

MUCH BUILDING NOW UNDER WAY

Number of Fraternities to Move by Fall Term

VARIOUS SHIFTS MADE

Excavations Are Prepared for Two More Houses

The building programs being carried on by the different campus organizations are well under way and the opening of the fall term will see a number of them in new dwellings.

Work on the new Alpha Phi house on Hilyard street and mill race is nearing completion. Although the house will be ready for occupancy before the close of this term, the girls do not expect to move before fall.

Club Building Starts

In all probability, the Sigma Nu house will not be ready before the fall term. While the work should be finished in a short time, the members are expected to continue living as they have been doing since the fire in their former home, rather than moving so near the end of the term.

The Craftsmen's club building, on Fourteenth avenue, between Alder and Kincaid, has reached the stage where the foundations have been laid and the workmen are now engaged in preparing for the framework.

Some Changes Listed

Excavations are being made for the new houses to be built for Kappa Alpha Theta, at Fifteenth and Alder, and for Phi Gamma Delta, at Nineteenth and University streets.

With the occupation of new houses by these organizations, there will be further shifting of locations by fraternities and sororities. Kappa Delta Phi has purchased the present Kappa Alpha Theta residence. Sigma Beta Phi will move into the house now occupied by Kappa Delta Phi. The present Phi Gamma Delta house will be taken over by Phi Sigma Nu. Newman hall, now housing Tau Nu, has been purchased by Alpha Beta Chi, who will take possession in the fall.

OREGON CLUB ELECTS NEXT YEAR'S OFFICERS

Earl Smith was elected president, Wilbur Hadden, vice-president, and Rupert Gilbert, secretary-treasurer of the men's Oregon club for the coming year, at the election held in the Y. M. C. A. hut Tuesday evening. The nominations were made at the regular meeting of the club on Monday.

The Oregon club is an organization of men not connected with any living organization and was made a closed body at the beginning of this year. In former years, it was composed of all men not members of any house, but interest in the club died down and those interested in its continuance decided that a closed organization would receive stronger backing. Louis Carlson, president; Joe Ellis, vice-president, and Ernest Henriksen, secretary-treasurer, are the retiring officers.

FOUR FRESHMAN UNITS OF R. O. T. C. REVIEWED

A review of the local R. O. T. C. unit was held Tuesday afternoon. Lt. Col. Ben Reed, cadet officer, was the reviewing officer. The R. O. T. C. band furnished music. Between one and two o'clock the four freshman companies passed in review. After two o'clock the ceremony was repeated, the two credit freshmen and two credit sophomores taking part.

It is the aim of the officers of the local R. O. T. C. unit to get the men in shape to present a good appearance when the graduating student officers receive their reserve commissions. At that time a formal review will be a part of the ceremony of presenting the commissions.

OREGON KNIGHTS GIVEN PRAISE AT CONVENTION

Charles Norton Returns from National Meeting at Pullman, Washington

Charles Norton, stunt duke of the local Oregon Knight chapter of the Interecollegiate Knights, returned to the campus the middle of the week from the national convention held at Pullman, Washington, under the auspices of the Cougar chapter of the national organization. The Oregon Knight chapter was highly commended for its work by the national officers who declared that this chapter was about the best of the seven, on the chapter roll.

Stunt Duke Norton, in company with the delegate from the O. A. C. chapter, went to Pullman the end of last week. The three days of the convention was taken up with matters of national expansion, and it is interesting to note that not one of the 12 university and college organizations petitioning were taken in; means of greater cooperation in the West; finance, and other matters of vital importance to the organization. The main work of the convention was the planning of closer cooperation and stronger organization on the coast before expanding to the Middle West and the East.

Plans are being formulated for the handling of the Pacific Coast conference meet and the Olympic try-outs by the Knights. The Beaver Knights have consented to assist the local chapter in the work if needed.

The expenses of the trip to Pullman was very kindly given to the chapter through the University with a few incidentals charged up to the Oregon Knights.

Eight delegates were present from the seven chapters, Oregon, O. A. C., University of Montana, University of Idaho, University of California, University of Washington and Washington State college.

