WINTER GRADES ARE AVERAGED

Florence Buck Heads List With Rating, 94; Irwin Scott Adams Is Second

NEW SYSTEM IS USED

Entire University Makes 39.58; Girls Have 42.73, While Men Get 36.63

Scholarship ratings for the winter term, compiled under the new system of averaging the grades, have been issued by the registrar's office. Florence Buck, junior in English, heads the list with a rating of 94, and Irwin Scott Adams, senior in business administration, is second with 93. The new system has no relation to the old high school system wherein percentages were used.

Under this plan, which was evolved by Carlton Spencer, registrar, the number of hours of work carried by the student is taken into consideration as well as the grades received.

Grades Represent Points
Each grade represents a certain number of points. Honors equals 6 points, I equals 5, II equals 4, III equals 3, IV equals 2, V equals 1, and F and incomplete equal 0. To obtain the averages, the number of hours credit is multiplied by the points received and the totals are added together.

The highest number of points obtainable is 114. This would represent 19 hours of honors, the limit in hours that may be carried and in grades that may be received. Nineteen hours of I would give 95 points. Miss Buck received 9 hours of honors and 8 of I. The points for honors totalled 54, and for I's 40, making altogether 94.

Highest Ratings Given
The average of the University is 39.58, with the women rating 42.73 and the men 36.63.

The following list presents the hundred highest in the ratings:

Florence Dorothy Buck, 94, Eugene, English, junior; Irwin Scott Adams, 93, Milwaukie, business administration, senior; Hugh Alexander McColl, 91, Vancouver, business administration, senior; Muriel Thoen, 89, Eugene, education, junior; Florence Taylor, 86, Portland, psychology, freshman; Sante D. LIBRARIANS TO OFFER COURSES IN METHODS
Three courses in library methods will be offered at the summer session of the University, June 23 to August 1. These courses, which are designed to meet the needs of student assistants in the University library, teachers, and librarians, will be given by members of the library staff.

Miss Martha Spafford will conduct a class in cataloging and classification. Book selection, supplemented with a survey of best books and leading writers in various fields, will be given by Mrs. Mabel McLain, circulation librarian. Mrs. M. P. Watts, assisted by other members of the staff, will offer a course in the use of the library and in elementary bibliography.

Colleges Turn in Names of Olympic Entrants to Earl

Entries are beginning to come into Virgil Earl's office listing the aspirants for the Olympic trials competition, which starts a week from next Friday. Corvallis is the first of the Pacific coast colleges to turn in a complete list of the men who will compete. The University of Montana has turned in a list of seven men who will strive for honors.

Both Willamette and the College of Puget Sound have selected men who will compete in this meet and have sent in their entrance blanks. Several unattached men have signified their intention of entering. Two men from Seattle have entered themselves in the sprints and two men from Idaho have signed up for the distances. The Idaho men have signed up for the mile and the five and ten thousand meter runs. These are the first entries in these distances.

DEAN ESTERLY LEAVES FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Women's Clubs Convene in Oregon City

Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, who will represent the University at the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, left the campus yesterday afternoon for Oregon City, where the convention will meet.

Winifred Graham, president-elect of the Women's league, and Maurine Buchanan, the new secretary for the coming year, accompanied Dean Esterly on this trip, as the delegates from Women's league, which is a member of the state federation.

The convention opened last night with a reception. Today Mrs. Winter, president of the General Federation, and Mrs. J. D. Sherman, chairman of the department of applied education of the General Federation, will be the principal speakers at the opening of the session. Meetings will be held each day, and the convention will be over by Friday.

Dean Esterly and the two University women motored to their destination.

COPIES OF YEARBOOK ARE NOT ALL CLAIMED

A number of students who paid a deposit of $2.50 on their copies of the 1924 Oregonian earlier in the year, have not yet called for their books, according to Gibson Wright, circulation manager. Books on which deposits have been paid will be held for 10 days, after which if they are not called for, they will be sold. Copies of the annual are being distributed from the Co-op and may be secured upon the payment of the remaining $2 of the total price of $4.50. Those who have signed up on the waiting list may obtain copies of the Oregonian now, says Wright, and are urged to call as soon as possible.

Students who will be unable to pay the remainder of the price of their books within the 10-day limit, are asked to see either Wright or Myron Shannon, business manager, and make arrangements to have their copies reserved for a longer time.

