TRACK TRAINING IS UNDER WAY

'Bill' Wants More Hurdles; Only Four Men Signed Up For Timber Events

VAULTERS WORK INSIDE

Saturday Meets to Break Practice Grind During Long Winter Months

Rain means nothing in Coach Hayward's life—except added difficulties. Now that all the men except the pole vaulters are working on the track at Hayward field, training is under way with a seriousness that is usually found in mid-season. Even a graveled box has been fixed for the discus throwers and shot putters that will insure firm footing when rain has covered the rest of the field. Bill says, "I won't stop for anything from now on."

Yet rain isn't the only thing that is worrying Oregon's track coach at the present time. With 57 men signed up and turning out for varsity track there are only four men signed up for the hurdles. At the present time L. Anderson, Rosebraugh, Krausse, and Lucas are the only men who have signified their intentions of working in this event.

Coach Has Hard Life

"Must have more men for the hurdles," Bill says. He is trying out men from the rest of the events. "I'll find some, if the hurdles hold out," Bill remarked as he watched a husky shot putter trying his luck. The shot-putter didn't break any legs, but splintered the top of the hurdle—and decided that he wouldn't be much help to the coach, as a hurdler. Several others are doing better but Bill expressed the hope that if any person in school had a desire to try himself as hurdler, either with experience or without, that he would come out now, for he will be devoting a good bit of his time to the coaching of this event in the next few weeks.

Yes indeed, verily the way of a track coach is hard, and Coach Hayward is no exception to the rule. One freshman candidate last night asked him for a new pair of warm-up pants. "What's the matter with them?" Bill asked, looking them over.

"They're soiled and they're getting baggy at the knees," replied the embryo athlete. "Bring 'em up and I'll press them for you," Bill answered without cracking a smile. The young man seemed satisfied, but he didn't say when he would report with the trousers.

Meet Comes Saturday

The sprinters were working on take offs last night. The coming meet and helping to break the monotony of the usually long training season, next Saturday is heartening the men Hayward plans to run all the sprint men in the 100 yard dash, then to give the half milers and 440 men a chance to demonstrate their ability in the 440. Also the shot putters and the high jump aspirants will have real competition. The meet will be gin sharply at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

Audience Sees Intricacies of Modeling the "Doughboy"

Sketching in the action of the figure with modeling clay on a framework of lead pipe and wire, building up muscles, blocking in the bulk of steel helmet and gas mask—so Avarad Fairbanks, professor of sculpture at the University, last night made a three-foot replica of his famous "Idaho Doughboy" before an audience in Villard hall. The modeling demonstration was held under the auspices of the University sculpture club as a benefit to bring to the west W. Frank Purdy, director of the American School of Sculpture in New York City.

"Great works of art eventually come to the people," said Mr. Fair-

Detour Sign on Laboratory Door Affects Scribes

"No Throughfare! Detour to floor below!" The above sign appeared on the door of the science laboratory on the second floor of the journalism building not long ago and as a result students have had to stifle their original inclinations to step on the gas and take the shortest road home to lunch, and instead they go in reverse, back up, say a few words under their breath such as any autoist might use in like circumstances and take the detour. And not only when leaving a class but when arriving some five minutes late, the same round about way must be taken as science professors have complained that the arriving and departing students have been a disturbance to classes being held in the laboratories.

Well—it may be comedy to the janitor, but it's tragedy to the late arrival.

VARSITY SWIMMERS

MEET FROSH TONIGHT

Event to Show Fahl Good Material For Team

The varsity-frosh swimming meet which was announced in yesterday's Emerald for Wednesday evening will be held tonight in the Woman's building tank at 7:30.

This meet will, without a doubt be close, as Coach "Rudy" Fahl will pick his varsity team from those that make the best showing in the meet. Don Park has been working his proteges overtime in order that they will be able to walk off with the fat end of the score. As the men are not in the best of condition the distances for the different events have been reduced.

Harry A. Scott will act as referee for the meet. Others who will aid as judges are "Hank" Foster, Dave Evans, Earl Widmer, Jim Cossman, "Rudy" Fahl and Don Park.

Palmer is the best varsity man in the 40-yard event, but he will without a doubt be closely pressed by Stone of the frosh. Yoran is showing up well in the backstroke and Stone, the only entry for the frosh, will have to get in dig to pass the varsity man.

As the frosh have no entry in the breast stroke, Sinclair, a protege of Fahl's, will give an exhibition. In practice Sinclair can do the 100 in 1:25, and probably tonight will hang up a new mark.

