Did You?

Several students were seated about the fraternity fireplace discussing the laws of the state and the nation. In general, this discussion was in the form of a "razz" of the existing order—this official of the government was the "bunk," and that official of the government was the "bunk," these laws were surely the work of insane minds, and those laws were most certainly the product of pure imbeciles.

And so they talked.

But one of this family of "crabbers" had an idea, as he dozed there before the glowing embers, listening mechanically to the vindictive stream flowing so easily from his fellows, or nodded unconscious assent to arguments particularly emphasized by a sudden high pitch of voice and a determined crash of fist on the arm of an overworked rocker.

He roused himself with interest awakened.

"Say, fellows, how many of you voted at the last elections?"

And the fire leaped and crackled amusedly in the answering silence.

GRADUATE CLUB OPENS SEASON WITH DINNER

The season is to be opened for the graduate club with a dinner at the Osburn hotel, Friday evening at 6:30. The affair is to be sponsored by officers of the last year's graduate clubs, and members of the graduate council and their wives are expected to be present. The chief purpose of the dinner is to get acquainted. However, it will also offer an occasion for the bringing up of various matters of business.

Dr. George Rebec will give an address of welcome, and various graduate students will speak on problems and matters of interest to the members of the organization. The affair is to be entirely informal. If any student has been overlooked, Dr. Rebec asks that he consider himself invited, and come anyway.

The dinner will be seventy-five cents a plate. It is desirable that all those who wish to attend, will telephone Mrs. W. H. Maxham at 139 J, in the evening, or the office of the Dean during the afternoon.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BEGIN HERE TODAY

One Winner for Varsity; Other for Frosh

The varsity and frosh fall tennis tournament will start today and continue through the week. The tournament will be staged by elimination and one winner will be chosen for the frosh and another for the varsity.

Rudolph Fahl, varsity tennis coach, has announced the following pairings for the varsity tennis men: Meyer and Heber; McBride and Britts; Hayden and Westergren; Mead and Van Waters; Reed and Veazie; Okerberg and Beyfuss; McIntosh and Hubbard. The winner of this division will be given a dozen tennis balls, donated by Mr. McClain, manager of the Co-op.

Twenty freshmen have signed up for the frosh tennis tournament which will commence today and will also continue through the week. The winner of this tournament will be given a pair of basketball shoes. The drawings for the frosh are: P. Wagner, bye; G. Potts and P. Windrem; J. Brundage, bye; C. Tafts, bye; H. Stevens, bye; A. Hampton, bye; J. Gregory, bye; H. Allen, bye; C. Rethelisen and R. Beattie; C. Coppel and W. Powell; H. Hutchinson, bye; M. Windrem and W. Wood; W. Cleaver, bye; M. Cone, bye; H. Huggins, bye.

Coach Fahl believes that by holding a tournament he will get a line on the material for the tennis season next spring. The weather has given the racquet wielders considerable time to practice and many have been taking advantage of it. A strong schedule is being lined up for the varsity and frosh teams, the coach said.

SOL ABRAMSON WINS IN SPEAKING CONTEST

After a second try-out for the three best speakers, Sol Abramson was chosen to be Oregon's representative at the extemporary speaking contest which will be held at Stanford this winter. The decision was very closely contested, seven men going out for the honor.

Sol was the winner of the Jewett prize of $15 awarded at an extemporary speaking contest held at Oregon last year. He was active in debating and in other activities in the public speaking department last year, which was his first on the campus.

The speeches for the try-outs were on the subject of the power of the federal courts to declare acts of congress unconstitutional and each speaker was given some particular phase of the subject an hour before the try-out was held. He then prepared a talk on this particular idea.

The subject for the Pacific coast extemporary speaking contest at Stanford will be the same one and in the same way each contestant will be given his particular phase of the matter just an hour before the contest. The date of the affair has not as yet been set.

