

DRIVE WORKERS TO MEET AT 7:30

First Gathering of Entire Student Union Force to be Held in Villard Hall

MORE THAN 300 LISTED

Senior and Junior Classes Have Canvassing Teams of 120 Men and Women

FACTORS IN STUDENT UNION ORGANIZATION

- Two students, one man and one woman, head each class organization. Eight class chairmen in all appointed.
- Classes divided into teams for canvassing. Men and women captains of teams appointed. There are 28 team captains.
- Team workers appointed. There are 280 students who will be team workers.
- The entire organization is comprised of more than 300 students.
- Campaign opens the morning of Wednesday, April 23.
- Meeting of the entire personnel of organization tonight at 7:30 in Villard hall.

The great conclave will be the event of tonight. For the first time, the entire organization of the Student Union drive will come together to hear the plans as they have been perfected thus far. All those who have been appointed to any service in regard to the Union campaign, general chairmen, all committees, class chairmen and chairwomen, captains of the class teams, and the scores of team workers themselves, will all meet together at Villard hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Rockley to Head Meeting

It is planned to enumerate the details of the four-day drive, which starts next Wednesday, April 23. Haddon Rockley, chairman in charge of the canvassing forces, will direct the meeting, and there will be explanations by other speakers of the duties of the workers who will bring the $200,000 in for the Union fund.

Yesterday the names of those who will work in the junior and senior classes were announced. They are:

Mr. Whittlesey Tells How to Raise Easy Union Money

The Alabama minstrels were making their debut before a house packed with students one night. The end-men were growing restless, as end-men always do. Long legged "Carbon" Whittlesey on the extreme right could be seen fairly itching to show off his little conjurer's trick. And the markedly obese gentleman of strangely elliptical proportions on the opposite end was seen to mop his shining ebony forehead with the back of his white-kid-gloved hand, and puff his cheeks out with exaltation of discomfort while waiting for the interlocutor to conclude the tedious introduction (at least it was tedious for those practiced black men holding down the end-berths).

But the central figure of the charcoal group seemed not so hurried in his electionary dispensations. He was doing his Mason and Dixon best to maintain the level of effulgent wit, which seemed to be taking with the students. His garrulousness, his questioning uninterrupted except by the occasional answer to an enigma by a member of the merry black-faced company, he delved into the complications of histrionic repartee and incited his audience to laughter by the sweeping callisthenics of his gesticulations, and the curious inflection of his basso profundo into a well-modulated whispering query.

"Misto Whittlesey," boomed the sonorous voice of Interlocutor Johnson, "spose you calc'late fer this heah 'lustrous assemblance a

Bend Secretary Conference Head

TODAY EVENTFUL ONE IN SECRETARIES' MEET

Prominent Men Are Listed to Speak on Program

Today will undoubtedly be one of the most eventful days for those attending the fourth annual short course for commercial club secretaries held under the auspices of the State Association of Commercial Secretaries and the school of business administration of the University of Oregon. A lecture by A. S. Dudley, manager of the Oregon state chamber of commerce, on "Mechanics of Public Speaking," will be delivered at 9 a. m.

The secretaries will be guests of the Eugene chamber of commerce at luncheon. Jake D. Allen, promotion manager of the San Francisco chamber of commerce, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Allen will also be the leader at a round table discussion, "Committee Organization and Control," to be held this afternoon, and will be the assembly speaker today.

Last evening the secretaries were the guests of President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell at an informal affair in Alumni hall of the Woman's building.

The program for today is as follows:

9:00-9:50—Mechanics of Public Speaking, A. S. Dudley.

10:00-10:50—Principles of Economics, E. C. Robbins.

11:00-11:50—Assembly, community singing, J. H. Fuller, Ashland.

12:00-1:15—Luncheon, "The Chamber of Commerce as an Institution," (guests of Eugene chamber of commerce), Jake D. Allen.

1:15-1:45—Round table discussion, "Committee Organization and Control," Jake D. Allen.

6:15—Dinner.

8:00—Annual meeting of State association of Commercial Secretaries (Eugene chamber of commerce).

MUSIC GROUP TO HAVE MEETING THIS WEEKEND

This coming weekend there will be a meeting of the music committee, of which Dean John Landbury of the school of music is chairman, to decide the exact nature of the state music convention, which will be held on the campus June 6 and 7. This conference is held once a year in different parts of the state. Mr. David Campbell of Portland is president of the association.

