Decision Necessary Out of Justice to Committee: Students Urged to Act

By A. S. R.

Wednesday night the question of Oregon's Junior week-end ought to be settled. Ever since the first evidence of an agitation to abolish the usual May-time festivities showed itself, student body officials, Emerald executives, and Junior week-end committeemen have been wondering what would happen. It was a case of "everybody's business is nobody's business."

Now comes the announcement from the student body president's office that a ballot will be held from 9 to 4:30 Wednesday in the lobby of the and the other Stuart Walker plays to regular members. library. the advocates of modification, that the play will be the words of the Old the canoe fete and the junior prom be held at usual but that they be made entirely campus affairs. This would permit the maintenance of two traditional events yet would eliminate the rush and the worry that usually accompanies the actual staging of the two main events of the week-end.

One of the main arguments for Junior week-end is the publicity that it brings to the University. Reports from Portland and other centers in EXTENSION DIVISION HEAD the state seem to indicate that Junior week-end labels the University as E. F. Baseball, Golf and Numerous Things Announce Spring

Wild Throws Threaten Pioneer's Safety

Spring has "came." Well, perhaps not really, since it's only January, but anyway, it's coming. How can one tell? Oh, that's easy! Haven't the A. T. O.'s been seen out practising golf and handball in their back yard. Or hasn't one wandered up past the library about 12:45 and watched a group of energetic freshmen (and others) enjoying the rare sport of doing a standing broadjump from the lower library steps, and then having heated discussions over whose toes extended the farthest across the goal line scratched in the dirt?

If one didn't see all this, he should have. And if he did, he probably also saw five or six Friendly hall men tossing a ball which threatened to dislodge the Pioneer from his vantage point in the bleachers.

Truly, if spring hasn't "came" already, it's coming.

EUGENE HIGH TO BATTLE FROSH

Freshman Squad Competes This Afternoon at 4:30 In Men's Gymnasium

YEARLINGS WIN GAMES

Regular Line Up Will Be Used in Game: Kiminki Back in Guard Position

The freshman quintet will be hosts to the Eugene high school five in the men's gymnasium this afternoon at 4:30. A tiff is also being arranged for the same time Wednesday with the hoopers from the University high school.

Both these squads ought to give the first year men some fast competition. Last year the University high five walked away with the state championship at Salem. This year they have two of the squad back and a list of fairly good substitutes.

Eugene High Strong

Eugene high defeated the University high five, and probably has a better chance against the yearlings. The Eugene high team is coached by Spike Leslie, former Oregon football and baseball wiz-

Kiminki is undoubtedly the fastest man on the squad. He reminds one of Frank Alm, guard on the green cap team two years ago. Kiminki was unable to play in the last two games due to an injured eve, but should be ready for the next three combats.

Reinhart and Hughes looked well in the Medford and Lincoln games. Several- times Reinhart broke through the defense of his opponents and plunked the gong for two points.

Schmeer, Dallas, Chiles, and Schroeder got chances to work this last week-end and fit into the lineup in good shape. Evans is assured of some good second line material whenever he has to replace a man.

Following the games with the Aggie Rooks, the freshmen will be idle until the southern trip, February 14, 15, and 16, which will take them to Roseburg, Medford, and Ashland.

No Surcease from Sorrow; Income Tax Follows Fees

It's just one thing after another. Now that the students have just finished showering their wealth on the University for registration and lab fees, along comes an official letter, to many of them, wanting to know in plain truth the amount of their yearly income ..

No matter how many times the letter is looked over, the outstanding words used in the epistle and the inclosed blanks are "income" tax." Students, college, and income tax! What a queer complex. The campus mail has been loaded down the last day or two with these messages from the state tax commission.

Any onlooker who might have been around yesterday noon might have been disturbed. For the hungry mobs who tore home after eleven o'clock classes were dismissed yesterday morning, expecting to find the weekly home letter, gave such gasps, sighs, moans, and startled looks after receiving their mail that the onlooker would have been convinced that exams or some other equally terrifying catastrophes were looming.

There will probably be some frenzied looking persons capering over the campus now. But there is a consolation. The faculty members are getting the letters too. It all comes about by being on the state pay roll list.

Monday Will Mark Entry into Race. First Tangle Is Planned With Huskies

The third week of conference basketball finds the University of Washington resting at the top of the column with two wins and no defeats. By administering a 34 to 22 drubbing to the Montana outfit and later downing the Aggies by a 27-20 count, the Huskies came out of the mediocre class and loom as contenders for the conference honors. At present, it looks as though Coach "Heck" Edmunson has built up a dangerous machine from the remnants of last year's team which lost the section championship to Idaho.
