

ROSE MCGREW PRAISES OPERA

"Hour Hand" Said to be Full of Pep and Sparkle

QUAINT DIALOGUE USED

Member of Music Faculty Finds Human Appeal

"The opera is full of youth, sparkle, and pep," said Madame Rose McGrew, of the school of music, in speaking of "The Hour Hand," which is to be presented tomorrow night at the Heilig theater by school of music students.

"Mrs. Beck, the composer, has been exceptionally interesting and original with her theme and has clung closely to the characteristic traditional music of the country," continued Madame McGrew. The dialogue easily exemplifies the quaint and old-fashioned speech of the Swiss people and the situations are plain, true and homely as found in any Alpine village.

Patriotism Shown

The characters are true to life, especially the old clockmaker whose prominence in the village is very characteristic of Switzerland. One of the difficult situations in the opera is the struggle of the young nobleman between Switzerland, the country of his birth, and Austria, his mother's country. His wish for power and love of money, as well as his desire for the respect of the Swiss people, at last leads to intrigue which causes keen suspense throughout the performance and is solved only at the close.

"Mrs. Beck has done a splendid thing for us," said Madame McGrew, "for she has brought the lives of the Swiss people so close to us. Few people know very much of Switzerland except what they have read in books, and by putting it on the stage she has made the human appeal so strong that the many ideals and characteristics are easily understood by the audience."

Madame McGrew Assisting

Madame McGrew, who is the stage director for "The Hour Hand," sang the lead in "Les Renz des Vasches," a heavy and wonderful Swiss opera produced in Germany several years ago. The same opera was recently produced by the Metropolitan Opera company.

Ted Gillenwaters, manager, announced late yesterday that the tickets are selling fast. All seats must be reserved. The box office is now open, so for any one who has not already reserved his seat it is very important that he do so at once.

FROSH GLEE WILL BE BRILLIANT OCCASION

Original Features Are Promised by Chairman; Decorations Are Kept Secret

"The Frosh Glee is to be held this Friday night in the armory. University students are urged to make dates as soon as possible and plan to attend, for the glee will be the most brilliant event of the winter term," said Robert Love, chairman of the affair, when interviewed yesterday. "The decorative committee is working overtime to make the old hall into a new place. Our features are absolutely original and in keeping with the spirit of the affair. The music will be so arranged as to give the greatest possible volume; and the floor will be in such a condition as to make dancing nearly effortless."

The Freshmen resolutely refuse to divulge the nature of their decorations, and only reiterate that they will be worth seeing.

George Mead, who was originally appointed chairman of the committee to secure patrons, has withdrawn from school, and his place has been filled by Holt Slaughter.

Patrons and patronesses for the glee will be: Governor and Mrs. Walter M. Pierce, Pres. and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Walker, Dean and Mrs. Henry D. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. George Gerlinger, Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Dean and Mrs. George Rebec, Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Dean and Mrs. W. G. Hale, Dean and Mrs. E. W. Allen, Dean and Mrs. Colin V. Dymont, Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. DeCon, Dean and Mrs. J. F. Bovard, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Benefiel.

Eastern Paper Publishes Story from Emerald

Blind Golf Player is Subject of Item

Around the country and back again—or the tale of a news story which did not die the day it was printed.

On November 24 of last year, the Emerald carried the story of Edward Robbins, blind journalism major, who is making an attempt to learn to play golf.

A few days ago comes a clipping from the Philadelphia American, sent by the Lawrence clipping bureau of Pennsylvania, in which the story is reprinted in somewhat abbreviated form.

The story in the eastern newspaper says in part:

"Edward Robbins, blind student of the school of journalism of the University of Oregon, believes that if Joe Kirkwood and Chick Evans can hit 'em while blindfolded, there is no reason why he should not become a golfer."

The story goes on to explain the method used by Robbins in playing the game.

RIFLE TEAMS START MATCHES NEXT WEEK

Women to Compete With U. of W.; Men's Schedule Includes Meet With O. A. C.

