

TRACK TRYOUTS NOT COMPLETED

Field Events Are to be Run Off Tonight

FROSH TO LEAVE FRIDAY

Sprint and Distance Men Already Picked

The tryouts for members of both varsity and freshmen track and field teams were not completed last night, although Coach Hayward obtained a list from which he will pick the men who will perform in certain events. Those field and running events not completed yesterday will be run off tonight.

The freshmen will leave Friday morning for a two-day carnival with the different high schools of Portland, meeting three on Friday and three on Saturday. About 20 men will make the trip, in charge of Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel.

Rosenburg Working Again

None of the field events were completed in by the varsity men; these are to be held today. This will give an opportunity to find out what Oregon can produce in the way of weight men. Chick Rosenburg was back on the firing line again last night; but is still working light to favor the thigh he hurt in the inter-class meet. Rosenburg has been heaving the javelin around 175 feet when he is right and should gather in a few points for the varsity with the long spear. He is also a pole-vaulter and a hurdler of no mean ability. His injury may keep him out of the hurdle competition next Saturday.

Summary List Given

Varsity representatives were picked in five events to run Saturday. Those picked were: 120 yard high hurdles, Kelsey, Cleaver and Carruthers; 440, Kinney, Riskey, Rosebraugh and Ager. 220, M. Lucas, Snyder and Burkit; 880, McCune, Gerke, Mauney and Humphery; 220 low hurdles, Cleaver, Kelsey and Young; and in the mile and two-mile, Holder, Keating, Tetz and McColl.

The results of the freshman tryouts: Westerman and Holt; mile, Conley, Barnes and Martin; 220, Extra, Westerman, Holt, Flannigan, Stonebraker and Seoclofsky; 440, Wilbur, Cash, Price and Jeffries; 120 yard high hurdles, Hall and Staley; 880, Swank, Jeffries, Michel and Gurney; high hurdles, Rodda, Clark, Kittoo and Staley; shot put, Johnston, Kjelland and Carter; javelin, Simonton, Hayden and Hemmings.

Officials: Starter, Hank Foster; timer, Hayward; judge, Rosenburg; judge of turns, Casey.

DEFINITE PLANS MADE FOR Y. W. C. A. PARTY

Definite plans for the annual Y. W. C. A. spring weekend house-party on May 16 and 17, were announced last night at the weekly business meeting of the council. Cars will leave the Central Stage Terminal at 5 o'clock Friday evening, May 15, for Triangle lake. The return trip will be made Saturday evening. All girls who plan on attending the affair are asked to leave their names with Miss Florence Magowan or Florence Buck. Virginia Keeney is in charge of the house-party.

The house-party is an annual event for the council and officers of the association, and has in previous years been given up the McKenzie river. This year special study for cabinet examinations will be held, as the examinations come the latter part of May. It is felt that the trip will be a good opportunity for the study as all members can meet at once.

It was also decided last night that the next meeting of the council should be in the form of a picnic. As yet the place for the event has not been decided.

CASTLE

"A good fish dinner is spoiled for me forever," sighs Louise Fazenda, popular film star. "During the filming of 'The Galloping Fish,' Thomas H. Ince's comedy special, in which I play a leading role, I had to be literally saturated with fish oil so that 'Freddie,' the seal, would follow me obediently around. One gown that I wore, a beautiful Challon model, capitulated so completely to the smell of fish that no amount of airing and cleaning had the slightest effect on it and it had to be burned."

Appearing with Miss Fazenda in "The Galloping Fish," a First National release, at the Castle today, Friday and Saturday, are Lucille Ricksen, Ford Sterling, John Stepping, Sidney Chaplin, Chester Conklin, and Truly Shattuck.

TWO STUDENTS SELL TO TRADE JOURNALS

Retail Clothing and Lumber Magazines Buy Stories

An article written in the trade journalism class on how Eugene retail clothiers observed the annual "Dress Well and Succeed" campaign, sponsored by the National Association of Retail Clothiers, has been sold by Leo P. J. Munly to a leading trade journal devoted to the retail clothing business.

By virtue of articles which he has marketed with a leading lumber journal, Leonard Lerwill has become a regular correspondent of the publication, and will submit a monthly news letter on lumber conditions in this territory.

The Four L Bulletin for May accepted from him an article on the lumber output of the Midgley Planning company of Eugene. This company is using Port Orford cedar in the manufacture of columns, which are coming back into favor, it is said, with many builders.

ALUMNI ENDOWMENT DRIVE STARTS FRIDAY

Banquets Are Scheduled Over United States

Friday night will find the University of Oregon, in all probability, the most talked of educational institution in the United States. From Boston to San Francisco, and even to Alaska and Honolulu, Oregon will be foremost in the minds of thousands of persons. For it is then that around 170 banquet boards over the nation, hosts of loyal Oregon alumni will gather to usher in the $1,000,000 alumni endowment campaign.

