FINAL DEBATES TO BE TONIGHT

Washington and Stanford Teams to Meet Varsity in Triangular Contest

EVENT TO BE IN VILLARD

Question on United States Entering World Court; Negative Starts South

One of the biggest and most important contests in the forensic year, and the final event for the men's varsity debate teams, comes tonight, when Oregon's two teams meet Stanford university and the University of Washington in the annual triangular debate staged among these institutions.

The home debate is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight in Villard hall. The team debating on the campus is composed of Martin Moore and Ernest Hendrikson. They will uphold the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the United States should enter the proposed world court," against the University of Washington negative.

Oregon Team Leaves

The Oregon negative team, consisting of Herschel Brown and Glenwood Archer, left yesterday for Palo Alto to meet the Stanford affirmative.

Judge John B. McCourt of the Oregon supreme court, Salem, and Charles Alexander of the editorial staff of the Albany Democrat, are two of the judges for tonight's contest in Villard. The third judge is to be selected some time today. Dean E. C. Robbins of the University school of business administration will act as chairman.

The contest is one of long standing, and is considered a strong debate by all three institutions. At the convention of the Pacific Coast Forensic league, held on the local campus last fall, there were representatives from the three institutions involved in the debate who urged that the event be held according to custom. The debate comes yearly on the second Thursday in March.

Honor System Featured

One of the outstanding and distinguishing features of the annual debate is the honor system used in securing judges, each school having the privilege of selecting its own.

Last year, Oregon lost the debate after having held the coast championship for three years. Stanford was last year's victor, having won both its meets.

Martin Moore and Ernest Hendrikson have both had experience in public speaking work, though this is the first year that either has participated on the varsity debate team.

Moore represented Oregon in the extempore speaking contest held as a part of the program of the convention of the coast forensic league last fall.

Hendrikson has represented the University in several oratorical events.

The question for the debate is a timely one, and one which is of national and world interest. It is an outstanding example of the policy of the public speaking leaders to choose up-to-date subjects for debate.

Ease Marks Concert Given by University Orchestra

By Josephine Rice

The University Symphony orchestra presented a very creditable concert last night to a large audience at the Methodist church. The playing was marked throughout by ease and relaxation that comes from confidence, the obvious effort usually attending student productions was lacking. This absence of strain on the part of both leader and orchestra contributed to the pleasing smoothness of the evening's concert.

The program opened with the overture to "Fidelio," by Beethoven. "Fidelio" is the single operatic work of this great master musician, and one of the finest in musical literature. While the overture was played well, all that there is of worth in it. The intermezzo from "Jewels of the Madonna" was a

Poets' Guild Will Give Award for Poem on May Day

Announcement has come to the English department of the University that the American Child Health association has placed at the disposal of the Poets' Guild, located in New York city, the sum of $500 with which to purchase a poem written on the subject of May Day which best conveys the idea of glorious, healthful childhood.

The most suitable poem will be read at the festivals held throughout the country on May 1. The poem is limited to 48 lines, and must be typewritten. No signatures are to appear on the manuscript, but the name and address of the author should be enclosed in a sealed envelope to be sent to the Poets' Guild by April 10.

The Guild believes that in May Day there are certain symbols, ceremonies and teachings by which the people of America may be made more keenly aware of the childhood of the nation.

FLORENCE BUCK MADE Y. W. C. A. PRESIDENT

Speakers at Annual Banquet Tell of Work Done

Florence Buck is the new president of the University Young Women's Christian association as a result of the election held yesterday. Other officers elected are: Mary Donaldson, vice-president; Marian Lowry, secretary; Lois Easterbrooks, treasurer; Helen Andrews, undergraduate representative.

The big event ending the day yesterday was the annual banquet given at the College Side Inn last evening. Approximately 175 University women and town members of the Y. W. C. A. gathered at the affair.

Following a violin and piano duet by Margaret and Katherine Inwood, Mrs. E. E. DeCoue gave a short talk on the reminiscences of the association, in which she told of the history of the association, and the work it has done since it was first organized.

A resume of the past year's work was presented by Eloise Buck. In her talk Miss Buck named the various branches of work done by the campus Y. W. C. A., including employment, Girls' Reserve, various discussion groups, and the Seaback conference, and the report on the year's work in each branch of work.

Mrs. Bruce J. Giffen spoke on the value of cooperation between the University association, and the town members who aid in sustaining the group. Dean Virginia Esterly gave a talk, "At the Crossroads," in which she outlined some of the ideals to which such an association aspires and which it accomplishes, and the ideal of a university of Christian women.

Another interesting speaker on the program was Mrs. L. W. Messer of Chicago, and a former member of the national board of the Y. W. C. A., who is visiting relatives in Eugene. Mrs. Messer's message was for cooperation of the Y. W. C. A. as a national group. Another musical number was a vocal solo given by Gwladys Keeney.

