Sophomore Women Lose Swimming Contest; Score, 37 to 22

With a score of 37 to 22, the junior women's swimming team defeated the sophomore team at a meet held at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Woman's building. Maude Schroeder, junior, was highest in points, with 14 to her credit.

There were no high-point women for the sophomores, all averaging about the same, with 6 and 7 points in each case. The meet was a very close one until the end, when the juniors surprised their opponents. There will be class meets every night during this week.

FEATHERED VISITOR FEEDS NEAR JOURNALISM SHACK

An unusual visitor on the campus is a blue grouse, which comes daily near the northwest corner of the Journalism building, says Mr. H. M. Fisher, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Mr. Fisher says the bird has been coming for several days and is as tame as domestic fowls. He has been feeding it each day in the hope that it will stay and attract others to the campus.

Thomas Arkle Clark, Illinois Dean, Visits Campus Friends

Thomas Arkle Clark, a "Who's Who," dean of men at the University of Illinois, author, and national authority on fraternities, was a visitor in Eugene Saturday.

During the short time he spent on the campus Dean Clark renewed his friendship with Dean William Hale, and Professor E. H. Decker of the law school, who were at one time members of the faculty at Illinois, and other members of the University faculty including Dean Straub with whom he discussed the problems which confront a dean of men.

"T. Arkle," as he is called by the students at the Illinois institution, has characteristics that are outstanding and distinguish him, declared Dean Hale. "There is only one 'T. Arkle' with his half smile and odd

ANNABEL DENN PLANS PIPE ORGAN RECITAL

Graduation Concert to be Brilliant Program

Annabel Denn, senior in the school of music, will give her graduation pipe organ recital, Thursday evening, February 28, in the Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Denn has been a pupil of John Stark Evans during her four years in the University.

In 1920, during her freshman year, she was the possessor of one of the scholarships presented to the four students having the highest scholastic standing. In 1921, she held the Mu Phi Epsilon scholarship, which is offered annually.

Miss Denn was not on the campus last year. During her junior year she gave a public recital and also a benefit recital for Mu Phi Epsilon, national musical fraternity, of which she is a prominent member.

She is presenting a very comprehensive and interesting program composed of many heavy and brilliant numbers. Her heaviest number will be Symphonie Poem, "Les Preludes" by Liszt. The recital will be closed by the brilliant Overture to "William Tell" by Rossini.

This will be the first pipe organ recital to be given on the campus this year. The public is invited to attend.

PICTURES HUNG IN DEPOT

Scenes of Railroads and of Deady Appear in Post Office

Ten pictures, nine representing beautiful scenes along the lines of several railroads, and the tenth a picture of Deady hall, have been hung in the University post office. These pictures have been stored for some time in the attic of the administration building, awaiting the completion of the depot.

A new filing cabinet for the business offices has been received at the depot, and will soon be installed. A length of fire hose for the attic of the Woman's building, and a consignment of handles for mops, axes, sledges, shovels and peavys are also among the new campus equipment.

POSTURE DRIVE IN FULL SWING

Campus Trees Which Slump Will be Tagged Today by Heads of Campaign

SONG CONTEST TO CLOSE

Plaque Is Designed to Show Perfect Poise; Posters on Display to be Judged

All paths lead to the women's gymnasium—if one can judge by the green footprints apparent everywhere on the campus this week. For today the posture drive begins in earnest, and "Posture Expresses Personality" will be the slogan of the week.

Even the trees are not to be allowed to slump if the senior physical education majors have their way, and each tree on the campus which does not come to specifications of "perfect posture" will have to wear, for the day, a tag bearing the evidence of its disgrace.

Prize to be Given

The schematogram, an instrument which casts the shadow of one's carriage, will be in use beginning today, and all members of gymnasium classes are asked to report to their classes today and tomorrow in street clothes to go through this test. All girls who are not in gymnasium classes will be tested at their homes, and a prize of a plaque representing perfect poise will be awarded the house having the highest percentage of girls with correct posture. This percentage will take into consideration the total membership of the house.

Posters on display in the sun-parlor of the Woman's building are to be judged also as part of the drive. Votes may be cast by anyone viewing them.

Portland Doctor Here

A Wednesday feature will be the presence on the campus of an orthopedic doctor, sent to Eugene by the Knight Shoe company, of Portland. He brings with him a floscope, an instrument constructed on the same principle as an x-ray, with which he will test the shoes of the girls to determine the correct style for each type of foot.

