

FRESHMEN NINE WORKING HARD

First Game of Season With Washington High Saturday

TWIRLERS HAVE SPEED

Aggregation Shows Much Hitting Strength

The freshmen worked out last night after the varsity game and considerable time was spent on infield practice.

The frosh tossers will play their first game here Saturday afternoon against the speedy Washington high nine of Portland. The frosh have been practicing daily on the east end of the drill field, and have a good looking squad to open the season against the Portlanders. This will be the first of a duo of games with high school teams to get them in shape for the coming series with the Rooks. Another game is scheduled with the Salem high team to be played here on the following weekend.

Fundamentals Are Stressed No first team has been picked yet, and Earl wishes all of the candidates for the team to keep coming out. There are a number of very likely looking ball players on the yearling squad, and with three weeks of practice left before the start of the season, they should work themselves into a fast aggregation. In the preliminary practice considerable attention is being devoted to the fundamentals, such as hitting and fielding practice, sliding sessions and infield workouts.

So far the frosh look to have a slugging crew, who wield the willow in a fashion to throw a scare into any opposing hurlers who may show up. Nearly every man on the team has been showing some promise in the hitting line. Jones, Rex Adolph, Mimnaugh, Reinhart, Kiminki, Dallas, and others are a few of the prospective "Sisters" among the freshmen.

Infield Is Fast The infield as it worked on this occasion, shows promise of developing into a fast little combination. Rex Adolph was holding down the first sack, West was on second, Kiminki at short, and Dallas on third. Besides these so-called regulars, there are several others who are showing up well enough to stand chances of breaking into the lineup at any time. Wrightman and Christensen have been working out at second. Miller can be called upon to fill in at short in good style.

The pitching staff is also stronger than it at first appeared. De Lassus worked in the box in scrimmage and the big fellow showed up pretty well. He gets considerable speed out of his long arms and possesses a fair assortment of curves. Dave Adolph is another hurler who shows promise of being a regular. Dutton, the find from eastern Oregon, if he keeps improving, will be assured of a regular turn in the box. Stovall is another big fellow who looked good in practice. Watt may also be given a chance to show his wares in one of the contests. Mimnaugh did the receiving and will probably be the first string catcher this year, as Jones may be used in the outfield.

Outfield Works Well The outfield, as it lines up at present, is composed of Jones, Reinhart, and Brooks, with Carl Johnson alternating in the outer gardens. This department of the team seems to be well taken care of and shouldn't cause the coach much worry.

HUSKIES TAKE FIRST GAME WITH OREGON

hart's men drove Morgan to the showers, but their rally was cut short after two runs had come in, giving Oregon the lead. The slugging Washingtonians sewed the game up in the eighth, when Boyd tripled, Malone doubled, and Lewis connected for the third home run of the day. Terril and Cook both got on the bags in the eighth, but Williams, Sorsby, and Ross all failed to come through in a pinch. Latham's hit, after two were out, and Shidler's error on pinch-hitter

SOCIETY

By THELMA HAMBICK Items for this column, phone 1309.

The campus mothers are being eagerly looked forward to this weekend, and several entertainments and teas have been arranged in their honor. The leap-year dance proves of great interest to all students, particularly to those upon whom the initiative falls.

Alpha Chi Omega freshmen entertained the seniors with a charming breakfast at the Anchorage last Sunday morning. The room was prettily decorated with tulips and greenery.

Mothers will be guests of honor at a Women's League tea to be held at Alumni hall next Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Ice cream will be served in the parlor. A musical program will be presented at the affair, for which the new and old executive officers of the league will be hostesses.

Miss Pearl MacDownell, national province secretary of Delta Gamma, will visit the local chapter next weekend, arriving Friday.

All guests at the Delta Tau Delta annual picnic held last Friday voted the trip a decided success. The party

Jack Bliss' drive brought in the eighth varsity run. Ringle fell victim to Shidler with the tying run on second base.

Second Game Today The second game is scheduled for 3:15 today. The score:

While the discussion is at its height, the door softly opens and Dr. Meiklejohn enters the room, taking a seat at the rear of the group. The self-consciousness which is felt for a moment when he first enters, soon wears off, and we again are deep in the throes of getting at the whys and wherefores of education.

Through the entire visit was woven this delightful feeling of fellowship and friendliness—one of the most vivid impressions left upon our memories from our week-end trip. It was assuredly worthwhile. Reed college, we thank you!

It will be necessary for those entering the third elimination to have their games played off by Friday night, May 2, it was announced by Augusta DeWitt, head of tennis.

The schedule for the third elimination is as follows: Singles—Mary Alice Ball, Alpha Phi, vs. Dora Gordon, Alpha Omicron Pi; Camille Burton, Chi Omega, vs. Anna McCabe, Delta Delta Delta; Rhona Williams, Hendricks hall, vs. Peggy Spencer, Kappa Alpha Theta; Regina Devault, Thacher Cottage, vs. Ruth Melsome, Hendricks hall.

The fourth point is artistic excellence in general. Here are included general fitness to the occasion and aesthetic qualities. A list of these qualifications will be given each of the judges in order to somewhat systematize the results. One prize will be given and two honorable mentions. The judges will be seated together in the reserved section.

There are still four houses who have not handed in the names of their floats. This will hold up the printing of the programs. The names of the floats are being kept secret. It is desired that the houses start work on the floats at once in order to

STRETCHING THE FAMILY INCOME

Even when there is no attempt to "Keep up with the Joneses," the high cost of living necessitates considerable maneuvering in the management of the average household so as to stretch the family income to meet all demands. If this is true while the breadwinner is alive and on the job, what of the perplexities which the family must face if deprived of his support? There is only one answer: Adequate life insurance, preferably on the income plan, and of course in