The final number on the program was the announcement of the new officers, by Mary Clerin, retiring president.

charming number. Its playful melody, begun in the flute with pizzicato violin accompaniment, was later taken up by the first violins. The bass viol pizzicato accompaniment gave a light touch to the character of the piece.

The first group was closed by two English Folk Dances by Percy Grainger. "Mock Morris," which played extremely well by the orchestra, seems a little heavy for orchestration. The "Shepherds Hey," on the other hand, becomes very effective; it was played with spirit. The gradual approach to the fast and furious climax was particularly well done.

The string orchestra may well be proud of their performance. Bach's "Air for the G String," with its

FROSH NUMERAL AWARD FAVORED

Student Council to Allow "Babes" to Give Jerseys to Successful Athletes

STAG MIX TO BE HELD

Assembly Hour Freed from Paddlings and Initiations; New Society Recognized

Official awards to freshmen, who take part in inter-collegiate athletic contests were standardized, rules were passed keeping 11 o'clock Thursday free from paddling or initiation events, a sophomore interfraternity society was recognized and it was decided that a stag mix will be staged on the same night as the April Frolic. These are the results of the meeting of the student council, held yesterday afternoon.

The action keeping the assembly hour free for assembly came as the result of complaints being filed that speakers were not receiving proper courtesy when a part of their already short time was taken by events that could have been staged on other days. The council suggested that Friday be made the traditional day for such events as have been taking place on the library steps at 11 o'clock Thursday.

Stag Mix Planned

The recognition of the new sophomore society was merely a matter of routine, as the council has no jurisdiction over the formation of such groups. The stag mix will be held to give the men of the University amusement on the night that the girls put up the "keep out" sign on the Woman's building, where the April Frolic is held.

Since the freshman class must purchase any awards that are given their athletes, the council did not pass a motion compelling the undergraduates to make any awards. The motion which received a favorable vote simply ruled that any awards that are given freshman participants in athletic events must be made according to the following rules:

1. The official freshman class emblem, lemon-yellow class numerals, on a navy blue V-neck jersey, shall be awarded.
2. To any representative of the freshman football team who has played one full half in the first lineup or 30 minutes total in parts of three halves in the second lineup in competition with a freshman team of any college or university which is a member of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate conference.

Track Is Included

3. To any representative of the freshman track team winning one point or part of a point in competition with any college or university which is a member of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate conference.
4. To any representative of the freshman basketball team playing three full halves in competition with a freshman team of any college or university which is a member of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate conference.
5. To any representative of the freshman baseball team playing in two games of baseball in competition with a freshman team representing any college or university which is a member of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate conference, excepting pitchers, who shall pitch nine innings.

6. Awards shall be paid for by freshman class.
 7. The award shall not be worn after the following varsity season in which the award was won.
- It is thought probable that this year's freshmen will vote the awards according to the new ruling, but a small levy will have to be made on class members to finance the move, because of the present lack of funds in the treasury.

OREGON GRADUATES MARRY IN LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA

Irene Compton, '23, and Allen Carnecross, '22, were married at Long Beach California, on February 23. Miss Compton is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Carnecross on the campus was prominent in journalism and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega. Since his graduation, he has been on the editorial staff of the Long Beach Telegram.

Bishop Shepard Is to Address Sunday Vespers

Speaker is Frequent Campus Visitor

University vesper services will be held Sunday, March 9, in the Methodist Episcopal church at 4:30 p. m. Bishop William O. Shepard, of the Methodist church, with headquarters in Portland, will be the principal speaker.

Bishop Shepard visits Eugene frequently and two years ago spoke at a vesper service. He is a graduate of DePauw university, where he became affiliated with the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He received the appointment of bishop in 1912 and a few years previous to that time, was a pastor in Chicago, Illinois.

The anthem, "Angel Voices Ever Singing," by Shelley, will be sung by the choir. The solo quartet for this service is composed of Ruth Akers, soprano; Leona Gregory, contralto; Roy Bryson, tenor; and Aubrey Furry, basso.

Prof. F. S. Dunn will preside at the service.

FOREIGN SOCIOLOGIST TO LECTURE FRIDAY

Professor Jaszi to Discuss Hungarian Situation

Prof. Oscar Jaszi, Hungarian sociologist, and formerly liberal statesman of Karolyi's cabinet, is due in Eugene this afternoon and will be on the campus Friday. The committee in charge of Professor Jaszi's appearance here has arranged a dinner for tonight at the Anchorage at 6 o'clock, to which faculty men are invited.

