

PACIFIC WORKS TO BEAT OREGON

Average Weight of Badger Squad is 176; Tucker and Weber Expected to Star

LETTERMEN ON ELEVEN

Leo Frank Has Team That Is Master of Deceptive And Complicated Plays

First comes the challenging, snappy bark, "P-U" and then the crashing of bodies as the varsity football team rips into the scrubs, who represent Pacific university during scrimmage for this week.

Joe Maddock, a firm believer in a fast team, is driving his squad at top speed so as to shape the Oregon eleven for the Pacific contest which is but two days away.

Hard Schedule is Faced

Although Pacific is not a member of the coast conference, the importance of the game lies in the fact that after this contest, Oregon will have to immediately start out on its stiff schedule of a big game on each Saturday. This means that Oregon will have to strike its regular season form on this coming Saturday as the time for practice on "fundamentals" will have ended.

The showing that Pacific made against Washington State on last Saturday will have little bearing on the coming contest. For coach Frank has worked all season, shaping his squad for their biggest game, that is with Oregon. With but a handful of men, the Badger coach went over to Pullman and played his team against one of the strongest teams in the northwest. The Cougars sent in a host of reserves and ran their offense at top speed against the light and powerful Badgers.

However when Leo J. Frank brings his eleven over to Eugene, on Saturday, his squad will have the advantage over Oregon in one respect in as much as the Badgers have practically a letterman team. So while Maddock has been drilling his team on straight football, coach Frank has spent this year in drilling his veteran squad on the finer points of the grid game.

The Badgers have a rather complicated and baffling style of play, which coupled with their game aggressiveness, makes them a formidable aggregation.

Oregon Has Clean Record

Coach Frank has been at the Pacific university for three years and it has been by his own personal effort and hard work that Pacific has risen from a low and obscure state to rather a respectable position for so small a school. When one realizes that the material for a grid team is limited to but 100, who make up the masculine part of the student body, the feat which the Badger coach has accomplished seems rather remarkable.

Oregon will be defending a clean record against Pacific on Saturday, for this college has never defeated Oregon. However in looking through the annals of football, a

PLUNGING HALFBACK AND LANKY END ARE IN SQUAD

Two years ago Oregon had a plunging, rearing backfield man, a youngster for whom a great future was predicted for the next season. He worked perfectly with huge Hank Latham and Hal Chapman, and made his share of yardage in every game he entered. He failed to come back to school, however, so he was saved over for this year.

This man is Ward Johnson, known occasionally as "Wild Bill" Johnson, because of his reckless abandon when he enters a football game. Two years ago he was called the "hardest fighting backfield man in the conference," and he is expected to keep that title this year.

Johnson plays halfback on the varsity, and his "big stuff" is going through the enemy's line with the ball safely tucked in his stomach. Although he is six feet tall, he weighs but 158 pounds. He is

Fraternity Council Shelves Agitation To Elevate Frosh

Vote is 8 to 4 in Favor of Retaining Oregon Tradition—Several Houses Are Not Represented at Meeting

The Inter-fraternity council went on record last evening by a vote of 8 to 4, as not favoring any change in its former attitude towards the position of freshman presidency.

Twelve out of the eighteen fraternities were represented at the meeting. This action was taken because, in the discussion following a motion that was made and seconded to the effect that the position of the president of the freshman class be elevated, several fraternities made it known that they would prohibit their freshmen from running for that office.

It was conceded that no good could come from a motion backed only half-heartedly, so it was withdrawn. The council, then, in order to take a definite stand, passed a measure of not favoring any change in the traditional attitude toward the freshman presidency.

The action of the Inter-fraternity council comes as one more link in the chain of events following the resignation of Walter A. Cushman, fraternity pledge, soon after his election to freshman presidency last Friday. Following shortly after the resignation which left the yearling class without a head, sentiment was voiced by a number of the fraternities on the campus to pledge themselves to support the new president of the freshmen, believing his office should be an honorable and respected position in the University of Oregon.

With committees working on ideas with which to prevent the crowds from jamming and for the construction of bleachers, all indications now point to a peppy party. Senior cops and Bill Hayward, who will officiate, will be on hand to settle any diverse arguments which may arise.

Included in the committee will be a corps of doctors to care for underclassmen. The committeemen are:

Sherman Smith, field and bleachers; Paul Shinniger, properties; Al Sinclair, Kenneth Stevenson, Rodney Keating, Clarence Toole and Warren Small, field officials. In addition, Coach Maddock, Bill Reinhart and Harry Scott will assist.