In the 80-yard dash it looks like a real battle between Palmer, of the varsity and Lombard, of the frosh. Both men are good swimmers and this should be a real dual to see who will carry off the blue ribbon. In the dives the varsity will be represented by Horsfall, McCabe and Angell, while the frosh will have Stone and Lee to uphold their end. There evidently will be keen competition in this event, as the men know the technical points of diving.

Horsfall will probably be the only entry for the varsity in the 200-yard event, as Herron is out with a strained back. Lombard and Alderman will swim for the "Babes" in this event. In the plunge Wiswall has a slight edge over Heider, his colleague. They

DR. WINSHIP GETS IDEAS IN TRAVELS

Assembly Lecturer Editor of Journal of Education and Authority in Field

SPEAKER WRITES BOOKS

Vigorous Talker Nearing 79 Years of Age; Degree of Doctor of Laws Held

Dr. Albert Edward Winship, the speaker at assembly today, has been characterized by persons who know him as having done in his field what Samuel G. Blythe has done in the field of politics. Dr. Winship is noted as an educator, editor, and lecturer.

While in Eugene Dr. Winship will be called upon at several occasions. Besides addressing the assembly he will speak to the Eugene teachers in the afternoon, the affair being under the direction of Superintendent Glenn. He will be the guest at a luncheon at which the staff of the school of education and a few others will be present. At 7:30 this evening he will address the education seminar.

Journal Is Famous

Dr. Winship is the editor of the Journal of Education published at Boston and has held that office since 1886. He spends a good part of his time traveling over the United States acquainting himself with various educational plans as material for his magazine. This Journal of Education is one of the most famous magazines on education and is widely read all over the country. It concerns itself mainly with the problems of the common schools and of the teachers of these schools.

Besides his work as an editor and lecturer, Dr. Winship has had several books published. Chief among these are "The Shop" issued in 1889, "Life of Horace Mann" in 1896, "Great American Educators" in 1900, "Jukes-Edwards" in 1900, and "Our Boys" in 1909. These books are very popular and are quite widely read.

Doctor Talks at Corvallis

Dr. Winship has not spoken on the campus for several years but those who have heard him speak say that he is well worth hearing. He is a popular speaker and is quite in demand. Although he will soon be 79 years of age, he is still vigorous and readily interests his audience. He spoke at Corvallis yesterday.

Doctor of laws is one of the degrees that Dr. Winship holds. He received this degree from the University of Vermont in 1911. He also holds the degree of doctor of letters received in 1898 from the University of Nashville. Dr. Winship has had a wide variety of experience. He was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1896, he was president of the New England Press Association in 1895, and was a member of the Massachusetts state board of education.

The assembly will be held in Villard hall and the opening musical program will be a solo by Gladys Keeney.

CONDON CLUB MEMBERS TO DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT

The members of the Condon club are giving a dance this Saturday at the Country club. The feature and programs are being kept a secret until the night of the dance. The Club is to be decorated to represent a hunting club. The dance is for the members of the club and the patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. Warren D. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Dodge, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Packard, and Dean and Mrs. Colin V. Dymont.

PRESIDENT CAMPBELL BACK FROM TRIP TO PORTLAND

President P. L. Campbell returned from Portland last night after several days in the city working in the interests of the gift campaign. He reports plans progressing nicely and that the first meeting of the executive committee of the campaign will be held next Tuesday, after which time some announcements concerning the work will be made.

Cars Parked Without Lights Cause of Grief

Plodding Architects Part With Coin

Parking cars after dark, without lights, even on side streets bordered on both sides by University property seems to be taboo with the city officials. This fact was brought home rather forcibly to several members of the architecture department, who, unaware of the vigilance of the constabulary of the city of Eugene, chanced to park their cars on University street Tuesday night.

While they were busily engrossed in drawing plans for magnificent memorials, great universities, and county court houses, a member of the city police force surreptitiously stole down Thirteenth avenue, and when the architects were ready to return home, sometime in the wee sma' hours of the morning, they found awaiting them, on each windshield, a little tag, informing them that their presence was desired at the city hall, at 10 o'clock the next morning, to answer to a charge of violating a city ordinance.

Six cars in all had been tagged, and therefrom the city was made richer by the sum of $12, at the expense of those who had forgotten to turn on the lights.

