COAST COLLEGES TO ENTER MEET

Twelve Institutions Send Entrant Lists for Teams in Olympic Tryouts Here

TICKETS ON SALE TODAY

Men From Six States Have Already Signified Desire to Compete May 30 to 31

Entries are coming in for the Olympic track and field tryouts, to be held here next week, in numbers that promise to make this one of the best competitions ever seen on the western coast. Twelve colleges have signified their intentions of sending men, and unattached entries are coming into Mr. Earl's office every day.

Today and Monday there will be a ticket sale staged both on the campus and down town. Ted Gillenwaters, who has general charge of the meet, has started in earnest his campaign to publish the news of the carnival. The expense incurred by an event of this magnitude must be met by the University, and it is only by the cooperation of all the students in helping to advertise that this will be a real meet; "that will enable Oregon to put it across," is the way Gillenwaters expressed himself.

Six States Listed
It will be necessary to guarantee $2000 to members of the conference for expenses, besides numerous other incidents which are incurred in handling a track meet that has entries from six states and officials who are known over the Pacific coast for their efficiency. It is necessary and the custom that students purchase tickets to gain admittance to the conference meet, as well as outsiders.

Doug Farrell has charge of the field and arranging so that everything will run off smoothly in the two days of the conference. He will pick his corps of assistants and get them trained in their duties before next Friday.

Stanford is the only California school which has entered a team, as yet; but word has not been received from either California or the University of Southern California. The University of Washington team will be here, as will the Washington State aggregation. Idaho and O. A. C. are also sending squads which will make a bid for conference honors, with a possible champion or two being unearthed. Montana has also sent her list of entrants.

Smaller Schools Entered
Such smaller institutions as the University of Puget Sound, and Pacific have signified their intention of sending men to compete in special events. Willamette, Gonzaga and Linfield college have each sent athletes; besides numerous unattached athletes; have signified their intention of competing with the college athletes for an opportunity to gain Olympic honors.

The 220 yard straightway has been completed and will be ready for use by next Friday and Saturday. This should cut down the time some, for the conference runners in the middle sprint, and it will probably be used for the first half of the quarter.

Doing away with the first fight for the pole, which often causes a good man to be boxed and kept from placing, will make this a faster and more spectacular race. The rest of the field is in almost perfect shape.

Tickets will be on sale at the graduate manager's office, the Co-op, and Obak's next week.

The sophomore girls' class baseball team was chosen at the tryouts held Thursday afternoon. Their first practice will be held next Monday and the class schedule will begin about the middle of next week.

Honorable Mention Won by Margaret Skavlan in Contest

"Visions of Women," a collection of poems by Margaret Skavlan, won honorable mention in an undergraduate contest, open to all colleges in the United States, conducted by the Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Texas. Miss Skavlan's collection included "Greek Goddess," "Three Portraits," "Lilith," and "Botticelli's Women."

The first prize in the contest was won by Ottys E. Sanders of Southern Methodist college. His poem was named "Birth of the Idol." Judges for the contest were Sara Teasdale, John Hall Wheelock and Carl Sandburg. Thirty-three colleges were represented in the contributions.

This is the second undergraduate contest in which Miss Skavlan has won honorable mention. She tied for second place in the Ward-Belmont poetry contest with her contribution, "Interment." The verse was printed in the October "Fugitive."

MUSIC SCHOOL OFFERS VIOLIN SCHOLARSHIP

All Grade School Pupils Eligible to Try

The pupil in the public schools of Eugene making the best showing in the finals of a competition on the violin will be given a free scholarship in the school of music of the University and a $5 prize donated by Rex Underwood, of the University of Oregon school of music faculty. The final round of this competition will be held Saturday, May 31, when pupils from all of the grade schools of the city will meet for the final examination. Each school will have one representative.

At the beginning of the present year, the school of music started a new plan of giving violin instruction to the children of the grade schools in Eugene. About 100 are now enrolled for this instruction and are taking lessons from the advanced music students in the University.

