

WILSON'S LIFE TO BE REVIEWED

Assembly Talk to be Given by Dean Sheldon; Talk of Dr. Conklin's Postponed

TOWNSPEOPLE INVITED

John Seifert to Sing Solo; Woman's Building Picked to Accommodate Crowd

A biographical sketch, a critical review, and an estimate, somewhat provisionally made, of the place of Woodrow Wilson in history will be presented by Dean Henry D. Sheldon at the University assembly this morning at the Woman's building at 11 o'clock.

"I will attempt to paint in something of the background of the president's life environments and to lay forth as well as I can his ideas and ideals in life. His achievements, of course, will be recorded, but any estimate of his rightful place in history must be made with decided reservations, sketched provisionally as it were until the heat of controversy has somewhat subsided with the coming generations."

Regular Program Altered

This selection of Woodrow Wilson's life and works as the topic to be handled by Dean Sheldon in this week's assembly is an interruption in the regular program arranged, and is introduced because of the manifest sorrow and interest displayed on the campus at the death of America's great war-time executive. Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, who was scheduled to speak on "The Perfection of Personality" has kindly consented to postpone his talk until a later date.

"Although the change in plan has been somewhat sudden, I hope that we will have a good turnout for this assembly," said Karl Othman, secretary to President Campbell. As a matter of fact, I am sure we will," he concluded, "for as an educator and university president, Mr. Wilson attracted as much attention and admiration as when chief executive of the body politic."

Large Crowd Expected

The place for this assembly will be a tenor solo by John B. Siefert of the school of music. His selection will be "These are They" from the Holy City.

The place for holding the assembly was changed from Villard hall to the Woman's building in order to accommodate more persons and in order that the townspeople may be invited.

ORCHESTRA PLANS TOUR

Lester Wade, Manager, Leaves to Arrange Spring Itinerary

Lester Wade, manager of the University orchestra, left this morning for various points in central and eastern Oregon, to make arrangements for the annual spring tour of the organization. The itinerary of the trip will include The Dalles, Hood River, Prineville, Redmond, Wasco, and Bend.

The orchestra will not sponsor any short trips this year. The home concert will be given the evening of March 5.

Portrayer of 'Job' in Drama Artist of Depth and Passion

By Lawrence Hartman

The drama, the conflict, in the "Book of Job" is not readily perceivable by a modern audience, whose religious ideals and beliefs are bound to differ so fundamentally in spirit from those of the persons in the drama, and of Job himself. The essence of this profoundly stirring conflict, then, must be conveyed to the audience purely through the medium of the emotions, by means of sombre, mournful settings, that will in themselves suggest the intensity of Job's feelings; by means of intonation, gesture, expression. This difficult thing the Stuart

"The Hour Hand" Plays at Heilig in Portland Showing

"The Hour Hand," the Swiss folk opera, produced on the campus last Thursday evening, was presented in Portland last night at the Heilig theater before a full house.

A special Southern Pacific train left Tuesday evening carrying the cast, orchestra and scenery for the production. The special was made up of three cars and the trip was made in three hours and ten minutes. The cast entrained shortly after 12 for the return trip, and arrangements were made for the Pullmans to be sidetracked here. Those having eight o'clocks were able to be "on the dot."

Mrs. Anne Landsbury Beck, the composer of the opera, accompanied the cast to supervise the production. The successes of the opera have been largely due to her untiring efforts.

FRESHMEN MAY SWIM AGAINST REED VARSITY

Friday Meet May Turn Into Triangular Affair

The varsity swimming meet scheduled with Reed college for Friday night, may develop into a triangular meet with the Oregon freshmen forming the third team, if the Reed freshmen fail to come down for a dual meet with the frosh at that time.

If Reed brings both their varsity and two dual meets held Friday evening. But if only the Reed varsity shows up there will be one meet with Oregon varsity, Reed college, and Oregon freshmen entered. The freshmen after their close meet against the varsity have been practicing hard and are in rare shape for the fray. There have been a number of first calibre swimmers developed on the yearling squad and they will have an opportunity to show up to good advantage in the meet with Reed. They have been turning out nightly for practice under Coach Parks, and have been steadily rounding into form.

