

OREGON DAILY EMERALD

VOLUME XXV

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1924

NUMBER 107

PLAN GIVEN FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Alumni to Furnish Funds for Library, Auditorium and Men's Gymnasium

COURT TO BE IMPOSING

Campaign for $1,000,000
Launched Last Monday
Will be National One

The new library, the hall of collections or Auditorium, and the Men's gymnasium—the three buildings which the alumni and former students of the University will provide funds for through their present nation-wide campaign for $1,000,000—constitute the next items of the building program on the campus to be taken up.

Six thousand former students will be given an opportunity to partake in this program for the development of greater facilities for the use of the University in the future.

New Library Described

The new library will be a two-story structure with a frontage of 225 feet and a depth of 160 feet. It will consist of three units, a main body and two wings; the main body of the building will be constructed first and the wings added when the necessary funds are available. In addition to the two main stories, the building will have a complete basement.

The hall of collections will face the memorial court and will also have a frontage of 225 feet, but with a depth of 125 feet. The main unit of this building will provide an auditorium and gathering place large enough to accommodate the entire student body. There will be three wings to this building which will be completed as facilities are provided for them.

Court Location Given

The memorial court will be constructed in the southwest part of the campus on the highest point of ground. It will be approached from the north by the main axis of the campus extending from Eleventh avenue to the hall of collections, where it will terminate.

Imposing steps will lead to the court, which will be constructed with three levels. The lower level will be landscaped in grass and paths. Facing this level, will be the library on one side and the hall of collections on the other. The intermediate level of the court will be constructed of paving, with a portion of it in grass. The main court, with the exception of two minor lateral courts, will be entirely of paving. This will provide the principal outdoor gathering place for the entire campus. The dimensions of the complete court will be 450 feet from north to south, by 150 feet from east to west.

Statuary Group Planned

Near the center of the steps leading to Auditorium will be the principal memorial statue, a piece of sculpture dedicated to sons and daughters of Oregon who made war sacrifices. This will be the dominating figure of a statuary group that will be placed in the court. Two bronze flag poles will be placed here, one at each end of the steps leading to the hall of collections.

The present men's gymnasium, which was built to care for

(Continued on page three)

No Finals and Few Athletes in Swiss Colleges, Says Marti

By Ed Miller

Fritz Marti, who came from Switzerland last October to teach ethics and nineteenth century thought in the philosophy department of the University, brings with him strange tales of student life in his native country. In the first place, there are no grades, no credits, and no examinations to worry the student. Mr. Marti, who is but a few years removed from his undergraduate days, finds it difficult to reconcile himself to the American system of grading. "I don't like to evaluate any mental performances with numbers," he explained.

All is not roses for the European student, by any means. Required of a high school graduate is a speaking

Snappy Title for 'Old Oregon' Humor Section is Wanted

A prize of $2.50 is being offered for the best title for the humor section of Old Oregon, according to an announcement by Miss Grace Edgington, alumni secretary. There is no limit to the number of titles that any person may turn in so no one need limit himself to one or two.

The titles should not contain more than three words and should have a distinctive Oregon flavor, so they must be short, snappy, and to the point. All suggestions are to be submitted to Miss Edgington on or before March 8, the last day of the contest.

The names of possible editors for the column are also wanted. A number have been turned in but a larger list is needed from which to choose.

SKITS SHOW BENEFIT OF GOOD CARRIAGE

Results of Posture Drive to be Given Today

The stunt show presented yesterday afternoon in the Woman's building closed the posture drive which has been carried on for the last three days by the women physical education majors. Four skits taught with varied plots the lesson of good carriage.

"The Crooked Man," was the first stunt, with characters with clumsy joints and bent backs. They recovered from their ailments when they made efforts to straighten their posture. A short act entitled "The Night-Mare," followed this, showing a small boy who, in his dreams saw an image of his poor carriage. His desire to become a soldier after watching a drill put on by nine tall, straight figures, led him to improve his appearance.

The third act, "The Evolution of Evangeline," was divided into six scenes, telling the story of a girl whose health was weakened by the teachings of a foolish mother who would allow her to do no gymnasium work nor partake in outdoor sports. The last scene showed the girl after a year in college where physical education and instruction of the right sort brought her improved appearance and better health.

A short musical act, "The Jack-in-the-Box," was the final number. The slogan of the week, "Posture Expresses Personality," was featured. Pearl Pyritz and Florence Baker took first prize in the poster contest. The second and third places were taken by two posters made by Harriet Veazie.