All pupils who are taking this instruction were eligible to compete for the prize and scholarship. A series of elimination trials will be held in the schools to determine the pupils who will enter the final competition Saturday. In the test the pupils will all be given the same exercises and the teachers will act as judges in selecting the winner of the award.

ELEANOR BURTCHELL STRUCK BY GOLF BALL

Eleanor Burtchell received a cut on her right eyelid Thursday afternoon during the 4 o'clock golf class, when she was accidentally struck by Philippa Sherman, who was making a drive on the University golf links.

Miss Burtchell, who is a freshman in normal arts, was standing directly in back of Miss Sherman, who was "driving off." She was struck just over the right eye, and received a cut about an inch and a half long. Her glasses were broken.

George Bronaugh, who is golf instructor, took Miss Burtchell to the Eugene hospital, where several stitches were taken in the cut. She will be able to attend classes again within the next day or two.

WALKLEY, TRACK STAR, TO WED O. A. C. GIRL

The engagement of Miss Elvira Van Hollebecke, of Walla Walla, Washington, and Glenn Walkley, of Oregon, '22, was announced Wednesday at the Gamma Iota house, at O. A. C. Miss Hollebecke, who is a member of Zeta Kappa Psi and Beta Alpha Psi, honor fraternities, graduated from O. A. C. with the class of 1922.

Glenn Walkley was one of the best known track men at Oregon in recent years. He was a three-stripe letterman, and was captain of the track team his last year. He majored in geology and was a departmental assistant last year. Both Mr. Walkley and Miss Hollebecke are teaching in the high school at Pilot Rock.

EUGENE ALUMNI START CAMPAIGN

Big Thermometer at Guard Office to Register Gains Made by Local Divisions

AUTOMOBILES WANTED

Peak of Drive Is Scheduled for Tuesday With Rally at Osburn for Workers

A thermometer is to be installed Monday on the downtown headquarters of the Alumni Gift Campaign organization in the Guard building, which will register the reports of the division captains at work in Eugene, as they are sent in. This thermometer will remain to show the public every hour, or as frequently as possible, what progress is being made by the solicitors, and the total donations received.

Monday noon, the team workers and captains of the divisions are to meet at the Hotel Osburn to arouse added enthusiasm for the campaign before them. Tuesday, the intensive phase of the campaign begins in earnest. That noon, another rally will be staged by the workers in the Osburn, and it is hoped that the day will be a cleanup of all the prospective donors. The thermometer at the Guard will indicate what the results have been up to that time.

Teams Will Compete
The field teams are to be put in competition with each other, to stimulate the workers, in an endeavor to have them throw their best efforts into the campaign. It is thought that this will stimulate their interest to the greatest possible extent. The results of the drive, team by team, will also be posted, to show how the divisions are progressing in relation to each other.

Many of the alumni who are to be visited, live in the outskirts of the city, so that the solicitors who are afoot, find it difficult to cover as much territory as could be desired. In order to make this part of the work easier for the solicitors, and speed up the campaign, automobiles are in great demand, and the organization heads are trying to enlist as many as possible. Ten of the alumni in the outskirts have been reached so far, and this will add greatly to the success of the drive.

Results to be Posted
Some of the alumni in the files of the campaign headquarters, so that they cannot be individually visited. To take care of these, several prominent alumni are to be stationed in the Guard building to accept the pledges, on Monday afternoon and Tuesday. This office force will also keep in touch with the various division heads, and post the results as they come in.

It is expected that the middle of next week will find the majority of the pledges on file, and this part of the campaign practically completed as far as the local territory is concerned.

WATER LINE TO NORTH CAMPUS TO BE DUG UP

The main city water line to the north campus will be dug out and replaced by a two-inch pipe within the next few days, according to H. M. Fisher, superintendent of the campus buildings and grounds. The old line, which is only a one and one-quarter inch pipe, does not give enough force to some of the buildings. The old pipe will have to be dug up before the new sidewalk from Thirteenth avenue to the Sociology building is put in, because it will be under the walk.