LIBRARIANS TO OFFER COURSES IN METHODS

Three courses in library methods will be offered at the summer session of the University, June 23 to August 1. These courses, which are designed to meet the needs of student assistants in the University library, teachers, and librarians, will be given by members of the library staff.

Miss Martha Spafford will conduct a class in cataloging and classification. Book selection, supplemented with a survey of best books and leading writers in various fields, will be given by Mrs. Mabel McLain, circulation librarian. Mrs. M. P. Watts, assisted by other members of the staff, will offer a course in the use of the library and in elementary bibliography.

HOOVER URGES CAMPAIGN HELP

Secretary States Citizens of Means Should Give Aid to State University

GIFT EFFORT INDORSED

Gov. J. Preus of Minnesota Sends Similar Message to President Campbell

Herbert Hoover, who spent a number of his boyhood years in this state, has warmly indorsed the Gift Campaign of the University of Oregon. Before his departure for Portland Sunday, where he will put himself in the care of specialists to hasten his recovery from illness, President P. L. Campbell authorized the publication of a telegram in approval of the University campaign from the secretary of commerce.

Hoover Commends Action

"I am glad to hear that the University of Oregon is appealing to the alumni and will appeal later to the public for further funds," Secretary Hoover said. "It is almost impossible for our state universities to perform their functions to the community if they are to rely upon taxation alone."

"The increasing demand for higher education and the complete necessity for competently meeting this demand can only be met if people with means are prepared to make large and generous contributions. I need not argue the cause of education. There is no person in the United States over 10 years of age who requires conviction in this matter."

Minnesota Governor Writes

President Campbell and other University officials have received many messages of congratulation on the success that the campaign is meeting. Governor J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota has written concerning the successful campaign for additional building funds conducted by the University of Minnesota last year when several million dollars were raised. The university is generously supported by the state legislature, Governor Preus says, and has had equally generous support from its alumni and the citizens of Minnesota.

"Permit me to wish you full success in your campaign to raise 5,000,000 for buildings and other development at the University of Oregon," Governor Preus wrote. "The number of young people who receive high school and college education has increased amazingly in the last half century. But we cannot say the goal has been reached until we can provide for each person the training which will fit him for the life work for which he is by nature best fitted. We cannot provide this with our present equipment, nor can we raise all the necessary funds by general taxation without burdening the taxpayers."

Train Future Leaders

"It would seem that those who have been especially favored by fortune or those who through natural ability or higher education have been enabled to accumulate a supply of this world's goods should be asked to make special contributions to the cause of education. I know of no way in which the philanthropically inclined can better help humanity than by providing for the better training of future generations."

Reports of active work on the part of alumni throughout the country continue to reach campaign headquarters. An announcement of total subscriptions collected will be made Wednesday. A meeting of majors in command of groups of workers was called yesterday by F. H. Young, Portland chairman, at which plans were formulated for further intensifying the Portland effort so that a large portion of Multnomah county alumni may be reached this week.

Lamar Tooze, field director, outlined the duties of workers and officers in the Portland district. A report of team captains will be made at a meeting in the Multnomah hotel Wednesday night.

MAUDE KERNS TO ADDRESS CRESWELL WOMAN'S CLUB

Miss Maude I. Kerns, head of the normal arts department, has been asked to address a woman's club of Creswell, Oregon, at its last meeting of the year on Tuesday. Her theme will be "Home Decoration."

Saturday Is Set for Upperclass Girls' Breakfast

Lists Will Be Posted Around Campus

One of the most anticipated events of the year for the senior and junior women of the University will be held next Saturday morning when the annual senior women's breakfast will be held in the Woman's building.

Lists of all junior and senior women registered in the University will be posted in the library, the Co-op, and in the individual women's living organizations. Girls living out in town may find their names on the lists in the library and the Co-op. Each junior woman is expected to take the senior woman's name assigned to her.

Tickets for the breakfast go on sale today. The affair is to be at 8:30 o'clock next Saturday morning. A program is being worked out, consisting of music and special talks. Toasts will be given to work out some idea which will come as a feature for the breakfast.

Synonym Contest for Word 'Pigger' Open Till Friday

"Did you say you were going 'pigger'?"
"Pigger? What is that?"
Such a conversation might be imagined in a year or so, when the term now applied to dates between men and women is abolished at Oregon.