Tomorrow at 10 o'clock in Villard hall, Professor Jaszi will give a lecture on "Red and White Bolshevism in Hungary." The public is invited to this lecture. At 2:15 Friday afternoon in room 105, Commerce building, he will lecture to several classes on "The Present Crisis of European Marxist Socialism." Visitors are also invited to this lecture.

Professor Jaszi has been an exile in Vienna for the past five years, prior to his arrival in New York, where he delivered a series of lectures for the New School for Social Research. Since January 12, he has been making a lecture tour across the continent, speaking at the leading colleges and universities on the general subject of "The Central European Crisis and Its Consequences."

The lecturer was at first a professor at the University of Transylvania, and later professor of sociology at Budapest university. He organized and conducted for 20 years the Sociological Society and Free School for Social Sciences of Hungary.

The coming of Professor Jaszi to the University is under the auspices of the administration. Dean George Rebec, of the graduate school, and Professors James Barnett and Walter Barnes are in charge of his program. Those wishing to make reservations for the dinner at the Anchorage this evening are asked to phone Walter Barnes at 1128 or 946-J.

DURNO, '21, WINS AWARD

Former Oregon Basketball Captain Gets Harvard Scholarship

"Eddie" Durno, of the class of '21, who is attending the Harvard medical school this year, has recently been awarded a scholarship in that school. Out of a class of 125 students there were 11 awards and Durno was listed among them. He has been making an average of about 97 in the school.

While attending school here, Durno was a star basketball man, making all-coast forward for two years. He was captain of the team when a senior. After graduating from the University, he coached athletics at Medford high school before going to the eastern school. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

COUNCIL KILLS HOUSE SPORTS

STUDENT BODY TO MEET TODAY

Forensic Amendment to be Considered at Business Session in Villard Hall

MUSIC TO BE FEATURE

An amendment to the by-laws, framed by the forensic council to change the form of the debate award, will be the main consideration before the student body, which will meet at the regular assembly hour today in Villard hall.

Short talks will be given by the coaches on spring sports and the school of music will give a special program after the short business meeting of the associated students.

Amendment to be Discussed

The amendment, which will be brought up today, reads as follows: "An amendment to Article IV, Section 2, Clause I, of the By-laws of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, which reads as follows:

"Gold 'O.' A University representative in intercollegiate oratory or debate shall be awarded by the Forensic council, the official debate and oratory emblem, a gold block 'O' 3-8x1-16x1-4 inches in dimension. No representative shall receive more than one such emblem in any one college year." This is changed to read:

"Gold 'O.' A University representative in intercollegiate oratory or debate shall be awarded by a gold block 'O' 1-2x1, 16x3-8 inches in dimension, with a curved bar running from the upper left-hand corner to the lower right-hand corner, upon which curved bar shall be engraved the word, 'Forensics.' Further upon the right-hand perpendicular side of such award shall be engraved the year of the award and the previous years this person has won this same award, if any. No representative shall receive more than one such emblem in any one college year.

Emblem to be Changed

"To further amend Article IV, Section 2 of the By-laws of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon to include a clause 5, which shall read:

"The Student Manager of the Forensics shall be given an official debate and oratory emblem of the same description and nature as the representatives with the addition of an 'M' being engraved upon the upper horizontal bar."

Campus sentiment seems to be greatly in favor of this change. Paul Patterson, four-year varsity debater, now a graduate and instructor in public speaking, chairman of the forensic committee, said: "The new award will be a good thing. The proposed pin will meet the need of giving some added distinction to debaters who have served more than one year. This can be shown in the award itself. The debate manager earns his award fully as much as the manager of any other branch of student activity."

W. A. A. MEETS TODAY

Election Amendment to be Voted on at 5 o'Clock at Villard

At the mass meeting of the Women's Athletic association this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Villard hall, an amendment to the constitution, providing that the date of the annual elections be held earlier than usual, will be made. Candidates for the offices will be announced at that time also.

If the amendment passes, elections will be held next Tuesday. The reason for this advance of date is to enable the new president to attend the conference in Seattle during the first of April. All members are urged to attend the meeting this afternoon, for only those who are in good standing in attendance will be able to vote.

Freshmen to Vote on Special Levy for Sport Awards

At a freshman meeting Friday at 3:15 at Villard, the class will decide whether or not a special levy is to be made to finance giving jersey awards to freshman athletes. The student council has standardized the award, specifying blue jerseys with class numerals in lemon-yellow.

"The question is whether to have jerseys for awards for athletes or nothing at all," said Lowell Baker, president of the freshman class.

A special assessment will be necessary as the present amount in the class treasury will not be sufficient to purchase the number of jerseys necessary for the athletes of the class.