The driveway leading from University street past the University depot will be paved back to the alley this summer, Mr. Fisher said.

GEACE EDGINGTON RETURNS FROM VISIT IN PORTLAND
Miss Geace Edgington, alumni secretary and editor of "Old Oregon," returned to the campus Thursday night from a short visit in Portland, where she had the pleasure of hearing Galli-Curci in concert Wednesday evening.

University Dean Invited to Serve California Girls

Mrs. Virginia Esterly to Aid Alma Mater

Dean Virginia Judy Esterly has received a request from the University of California to act as dean of women during the summer session at Berkeley, which extends from June 26 to August 3. As the Berkeley summer session is the largest in the country, this is no small honor, which has been conferred upon Dean Esterly. In addition, Mrs. Esterly's home is in California and the University of California is her alma mater.

"The interesting part about the summer session at Berkeley is the fact that it attracts students and instructors from all over the world," remarked Mrs. Esterly, in discussing the session at which she will be dean. Many of the most brilliant minds in the country are present at this session, which numbers about six thousand. Dean Esterly is anticipating the experience with a great deal of pleasure, for she has many friends on the California campus and is familiar with the university at Berkeley.

FROSH LOSE SLUGFEST AT CORVALLIS, 12-10

Five Home Runs by Rooks Feature Loose Game

The freshmen lost a hitting fest to the rooks at Corvallis yesterday afternoon by the close score of 12 to 10. The game was fast and was featured by some heavy slugging on both sides, with the rooks having the edge in that department. The Baby Beavers knocked out a total of five home runs off of the offerings of Dave Adolph and Lee, freshman pitchers. The most disastrous of these four-base wallops came in the last of the eighth, when the frosh were one run ahead, and with two other rooks already resting on the bases. This cinched a hard-fought game for the rooks, as the frosh were unable to score in the ninth.

Brooks was the leading Oregon slugger, with two bingles out of three times at bat. Both the offerings of Adolph for the frosh and of Savoy for the rooks seemed to the liking of their opponents, who smacked the ball hard at times.

The freshman team lined up with D. Adolph and Minnaugh, battery; Rex Adolph, first; Dallas, second; West, shortstop; Jones, third; Lee left field; Brooks, center; and Johnson, right field. Lee went into the box in the last inning for the freshmen. The yearlings played good ball, considering the shape they were in, and should give the rooks a hard tussle when they meet here today at 10 o'clock. Probably the same lineup will start the game, with Vitus the most likely candidate to do the honors in the box.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET AT 2:30 TODAY

This afternoon at 2:30, on Hayward field, the interscholastic track and field stars from the Willamette valley conference and from LaGrande, of Eastern Oregon, will compete for the championship of the state, outside of the Portland league.

LaGrande won the independent championship from the schools of Eastern Oregon two weeks ago and will be forced to uphold Eastern Oregon honors by itself. Salem, Eugene, and the high schools from Southern Oregon, will enter teams in this meet. The tryouts will be held at 10 o'clock this morning.

Y. M. C. A. HUT TO BE OPEN THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER
The University Y. M. C. A. hut will be open throughout the summer, according to Mrs. Charlotte Donnelly, employment secretary, although neither the "Y" office or the employment bureau will be open from July 1 to August 15. There will be some one in attendance, however, to take care of the hut.

FRESHMEN TAKE ROOKS TO CAMP

Outcome of Meet in Doubt Until Last Events: Final Score Stands 67 to 55

FLANAGAN IS HIGH MAN

First Places Taken by Holt, Johnston, Flanagan, Hall, Canterbury, Extra, Staley

By Bill Akers
Bill Hayward's crew of fighting freshmen stepped out and by everyone doing all he could and one or two doing more than they ever did before, won the best track meet seen on Hayward field for a long time, by a score of 67 to 55.