Any student, alumnus or faculty member has a chance to win a $5 prize if he turns in to the managing editor of the Emerald the best substitute for the word "pigger," as it is now used on the campus.

Thursday night the contest closes. The Sunday Emerald will carry a story announcing the new name and the prize winner. The result was to have been announced last Sunday, but the judges felt that most of the campus did not fully understand that the Emerald desires to get a new term which will be an improvement over the old.

Thursday night all suggestions must be handed or mailed to the managing editor of the Emerald.

VENUS APPROACHES EARTH WITH BRIGHT SIDE VISIBLE

Venus, which has been conspicuous in the western sky in the evenings during the past few weeks, has been getting brighter and brighter each time it makes its appearance. It will attain its greatest brightness May 24, at which time it will have approached the closest to the earth. Another reason for its increasing brightness is that its bright side is coming up. This means that the side the sun shines on is visible to the earth.

SENIOR CONTEST NOT YET CLOSED

Failing-Beekman Prizes Are for the Best and Second Best Original Orations

JUNE 13 WILL BE DATE

Awards Are Made Up From Interest on Two Gifts Made to the University

It is not too late for seniors who have not yet signified their intention to do so, to enter in the Failing-Beekman oratorical contest, which is set for June 13. There are already some seniors working on orations for this contest, but there is still time for others to enter. The coaching staff of the University expresses its willingness to help the contestants with their orations. The contest is open only to seniors, and is one of the important events of commencement week.

Two Prizes Given

Two prizes are awarded in this contest, the Failing prize, not to exceed $150, for the best original oration, and the Beekman prize, not to exceed $100, for the second best oration. The Failing prize is the interest from a gift of $2,500 made to the University by Henry Failing, of Portland; the Beekman prize is the income from a gift of $1,600 presented to the University by C. C. Beekman, of Jacksonville.

It is stipulated in each case that the prize be awarded "to the member of the senior class in the classical, the scientific, or the literary course prescribed by the University, or such as may, at the time, be substituted for either of said courses, who shall pronounce the best (or second best) oration at the time of his or her graduation."

Work Must Be Original

The three judges, selected by the faculty, will take into consideration in making their decision, the originality of the subject matter, the style of treatment, rhetorical excellence, and the manner of delivery. The oration will be discredited if delivered with the aid of a manuscript.

PSYCHOLOGY CLASSES STUDY MENTAL TESTS

The Army Alpha intelligence test was taken by all laboratory classes in basic psychology last week. The test was given to enable the students to study the technique and methods of giving the tests rather than to obtain the individual scores.

The test is a form of the regular test given in the army to all persons who are able to read and write, and consists of eight parts, testing attention, judgment, reasoning, association and memory. Most college students make a grade of superior or very superior in the tests, very superior being a grade of 135 to 212, the highest grade possible.

WINNERS IN DOUGHNUT TENNIS ARE DECIDED

Camille Burton, representing the Chi Omegas, won the singles tournament of the women's doughnut tennis yesterday from Rhona Williams, Hendricks hall, by a score of 6-4, 6-3. The playing on both sides was very consistent.

The Gamma Phi Beta team, consisting of Marjorie O'Brien and Isabelle Amon, won the doubles tournament in a hard-fought match against the Delta Delta Delta team. Teka Haynes and Lillian Baker, representing the Tri Deltas, ran the score up to 8-6, 8-6.

ONE HALL TO REMAIN OPEN DURING SUMMER SESSION

Rooms will be available in Susan Campbell hall for University women who remain for the summer school session. Just the one hall will remain open during the summer, and both will be closed after the cessation of summer school. Dean Virginia Esterly will receive the applications of women wishing to get a room at the hall. Board may be taken at Friendly hall, just as was done last summer by the women who remained for the session.

Moot Court Trial on Liquor Charge to Be Held Tonight

Harley Covalt, second year law student, will go on trial tonight in the moot court, charged with the possession of intoxicating liquor. The case is to be tried at the court house at 7 o'clock.

Ted Kurashige, defense attorney, has adopted the slogan, "Prosecution not persecution," claiming that his client is the victim of a frame-up. Allarick Hagglund, prosecuting attorney, has adopted the slogan, "Stand by the Stars and Stripes," being equally certain that the accused is guilty.

