminations for the women's team are being made this week from among the following women aspirants: Ellen McClellan, Dorothy Abbott, Margaret Woodson, Lela Wade, Cecil McKecher, May Helliwell, Mary Raker, Mildred Whitecomb, Mildred Cecil McKecher, May Helliwell, Mary Raker, Mildred Whitecomb, Mildred Newman.

RESEARCH DONE NEAR BASEMENT ENTRANCE

Classes of Dr. O. F. Stafford Study Utilizing of Wood Waste; Remodeling Room

A boiler, a gas burner, an ash can, and some smaller pieces of apparatus make up the chemistry department's small laboratory standing just outside of the basement entrance to McClure hall. They are being used for some research work on wood waste being carried on by Dr. O. F. Stafford's classes.

As yet no conclusions or results have been drawn from the experiment. The work has been carried on for the last 12 weeks and it is being continued through this semester.

The new chemistry laboratory which will occupy the south end of the basement of McClure is still under construction. Work is progressing slowly on it.

PROGRAM FEATURES CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

engagement at the infirmary which is filled with patients who are heartily of Theta Sigma Phi doughnuts, he left early.

Lora Teshner, playing a cello solo; Professor John Seifert, of the school of music, singing solos, and Camille Burton giving a dancing number, added interesting variations to the regular program.

If Junior Seton and Eugene Kelly had talked louder, there would be more to say of an otherwise interesting dialogue.

Perhaps the most unique and novel part of the program was the tumbling act given in series by students of the men's physical education department.

The Tau Kappa Alpha cup was awarded to Friendly hall, winners in the men's doughnut debate league by Paul Patterson; the Zeta Kappa Psi cup, for the women champion debaters, and the Tau Kappa Alpha cup given to the campus champion debaters were both awarded to Delta Zeta, by Frances Simpson.

One other cup was awarded, the inter-mural basketball cup, won this year by Phi Gamma Delta. It was awarded by President P. L. Campbell.

FREE VACCINATION NOW GIVEN AT INFIRMARY

Smallpox Danger Considered Great by Dr. Livingston; Oregon Figures are High

"As the students doubtless know, there have been a good many cases of smallpox in this state, and though the University has been fortunate enough to escape it the last year or two, frequent vaccination is very advisable," said Dr. W. K. Livingston, head of the University health service.

"Figures for Oregon in regard to smallpox are a disgrace in comparison to the figures shown by states where vaccination is compulsory," said Dr. Livingston.
