

POLITICAL CLUB STATES OBJECT

Republican Group Desires to Arouse Interest

ROSEBRAUGH CHAIRMAN

Membership Drive to Start First of Next Week

The object of the Republican club is not primarily to influence the students along party lines, but rather to create an interest in the larger political issues and in governmental problems of today.

Membership in this organization will be open to any student who is willing to take an interest in the various problems which will come before the club from time to time.

Alumni Group Planned It is the plan of the executive committee to organize an alumni advisory committee, which will be made up of members of the alumni association of the University.

Two members of this committee have already been chosen, and have accepted the invitation to act in this capacity. They are Judge Lawrence T. Harris, formerly of the Supreme Court of Oregon.

Speakers to Come The organization plans to bring to the campus speakers who are prominent in governmental affairs.

STUDENTS IN ZOOLOGY ORGANIZE NEW CLUB Group Will Meet Occasionally to Discuss Questions of Medical Interest

A club without a constitution, a president, or any other regular officers, has been organized among the zoology and pre-med students.

The handling of all business matters will be done by a committee. Meetings will be held once a month and it is planned to bring some of the best speakers obtainable on medical subjects to speak at these gatherings.

Final steps in the creation of this organization were taken Wednesday evening when about 100 students met in Villard hall. Ray McKeown acted as chairman at this meeting and will continue in that capacity until nominations are made for the committee to take charge of the organization.

While this organization is the direct outgrowth of student sentiment and is being carried on without faculty supervision, still the faculty of the zoology and other departments expressed a deep interest in the success of the plan.

MINNIE TAYLOR TALKS ON MEXICAN CUSTOMS

Spanish Club Told About People; Speaker Has Taught School in Southern Country

Miss Minnie B. Taylor, who came to the campus last fall from a little town near Mexico City, where she has taught school for several years, spoke to the Spanish club Wednesday night, on her travels through Mexican cities and her impressions of the cities and the people.

Miss Taylor told of the Aztec monuments preserved since the time of their civilization, as the pyramids of the sun and moon. She illustrated her talk with pictures and showed, also, some odd articles—a vase, a hollowed, gaily painted gourd and a curious sandal.

Miss Taylor obtained a leave of absence and came to Oregon last term, but she expects to go back to her school, where she is vice-principal, in March or April. The introduction of her speech was given in Spanish, though the main part was in English.

Lowell Angell, president of the club, urges all students in Spanish to attend the fortnightly meetings. "We are trying to give instructive programs at all meetings," he said.

Short business meetings are held the first part of the evening, after which comes the program, followed by refreshments. The meetings are held in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow.

SENIORS HOLD CLASS WITHOUT PROFESSOR

Study in "Campus" Conducted By Latham and Carter in Front of Library

"When the cat's away, The mice will play."

So runs the old adage, and it was proven true Monday afternoon when Professor M. K. Cameron failed to appear at his class in history of economic thought.

Where the absent instructor was at that time is still a mystery, but it has been reported that some one saw him hurrying into the police headquarters about that time of day, bearing a summons for parking without lights, or some other minor offense.

The members of the class, with Hunk Latham and Frank Carter in charge, had an intensive hour's study in "campus" and anyone new duties, he will be compelled to resign this position, though he plans to continue his work as special writer for the Sunday Emerald.

Beginning Saturday afternoon, February 9, Seton plans to give a free dance at the Campa Shoppe from 2:30 to 3:30, after which a charge will be made from 3:30 to 5:30.

The orchestra will also play for dancing on Friday and Saturday evenings, as well as give concerts on Sunday evenings.

MILITARY PLACES OPEN

Examinations Given in March For West Point Entrance

Examinations for entrance into the United States military academy at West Point will be given March 4. According to the recent information had by Lieut.-Col. Sinclair, there are three vacancies to be filled from the state of Oregon.

"University students interested in getting an education without expense will do well to investigate," said Col. Sinclair. "It is the university man, the man who has spent several years at college, that makes good at West Point. Boys just out of high school find it difficult to meet the scholarship standard after the first term."

Y. W. OFFICER TO VISIT

Miss Elsie Heller, Y. W. C. A. Secretary Comes Monday

Miss Elsie Heller, national officer of the Y. W. C. A., will arrive on the campus Monday night, February 4, according to word received here yesterday. Miss Heller is student-secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for the northwest district. She will be on the campus for several days before going on to other colleges on the coast.

The purpose of Miss Heller's visit is to confer with University Y. W. officials, and discuss with them some of their problems. Mary Bartholomew is in charge of the program of events to be given in honor of Miss Heller.

NEW STACKS WILL BE INSTALLED IN LIBRARY

Additional Shelves to Aid in Providing Increased Space For New Volumes

Two new floors of stacks are to be installed in the University library as soon as they arrive on the campus next month and will greatly relieve the congestion in the shelves at present. Mr. M. H. Douglass, University librarian, has received word that the stacks have been shipped and are due here within the next few weeks.

A great deal of inconvenience and inevitable difficulty in locating reference books in the library will be entirely removed with the installation of these new stacks which will provide shelves adequate for all of the volumes which are at present crowded into small spaces or scattered over the reading room in inaccessible order.

The stacks will occupy the space ready for them directly above the present three floors of shelves and may be entered through the art gallery on one floor and through the historian's room on the reserve floor of the library. Entrances are already in place and as soon as the floors are placed and the shelves installed the entire new area will be opened.