This alumni campaign, which, if successful, is to be a turning point in the University's career, is being watched closely by everyone concerned with the welfare of Oregon. Whether or not Oregon is to have a new men's gymnasium; and whether or not Oregon is to have new athletic fields; a new library; and an imposing and tribute paying war memorial court; is all dependent upon the outcome of the appeal of old Oregon to her alumni.

Each alumnus is being asked to contribute $260 as his or her individual share. If unable to provide the entire amount, the alumnus is requested to solicit the balance of his or her quota from friends of the University. If each alumnus is successful in securing the $260, the alumni goal of $1,000,000 will be assured.

The Student Union campaign has been brought to a successful termination. The faculty have responded splendidly. The "buck" has now been passed to the alumni, and upon them rests the responsibility for not only their $1,000,000 share, but upon the Eugene drive for the $500,000 auditorium and for the remainder of the $5,000,000 to be solicited from next fall or winter from the state at large.

Robert B. Kuykendall, alumni chairman, is confident of an enthusiastic response. "I can see no reason why the Oregon alumni should not carry on the campaign with the same vigor as was characteristic of the student and faculty campaigns. Everywhere indications point to complete success of the alumni undertaking."

NAKED TRUTH BRINGS VICTORY TO GENIUS

had studied campus politics in the past and I discerned that too many candidates made a great hullabaloo about nothing, used questionable tactics and misrepresented their policies and intentions as well as their past to the public. Being a man of integrity, I resolved to make my campaign noteworthy by its strict adherence to fact."

Here Miller was forced to pause in order that he might open a fresh box of campaign cigars to pass to his enthusiastic supporters, who thronged about him. The reporter took the opportunity to slip in a question.

"It has been rumored," he said, "that you were seen in your car on a downtown street the night before election, handing out bottles of beer from the rear seat. Is that true?" The promulgator of truth spat vehemently and cursed. "It's a lie!"

he said. "I didn't get downtown that night."

"And what will be your policy now that you are elected?"

"I shall continue to be the fearless champion of truth. I shall fulfill all of my election promises—that is, with the exception of the Ford rides. You see, the Ford was really borrowed for election purposes—it wasn't mine."

POSITIVE BEING MADE OF UNIVERSITY MOVIES

About 1,800 feet of motion picture film, taken on the campus under the direction of Jack Benefiel and Alfred Powers, is now at the Chicago Rothacker Film studios, largest producer of educational films in the United States, where the positive is being made.

This film covers campus buildings, student activities, laboratory and class scenes, athletic events, and depicts in general the life of the University. This film, added to the 1,000 feet already on hand, will total about three reels of camera pictures. Hicks and Chatham Camera company, from Portland, visited the school twice in order to obtain more fully shots of affairs here.

U. OF W. FILIPINO GIRL TO AID IN CANOE FETE

The Varsity Philipinensis, a club which is composed of nine regular Filipino students of the University of Oregon, is going to enter a float in the canoe fete.

A Filipino girl, a student of the University of Washington, is coming to the campus to help the men make the "float" a success. The girl's name is withheld by the club. The group is making an effort to have some of the Filipino women come to the campus this weekend.

FOREIGN LITERATURE RECEIVED AT LIBRARY

Classics Much in Demand by Publishing Houses

Recently an additional number of foreign novels and literary works in translations have been received by the library. A possible explanation for the fact that so many of the translations are being published in this country of late is the fact that several publishing companies are making a special attempt to procure the foreign classics and some of the most important works.

Some of these works or foreign authors, most of which have received prizes and several of them the Nobel prize, are: "The Prisoner Who Sang," by Bojer; "Paul Cezanne, His Life and Art," by Ambrose Vollard; "The Philosopher's Stone," by J. A. Larsen.

"The Children of the Age," by Hamsum; "Weeds," by Baroja; "The White Ship," by Kallas, which is a book of short stories translated from Finnish; "The Failure," by Papini; "The Quest," by Baroja; "The Late Mattia Pascal," by Luigi Pirandello; "Mastro-Don Gesualdi," by Giovanni Verga; "Sibermann," by Jacques De Laetrelle; and "Plays by G. Martinez Sierra."

LIBRARY TO REMAIN OPEN TOMORROW FROM 8 UNTIL 7

To the hard-workers who cannot afford to take the time off for a holiday, it will be good news that the library will be open tomorrow. The opening hour will be 8 o'clock instead of the usual 7:30, and the closing hour will be at 7 o'clock in the evening on account of the canoe fete. Reserve books may be taken out for the night at this time.