Intercollegiate rifle matches for both men's and women's teams commence next week and squad members are urged to turn in as many targets as possible this week as team members who will take part in the matches will be selected from those turning in targets this week.

The women will shoot against the University of Washington team next week and scores will be exchanged at the end of the week.

The schedule for the men's team during the week ending February 9, is as follows: University of Washington, Drexel Institute, O. A. C. and University of California.

The team to fire in the competition the following week will be selected from those members of the squad making the best record the preceding week.

Members of the women's rifle team posed for their picture yesterday afternoon on the steps on the south side of the Woman's building.

DISCUSSION MEETINGS TO START FEBRUARY 4

Faculty Members Chosen to Lead Groups

Beginning with Monday evening, February 4, a group of women's groups on the campus will start a series of discussion gatherings. Each house has chosen a faculty representative to lead the discussions. The committee arranging the work is stressing the idea that the meetings be held each Monday night just before house meeting. In this way it is hoped that there will be a larger number of women present at the discussions.

A book, "The Crisis," by Sherwood Eddy, will be used by the groups. The book is divided into two parts, the first dealing with economic problems, and the second with moral and Christian phases. Mr. Eddy was a speaker at the recent student volunteer convention in Indianapolis.

The leaders in each house may choose the part of the book they desire.

The houses and their leaders listed are as follows: Alpha Omicron Pi, Professor F. S. Dunn; Delta Gamma, Mrs. Bruce Giffen; Alpha Xi Delta, Professor A. R. Sweetser; Susan Campbell hall, Miss Mary Perkins; Gamma Phi Beta, Miss Florence Magowan; Alpha Chi Omega, Rev. Bruce Giffen; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Dean Virginia Judy Esterly; Kappa Alpha Theta, Miss Louise Fitch; Pi Beta Phi, Miss Mozelle Hair.

Houses which have expressed a desire to take up the discussions but which have not as yet named faculty leaders are: Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Omicron, Delta Zeta, Delta Omega, and Hendricks hall.

At the Theatres

REX

One of the most fascinating and entertaining stories which we have ever seen is on view for last times today at the Rex theater. It is "The Song of Love," starring the magnetic Norma Talmadge, and it would be difficult to visualize a role more fitting for the star. It is one of the finest and most artistic performances to her credit.

Miss Talmadge plays the part of an Arabian dancing girl who becomes the center of devious intrigues and conspiracies.

Joseph Schildkraut, one of the sensations of the Broadway stage, is Miss Talmadge's leading man.

"The Song of Love" was adapted from Margaret Peterson's novel, "Dust of Desire," was directed by Chester Franklin and Francis Marion.

In its presentation of this newest Norma Talmadge production, the Rex has arranged a colorful Arabian prologue in which Johanna James, soprano supreme, is heard in a dramatic rendition of "For All Eternity."

Special stage settings and harmonious lighting effects form a striking background for this newest Rex specialty, which precedes the showing of the picture at 7:20 and 9:20 p. m. again tonight.

CASTLE

One of the most delicious comedies which it has ever been our pleasure to see is on view at the Castle theater today, Thursday and Friday. It is "Painted People," a First National picture featuring Colleen

BACHELORDON DEFEATS BETA HANDBALL TEAM

Hard-played Contest Was Well Matched; Phi Psi is Also Victorious in Tilt

In a very evenly contested match, the Bachelordon handball team was victorious over the Beta Theta Pi combination, by a score of 21-14, 21-15. The winning aggregation was made up by Patterson and Garner, while playing on the Beta team were Beatie and Westergren. The game was hard-played throughout, but due to superior team work and a well-timed drive, the Bachelordon pair emerged victors in both tilts. It was a contest between two looming championship contenders, in which team work, reserve, and speed, were the deciding factors. Having won from the fast Beta team, the Bachelordon aggregation will probably remain leaders in their league for the remainder of the tournament.

In the contest between the Phi Kappa Psi team, made up with Hunt and Cook, and the Phi Sigma Pi representatives, Lawler and Trowbridge, the Phi Psi were victorious