MAJOR SPORTS UNDER ONE HEAD

Ted Gillenwater to Direct Organization; Beneficial Will Have Cooperation

BENEFIT DANCE MAY 16

Managers Will Get Award of Sweater and Insignia With 'M' in Center of 'O'

All major sports from now on will be under the direction of the managers' association, it was decided at a meeting yesterday of managers of football, basketball, baseball and track. Ted Gillenwater, basketball manager, was chosen to head the association for the coming year.

The organization will work in close cooperation with Jack Beneficial, said Ted Gillenwater. Managers will work together whenever possible, and men for important positions for each coming year will be selected by the association and recommended to the executive council for appointment.

Year's Duties Listed

The big work for this year will be the Olympic tryouts and the Pacific Coast conference meet May 30 and 31. All managers will cooperate on the different phases, such as ticket selling, caring for athletes and handling finances.

The duties of managers of each sport are listed as caring for the field, caring for all equipment, handling finances on trips, and taking care of gate receipts. For this they are rewarded with the same sweater and insignia that the athletes receive, except that the "O" received has an "M" in it. All managers work under the graduate manager and lead him every assistance.

Sport Managers Named

Managers this year are: Jack Day, football; Ted Gillenwater, basketball; Doug Farrell, track, and Basil Burke, baseball. Managers next year will be selected from those who are serving as assistants, as follows: Otto Mauthe, Rufus Sumner, Dick Lyman, Bob Gardner, Paul Sletton and Gus Mosier.

The association will assist the Order of the O at the benefit dance to be given May 16, it is announced. The proceeds will be used for athletic purposes, and since the dance is a student body affair, all students are urged to attend.

UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS INVITED TO DEDICATION

The University has been asked to participate in the dedication of the Booth bridge across the Umpqua river on the Pacific highway at Winchester near Roseburg. A committee of the faculty has been appointed to consider plans for this, the committee being Dean John Bovard, L. H. Johnson, Dean Walker, and Karl Ontchank.

The dedication will take place Sunday, April 27, in the early afternoon. A caravan of automobiles will be leaving from Eugene Sunday morning, the start being made from the Eugene chamber of commerce. The cars will be decorated with Eugene banners and individual badges will be given to those going. Reservations for luncheon will be made for the party in Roseburg, except as individuals or groups may wish to take picnic lunches.

ART CLASSES TO MEET IN STUDIO NEXT WEEK

The new studio in the architecture building for use by the fine arts classes is now ready to be painted. The lights are being connected, and, in the opinion of H. M. Fisher, superintendent of the campus buildings and grounds, the studio will be ready for use by the middle of next week. The life classes that are scheduled to meet nights have been unable to meet this term because of lack of room and lighting facilities.

The flower beds of the campus are being cultivated by the campus gardeners this week. This work, which is usually done earlier in the month, was late this year on account of the rains, Mr. Fisher said.

Degree Cards for Graduation to Be Requested

Those to Finish in 1925 Should File Soon

All those students who expect to graduate next year are asked by the registrar's office to file an application for a degree card before leaving the University this term.

This is to enable the registrar to make out summaries for them and to send these to them during the summer. Lately many juniors have been asking for summaries at the office. This means a duplication of the work done during the summer and causes an unnecessary amount of work. However, those who want summaries may get them.

JAKE D. ALLEN TO TALK TODAY

Speaker Is Well Informed on Topic of 'Organized Community Development'

ASSEMBLY IN VILLARD

The speaker at today's assembly, Jake D. Allen, has been associated with many organizations for community betterment. He has had a varied career in connection with such work.

The subject that Mr. Allen will speak upon is "Organized Community Development," about which he is very well informed. He has made a careful analytical study of this problem over a period of years. He is a member of the California Development association and is promotion manager for the D. M. Linnard hotels with headquarters in San Francisco.

Many Lectures Given

Mr. Allen is also connected with chamber of commerce work and is in charge of the technique of chamber of commerce work at the fourth annual short course for commercial secretaries, held on the campus under the auspices of the school of business administration. He is a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce and of the National Association of Commercial Secretaries, the California Association of Commercial Secretaries, and the San Francisco District Convention of Commercial Secretaries.