The song contest, another phase of the drive, will remain open until noon today to enable those who have not yet turned in their contributions to do so before that time.

Stunts Are Arranged

The climax will come at 4:45 on Wednesday afternoon, when a stunt show will be staged by physical education majors. Stunts are "The Crooked Man," "Evolution of Good Posture," "Jack-in-the-Box" and "The Night-Mare."

This is the second annual posture drive to be staged on the University campus by members of the physical education department, the affair being endorsed by members of the Women's Athletic association, and Women's league. All girls are asked to lend their support.

Students Still Neglect to Pay University Fees

Business Office Sends Out Notices

The records of the business office show that about twenty students have not paid their laboratory and registration fees for the term. However, it is impossible to determine whether all of these students are attending the University this term.

The business office has sent out notices to these students and it is expected that the matter will be ended within a few days. The records supplied by the registrar's office show that these students were registered for a while but it is thought that some may have withdrawn without the proper proceedings.

There were a few cases recorded where students had failed to pay their fees through misunderstanding the new registration system. Several thought that when their fees were paid during the fall term that this covered the fees for the year. These have been notified and the mistake rectified.

Y. W. TO HOLD ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

Revision of Constitution to be Discussed

The report of the nominating committee, the presentation of the revision of the constitution, and the reports on the past year's work, will be the business to be taken up at the annual business meeting of the campus Young Women's Christian association, Thursday at 5 o'clock, in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow.

Other business will include the fixing of a date for the elections, which will come some time next week, and the discussion of plans for the annual Y. W. C. A. banquet, which will be given in the College Side Inn next Wednesday evening. The banquet is for all active members of the association, officers and members of the advisory board.

Of special interest will be the presentation of the revised constitution, Thursday, by Elizabeth Phelps and Florence Buck, who have composed the committee revising the constitution. Heretofore the executive system of the association has been in the hands of two groups, the council and the cabinet. In the council, there have been the five elected officers and the heads of departments. In the cabinet have been the heads of department committees and assistant department heads.

The new plan is to have both groups consolidated into a council, composed of 18 members, who will include the five elected officers and 13 department heads.

The report of the past year's work is to be given by each department head. The nominating committee is headed by Edna Largent, and all members have not as yet been selected. Every University woman interested in the meeting Thursday, is urged to go.

U. OF W. VICTOR IN MAT CONTEST

Whitcomb, 135 Pounder, Gets Only Match Taken by Fall from England

FINAL SCORE IS 54-26

French Out With Broken Rib; Berry Wins from Ford in Hard Battle

University of Washington's wrestling team triumphed over Oregon by a score of 54 to 26, in a meet held Monday afternoon in the men's gymnasium. Whitcomb, 135 pounder, won the only match for Oregon by taking a fall from England of Washington.

In the 125 pound class Berry, of Washington, won over Ford by a fall. In the first period the visitor clamped Ford's shoulders to the mat in four minutes and 20 seconds. In the second period the local grappler came back strong and won the decision. Berry tried several headlocks with Ford but could not do any damage finally giving Ford the advantage. The third period went to a draw as both men were on their feet during the entire seven minutes. The match went to Berry as a fall has preference over a decision.

England Is Aggressive

In the feature bout of the meet Whitcomb won over England of U. of W. in the 135 pound division. In the first period England won the decision by aggressiveness. The Washington wrestler had Whitcomb in several tight holes but could not put him down. In the second period the two grapplers were at par, but in the last few seconds Whitcomb nearly had his opponent down as the whistle blew. This was called a draw. In the third period Whitcomb started out stronger but his opponent held his own. Again in the last few seconds Whitcomb nearly had England's shoulders touching as time was called. It was so close that the referee had his hand in the air ready to pat Whitcomb the winner. England forfeited the last fall to the Oregon man as he was practically worn out.

Peterson went on in the 145 pound event and lost to Griffen of Washington by two straight falls. The first came in three minutes and 10 seconds and the second in four minutes and 20 seconds. The Oregon grappler was too inexperienced for the Husky man.

Lang Gets Decision

Robertson gave away eight pounds and lost to Lang, 158 pounder of Washington by a decision. In the first period the two grapplers were on their feet during the entire seven minutes and the referee called it a draw. In the second period the visitor was more aggressive and copped the bout on a decision. The third period was also a decision for Lang. They did most of the wrestling in this period on their feet. The Washington grappler had the advantage and won. French, Oregon's regular 158 pounder is suffering from a broken rib and was unable to wrestle.