Lombard is a very good man in the dashes and he is the yearling's best bet in the 200. Hines and Boyden have been showing good improvement in the dashes. Bonbright has been making very good time in the 300 and should go well in the coming meet. Lee has developed into a likely point getter in the dives, and will press Horsfall and Stone closely in that event. Alderman is lengthening his distance in the plunge and promises to be one of the main point getters for the first year team. Dills and Marshall, two good men in the sprints, are of a doubtful quality in the coming meet because they are not yet in good shape for a dual meet.

The relay team is somewhat crippled as to condition but should be fresh in the running. All in all the freshmen have a squad that promises to make a very good showing against O. A. C. rooks this year, if they don't give the Rooks a good drubbing.

ALPHA PHI SPONSORS FOR JITNEY MATINEE DANCE

Saturday afternoon the Campa Shoppe will be the scene of a benefit dance given by the members of Alpha Phi. The orchestra is of the feminine variety, and the dance is a no-date jitney affair. The girls have even promised a feature dance.

The girls have even promised a feature dance.

Walker portrayal has succeeded in doing with a perfection. Extremely simple is the scene, a lonely spot, far out on the wind swept desert, where Job, torn by affliction upon affliction, tortured by doubt, a terrible doubt that yet leaves his fundamental faith in the rightness of things unshaken, sends his mournful questionings in a vain search to find the stern God who is testing him. The lighting effect in this, the only scene, is rich, realistic, suggestive, is presented, possesses the emotional sweep and the sheer power

HARVARD UNION PLAN EXPLAINED

Successful Operation of Student Center Told in Letter From Cambridge

SOCIAL USES DESCRIBED

Common Gathering Place and Restaurant Open to 1200 Life Members

Douglas Farrell, chairman of the student union committee, is in receipt of a letter from Francis B. Foster of the Harvard university student union, in which the aims and workings of the organization on that campus are explained. The Harvard union is one of the oldest and is reputed to be one of the most successfully operated in the United States. To acquaint Oregon students with the benefits and mode of operation of such a union, extracts from the communication follow:

"Our Harvard union was dedicated to the idea of a university club, which, on the payment of a nominal fee, should be open to all members of the university. It has always been the aim of the union to give members the privileges of a well-appointed club, and it is to the attainment of this end that the union has striven since its beginning.

"Graduates Also Use Union. It has been one of the aims of the founder that the union in Cambridge should be a meeting place, not only for undergraduates, but for graduates returning to Cambridge. To this end life membership was instituted, whereby graduates or undergraduates could become life members and make use of the club whenever they were in this vicinity. At present the union has over 1200 life members, to whom all notices of the club are sent regularly. Until the erection of the Harvard club, the sleeping accommodations which we have on the third floor were used extensively for transient use of these life members.

"Here we do not make the union anything more than people wish it to be, but since presumably most men come to the university for intellectual stimulus, the union tries to play its part in providing it. With this end in view the union has always tried to invite leading men in different walks of life to address its members. We have arranged at least one of these lectures a month, and usually the average has been somewhat higher. None except union members may attend these lectures, and of course no admission fee is charged.

Usefulness Grows Greater

"Every year since its organization the union has become a greater factor in the life of the students, and its usefulness is still increasing. It has fulfilled a great need as a place of organization to groups of men for meetings, dinners and entertainments. There has been an average of two functions a night at the union this year, ranging from law club meetings of a dozen members to large entertainments and dances, either given by organizations or by the union itself. The university teas are held at the union. To these teas come faculty members and their wives, and the students have the opportunity to meet the faculty and get to know them in a way which is impossible in the classroom.

Work Given Students

"May I call your attention to the fact that all the students employed at the union are members of the union? Thus the men who work there take pride in their jobs, since it is their own club and therefore they are anxious to make it as good as possible. As soon as their work is finished they can enjoy all the union has to offer with as much right as any other members. We have found that this system works very well and is also satisfactory to the students employed. Last year the union paid its student waiters more than $20,000 in cash and food.

"In the restaurant members sign for an entire week for $10, which is a very reasonable rate." (Continued on page four.)