He is a quite prominent speaker and lecturer. In 1920 he lectured on chamber of commerce technique at the University of Wisconsin. He lectured on the same subject at Stanford university and the University of Montana in 1922. Mr. Allen has addressed 400 chambers of commerce and in California he has spoken to all the major advertising clubs and to the most important business service clubs.

Author of Articles

Besides his work as a lecturer, Mr. Allen has written several articles on chamber of commerce work and technique.

The assembly will be held in Villard hall and the music will be furnished by Lora Teshnor, who will play a 'cello solo.

Fred Fisk Chosen as Vice-President of Regents' Board

Fred Fisk, of Eugene, has been appointed vice-president of the board of regents of the University to fill the vacancy made by the death of Charles H. Fisher. He was a graduate from Oregon in the class of '97, and has been prominent in civic affairs since then. He was recently elected to the state legislature as senator from Linn and Lane county.

Mr. Fisk was appointed to the board last year by Governor Walter M. Pierce, and has been actively associated with University affairs. James A. Hamilton, president of the board, who made the recent appointment, picked him as one who could capably carry on the work started by Mr. Fisher, who devoted so much time and advice while serving in the capacity of vice-president. The remaining vacancy on the board has not yet been filled by the governor.

STUDENT LIFE IS TOPIC AT WOMEN'S LEAGUE MEETING AT TUCSON

The University, its student affairs, its location and development, and the campus woman's relation to student activities as a whole, were the general topics of discussion at the convention of Associated Women Students at Tucson, Arizona, last week.

"In student activity and interest, we are far advanced," said Georgia Beuson, delegate from the University of Oregon, who returned Tuesday. "Our University is ideally situated. Only in our academic honor system are we behind most of the other colleges."

The growing honor system afforded one of the most interesting discussions and, socially, Oregon compares with most of the universities and colleges of the West, but, academically, we fall short." Through the Women's forum, women of the University of Oregon are able to discuss and establish standards, although it is not a legislative body, and much the same thing is being done by other universities and colleges through various councils and women's organizations, Miss Beuson declared. The delegate from the University of California discussed the honor system at California and declared that it worked beautifully. They have a student affairs committee and the importance of reporting cheating is emphasized. They have found that the competition of organizations for high grades does not lead to cribbing. Each student is considered honest, they are not guilty until they confess, neither are they required to sign cards.

Freshmen, upon entering, are given a letter emphasizing the importance of the honor system and the uprightness of reporting cases. Systems of tapping by the students when cheating in the room is discovered are used and in the law school, "because they do so much talking anyway," they sometimes rise and give discourses on the honor system. However, accuser and accused are never required to appear together before the dean, who handles all these affairs.

One morning was turned over to a session conjoint with the deans of women, who held a conference at Tucson at the time of the Women's league conference. Here cooperation of California discussed the

DR. MEIKLEJOHN TO BE ON CAMPUS TONIGHT

'College of Tomorrow' Is Topic for Address

Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, former president of Amherst, who is to meet the student discussion groups in Alumni hall at 7:45 this evening, agreed over the long distance telephone last night to take as his topic, "The College of Tomorrow." While the meeting is under the auspices of Agora, Crossroads and Dial, all persons interested are welcome to attend.

Dr. Meiklejohn has the reputation of a brilliant lecturer, enlivening his most serious remarks with a dry humor. The subject chosen is of peculiar interest in that Dr. Meiklejohn himself is known to fame for his introduction of reforms and new ideas in education while he was president of Amherst. His articles on teaching methods, upon student activities, and upon collegiate purposes appeared in the Century and other magazines and have caused wide discussion.

Dr. Meiklejohn comes to the campus as the guest of President and Mrs. Scholz of Reed college. The party of three will motor to Eugene, arriving at 4 or 5 o'clock, and will stay at Hendricks hall. They will be entertained by the faculty at the Anchorage at 6 o'clock, and expect to leave for Portland about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

ALUMNA TO WORK ON OREGON NEWSPAPER

Mary Lou Burton, '23, graduate of the school of journalism, who has been working in San Francisco with the Associated Oil company, has accepted a position on the Central Oregon Press, a Bend publication which is just changing from a semi-weekly to a daily.