The results of the posture tests will not be known until late today. Miss Florence Alden, head of the department of physical education for women, showed the plaque which is to be awarded to the organization getting the highest percentage. It was made by Beatrice Towers.

The song submitted by Helen Burfield and Frances Simpson took the prize in the song contest.

DOUGHNUT VOLLEYBALL ON ATHLETIC SCHEDULE

Doughnut volleyball is to be the next sport on the women's athletic schedule. Practices start this afternoon and the teams will be chosen next week, when a definite program will be arranged.

LOCKLEY TO TELL OF PIONEER LIFE

Assembly First Devoted to Subject Since 1919 at Unveiling of Memorial

EVENT TO BE AT VILLARD

Older Generation of State
Interviewed by Writer of Column in "Journal"

Fred Lockley, special writer for the Oregon Journal of Portland, will be the speaker at assembly in Villard hall today. He will speak on "The Oregon Pioneer." This subject will lay special emphasis on what the pioneer did for education, and how these ideals should be carried out as applied to the improvement campaign of the University.

This is the first assembly to be devoted to this subject since the unveiling of the campus "Pioneer" in 1919.

Mr. Lockley is especially able to talk on the subject he has chosen because of the close contact he has had with pioneers throughout the state in the past few years. His journalistic work has consisted in part of interviewing and writing up for the readers of the column he edits in the Oregon Journal, the stories related by the older generation of Oregon. The relation between this fast passing group of the state's citizenship and the history of the Northwest will be developed in Mr. Lockley's address.

Lockley Is Westerner

Those who know Mr. Lockley say that he takes a keen delight and joy in meeting and interviewing the pioneer. Members of the journalistic faculty declare that all one need do to pep Mr. Lockley up is to mention a possible source for a pioneer story. Immediately he is eager and interested and will not rest until he has the story. His interest lies not only in obtaining a story for his paper, but the personal experiences and tales of the old timer and their bearing on the history of the state interest him as does the individual who relates the tale.

Mr. Lockley grew up in the West and spent a part of his life on an Indian reservation. During the war he was a Y. M. C. A. secretary in France.

He has been a frequent campus visitor and is well acquainted with many of the students and faculty members, who, like the pioneers, have been written up in his column. It is said that Mr. Lockley probably knows as many, if not more people, than any other man in the state, as he has touched every section of it and people are his hobby.

Speaker Droll Humorist

During the past, Mr. Lockley frequently has addressed classes in journalism here and is a familiar and popular figure around the shack. He speaks well, his ability to talk entertainingly and instructively depending in part on his power to portray people and in the droll vein of humor running through his writing and conversation.

The speaker will be the guest of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalism fraternity for men, at luncheon this noon.

A song by the Girls' Glee club will be a feature of today's assembly.

SONG CONTEST POPULAR

Contributions Accepted to March 1;
Two Prizes Are Offered

The song writing contest sponsored by Ray Graham's Collegians, has already called forth a surprising amount of campus talent, according to Junior Seton, manager. Contributions will be accepted until March 1, says Seton, and on Saturday night, March 8, the Collegians will play all of the compositions and the crowd will pick the winner at that time.

First prize for the best song will be admission to all of the dances given by the Collegians for the remainder of the school year and as either a man or a woman may be the prize winner, this offer includes his or her partner. The second prize is to be $10.

Every effort will be made to have the winning songs published, it is said.

Y.W.C.A. to Give Annual Banquet Next Wednesday

Results of Election to be Announced

The big annual Y. W. C. A. banquet given for all sustaining members of the association, old and new officers, and the advisory board, will be held at 6 o'clock, next Wednesday evening at the College Side Inn.

The outstanding event on the program of the evening will be the announcement of the election results for the 1924-25 officers of the campus Y. W. C. A. The election of officers is to be held from 9 to 4 o'clock next Wednesday.

Tickets for the banquet will be 50 cents, and will be on sale at the various women's living organizations on the campus, and at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. All women on the campus who are members of the Y. W. C. A. are invited to attend the banquet, and all tickets must be purchased before Monday evening.

DON PARK IS NAMED MANAGER OF VOD-VIL

All Acts Must be Turned in Before End of Week

Announcement was made yesterday by Ed Tapfer, Junior Week-end chairman, of the appointment of Don Park as manager of the Junior Vod-Vil, to succeed Jack High. The work of the manager includes the business end, advertising and seat sale, while the selection and direction of the acts is under the charge of the director, Dave Swanson.

The final call for acts is issued for this week. The committee is busy at present reviewing the acts which have been turned in so far. They report that many of the acts are promising and several are unique. Actual work on the directing and finishing of the acts will begin the first of next term. Thus it is necessary for the entire program to be outlined before this term ends.