SATURDAY LAST DAY FOR ADDING COURSES

Saturday is the last day on which courses may be added until the first day of the winter term. A fee must be paid now for the addition of courses and though no fee will be charged on the first day of next term, it will be resumed immediately after.

Courses may be dropped without a fee on the first day of each new term, and after that, with the payment of the fee, a course may be dropped upon the direction of the adviser at any time. The petition to drop courses says, "Dropping of courses will be allowed at any time by direction of the adviser, provided the student's program is not reduced to less than 12 hours, except that the required courses of English A, military and physical education may not be dropped without the consent of the head of the department giving the course."

wiry and strong, and has worlds of speed. Johnson is 22 years old.

When the Oregon line stands upright, down at right end one young man towers head and shoulders above all of his fighting mates. He is Bob Mautz, called "Woolworth Building Mautz," because of his resemblance to the world's highest skyscraper.

But Mautz can handle his six feet four inches and 180 pounds in a most effective way, as many an opposing line found out last year. His arms are stretched out in proportion to his body, and this makes him one of the best pass grabbers along the coast. He propels himself in a rapid manner, and in addition is speedy and hard hitting.

Both Mautz and Johnson have been going good in practice so far this year, and are expected to aid materially Oregon's chances to come out ahead this season.

Journalistic Jig To Be Jazziest Jam Of Year

Cider Toppers Will Convene at Boot-Cracking Bee

All those journalists who haven't been mangled in the delicate intricacies of a typewriter, or who have been declared immune from the "hoof and mouth" disease—talking to everyone and then running over and writing it all up, are expected to be at the Hayward dance emporium at eight bells in the second dog watch, with 35 copper Lincolnites, a taste for cider and a mania for dancing.

To play Frank and Ernest with you, it's this—the school of journalism is throwing its annual Jamboree, where the innocent reporter forgets his meekness, clanks the faculty members in the shins, and calls them "Old Wheel," and gets away.

Yes, it will be good—they always are, and any journalist with enough brass to get a story out of the pioneer ought to be there. So find the glad rags and steam up to the hall—but don't lay on heavy with the fancy duds, or there may be cause to go home in a barrel. As a special feature Magical Mulkey will put on one of his vaudeville acts.

FOOTBALL RALLY HEADS PROGRAM

Yell King Martin to Have Charge of Pep Meeting At A. S. U. O. Assembly

With the first rally of the year scheduled for this morning's assembly, talk of football by enthusiastic students can already be heard, and inclinations are that the season already has a good start. The assembly will be held in the Woman's building at 11 o'clock.

Coach "Joe" Maddock will talk about Oregon's chances on the football field this season. Freshmen and new students will be especially anxious to see Oregon's football mentor, and hear what he has to say, while old students may renew their acquaintance. Bill Hayward, whose presence is a part of every rally, will also speak.

Freshmen are urged to equip themselves with "Hello" books so that they may add to the volume of sound in songs and yells which Freddie Martin, Oregon's yell king, will direct. The men who are to represent Oregon on the field this year, will also make their initial appearance on the platform, so that everyone can see who they are rooting for when the games start. Oregon music by both glee clubs will be interspersed throughout the entire program. Roy Bryson will direct the men's glee club.

The historian for the coming school year will be installed at a short business meeting at the beginning of the assembly, after which the meeting will be turned over to the yell leader.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TRYOUTS ARE TODAY

The first try-outs for the women's glee club will be held today in the music building from 3 to 5 p. m. A large attendance is urged by John Stark Evans, director, because of the many vacancies in the club. The range and quality of the voices will be noted at this try-out and also the individual musical ear.

Those participating in the second try-out will be asked to sing a solo of their own choosing. A very careful selection will be made and the ones that are successful will try-out with the old members of the club for part singing and blending of voices.

The majority of this year's club will be composed of new voices. Mr. Evans considers the old material very good and a strong nucleus to build around.

Risley and Lundberg Seek A.S.U.O. Office Of Vice-Presidency

Nominations Today From Floor of Student Assembly; Special Election Listed For Wednesday, October 15

Two senior men yesterday announced their candidacy for the position of student-body vice-president in the special election to be held Wednesday, October 15. Vic Risley was the first to enter his name while Hal Lundberg followed shortly afterwards. Both men have been prominently engaged in campus activities for several years.