The try-outs for the team which will debate against O. A. C. have not been completed. Some of the men were given their trial Monday and some Tuesday afternoon. The third trial will be held tonight at 7:30, after which the final decision will be made. A number of men have turned out to try for the team, so they could not all be handled in one afternoon.

LIBRARY RENT SHELF HAS NEW BOOKS ADDED

A rent collection, composed of new books is maintained by the University library so that the student may, for a nominal sum, keep in touch with the latest and most modern works.

Since June, 1924, 31 new books have been added to those in the rent collection: Ernest Poole, "The Avalanche;" May Sinclair, "The Dark Night;" G. B. HOME COMING WILL BE THEME IN OLD OREGON

Humor and Sport Sections Are to be Features

The Homecoming number of "Old Oregon" will be issued on the campus the first of next week. The magazine, which is larger than usual, will be sent to all alumni whether they have subscribed or not, and will be given to all living organizations on the campus. It is the last edition, which will be sent free to alumni this year.

The humor section will be a homecoming feature in itself since all the jokes are taken from Oregonians and Webfoots from 1903 up to the present time. The jokes will recall old classmates to the alums, because each joke uses names of former students. The section is illustrated with homecoming cartoons by Warren Small. The poetry section, edited by Margaret Skavlan, has contributions from several alumni. Webster Jones' sport section will have in addition to other news a message to grads from Joe Maddock and an article by Bill Hayward on the Olympic games. Other assistants of this issue are Mrs. Mary Watson Barnes and Inez King.

The cover is a picture of Villard and Deady and is therefore applicable to the issue, since those two buildings are usually thought of first by returning grads.

HIGH SCHOOL TO GIVE OPERETTA THIS TERM

"Crimson Eyebrows," an operetta with a Chinese setting, will be presented by the University high school glee club this term. The members of the cast are being directed by Mrs. Anna Landsbury, of the school of music.

The setting of the stage and the costumes will be elaborate, she announced yesterday. Several of the choruses have been rewritten by Mrs. Beck to make them appropriate.

COSHOW WILL VISIT UNIVERSITY MASONS

Dedication of Craftsman Club to be on Nov. 2

O. P. Coshov of Roseburg, grand master of the Masonic lodge of Oregon, and a member of the state supreme bench, will visit the campus on Friday, October 17, and will be entertained during his stay by the Craftsman club, an organization of University students and faculty who are Masons. He will address a banquet to be held by the Craftsman at the Anchorage, the evening of the seventeenth at 6 o'clock.

Grand Master Coshov will discuss plans for the dedication of the new home of the Craftsman, to be held on Sunday afternoon of Homecoming week-end, with members of the local committee in charge. The dedication was to have been held on October 17, but because of delay in the delivery of furniture it was found necessary to postpone it. The later date was chosen by John MacGregor, president of the club, to accommodate old members who might not otherwise be present. It is hoped that the original founders, some of whom are still on the campus, will also be present. Many prominent Masons of Oregon, including the officers of the grand lodge of the state, will take part in the ceremonies.

The new home of the club, built during the summer on Fourteenth between Alder and Kincaid, was financed by the grand lodge of Oregon, and the property was given by the Masons of Eugene. In addition to a large club room it contains committee rooms, offices, a large reading room and library and ladies' waiting room. This building will also be used by the Temenids, organization of Eastern Star members on the campus, and by the De Molays.

All Masons, including those who have taken but one degree, are urged to attend the banquet Friday night, according to the president, John MacGregor.

Marie Gilkison, Evelyn Humphry, Letha Jenks, Beatrice Loennig, Olive Mark, Etha Ogelsby, Lois Parker, Elsie Schultz, Margaret Templer, Cora Turnidge, and Mable Wood.

DR. RAINEY WILL ACT AS RESEARCH BUREAU HEAD Br. Homer I. Rainey will act as head of the bureau of educational research, which was recently reorganized. Under the new system, the bureau will no longer publish tests; but the J. K. Gill company of Portland will publish and sell the tests. Cooperative researches, however, will be conducted as under the old system, and expert advice will be given to superintendents and principals who desire it.
