NEWSPAPER MEN TO HAVE MEETING

Program For Sixth Annual Conference on Campus Rapidly Being Completed

DEAN ALLEN WILL SPEAK

February 15 and 16 Date Set For Affair; Course in Newswriting is Planned

Plans for the sixth annual conference of Oregon newspaper men, to be held February 15 and 16 on the campus, are rapidly nearing completion. A conference of the faculty has been called for today to talk over matters pertaining to the event. Professional journalistic problems of the state, including those of the business office and the advertising department, will be discussed, and several faculty members will give addresses.

Leap Year Tea for Mere Men Is Girls' Latest

All Sorts of Dainties Included In Menu

"Leap-year teas" don't happen every year. So that is why the event scheduled for Thursday is to be such an outstanding affair in the social calendar of the week.

With such a title the men of the University must know it is for their special benefit. And so it is, and they are especially urged to attend the affair which will be held in the Y. W. C. A. Bungalow from 2 to 6 o'clock, Thursday af-

At the "Leap-Year Tea-room" there will be served all varieties of sweets and confections, the complete menu being announced later. Special music is to be given says May Fan Vurpillat, in charge.

COACH WANTS MORE MEN

Any Man Willing to Work Faithfully Can Make His Letter, Says Bill Hayward

Oregon has two track stars of national reputations and several men who are sure point winners in any meet, yet in spite of that fact, according to Bill Hayward, the chances of a winning track team this spring are not too good. "More men, more men," Bill exclaimed. "There are good men on this campus who should be reporting out in suits, and for some reason they are not doing it," he said.

Training Vital Factor

Training is a vital factor, in fact one might say, the vital factor Bill states, and now is the time to start this training. The bright weather of the past two days has brought one or two ambitious men out; and has considerably heartened those who have been grinding away for the past few months during the time when old man winter has had his say. For the time being the work in the inside quarters has been Five Men Drop Team Work; Beta Team Outplays Delts abandoned; but the material is handy and will quickly be installed if needed.

More Men Needed

"There is a time in almost every man's college career," says Bill, "When it is possible for a track he trains faithfully." With this incentive, as well as for the love of the sport alone a good many men are turning out; but there is room for several times as many, and according to Bill, himself, he would welcome every one who comes out with the determination to "stay with the game."