Wells lost to Davis in the 175 pound division by a decision. The first bout went to Davis on a decision while Wells came back strong and won the second. The third bout went to Davis. Wells made his best showing in the second period but was not able to hold his opponent down for any considerable time.

FRED LOCKLEY TO BE ASSEMBLY SPEAKER

"Oregon Pioneer" Chosen Subject of Address

Fred Lockley, well known newspaperman of the state and connected with the Oregon Journal of Portland, will be the speaker at assembly Thursday, February 28. The topic that Mr. Lockley will speak upon will be, "The Oregon Pioneer."

He has spoken on the campus before and has been on other assembly programs. Three years ago, he addressed a student assembly on his experiences in Europe as Y. M. C. A. secretary. He has been a frequent visitor to the campus of late and has interviewed several persons on the Oregon faculty.

The special type of newspaper work that Mr. Lockley is interested in is the writing of feature stories about interesting persons that he meets. He has interviewed many old pioneers all over the state. He spends part of his time travelling through the different sections of the state getting stories from pioneers and other interesting persons. Mr. Lockley does not confine his interviewing to pioneers—any one who has had unusual experiences makes the basis for one of his stories. He claims that he can get a story from any one.

Mr. Lockley is an honorary member of the Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity for men. He attended the recent newspaper conference held on the campus during the month.

The assembly will be held in Villard hall. The musical part of the program has not yet been announced.

Oregon Students Feel Charm of Hough's "Covered Wagon"

A few pioneers, looking strikingly like the men and women on the screen before them, sat with a houseful of sons, grandsons, and great-grandsons of the men who first settled Oregon and watched the unfolding story of how the West was won, when Emerson Hough's epic of the Oregon Trail, "The Covered Wagon," was presented, last night.

For two hours that crowd lived with the heroes of the old West and the hopes and fears that were so intimately tied up with the lives of the pioneers who moved from the Missouri river to Puget sound in the long white trains of wagons.

The pride in the accomplishment of the deeds of the early settlers and the splendid harmony of the

VARSITY LOSES TO WASHINGTON

Score at End of Northern Battle for Conference Place Is 29 to 22 Points

LATHAM GETS INJURY

Victory Gives to Purple and Gold First Call for Sectional Championship

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 25.—(Special to The Emerald).—A crippled Oregon team took the short end of a 29 to 22 score in a fast, hard-fought game, which determined which of the two teams would still be in the running for the conference honors. As a result of last night's tussle, the Huskies are now in the lead of the northern section of the conference, while Oregon is definitely out of the running.

Oregon Takes Lead

The Oregonians took the lead in last night's fray, when a brace of fouls converted by Gowans and a field goal by Latham ran the Lemon-Yellow count to four before the Washington offense got under way. The Purple and Gold attack led by Bob Hesketh soon got into action and ran the count to 15-6, in favor of the home aggregation. An Oregon rally, in which Hobson was the stellar performer, netted four points, but at the end of the half, the score favored the North-erners, 17-10.

Another Oregon rally, headed by Latham, knotted the count early in the second period, but shortly afterward the Huskies came back and took the lead, never to be headed. At this juncture of the game, Latham was injured, but it was not sufficiently serious to prevent his finishing the game. The big fellow stayed in and looped two more baskets, being runnerup to Hesketh for the high point honors of the game.

Husky Schedule Finished

This victory gives the Huskies the first call on the sectional championship, as they have completed their schedule, while the Aggies, their nearest competitors, must trim Oregon to even the Washington.

The summary:
Washington 29 Oregon 22
Frayne 6 F. 2 Gowans
Hesketh 16 F. 6 Hobson
Anderson C. 14 Latham
Wells 4 G. Gillenwaters
Gardiner 3 G. Chapman
Gundlach S. Rockhey
Fouls made: Oregon, 4; Washington, 6.

Fouls converted: Oregon, 4; Washington, 3.
Referee, Morris.

whole spectacle made the usual first night critics forget to be critical and with the rest they lived for a time in "the days of '49." It was all there, life, death, hardship, love and thrills for the most hardened movie fan. Yet the art, the settings and the spirit of the victory of the early days lent a depth that made the picture a creation not to be forgotten.

The crowd of Oregon students who helped make up the audience saw much to praise in the epic. It seemed that here, at last, was a picture that was real. There was a feeling of touching the soil, of rubbing elbows with real people—people who were made of real stuff