The sheriff, Paul Patterson, will only say that when arrested by him in the law library, Covalt had intoxicating liquor in his possession.

The prosecutor is issuing an appeal to the public to attend the trial and "see the laws of the land upheld." The defense attorney likewise wishes a large attendance so the public can see "how the citizens of the land are held up."

Variation from the regular schedule may be made only by permission of the schedule committee. All examinations will be held in the regular class rooms unless otherwise announced by the instructor.

Y. W. EXAMINATIONS SCHEDULED THURSDAY

Examinations for officers and all members of the University Y. W. C. A. cabinet group will be given this coming Thursday at the "Y" bungalow. These examinations are given annually for the new executives of the association to acquaint them with the work of both the student association and the national organization.

The examination may be taken any time during the day, Thursday. Any woman desiring to get more information regarding the work for the examination, or read over any literature may do so at the bungalow, where Miss Florence Magowan, Lois Easterbrooks, or Florence Buck will give out any information. Miss Elsie Heller, a national student secretary on the Pacific coast, is to correct the papers. Last year Helen Andrews received highest honors in the examination.

MEAD ADVANCES TO PLACE IN TENNIS SEMI-FINALS

By defeating A. Venzio two straight sets, 6-4 and 6-0, G. Mead advanced to the semi-finals in the campus tennis tournament. Mead and Schmidt will play in the semi-final round and the winner will meet Art Rudd in the finals. Rudd advanced to the finals by defeating Shinniger last Saturday, 9-7 and 6-0. The time of the matches is set by the players.

OREGON TO MEET W. S. C. MAY 27

Varsity Track Aggregation Training Hard for Tilt With Cougars Next Week

BABES CONTEST ROOKS

Freshman Team Weakened by Ineligibility of Five Good Point-winning Men

Arrangements have been completed for a dual meet with the Washington State track and field athletes Tuesday, May 27. This meet has been hanging fire for some time and was made sure by telegraphic message from Coach Bohler yesterday, said Virgil Earl.

Oregon has lost to both Washington and Corvallis teams this year; but with these two meets to experience his men, Coach Hayward will be able to send a stronger crew against the Pullman boys. In all probability the pruning process which has cut Oregon out of so many athletes this year is over with for the time being—and what few veterans are left will be allowed to compete.

Freshmen Working Hard
The freshmen are working hard conditioning themselves for their bout with the Aggie yearlings this weekend. Tryouts in the 440, 880, and the mile will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Corvallis contingent is not reported overly strong this year; but the recent exodus of freshman athletes via the poor scholastic attainment route certainly put a crimp in the chances of the first year men. However, they have a fighting chance, not so much due to their own ability as to the weakness of the O. A. C. men.

Team Loses Five Men
Five men, four of them point winners in the recent fresh-high school competitions at Portland, were recently asked to curtail their track activities—and to devote more time to raising their educational standards. Swank, who won the 880 and is good for points in the 440, is one of those whose shoes will be hardest to fill. Rodda, and Kittoe, both hurdlers, are taken from the list; and hurdlers aren't developed in a few days, according to Coach Hayward. Hemmings, who took points in the javelin, the shot and discus, will not be among those present at the competition with the rooks, but states he is going down into the dusty archives of the library and find out what it was that made the ancient Romans wild, or study something. Hobbit is the other who will sit out at this gathering of the flower of our youth.

This meet with the rooks will in all probability be the last track meet for the freshmen this year. Some of the men have been training for eight months in hopes of this competition and the opportunity to secure their numeral.

GRADUATION RECITAL SET FOR THURSDAY
Annabel Denn, a senior honor student of John Stark Evans, instructor in the school of music, will give her graduation piano recital, Thursday evening, in Alumni hall, at 8:15. She has already presented an organ recital, and is prominent in music circles on the campus and in Eugene.

Her program is to be composed of five very heavy numbers, divided into three parts, Sonata Tragica, MacDowell; Gavote Musette, d'Albert; Clair de Lune, Debussy; Etude Japonnaise, Poldini; and Concerto in E Minor, Chopin.

C. D. THORPE APPOINTED ON NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Prof. C. D. Thorpe, of the English department, has been asked by the president of the National Association of Teachers of Speech, to serve on a committee with Professor Drummond of Cornell university to work out a course in speech education for high schools. This course is to be presented for approval at the next meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English.