Sunday Vespers to be in Honor of Late Ex-President

Col. Gilbert to Give Memorial Address

Cooperating with the Ministerial Association of Eugene, the University choir will hold memorial services in honor of the late ex-president Wilson, in the Methodist church at 4:30 p. m. next Sunday.

It has been arranged to have Col. William S. Gilbert, of Astoria, deliver the address for the occasion. Colonel Gilbert is rather well-known to the students of the University, as he has spoken at several gatherings of this kind in Eugene before. He was a chaplain in the U. S. army during the war and served overseas with the First division of the regular forces. He is also a member of the board of regents of the University.

His remarks will be supplemented by a short address by Judge Skipworth of the district court of Lane county.

WOMEN BREAK RECORD IN SWIMMING MEET

Maude Schroeder, Virginia Wilson Tie In Race

The world's record for college women was broken last night when Virginia Wilson, swimming for the Gamma Phi Beta, and Maude Schroeder, for Susan Campbell, tied for first place, making the one length in the women's tank in 10½ seconds, as against the world's mark of eleven and one-half seconds. The record made here on the campus is not official, however, because there were not the required three judges and three timers present.

Gamma Phi Beta now stands at the head of league 2 of the women's swimming series, as a result of the victory over Susan Campbell, 2. The score was 37 to 30. The final meet will be held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock to decide the doughnut championship.

Virginia Wilson was high point winner with 14 points, and Maude Schroeder was second with 12. Virginia Wilson also won the two length race in 24 seconds.

In the other meet held last night Susan Campbell, 1, the former won by a score of 34 to 33. Florence Baker, for Susan Campbell, took first place in dives, with some pretty exhibitions of finesy, giving Phona Williams, for Hendricks, and Christina Heekman, for the losers, tied for second place.

Alpha Phi beat Hendricks, 1, Tuesday night with a score of 40 to 27.

Rhona Williams was high point winner, with 15 points. Hilda Chase came second with 11 points, taking first place in the breast stroke race which she made in 17½ seconds.

'HUNCHBACK' NOW HERE

Motion Picture Classic at Heilig Arouses Campus Interest

Considerable interest has been aroused on the campus this week over the showing of the famous motion picture classic, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which opens today at the Heilig. Students of history and literature are especially interested in the picture.

A large number of people of the University community were guests of the manager of the Heilig recently at a preview of the "Hunchback of Notre Dame." The marvelous settings and the unusually gripping characterization created an unusually good feeling toward the picture and as a result of the good words which the guests of the Heilig have spoken, it is expected that Oregon will be well represented at the various showings of the photoplay.

DR. AND MRS. BOWMAN NOW VISITING AT GIFFEN HOME

Dr. and Mrs. Harold L. Bowman of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, are visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Bruce Giffen. Their visit was for the purpose of seeing the presentation of "The Book of Job" last night. Dr. Bowman has spoken a number of times on the campus and is well known here.

COUNCIL TO PICK COACH TONIGHT

Details of Session Held by Athletic Committee Still Secret; Campus Waits

CANDIDATES ARE MANY

Recommendation by Earl To Be Discussed Before Vote Decides Question

Nothing definite is yet to be gleaned concerning the coaching situation. Yesterday afternoon the athletic committee was in session, but the real work will come tonight when the executive council convenes. At that time the coach will undoubtedly be appointed and the shroud of mystery surrounding the subject on the campus will be lifted.

No official information could be given out regarding the session of the athletic committee, but it is certain that Virgil Earl, athletic director, made his recommendation of the man he has been considering for the job.

Session is Postponed

The meeting of the executive council might possibly have been held last night, but as the alumni members of the council were not on hand, and as a meeting cannot be held very well without the alumni being represented, it was deemed advisable to hold the session tonight.

If the cards are turned right, we will know who the future mentor is Friday morning. At present no information of any kind is being allowed to leak out until the grand finale when the coach's name will be made public.

The campus is becoming curious to know who the football pilot will be. The names of every coach mentioned since the campaign for one started have been suggested as a possibilities.

Earl is Silent

Newspaper men haven't found out anything from Earl. He has made the sphinx look like a noisy calliope when it comes to talking of the coach, but we know this much, that he has his recommendation ready. The acceptance of the council and the approval of the president will be final scenes.