LARGE CAST TO APPEAR IN GUILD PLAY TONIGHT

Air of Olden Days Pervades "School for Scandal"

Richard Sheridan's "School for Scandal," which is being presented by the University company, will open for its first performance tonight at Guild hall at 8:30 p. m. A large cast of campus stars are presenting this famous old comedy, under the direction of Fergus Reddie.

Everyone is acquainted with this group of scandal mongers and reputation breakers that make up the "School for Scandal." Their avidity for tawdry reputations to shreds is amusingly exaggerated, though not so far from true human nature but that its appeal is instantly recognized.

Its production as a classical comedy will bring much of that odd atmosphere of artificiality of those by-gone days. The costumes of the period, the simple stage settings and a quaint little dance with specially arranged lights will serve to complete the picture.

Bernard McPhillips is playing the irascible Sir Peter Teazle. Elizabeth Robinson takes the role of Lady Teazle, his young wife. Maria, his ward, will be portrayed by Betty Belle Wise. Sir Oliver Surface, coming to England to test his two young nephews, will be played by Virgil Mulkey. Darrell Larsen and David Swanson will take the parts of these two young men, Joseph and Charles Surface, respectively. Lady Scaudwell, leader in the School for Scandal, will be played by Wenona Dyer. Katherine Pinneo is taking Mrs. Candour, an extremely loquacious member of the "School for Scandal." Gordon Wilson is playing Sir Benjamin Backbite, nephew of Crabtree, played by Wade Kerr. Others in the cast are Paul Krause, Walter Malcolm, Lexro Prillman, Boyd Homewood, Terva Hubbard, Portia Kidwell, Henry Sheldon and Clifford Zehring.

The Guild hall box office will be open today and the two last nights of the performance, Friday and Saturday. Tickets will sell at 50 cents and 75 cents.

CONVENTION PLANS MADE

Women's League to Help Entertain Daughters of Revolution

A state convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held on the campus March 13, 14 and 15, and the University Women's league is to assist in the entertainment of the delegates.

Freshman women are to act as pages during the conference, and a tea will be given in honor of the visitors, at which members of the Women's league will pour.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL TEAMS TO DEMONSTRATE GAME

Two men's volleyball teams will be sent over to the women's gymnasium Friday afternoon by Harry A. Scott, director of men's athletics. They will put on a demonstration of volleyball for the benefit of those girls who are interested in that sport.

ACTION IS TAKEN TO RAISE GRADES

Inter-fraternity Group Also Decides to Abolish All Cups and Other Awards

CLASS GAMES PROBABLE

New Ruling Passed Last Night Becomes Effective Beginning Spring Term

By Ken Cooper

As a result of the action of the inter-fraternity council last night, the present program of intramural athletics is abolished. The main objection to the program in its present state is that the benefits gained by the participating organizations and the varsity teams is not sufficient to warrant the time that is spent in carrying out the schedule. The action of the council was not taken on the spur of the moment, but is the outcome of a question that has been brewing for more than a year. The ruling of the council will become effective at the beginning of the spring term.

The question that brought matters to a head and resulted in the action of the council was that of the grade average that freshmen should maintain in order that they might be initiated in the fraternities.

Freshmen Bear Burden

The general opinion expressed in the council was that a great portion of the burden of intramural athletics fell upon the freshmen of the organizations and that it was detrimental to their grades. As the spirit of the fraternities was toward a higher initiation requirement, the present system of inter-organization athletics was highly undesirable.

At the same time, it was decided by the council "that plaques, awards and other prizes be abolished." This does not mean that the cups and other awards that are now held as permanent possession of the organizations shall be scrapped, but that the awards that are in circulation which are won on a yearly basis shall be returned to the donors.

The action of the council does not necessarily mean that all interfraternity contests in the future shall be abolished, but it does mean that the fraternities shall participate in the games of their own volition and that no pressure will be brought to bear in the form of campus opinion as there will be no awards given to the winners.

Benefits Are Stated

In a statement to the Emerald last night, Dean John F. Bovard, of the school of physical education, said, "The school of physical education does not wish to drive the fraternities. We sympathize with the problem of the fraternities and wish to cooperate with them. Intramural athletics are a good thing, but they need not be interfraternity athletics. In the past, the fraternities have proved a means of getting large numbers of students engaged in intramural athletics, but if the fraternities have a better plan we are willing to cooperate with them."

The plan that is proposed by the council to take the place of the present doughnut schedule is of an

MAT MEN TO MEET O. A. C.

Oregon Grapplers Work Hard for Mix at Corvallis Friday

The varsity wrestling team will journey to Corvallis to meet the O. A. C. Grapplers on Friday night. The men have all been putting in strenuous workouts in order that they may hold their own with the husky Corvallis lads.

It looks like Ford will wrestle at 125 pounds; Whitecomb, 135; Robertson, 145; probably Nygren at 158; and Wells at 175. This is a return go between the two teams.