All appointments for the reviewing of acts must be made through Dave Swanson, it is stated. He can be found by phone at 186. All prospective acts must be reviewed before March 7 as the program will be chosen on March 10.

The committee states that if a suitable musical comedy is handed in to them, it will be featured. The committee desires that the program be balanced and that each separate act shall be a finished production when the show is finally given.

Work has already begun on stage settings and the group in charge promises some clever scenic effects. They feel that a large part of the effectiveness of the program will depend upon the correct background and early work along this line will help to assure its success.

Probably more than one performance of the Vod-Vil will be given this year, so that the townspeople may have an opportunity to see the performances. The exact method of putting on the two performances has not yet been announced.

It has been suggested by several interested students that the Vod-Vil be made an event of Mother's Week-end, as there is very little entertainment for the mothers when they visit the campus in the spring.

The Vod-Vil is the big spring term event, next to Junior week-end and the committee believes that it will be as good as ever this year. They especially urge the phoning in of acts this week as the program will be made definite then and the rest of the time devoted to polishing and bringing into form all the numbers. There is still an opportunity for any students with an act in prospect to win a place on the program.

MISS BROOKSMIT WILL BE HOSTESS AT DEAN'S TEA

Miss Helen Brooksmitt, head of Susan Campbell hall, will be hostess this afternoon at the weekly tea held for students by the dean of women, in the absence of Mrs. Esterly, who is out of town for several days. Tea will be served at 667 East 12th street, between 4 and 6 o'clock, and all women students are cordially invited.

GRIDIRON WORK BEGINS MONDAY

Joe Maddock Back Again to Start Wheels Going for Practice Next Week

UNIFORMS TO BE ISSUED

Men Turning Out Must Get Outfits Before Sunday
from Old Gymnasium

Joe Maddock, Oregon's brand new football mentor, arrived on the campus last night. Last time he came for a visit, you might say a get-acquainted visit. This time, however, he comes for business as any one who strolls out to the practice field next Monday will find out to his own satisfaction. Everything seems to be in ship-shape, ready for the new grid boss to start the wheels in motion.

Spring Workout to Start

Next Monday afternoon is the date set for the candidates to crawl into the old moleskins and trot out to the old sawdust patch. On his previous visit, Joe did not reveal much as to how he intended to conduct the spring session, but it is the general belief that the most of the time will be given over to fundamentals and general instructions in Maddock's style of football.

It is imperative that the men who are going to turn out for the spring grid training draw their uniforms and necessary equipment before Sunday. The issuing will start today at the stock room on the second floor of the varsity section of the old gymnasium. A trip to the stock room will convince the casual observer that there is plenty of equipment to fit Oregon's football candidates up in great style. In fact, if there were as many candidates as there is material for them, the coaching staff would have to be greatly enlarged.

Shoes Long Suit

Shoes seem to be the long suit. There are more than 300 pairs of shoes, all stitched, patched, oiled and shelved by Caretaker Everett. There are shoes of most every size that a college football player could wear, some of them have rubber cleats for practice, others have great long mud cleats for soggy fields, while the others have just the ordinary inch cleat.

There are over 200 pairs of shoulder pads on tap, approximately 50 of which are brand new. Top this off with about 250 headgears, 190 pairs of pants, seats of sweaters and socks, and you will see that the men will be pretty well taken care of during the spring workout.

NEW SOCIETY TO MEET

Collegium Augustale Will Convene
for First Time Thursday

The first regular monthly meeting of the new classical society on the campus, Collegium Augustale, will be held at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow tonight at 7:30. The program for the evening is being arranged by a committee of which Lois Inman is chairman and will include papers on Horace as a basis for the evening's discussion.

The committees on a motto and on the nomination of officers will report at this meeting during the business session. Those who have been asked to take part in the program and will speak on different aspects of Horace are Evelyn Underwood, Josephine Rice and Prof. F. S. Dunn, head of the Latin department.

GROUNDS TO BE SEEDED

Plots Around Both Oregon and Art
Buildings Will be Planted

The little strip of ground along the north side of Thirteenth avenue, where the old pipe line was dug up last summer was smoothed and seeded yesterday. The ground had to be left to settle a long time before it was ready to seed.

The little square on the south side of the Oregon building will be filled in and seeded as soon as the ground dries, according to H. M. Fisher, superintendent of the University buildings and grounds. After several weeks to allow for settling, the ground in front of the art building will be re-seeded.