OREGON-AGGIE MEET SET FOR FEBRUARY 9

Wrestling Team Soon to be Chosen by Coach

Less than two weeks remain before the Oregon wrestlers will tackle O. A. C. February 9, in the initial meet of the conference. Coach Earl Widmer has started to assort the best men and will probably have his team picked before the end of the week.

Crach D. O. Ferrell of O. A. C. reports that he will let his men ease up in their training because of the minor injuries received by the grapplers in their workouts. Robin Reed and Dick Nixon, two of Ferrell's standbys, have so far escaped without being injured. George Selfridge, P. N. A. champion, who is almost certain of landing a place on the team, is temporarily laid up with a minor injury.

Tom Chatburne, one of Coach Widmer's strong men in the 135 pound division, is bothered with a cauliflower ear, but will without doubt round into shape for the meet. Sumpston, Ford and Kilgore have been showing winning form in the 125 pound class and from present indications it looks like a toss up between the men.

The heavy weights are also evenly matched and it looks like Widmer will have a job to choose between Akers, Wells and Mills. The big boys have been putting in real workouts and are ready to give any opponent a tussle.

Negrin, French and Poulsen are all ready to step in the light-heavy job. Negrin is an old timer at the game and is recovering from an injury. He is a different type grappler than the other men. He works on the upper part of the body, not depending on his legs like the others do. French is handy with his legs and can easily clamp a scissor on his man. This is where the two wrestlers differ.

One depends on strength of his arms to punish an opponent while the other uses his legs to a greater advantage.

O. A. C.'s grapplers are taught to some extent to use their legs to a great advantage. The scissor hold seems to be their standby. Widmer has been teaching his proteges the break for all of the holds which he expects the Corvallis lads to use.

The week following the O. A. C. meet, Widmer will take his men north where they will meet the University of Idaho and W. S. C. on February 16 and 18.

FRESHMEN MUST REPORT FOR WEEKLY CELEBRATION

The following freshmen will report on the library steps at 11:00 today: Jerry Winters, Neal Chinnock, Elton Schroeder, Joe Bates and Leo Turtlelove.

VOTE IS 2 TO 1 FOR NO GUESTS

OPERA TICKETS HAVE BIG SALE

"Hour Hand" Tonight at Heilig Theater Full of Many Novel Features

MRS. BECK IS COMPOSER

Tickets for "The Hour Hand," a folk-opera by Anne Landsbury Beck of the school of music depicting Alpine village life, which is to be presented at the Heilig theatre tonight starting at 8:30 received an unusually large sale, according to Ted Gilenwaters, manager. The few remaining tickets may be purchased from the Heilig theatre box office, which will remain open all day.

Scene Has Wrestling

One of the most exciting features of the entire opera is the wrestling match that opens act three, confided Mrs. Beck yesterday. The wrestling is of a typical Swiss style. A waist and knee hold is necessary and the men must keep their heads straight over each other's shoulder. The object of the match is for one of the men to place his opponent on his back.

The "Chatter Chorus" alone, which is new to the opera this year, is worth the price of the opera. It is introduced by Frieda, the clockmaker's daughter, who gives her cowerly lover her opinion of politics in a tantalizing and amusing way. The genuine Heidelberg pipe smoked by the old clockmaker throughout the performance will prove interesting to many people.

Details are Added

"I am very hopeful of the support that the campus is going to give the production, judging from the support I have received in the past," said Anne Landsbury Beck, composer of "The Hour Hand." We have made a special effort to make it an attractive production and have spared no effort in supplementing last year's performance with many interesting and amusing details.

The Kennel-Ellis studio of Eugene took all the pictures of the opera that are on display in the various parts of the city, as well as in Portland. Those on display in the lobby of the Heilig theatre are especially attractive.

GLEE PLANS PROGRESS

Dean Straub Urges Freshmen to Take Women of Own Class

The Frosh glee is to start promptly at 8:30 Friday night at the armory, the music to be furnished by an eight-piece orchestra. "Billie" O'Bryant, chairman of the music committee has made arrangements to build out the stage in order to obtain the effects used by the larger eastern orchestras. Through this new arrangement the committee believes the music will be clearly audible in all parts of the armory.

It is traditional, according to Dean John Straub, for freshmen men to take only freshmen women to the Frosh glee, although freshmen women may go with upperclassmen if they choose. The affair is to be informal for the men.

DEBATERS WILL PLEDGE

Zeta Kappa Psi, National Society Elects Six New Members

Today in front of the library steps six girls will be formally pledged to Zeta Kappa Psi, national honorary debating society. The girls who will be pledged are: Gertrude Tucker, Mildred Whiteomb, Mildred Bate-man, Margaret Woodson, Dorothy Abbott and Margaret Duerner.