Captain Holt started the applause when he romped over the century dash in 10 seconds; good time in any meet and the best time made in conference competition in the Northwest this year. Then in the polevault, Canterbury, who has been out breaking the standards at about nine feet, went a foot and a half over his usual stride and tied for first with a jump of 10 feet and 6 inches.

Flanagan Takes Two Points
In the broad jump, Flanagan, whose best leap so far this year was 22 feet and 2 inches, put on a burst of speed and threw himself 22 feet and 8½ inches for a win. Then he moved over to the high jump and won that. Simonton also threw the javelin a few feet farther than he usually does and grabbed off a second place there.

Flanagan was high-point man for the freshmen with two firsts, while Dixon gathered in the most points for the Corvallis contingent. This man Dixon got up out of the hospital to come over and fight for his team, but his condition was far from right; at that, however, he managed to gather in a first in the discus by hurling it 129 feet and 10 inches without a whirl in his takeoff. This in itself is a remarkable feat, but he also took a second in the shot put.

Keen Competition Shown
Barnes and Conley ran a hard race in the mile, but they were against two good men from Corvallis in Martin and Kuni. By a hard sprint in the last 50 yards, Barnes managed to beat out Kuni and was creeping up on Martin when they crossed the line. The 440 was another punishing race, which was won by Earnheart of O. A. C., in 51.7-10. Cash led most of the way, but Earnheart managed to pass him by a magnificent sprint and crossed winner. Cash was unable to hold the terrific pace he had set and dropped behind leaving Wilbur come in second and Clayton of O. A. C. come in third.

"Tiny" Johnston in the shot, Extra in the 220, and Hall and Staley in the two hurdle races, all contributed their best, that is, performed as well as they have ever done before in any competition. Ability to do one's best under pressure is absolutely necessary in successful track competition, and this is the ripe fruit of Bill's coaching system which had these men competing.

Lady Nicotine Smiles Upon Bench Donated by Freshmen

The shrine of Lady Nicotine, relentless goddess and tree sprite to whom a thousand camels are sacrificed as burnt offerings daily, has been more than popular of late. This is thought by a number of the least known philosophers to be due not to the increasing devotion of her devotees, but to the masculine love of case.

Earlier in the year at one of the bacchanal revels of the class of '27 a marble (almost) bench appeared, bearing a strange resemblance to that left in front of the library as a memorial to the grave and studious seniors of '10 who went it was to study so violently (even in the spring) that a nearby refuge in the open air was needed. As they departed one by one they dedicated it to future grave seniors who should find a similar need, and barred the foolish rabble which still has fondness for golf sox and Saturday nights.

The bench of '27, suitably disguised under a coat of green paint, was placed in sight of the famous original, and, it seems, much to the surprise of the least known of the philosophers, is running head competition. (For, as anyone may see, the sombered heads are in predominance!)

So, for the future edification of all freshmen who must sooner or later come to the shrine and for the preservation of the dignity of all library-frequenting seniors, the Lady Nicotine is said to be contemplating a sign on the bench of '27—"For freshmen only."

Library Is Sending Books to Help Out Colleges in Japan

A shipment of books is being made up by the library to help replace losses brought about in Japanese universities by the fire and earthquake of last summer, as many of the most important libraries were destroyed by the disaster. The books are being sent in compliance with a request for helping improve the situation made by Nicholas Murray Butler, director of the Carnegie endowment for international peace. A similar request has been made to most of the universities and colleges in the United States.

Quite a good-sized box of books and publications of learned societies has already been made up to send. The shipment is to be made the early part of next week and it is urged that anyone having books and publications that they may wish to give for the benefit, turn them in to the library by Tuesday morning. Any books of permanent interest and value and in any field are desired.

BEULAH CLARK TO GIVE RECITAL WEDNESDAY

Program Will Include Flute and Piano Selections

Beulah Clark, a senior in the school of music, will give a flute and piano recital, in Alumni hall, May 28, at 8:15. She has had much experience in public performances, as she has been connected with chautauqua circuits all over the country, playing both instruments as a soloist and accompanist.

