

FRESHMAN TEAM TO PLAY SALEM

New Diamond in Shape for Practice Sessions

INFIELD STRENGTHENED

Lineup Presents Strong Bunch of Hitters

The freshman baseball squad worked out on the new diamond for the first time last night. They had a slight layoff in practice since Thursday, but will now get in shape for the game with Salem high school Friday.

The new field is not in shape yet for any regular games to be played on it. It is still pretty soft in places, but has been leveled off well and with some rolling and settling will be one of the best college diamonds on the coast next year. The frosh will certainly get more of a chance to practice there than on the makeshift on the drill grounds.

Changes in Lineup Made

Hank Foster, freshman coach, was working last night in an endeavor to strengthen his infield by shifting his lineup. He shifted Jones from the outfield and tried him out at third base. It is probable that Jones may hold down the hot corner in the game Friday and that Dallas will be shifted to second, where he was working out last night. In that case the infield will lineup with Rex Adolph on first, Dallas on second, Kiminki at short, and Jones on third. However West may get a chance to work at second, where he has been showing up well.

The outfield, if Jones is moved to the infield, will be composed of Reinhart, Brooks and Carl Johnson. All three can cover ground fast in the outer gardens and are also handy with the stick. The frosh team as a whole can hit in fair fashion and should present a mean murderers row to opposing twirlers.

Varsity Practice Planned

Minnah is taking care of the receiving in excellent style and should have a good year with the willow. The pitchers have not had much of a chance to show their wares, but should stack up in fair shape with the rest of the team. Dave Adolph, DeLasus, Lee, Dutton, and Stovall are the right handers on the staff. Schmeer, a southpaw, is a new addition to the hurlers and should help out a great deal in the coming games.

The babes will practice with the varsity today and probably the two teams will tangle daily for the next three days. This should help in putting the frosh on edge for the Salemites.

STUDENTS FIND JUNIOR WEEK-END PLEASANT

of the Women's Athletic association.

Mary Clerin: "I am all for it. It is the greatest relief I have experienced. This is the first Junior Week-end when I have really enjoyed myself."

"It should be one time when everyone in the University would forget his work and really play. They can't do this with guests," said Miss Morrison. "This year the students really enjoyed themselves for the first time. The atmosphere was light-hearted and the plan proved so successful that we can say it is better to leave the guests out."

"It is a shame there were no guests to appreciate it," said Miss Skinner, "but it was much easier on the students. I think it was a huge success, and a really enjoyable weekend—one time when the students felt that it was for themselves..."

Maude Schroeder was also of the opinion that it was very successful. "If guests had been here," she said, "the whole campus would have worked to entertain them. The weekend is really a time when the juniors entertain the rest of the school, and that was what it really was this year."

The opinions for and against this year's plan are about even among the men.

Ben Maxwell, a senior and member of the Emerald staff, can see no good in the weekend of pleasure. He would abolish the whole business and feels that the prohibiting of guests is the first step in this direction.

Francis Cleaver, a track man, enjoyed it without the preppers, as he was relieved of all responsibility. He thought that the high school students might be invited at some other time.

Frank Carter, vice-president of the student body, thinks that the weekend went over big. He enjoyed the entertainments without guests and he noticed that there were very few students feeling "dead" yesterday morning, as a result of intensive entertaining.

"A huge success," said Ed Tap-

Every house on the campus entertained the mothers over the weekend, especially on Sunday. Mothers, Mother's Day and Junior Week-end made that time particularly enjoyable.

Two-thirty o'clock Saturday morning was an exciting time at the Delta Gamma house, when the engagement of Margaret Hyatt, 1927, to Harry Meyer, Bachelor Junior, was announced. At the end of the large table, there was a huge pastry representing the pins of the two houses. Powder-puffs were at each place, attached by ribbons to cards telling the news. The colors of Delta Gamma and Bachelor Junior were used in the candles placed about the table. Miss Hyatt is a member of the glee club, and Harry Meyer is a varsity tennis player, and a member of the Order of the O.

A Mothers' dinner was given by Alpha Omicron Pi Sunday, honoring the several mothers that visited the house over the weekend.

Forty couples are to attend an interesting informal spring dance to be given by Delta Gamma next Saturday evening.

Covers were laid for 25 persons at a formal dinner given by Delta Omega Saturday evening in honor of Bishop Walter T. Sumner, from Portland, who is making his tenth consecutive visit to this campus.

A charming informal dance will be held at the Campbell Church home on Fairmount heights next Friday night for 30 Alpha Phi girls and their guests. The house will be decorated with spring flowers. Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Church, Mrs. Jessie Stearns and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nichol.

A wonderful time is promised to the 60 couples that will attend the Delta Zeta annual picnic to be given next weekend at Coburg. A dance, bonfire, hike, and the usual activities of such an occasion will be enjoyed. The party will leave in the early afternoon, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Miller.

fer, chairman of the weekend affairs. "It was enjoyed more, because it was a day for the entire campus, and when the preppers are here, it is for them, not for the students. It should be continued in this manner, for the students need one time when they can really get together."

Randall Jones, president-elect of the A. S. U. O., feels that guests should be invited if the present Junior Week-end program is continued. He said, in part, "The students, I believe, other than the juniors perhaps, have had a freer and more enjoyable time without the customary cut-throat rushing."

Walter Malcolm, varsity debater, believed that everyone enjoyed the entertainments to a much greater extent without guests. He was of the opinion, however, that it would be better to have the guests at Junior Week-end, rather than to string them out over the entire spring, the present tendency among houses.

Hugh Latham, varsity athlete, said: "I think without a doubt that this year's Junior Week-end was a success considering the sheer pleasure derived by the students. I am in favor of continuing the plan as carried out this year."