Kirby L. Cardigan, associate editor of the Central Oregon Press, got in touch with Miss Burton through the local school of journalism, and after wiring her an offer received an immediate acceptance. Miss Burton has been in San Francisco for several months. She will pass through Eugene soon on her way to Bend and will probably spend a few days here. While a student at the University Miss Burton was on the Emerald staff.

W. S. C. AND OREGON JOINT GLEE CONCERT APRIL 29

The glee club at Washington State college will join with the Oregon men's glee club in a concert at the Woman's building, May 29, at 8:15. Further plans are as yet unknown, as the program has to be made up by the two directors.

STUDENT UNION COMMITTEE MEETING AT VILLARD, 7:30

The entire student union committee will meet tonight in Villard hall at 7:30. The head of the committee states that it is imperative that all chairmen, captains, and team workers be present.

LAST SWIMMING CONTEST FRIDAY

Oregon and Aggie Aquatic Teams to Meet in Final Fray in Corvallis Tank

SPRINTERS SHOW SPEED

Webfooters Are in Condition After Stiff Practices; Plungers Are Improving

Oregon's swimming team will journey to Corvallis to meet O. A. C.'s aquatic stars Friday evening in the final contest of the season. The Webfooters hold a victory over the Beavers in a meet held earlier in the season. After several weeks of strenuous workouts, the local mermen are in shape to meet the Aggies, who have also been putting in hard practice in hopes of capturing the big end of the score. The Oregon team has engaged in five meets so far this season, swimming twice against the freshmen and the Multnomah club of Portland, and once with the Aggies.

A team was also entered in the state meet and the locals managed to take third place. In the meets with the frosh the varsity carried off a victory and the other match ended in a tie. These meets were held early in the season. Multnomah managed to hand the varsity swimmers two set backs. In the meet held at Eugene, the state record in the 100-yard dash was tied by Peterson of Multnomah.

Coach Fahh has not definitely decided who he will enter in the different events, but will probably put Horsfall and Palmer in the 100-yard dash. Palmer managed to win by a narrow margin over Carpenter of O. A. C. in the last meet and is out to repeat.

Plungers Doing Better

Horsfall will not be entered in the relay, but will swim the 100 instead. Yorlan and Gardner will again swim the backstroke. Gardner managed to nose out Yorlan for first place in the O. A. C. meet, while the Aggie entry came in third. Sinclair was defeated by Van Dyke in the breaststroke, but as he has been making better time in his workouts, should run his opponent a close race to win.

In the plunge, Wiswall is showing his best form of the season. He won second place by plunging 56 feet against the Aggies. In his workouts this week he has been going the length of the tank, or 60 feet. Smith and Turner of O. A. C. are also plunging near this mark. Samuels has also improved since his last showing.

Divens Handicapped

Horsfall and McCabe will take care of the diving events. Horsfall gave Burroughs of O. A. C. close competition on the low board, but the local divers will be somewhat handicapped by the 10-foot board in the Beaver tank. Oregon's only entries in the 220-yard free style are Horsfall and Herron. Horsfall managed to win over his Corvallis opponent by 60 feet. Palmer, McCabe and Stoddard will enter the 50-yard dash.

The relay will be composed of Herron, Stoddard, McCabe and Palmer. Stoddard is a new man at the aquatic sport, but made a good showing on the relay team in the recent meet, and will have a chance to go in the sprints. The team will leave for Corvallis Friday noon.

UNIVERSITY MEMBERS IN 'PASSION' SERVICES

Several students and faculty members are taking part in the Passion Week services being held each evening this week at the Methodist Episcopal church, at 7:30.

Mme. Rose McGrew, head of the voice department of the school of music, is one of the soloists. John Stark Evans, also of the school of music, is organist at the services. Students taking part are: Leona Gregory, contralto; Roy Bryson, tenor; Richard Adam, tenor; and Aubrey Furry, basso. The services which are an hour in length, consist of 20 minutes of organ music, a short address by the minister, and a vocal solo.

LIST OF '24 GRADUATES WILL BE READY BY FRIDAY

The University registrar's office is making out a list of those seniors who are expected to graduate this June and it is hoped to have the list ready by the end of the week. Those seniors who have worked off their requirements or who expect to work them off this year are included in the list.