Oregon Player in Game Last Night

Baker-Button
Hobson

VARSITY SWIMMERS TO MEET MULTNOMAH

Men Show Improvement
Since Last Contest

The varsity swimming team will meet the Multnomah water sharks in a return go which will be held at Portland, in the club tank, Saturday evening, at 8. Although the varsity aggregation was slipped the small end of the score it is no indication that a closer meet will be staged.

Coach Fahl's men have been putting in some hard licks in preparation for the fray. In the workouts all of the men have shown considerable improvement over the last meet. Either seven or eight men will make the trip, states the swimming mentor. The men that will probably take the trip and be entered in the different events are Palmer, capt., McCabe, and Horsfall, 50 yard dash; Yoran and Palmer, 100 yard backstroke; Sinclair and Yoran, 100 yard breaststroke; Horsfall and McCabe, dives; Palmer and McCabe, 100 yard dash; Horsfall, Herron and Yoran, 220 yard dash; Wiswall, Samuels or Heider, plunge; Herron, McCabe, Horsfall and Palmer will swim the relay. The team will leave for Portland Friday noon.

SEATTLE ARCHITECT TO BE CAMPUS VISITOR SATURDAY

Paul D. Richardson, Seattle architect, will be in Eugene this weekend and will look over the campus, visiting the school of architecture and allied arts. He is to arrive Saturday to visit Prof. W. R. B. Wilcox, of the architecture department. Mr. Richardson is the architect who designed the building for the Cornish School of Dramatics in Seattle. During the war he was resident architect for the government housing bureau at Bremerton.

OREGON VICTOR IN W. S. C. FRAY

Cougar Quintet Shows Up in Spurt During Last
Eight Minutes of Contest

GAME HAS 33-29 SCORE

Latham Loops Most Baskets
for Varsity With Hobson
Playing Close Second

In a contest, featured throughout with periods of thrills and of loose playing, the Oregon quintet was victorious over Washington State, taking the heavy end of a 33-29 score. Although the score indicates a hardfought game, the varsity was resting on the advantage of a good lead, until the final minutes of play, when the Cougar squad threatened to even the count, by rolling up 12 points.

At the start of the fracas, Oregon swept the W. S. C. five off their feet, by a whirlwind drive, netting 10 points, before the northern squad could cope with the speedy attack. Hobson started the Oregon scoring machine by looping in three baskets.

Playing Not Brilliant

Unable to check the early drive of Reinhart's men, the visiting quintet called time-out, and were able to hold the Oregon squad by better teamwork. Outside of a few brief spurts in scoring, neither team played a brilliant game in the first half. By stages of steady offense work, the winning five were leading at the end of the first half by a 20-8 score.

The first period was fairly fast, with both teams continuously working up and down the floor. Each quintet got a good share of chances at the hoop, but seemed unable to locate the basket. Not only in the first stage of the game, but throughout, checking was hardly used by either squad, the opposing forwards finding little difficulty in working down by the basket.

Varsity Starts Scoring

In the second period, Oregon again started a short scoring rampage, with Hunk Latham playing the stellar role. Although closely checked, the big boy found opportunity to swish the netting, with some of his well-known long range shooting. After the few minutes of opening play in the second quarter, the game settled down to a loose but fast style of play, with occasional shots by the Oregon scoring combination.

Wholly unexpected, Washington State opened up a speedy scoring drive in the last five minutes, running up points in one, two, three order. Morgan, the high-point man for the Cougar quintet, was the leader in the attempt to even the score. With dangerous regularity, he broke away from the defense and dropped in a counter for his squad. In the final minutes of play, the Oregon squad tightened its defense and ended the rally.

Latham Plays Well

Although the squad played a very mediocre brand of basketball, not a little credit is due to Latham, who rolled up a total of 16 points. Handicapped by close checking, the big center did find the basket with some consistency. Hobson also shared much of the burden of scoring, gathering 11 counts.

By winning this game, Oregon,

(Continued on Page Two.)

Doctors Are Chosen as 'Ideal Husbands' by Wesleyan Girls

(This story was received from John Dierdorff, who is handling publicity work in connection with the financial campaign of Wesleyan college at Macon, Georgia. Dierdorff was formerly connected with the Emerald.—The Editor.)

Macon, Georgia.—A doctor is the "ideal" husband. At least that is what 17 out of 45 girls in the senior class at Wesleyan college seem to think, if their answers to a recent questionnaire can be taken as a reliable guide.

Just what process of reasoning led nearly 40 per cent of the girls to declare themselves in favor of a doctor husband is not apparent from the

(Continued on page three)