Her program will include two flute groups, a group of selections from Schumann, Mendelssohn, Liszt, Chopin and Brahms, and a group of modern compositions including a Hungarian Rhapsody, by Dohnanyi, one of the contemporary Hungarian composers. Miss Clark is a student of Mrs. Jane Thacher, instructor of piano in the school of music. Her recital is not for graduation, as she intends to return to the campus next year to finish her music work.

CRAFTSMEN TO LAY CORNER STONE TODAY

The ceremony for the laying of the corner stone of the new Craftsman club building will be held this afternoon at 1 o'clock. John MacGregor, president of the club, asks that all campus Masons meet at the Eugene temple, on Eighth street, between Willamette and Olive, at 12:45 p. m., to convene with the grand lodge.

The lodge will then adjourn to the site of the club house on Fourteenth street, between Alder and Kincaid, and proceed with the ceremonies. President MacGregor asks that those possessing automobiles have them available for the transporting of the members of the Grand Lodge to the scene of the ceremony.

All members of the faculty and students are invited to attend the ceremony at the Craftsman club building. The ceremonies are scheduled to commence at 1 p. m.

VARSITY DOWNS WHITMAN NINE

Brooks Holds Missionaries to Seven Hits in Close Contest Which Ends 6-4

HOBSON MAKES HOMER

Oregon Gets Twelve Hits; Northern Team Cuts Off Runs by Clever Fielding

The University of Oregon ball squad garnered their second win out of five games while on the road by defeating the Whitman tossers, 6-4, in a slug-fest yesterday. This is Skipper Brooks' second win for the trip, he having officiated at the defeat of the Washington State sluggers last Tuesday.

The Oregon team seems to have retrieved their batting eye and pounded Beck, the Whitman twirler, for 12 safe clouts. Fast work on the part of the Whitman fielders held the hit column and the score as low as it was. Hall and Leroux cutting off three runs at home plate by wondrous throws from the deep outfield.

Oregon Scores First

Oregon drew blood in the first frame, when they bunched hits enough to drive in one run. The score stood 1-0 then until the third, which was Brooks' one bad inning. In this canto, the Missionaries started canting the ball for safe clouts, and these interspersed by an occasional walk, enabled them to make all their four scores. Brooks managed to weather the storm, however, and held the Walla Walla athletes safely from then on. In their half of the fourth, the Lemon-Yellow aggregation got to Beck for a couple of drives and chased in two runs by the help of a Whitman error. This ended the scoring until the eighth. In this frame, Terrill started the offensive by a safe bingle, and Bittner advanced him by another; then, after two were out, Skipper Brooks stepped up and banged one far enough to enable both to score. This gave Oregon a lead, with the score 5-4.

Second Game Today

In the ninth, Hobson gathered his fourth homer for the trip by smashing out a clean four-base smack, giving Oregon a two-run lead, which the Whitman athletes were unable to surmount in their half of the frame.

Oregon plays Whitman again today and should they win this contest they will have an average of .500 for their trip on the road; which is considered good work in any league.

LIFE-SAVING EXAMS PASSED BY SIX WOMEN

Six women out of 30 who took lessons passed the life-saving tests that were given last weekend and the first part of this week. The majority failed because they did not fulfill the qualifications to become eligible; eight were disqualified during the tests.

Miss Emma Waterman, instructor in the department of physical education, was the only one who qualified as an examiner. The others who passed are Margaret Mylne and Pearl Pyritz, seniors in the department of physical education; Margaret McVey, freshman; Katherine Reade, sophomore in sociology; and Charlotte Winward, sophomore in sociology. Passing the test entitles them to become members of the National American Red Cross life-saving corps.

"The test was much harder than usual, but the work was exceptionally fine," said Barbara Page, swimming instructor. Next year the course will be given during the fall quarter.

The test consisted of disrobing in deep water and swimming 100 yards, a surface dive, four carry holds, four standard breaks, minor tests, and written and oral tests on life-saving.