Should a disagreement come up over the proposed man, a month's work on the part of Earl will have been in vain and another search will have to be instituted.

STUDENT BODY DANCE TO BE GIVEN SATURDAY

Oregon Knights to Sponsor Coming Social Event at Armory After O. A. C. Game

The next student body dance of the year will be held at the Armory, immediately following the Oregon-O. A. C. basketball game next Saturday night. The dance will be given by and for the benefit of the Oregon Knights.

Ed Taffer, president of the Knights, stated that campus togs would be the order of the evening, and that no one need hesitate in coming to the dance on account of not being dressed up. As soon as the game is over, freshmen will remove the bleachers and wax the floor, after which the dance will start immediately.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Jack Myers' Mid-Nite Sons orchestra, and it is hoped that a good crowd will attend. The profits from the dance will be used to defray the expenses of the Knights who spend considerable money taking care of visiting teams and for other functions of their organization. The Knights formerly had an allotment from the Graduate Manager's office for meeting these expenses, but lately this allowance has been withdrawn, and it has been found necessary to raise the funds by some other means.

The admission charge will be fifty cents a couple. It is requested by the Knights that all Freshmen report on the floor of the Armory as soon as the game is over, to assist in taking away the bleachers and waxing the floor.

Small Shack on Old Tennis Court Arouses Curiosity

The information that the small shack which is being built on one of the old tennis courts a temporary structure for housing marble slabs to be used in building stacks for the library stacks, will appease much curiosity on the subject.

Passers-by have uttered many conjectures including everything from a refuge for tennis racquets to a booth for the sale of ice cream cones.

H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, announced that the marble for the stacks will arrive small shack serving for shelter of within the next ten days and work will be begun immediately, the tools and material.

THREE EVENTS WILL DECIDE PENTATHLON

Final Score Tonight Will Determine Champions

The remaining three events in the intramural pentathlon will be held tonight in the men's gymnasium beginning at 7:15 sharp. The high jump, rope climb, and 200 yard dash will compose the events scheduled for this evening. There is no especial order in which the events will be run off and the competitors will be checked off as soon as they do their respective events. This will facilitate the running off of the different events and enable the different teams to finish sooner.

The Sigma Chis are holding the lead at present in the pentathlon with a total of 173 points. The Deltas are second with 154 and are closely followed by Phi Sigma Pi with 147, and Sigma Pi Tau with 146. These points were scored in the two events held Tuesday evening, the bar vault and swim.

There are some good all around pentathlon men entered in the events this evening and it should be a merry race not only for the individual high point honors but also for the pentathlon championship. The points scored in the pentathlon will be marked down on the total score of the different houses towards the intramural championship, emblematic of the organization championship for the year in athletics.

TWO RIFLE CUPS ARRIVE

Trophies Will Go To Phi Sigma Pi and Susan Campbell Hall

Two large, silver loving cups have arrived at the R. O. T. C. headquarters and arrangements are being made for their presentation to Phi Sigma Pi and Susan Campbell hall, the organizations which won the doughnut rifle championships last fall.

The cups stand about fourteen inches high and are inscribed with the names of the winning organizations and the date. Typical of the event are the crossed rifles, in relief, on the front of the cups.

FINAL PHYSICAL ABILITY TEST TO BE GIVEN TODAY

If the test is successfully passed the student may select some physical education work and may specialize in it. The test consists of five events—the rope climb, bar vault, 2 lap run, swim, and running high jump.

Tomorrow however, things start at four bells of the mid watch (in land lubber's terms this is two o'clock) at which time every man that loves a good bone crushing brawl will hoist anchor and set sail for the gym where the babes are to meet the practitioners from Reed college. No sooner than the wrestling is done the sport fleet will steam toward the placid waters of the Woman's tank and at 3:15 said placid aqua will be churned by the speed stroke of the varsity and Reed collegeermen.

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS ENCOURAGES STAR GAZING

University of Kansas—One of the big attractions at the University of Kansas is visitors' night at the big observatory. On this night each week all the students and their friends are invited to come up and take a look at the stars.