The canoe fete committee, which was appointed last night, will function on ushering and lighting at the canoe fete Friday night. Carl Dahl is chairman with Sam Herriek, Tom Mahoney, Morton Coke, Dick Wright, John Boswell, Ken Burkemeier, Cliff Powers, Harry Hemmings and George Joseph.

Y. M. OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED TONIGHT

Bishop Walter T. Sumner to Speak at Meeting

The annual installation of the new officers and cabinet members of the campus Y. M. C. A. for the year 1924-25 will take place tonight at 6 o'clock at a dinner in the Anchorage. The meeting is also to be in the nature of a Seabeck rally. Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner, who will be the assembly speaker today in Villard hall will also address those present at the dinner.

The officers of the association for the coming year are Willard Marshall, president; James Stewart, vice-president; Ernest Henriksen, secretary; and Oscar McKinney, treasurer.

The dinner is also given to interest more University students to attend the conference to be held at Seabeck, Washington, June 13 to 23. The rally is under the direction of Lester Turnbaugh, and an effort will be made to have in attendance those who are considering Seabeck.

The public is invited to attend the dinner, although, Mr. Davis, campus Y. M. C. A. secretary, has asked that all who intend to come should make their reservations some time today at the "Y" hut. The charge will be 50 cents.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION PAMPHLET COMPILED

A 22-page pamphlet is being printed by the school of physical education to be distributed among the high schools of the state, outlining the physical education courses for men and women.

The booklet contains action pictures of soccer, women's practice class in playground work, volleyball game, women's gymnasium classes, track, baseball, tennis, football, and other sports.

Several articles on how physical directors may conduct physical education work in high schools, as well as in colleges, appear in the pamphlet.

EMERALD TO PUT OUT EIGHTEEN MORE ISSUES

Letters and Prizes to be Awarded to Staff

With the big event of the Emerald just a little over three weeks away, the reporting staff of the campus daily is taking heart for the last lap of the race.

At a meeting of the staff, held Tuesday afternoon, Art Rudd, editor, outlined the plans for the banquet to be held on May 29. At that time Emerald O's and prizes for work done during the last term will be awarded.

Beginning with this issue, there are just 18 more issues of the Emerald during this term, and now, if ever, is the time for the staff member to make every minute count in an effort to excel as a reporter, said Rudd in his talk. Each term a total of $85.00 in prizes is given out in awards of $15, $10 or $5, for work done during the term in bringing in tips, news stories, or for especially good work on the staff as day or night editor or reporter.

Emerald "O's" awarded as the highest honor which a member of the staff may receive, will be given at the banquet to 13 members of the editorial staff and 5 members of the business staff.

Members of the staff who attended the meeting Tuesday were:

William Walcot Has Given Exhibitions in Rome

Artist's Works Now Being Shown in Gallery of Arts Building

William Walcot, reproductions of whose etchings in Roman subjects may be seen in the print collection in the gallery of the Arts building until May 24, has held exhibitions in Rome, and studied intimately the architecture of the Queen of Cities. The reproductions give an idea of reasons why Walcot was elected as an Associate of the Royal Society of Painter-Etchers, and has been well represented in the Royal Academy since his first exhibition in London in 1909.

After studying architecture at the Imperial Academy of Arts in St. Petersburg, Walcot practiced for several years as an architect in Russia. He was born in Odessa of English Parentage in 1874. Besides his Russian training, he received instruction in Paris.

He is an Associate of the British School at Rome, and became a member of the Royal Academy the same year that Frank Brangwyn, great English mural painter, became president of the academy. Brangwyn's work may be seen in some etchings in the collection now on exhibition.

RUDOLPH GJELSNESS RECEIVES HIGH HONOR

A letter was received recently by M. H. Douglass, librarian, from Rudolph H. Gjelsness, who was head of the order department in the library in 1921, and who for the past two years has been at the University of California, telling of a fellowship that has just been awarded him by the American Scandinavian foundation. The fellowship provides for a year's study abroad.

Mr. Gjelsness was one of the 16 candidates who were selected from the 1,700 who tried out. He will attend the University of Christiania in Norway, taking up literature and library organization. The American Scandinavian foundation is organized in this country to develop an interest here in Scandinavian culture and the annual fellowship is one of the means used of doing this.