Risley, now head of the Order of "O," is a three-year track letterman. Last fall he made a football letter. In '21 he was on the varsity football squad, and in '22 he was assistant football manager. As a freshman he earned his numerals in both track and football. He is a member of the Craftsman club and Phi Gamma Delta.

Hal Lundberg is a member of the present Homecoming directorate as chairman of the housing committee. Last spring he was on the Junior week-end directorate. He was manager of the girl's glee club last year, and at present is a member of the men's glee club. When a freshman he made numerals in football and wrestling. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Nominations for the vice-presidency will be made from the floor today in the student body assembly. All nominees must be seniors. Election will take place in Villard hall, October 15, when the polls will be open from 9 until 3 o'clock.

Russell Gowans, who was elected to this office last spring failed to return to the campus this fall, and according to the A. S. U. O. constitution, the vacancy is filled by a special election.

The two underclass dances will be handled by the following committees: Bob Love, chairman; Arthur Gale, Dudley Clark, Louis Denam, Constance Vance; second committee, Ted Tamea, chairman; Carl Ashley, James Johnson, Frances Morgan, Lenta Baumgartner.

The congestion of former years will be done away with this year through directorate plan of four separate dances. The work of the other committees is progressing very satisfactorily, reports Jack High. The first meeting of the directorate was held Tuesday night, and pictures taken. The committee is working with the city of Eugene to put over the biggest Homecoming, and will cooperate with the citizens in every way in regard to the cleanup, traffic, advertising, and display in the show windows.

YELL KING ASSISTANTS TO TRYOUT SATURDAY

The student council, authorized in the student constitution to sanction the appointments of assistant yell king, will meet enmasse Saturday at the Pacific game, when yell staff tryouts will be held. Immediate council decision on the 14 or more yell candidates for the two assistant yell king positions will follow.

LEAGUE STARTS NEW LOAN FUND

Organization Holds First Meeting of Year Friday At 5 O'clock in Villard

DEAN ESTERLY TO SPEAK

Only Freshmen Women May Borrow Money; $50.00 To be Maximum Amount

A Women's League Loan Fund for freshman women, has been started this year by the Women's League, with the $500.00 which they expected to use for a foreign scholarship fund. This is the first time in the history of the University that such a thing has been incorporated, and is due to the fact that no qualifying foreign scholar could take advantage of this year's scholarship fund.

The fund will be a permanent institution, and any freshman woman, needing the money and presenting adequate reasons can take advantage of the loan to the maximum amount—$50.00. The money may be loaned in one payment but two loans of $25.00 each, is considered preferable. Applications must be made a few days in advance through Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women, or Dean H. Walker, and a committee composed of Dean Walker and Jeanne Gay will decide on the qualifying applicants.

Applications must bear the signatures of two guarantors who are willing to endorse the applicants. Loans will be made in long time payments to suit the borrower's convenience and six per cent interest will be asked. This is necessary to keep the fund on a strictly business basis. The applications may be made immediately or at any time during the school year.

Applicants are Few

This fund is made possible by the very small number of applications which were received for the foreign scholarship for which the money was originally intended. "Apparently the low value of the franc is a principal reason for this condition," says D. A. Robinson, assistant director of the international division of the American Council on Education, in a letter to Jeanne Gay, head of the foreign scholarship fund. "Where formerly a student paid from 1200 to 1500 francs toward her passage, she now has to pay 1800 to 2000. There is consequently a larger draft on family budgets to aid scholarship students."

"There were 34 applications of insufficient preparation, financial reasons, health, and similar causes have operated to reduce the number of candidates. I am sure you will agree that it is highly desirable to maintain a high standard and withhold the scholarships where adequate candidates are lacking than to lower standards simply for the purpose of filling the scholarships."

"I trust that your greatly appreciated cooperation will continue (Continued on Page Four)

EVEN RAINY DAYS FAIL TO JOG MEMORY ON LOST UMBRELLAS

Eight perfectly good unattached umbrellas at large on a rainy day. That is the report from the Lost and Found bureau in the University depot. And that's not all. Last spring there were at one time forty unclaimed umbrellas.

Umbrellas are not the only things turned in at the bureau. In fact, almost any article one can think of may be found there. Since the women have taken up the mode of wearing scarfs, Mr. Fisher has been busier than ever, and could almost set up a shop which handled scarfs, fur chokers, and umbrellas exclusively.

Fountain pens, silver pencils, and keys! The display would put to shame that of an ordinary shop. Some of them have been there since the bureau was started on January 23, of this year and others have come in very recently. Yesterday
