

OFFICERS' CLUB WILL ORGANIZE

Local Cadets are Eligible For Membership

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

Provisional Battalion of Six Companies is Unit

Announcement of the proposed organization of an officers' club, the membership of which will be restricted to cadet officers of the local unit of the R. O. T. C., was made yesterday afternoon by Lt. Col. W. S. Sinclair, head of the military department of the University.

Captain F. L. Culin, Jr., in charge of the first year advanced men in military work, has written personal letters to a number of men in last year's sophomore class who, because of the merit of their work with the military department last year and because of their previously signified intention of possibly entering the advanced course, have been considered as desirable candidates. A week from today will be the last day in which men may enroll for work in the first year advanced course and Captain Culin urges that all those who intend to take the course enroll immediately.

Under the newly organized program for military work, the unit this year is a provisional battalion of six companies and band instead of a regiment, as last year. A new schedule of drill has been arranged and only one company will drill at a time instead of the entire battalion drilling as a unit.

All juniors have been appointed as second lieutenants and all seniors as first lieutenants. With the exception of the appointment of Don R. Cook as lieutenant colonel, cadet commanding officer, in recognition of his work in the military department last year, there will be no further appointments until the end of the present term. At that time promotions of seniors who will have shown their ability and fitness may be made.

Following is a list of appointments of cadet officers:

Lieutenant colonel—Don R. Cook.
First lieutenants—Levi Ankeny, Theodore Amstutz, Walter M. Backstrom, W. Russell Burton, Elmer N. Calef, Louis H. Carlson, Harmon F. Crites, Ted Gillenwaters, Boyd C. Homewood, Earl C. Hughes, Charles E. Jost, Herschel E. Kidwell, Wilber N. Larabee, Raymond F. Murphy, Charles H. Newell, William R. Paulsen, Waldemar Seton Jr., Carl H. Skoog, Earl W. Smith, Lee A. Withrow.

Second lieutenants—Claude E. Crumb, Roland Eby, Ned French, Rupert T. Gilbert, Wilbur C. Hayden, Thomas D. Holder, Webster Jones, J. Rodney Keating, Alden Klotz, Henry Maier, Paul R. Matthews, Theodore D. Mays, Victor Neher, Herbert B. Powell, Albert H. Powers, Albert E. Sinclair, Warren Small, Kenneth Stephenson, Theodore VanGuilder, Carl Vreeland, Kenneth Wadleigh, C. E. Weivoda, George M. Wilhelm, Steele L. Winterer, Walter D. Malcolm, Charles D. Norton, Wade A. Rutherford.

NUMBER OF ELECTIVE SPORTS INCREASED

New Schedule May Include Hiking and Fencing

The physical education department for men students of the University is offering a greater variety of elective sports for those who have passed the physical ability pentathlon than in past years. It is certain that a class in regular apparatus work and tumbling will be given, and, if enough men desire it, hiking and fencing classes will be started.

Theodore Cramlet, an assistant in the department, will be in charge of the class in tumbling and apparatus work which will meet three times a week, after four o'clock. It is believed that there will be enough men interested in hiking to justify the physical education department giving regular gymnasium credit for that work.

"Hiking is one of the best exercises for a man to indulge in because it is something that he will continue to indulge in throughout life," said Harry Scott, head of the men's division. No equipment is necessary. It will be possible for the men taking hiking to go on long trips to the mountains over the week ends, and for this work also credit will be given.

A few men have been inquiring about fencing, and if enough students are interested, this art will be taught under auspices of the regular gymnasium department. The new sports will be given in addition to the former elective sports, handball, swimming, tennis, golf, wrestling, boxing, and major sports, all of which will be continued.

HEALTH SERVICE HAS PERSONNEL CHANGES

Dr. Kuykendall is Head; Assistants Named

The University health service has been reorganized this year under Dr. William Kuykendall, a Eugene physician, as chief of staff. He will be assisted by Dr. G. A. Ross, as full time assistant, and Drs. D. C. Stannard and P. J. Bartle, who will do part-time work.

Dr. Kuykendall's staff succeeds Dr. W. K. Livingston and Dr. J. W. Huston, who resigned from the University health service to enter private practice in Portland.

Dr. Kuykendall has been practicing medicine in Eugene for a considerable number of years, and both he and Dr. Bartle have been doing work in the Eugene clinic.

Dr. Ross is a graduate of the Northwestern University school of medicine and comes to the University from the middle west.

The eye, ear, nose, and throat cases will be handled by Dr. Stannard, who is associated with a group of Eugene doctors specializing in this work.

In the staff of nurses and technicians are: Miss Margaret McGregor and Miss Ruth Harvey, dispensary nurses; Miss Lenora Cox, technician; and Miss Elizabeth Freeman and Miss Eileen Gurr, nurses at the infirmary.

The health service has been extremely busy during the past week with the physical examinations of the new students, of whom over 400 were examined.

ONLY ONE WEEK LEFT TO ADD NEW COURSES

Next Saturday is Last Day For Registration

One week remains in which students may add courses, according to information issued by the registrar's office. This is in compliance with the University regulation which allows the addition of subjects during the first two weeks of any term upon the agreement of the student's advisor and the payment of a one dollar fee.

No fee is charged for courses added on the first day of the spring or winter terms, but after the first day a dollar must be paid for each course added.

Dropping of courses is allowed at any time during the term with the consent of the advisor and upon the payment of one dollar for each subject dropped.

Under a new rule it is not necessary that petitions to drop subjects be considered by a faculty committee, as was the case heretofore.

UNIVERSITY LECTURES TO BE BROADCASTED

The University extension division's weekly radio lectures will be given again this year from broadcasting station KGW of the Morning Oregonian, according to a statement of Earl Kilpatrick, dean of the extension division. Alfred Powers, who has been in charge of radio activities on the campus for the past two years will be in charge again this year.

"The lectures will be given regularly every Friday evening at 8 o'clock as heretofore in the past," said Powers. "They will begin in about a month shortly after the new Oregonian winter schedule goes into effect."

Practically all of the lectures this year will be given by faculty members here on the campus. "Every Friday one of the professors will make the trip down to Portland to give the lecture," said Powers. "They will all give both timely and popular lectures." The recent radio questionnaire sent out by the Oregonian showed a great popular interest in these extension division lectures and that is one reason why the work is being carried on.

The weekly broadcasting of lectures by University professors started two years ago when Dean Kilpatrick and Richard Hallor of the Oregonian station put on the first lecture. Ever since there has been an increasing demand for this phase of the radio service.

GEOLOGISTS TO STUDY WILLAMETTE RIVER BEDS

The geology department is planning field trips next week instead of the regular laboratory work if the weather permits. The beds along the Willamette river near Springfield will probably furnish the new students in that department with their first practical knowledge of the subject.

A Memory Tonic

It is surprising how the ever-readiness of Eversharp prompts the jotting down of passing thoughts and facts—and how quickly the habit of "writing it down" improves the ability for accurate remembrance.

Six new features make Eversharp a finer writing instrument than before—non-clogging rifled tip, quick reloading, complete interchangeability of parts, are the most important.

Put a new Eversharp in your pocket. And for complete preparedness, match it with a Wahl Pen.

Prices $1 to $45, at all dealers.