Each year the society takes in those girls who are outstanding in debating ability, paying particular attention to those who go out for varsity debate work.

Council Draws Up Resolutions Having Similar Sentiment

All Classes in Favor of Modification Plan; Vote of 729 is Considered Fairly Good for Short Notice Given Election

By Kathrine Kressmann

Out of a total vote of 729 cast yesterday on the question of Junior Week-end, the plan to eliminate high school guests carried by a majority of 465, almost double the vote for the two other plans. 173 desired to keep the week-end in the present form and 91 wished to do away with the event entirely.

The student council, after the results had been announced, passed resolutions upholding the student opinion. The first resolution was to the Junior class, requesting them to arrange a Junior Week-end for students only. The second was to the Inter-Fraternity council and the Pan-Hellenic council, asking them to consider and pass rules and regulations necessary to carry out this plan.

Junior Week-end Vote Tabulated

PLAN	No. 1	No. 2	No. 3
Freshmen	35	12	101
Sophomores	54	17	128
Juniors	51	31	126
Seniors	23	27	84
Unsigned	10	4	26
Totals	173	91	465
Total vote cast			729

MRS. DECOU TO RECEIVE

Former Dean to Meet Students at Tea This Afternoon

Mrs. Edgar E. DeCou, formerly dean of women on the campus, will receive at the usual tea hour today for University women, in the absence of Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly who is out of town. Students who have been in the University for two years or more especially will welcome this opportunity to meet Mrs. DeCou again, and all girls on the campus are cordially invited to come at the usual hour to the home of Mrs. Esterly at 667 East Twelfth street.

Mrs. DeCou hopes to see many of her former students again today, and said yesterday that she was looking forward with pleasure to meeting the freshmen, as well, at this time. Miss Gertrude Talbot, head of Hendricks hall, will assist Mrs. DeCou during the afternoon as hostess.

Motions Made by Student Council

WHEREAS, the student body, by general referendum, has expressed itself as overwhelmingly in favor of a Junior Week-end without guests.

BE IT RESOLVED that the student council request the junior class to arrange a Junior Week-end for students only.

WHEREAS, the student council has requested the junior class to arrange a Junior Week-end for students only.

BE IT RESOLVED that the student council request the inter-fraternity council and the pan-hellenic council to consider and pass rules and regulations necessary to carry out this plan.

The number of students who voted was large in comparison to that which might have been expected, student officials declare. The total for regular student body elections has averaged 1200 for the past few years. This vote did not have the weeks of publicity preceding the general elections. The response shows that the students were alive to the situation.

A large number of students turned in suggestions on the ballots. Several who voted for the compromise plan desired the privilege of entertaining guests who plan entrance to the University, but wish to eliminate elaborate entertaining. Others brought the idea of limiting the number of guests which any house could have.

Canoe Fete Discussed

About thirty wished to eliminate the canoe fete while others declared the canoe fete the only worth while feature of the affair. It was suggested by many to eliminate some part of the program, such as the campus luncheon. Several men suggested doing away with the high school athletic events at that time as these attract a large number of preppers.

Other plans were to combine Junior Week-end and Mother's Week-end and to divide the events of Junior Week-end among several week-ends and not have them all coming at once. One of the lads of '27 declared, "I am a freshman and have never seen a Junior Week-end, and I wish you would keep it one more year so that I can see it."

Thespians Count Ballots

The Thespian girls took charge of the balloting and of counting the votes. The ballots were carefully checked to eliminate any possibility of error. The girls who counted the ballots were Lenta Baumgartner, Bertha Berger, Annette Heckman, and Marion Horsfall.

Those who helped at the booth during the day were: Mary Lee Andrews, Mary Alice Ball, Louise Wenham, Elizabeth Donald, Glenna Fisher, Lillian Laders, Margaret Osburn, Alice Olsen, Flossie Radabaugh, Edith Shell, Catherine Strupler, Constance Vance, and Katherine Lauderdale.

UNIQUE GARB ADOPTED

Blue Jeans Latest Appeler of California Class

University of California—(By P. I. N. S.)—Apparently a failure at first, the wearing of blue jeans by the sophomore men as their class garb is gradually finding better favor on the campus at the University of California. On the date set for the first appearance of the jeans, there were only a scattered few that were brave enough to don the official garb, but day by day more of the class members are being converted to wearing them.