LESTER TURNBAUGH HAS POSITION AS TEACHER

Lester Turnbaugh, senior in the school of Journalism, has accepted a position as superintendent of schools at Merrill, Oregon, at a salary of $222 a month. He will have charge of both the grade and high schools. He has had four years of experience at the Carson Long private school for boys in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania. While there, he was an instructor in military tactics and history. He has spent two years and two terms here; this with his correspondence work and credit for work done overseas will entitle him to his degree at the end of this term.

FORMER STUDENTS ARRIVE ON WAY TO NORTH DAKOTA

Maynard and Arthur Root and Ralph Curren, ex-'25, who have spent this year at the University of California, arrived in Eugene Sunday by auto on their way back to their home in Valley City, North Dakota. The boys purchased a $40 flivver of 1916 vintage in Berkeley in which they hope to cover the entire distance between here and their home. They are spending a day or two in Eugene visiting friends and acquaintances.

The flowers and decorations for the Kappa Alpha Theta formal dance which is to be held Saturday night are to be simply arranged, in keeping with the season. Some alumni are visiting the local chapter, so about 50 couples will be present at the dance. Patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Campbell Church, Mrs. Mary Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Graham, Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. F. N. Boyer and Mrs. Clara Fitch.

Eugene mothers of the Kappa Gamma girls were entertained at dinner by that house Sunday.

Seavey's ferry drew 25 Sigma Beta Phi members and their guests last Sunday for a picnic supper. They left during the early part of the afternoon, Mrs. J. W. Hays and Mrs. J. B. Bell chaperoned the party.

Sixty couples will attend a delightful picnic dinner-dance which Pi Beta Phi will give next Friday evening at Seavey's ferry. The affair will begin shortly before the dinner hour and will continue throughout the evening.

An informal dance is to be given May 16 at the Woman's building by the Order of the O and everyone not going to some private dance or picnic is expected by the committee to attend. The funds, from this dance are to help athletes of Oregon who through sickness or injury have had difficulty in getting through school. The Mid-nite Sons are to play, and as the money is to go to a particularly worthy cause, everyone on the campus is urged to be present.

Alpha Chi Omega will offer an extremely pleasant weekend to 14 guests who will visit them. An informal dance will be given Friday night at the house, which will be decorated with spring flowers. Miss Sue Badollet and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Crockett will be patron and patronesses. Saturday afternoon they will go up the McKenzie river for a picnic dinner.

Phi Sigma Pi will give an annual picnic at Seavey's ferry next Saturday afternoon. After supper, dancing will be the order of the evening.

FAIRBANKS FINISHES WORK ON MEDALLION

Piece Will be Presented to Simon Benson

A medallion in sculpture in appreciation of public service rendered to the state of Oregon and the city of Portland by Simon Benson has just been completed on commission by Avard Fairbanks, professor of sculpture, and will be presented to Mr. Benson at a testimonial dinner under the auspices of the Knights of Electra and sponsored by the Portland chamber of commerce on May 19 at the chamber banquet hall.

The medallion represents a winged figure holding a garland. The plaque measures 22 inches in diameter.

Mr. Benson, whose interest in civic improvement led him to give the Benson polytechnic high school to Portland, is known as the owner of the Benson hotel in Portland, as well as the Columbia River Gorge hotel.

The testimonial committee includes: Harry L. Corbett, J. C. Ainsworth, Frank E. Andrews, Mayor George L. Baker, H. J. Blaessing, Henry Waldo Coe, Edward Cookingham, John F. Daly, Franklin T. Griffith, Joseph M. Healy, George L. Hutchins, Julius Meier, Clay S. Morse, Emory Olmstead, Ira F. Powers, Guy W. Talbot, F. E. Taylor, F. E. Beach, and W. H. Chatten. The committee on invitation is Henry Waldo Coe, John B. Yeon, and C. C. Chapman.

DIPLOMA OF HONOR AWARDED PAINTINGS

York city, who likewise won an honorable mention.

The competition is held under the auspices of the Springfield schools, though it has quite outgrown school proportions. In addition to bringing worthwhile paintings to the town for exhibition, it is the plan of the young art devotees to add one or more pieces each year to their collection, which now numbers 57 paintings and six statues.

THREE STUDENTS SELL ARTICLES TO PUBLISH

Stories Are Done as Part of Work in Class

"Cart That Carries Window Washer's Material" is the title of an article which William Akers, senior in the University school of journalism, has just sold to Popular Mechanics magazine of Chicago. Akers' story was about George Wright, a negro in Eugene, who has caused a great deal of interest by his novel window washing cart.

Leonard Lerwill, also a senior in the school of journalism, has just sold a story to a newspaper syndicate on a new process for making a cheap grade of paper as perfected by Dr. Alfred Tingle.

Curtis Burton, a sophomore in journalism, who has withdrawn from the University, has just sold an article to a national radio publication on a lost and found service which is broadcasted by Meier and Frank company of Portland.

All three of the students have written their articles in connection with the work in the trade journalism and special story class taught by Prof. Ralph Casey of the school of journalism.

STUDENT IN ECONOMICS ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Catherine Switzer, '27, and Sam Fries, member of the firm of Wakefield Fries and company, Portland, was announced at the Delta Delta Delta house Friday evening at dinner. Miss Switzer is an economics major and has been acting as secretary to Eric Allen, dean of the school of journalism. The wedding is planned for next fall.

Such popularity must be deserved

POPULARITY isn't luck. How well the big stars of baseball know this.

And in merchandising as in baseball, big success is scored only by deserving it. A product, too, must "deliver the goods."
