Varsity Holds Stanford 28-13

Oregon Scores on Mighty Cardinal Team in Hectic Grid Clash at Palo Alto

Improvement is Shown

Anderson Runs 85 Yards for Touchdown in First Part of Game; Jones Hits Hard

Tired but happy, the Oregon football team swung off the Shasta yesterday morning after making a good showing against the Cardinals, the squad that was doped to beat the Varsity by at least 40 points.

Only after a brilliant 85-yard dash down the field by Louie Anderson, did the Stanford team realize that the Oregonians had been decidedly under-rated as to their offensive power.

Plays are Spectacular

The touchdown scored by Anderson, the quarterback, was only one of the spectacular plays which thrilled the 10,000 fans in the Palo Alto stadium. The small but loyal group of Oregon rooters were also roused by the manner in which the second score was made.

Anderson threw a pass that was anybody's ball until after being juggled about came into the hands of Bob Mautz. Mautz ripped up the field but was tackled before crossing the goal line. When tackled he fumbled the ball. Minnaugh recovered the ball and scored the touchdown.

Strong Offense Needed

With the exception of the second quarter, when the heavy scoring was made by the Cardinals, both teams had to use their full offensive power to even dent the opposing defense. In the third period, the varsity tightened down and forced the Red Shirts into mainly exchange punts, as the Cardinals found the Oregon line a mighty tough proposition to get through.

Ernie Nevers was unable to play in Saturday's game because of injuries sustained earlier in the season. However, the Cardinals are not handicapped to any appreciable extent because of the temporary loss of Nevers for George Bogue carried the ball like a veteran and scored two of the Cardinal's touchdowns.

Anderson Goes Over

It was only two minutes after the start of the game, that Louie Anderson hit Stanford's left tackle and started racing for the goal line. Perfect Oregon interference aided him greatly after he had broken through the line.

Vitus Proves "Find" of Year; Burton is Speedy Reserve

By W. A. J.

Coming up from the freshman ranks with no special fame or significance attached to his name, Otto Vitus constitutes the biggest find of the year of the varsity squad. He has proven his ability in all the games Oregon has played. Vitus is a halfback that is going to make a name for himself this season. Joe Maddock put him in the backfield at half before the Pacific game and he has been playing that position regularly since then. The reason why he didn't carry the ball in the Stanford game was because he was too valuable a man at blocking—that is what he was used for in the entire Stanford game.

Vitus, to see him on the football field, strikes one as being easy—not tense like the usual football player, and he walks loosely, but when one sees him hit the line there is no looseness there—it's all solid drive and it's powerful. "He hits like a ball of iron," as one football player said. That looseness disappears with the snap of the signals.

He is a heavy man and fits in well with the rest of the backfield, being equally as fast if not as experienced. All that he lacks to make him a star is the experience and that will come soon enough. He played high school football in Eugene and the first real coaching he had was under Baz Williams on the frosh squad of last year where he played as half part of the time. This is his first year of varsity experience.

He is young yet—only 19, and with three years of varsity football training ahead of him he will be heard of.

Freshmen Women Making Pennants For Homecoming

Work on the little green and lemon-yellow pennants which everyone wears to the Homecoming game, has begun already, with Anna DeWitt in charge. The actual work on the pennants is being done by the Y. W. C. A. freshman commission, under the leadership of Mary Donaldson, vice-president of the Y. W., and is carried on at the Y. W. bungalow and in various organizations.

The price will be the same as it was last year—five cents—and the sale is to be on Saturday, November 1. Committees who will conduct the sale will be announced later, according to Miss DeWitt. Every patriotic Oregonian should display one of these pennants at the game.

Many Students Fail to Pay Fees on Time

Delinquent Students are to Be Given Fine

With the time limit set by University regulations for the payment of fees already past due, there are still at least 100 students who have not done so and are as a result automatically suspended from the University, according to an announcement from the business office.

Students who have not paid their fees must pay a three dollar fine and must also petition for their hours. Those in this position are urged to pay their fees at once, because the longer the delay, the less is the student's chance of favorable action on his petition.

Included in those who must pay fines, although they are not suspended, are a number of students whose checks have come back marked "N. S. F." Several hundreds of dollars in checks have been returned since fee paying began last week, and drastic action against offenders is promised by the business office.

A last minute rush Saturday caused the necessity of issuing tickets to students, upon the presentation of which they were allowed to pay their fees today without the addition of the fine. While a large number of these tickets were issued, a number of those receiving them did not pay their fees today.

Already the number of alibis is growing and the business office expects a great many more before all fees are collected.

Dean Esterly is Absent from Campus this Week

Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women, has gone to her home in Antioch, California, where she was called because of the serious illness of her father. She will probably not return until Friday of this week.

Spicy Program Planned for Mix

Annual Y. M.-Y. W. Affair Will Follow Rally at Armory Friday Night

Food will be served

Yellow Sheet to Appear Exposing Local Scandal and Forecast of Game

The annual Y. M.-Y. W. mix will be held this year immediately after the rally which will take place Friday evening at the Armory in preparation for the Whitman game on the following day. An especially well balanced program of campus and outside talent has been secured for the entertainment at the mix and the scandal sheet, published by Sigma Delta Chi each year, will also be in evidence. The entire program will be over by 9:30 o'clock so that dates may be kept after the mix.

Mulkey is on Bill

Magical Mulkey, who has gained an enviable reputation throughout the state for his magic, will present part of the program while the Campus Tramps from the College Side Inn will supply the musical part. Two professional entertainers have been secured for twenty-five minutes of pure mirth and a comedy skit presented by campus talent will top off the list.

"We have secured the very best program we could find for the mix," said Ted Gillenwaters, chairman of the affair, yesterday, "and we are positive that it will be enjoyed by the entire student body." The refreshments which are to be served after the program are being arranged for by the Y. W. C. A. and the nominal charge of ten cents will be levied to each person as he enters into the festivities.

The scandal sheet to be put out by the members of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, will (Continued on Page Three)

Women's League Meet to be Held on Campus

A convention of the presidents of all Women's Leagues west of the Appalachian mountains will be held on the campus, next April, from the 15th to the 17th.

Mary Hathaway has been appointed chairman of the convention, by Winifred Graham, president of the local Women's League. She will have charge of all the plans. This is the first time in the history of the University that such a convention has been held. A large attendance is expected, as each college having a Women's League organization is entitled to send a delegate. A rather extensive program is being planned for the entertainment of the representatives.

The purpose of this convention is to go over problems that confront different campuses in a way that will be of national interest. It will also lead to a better understanding among the delegates of the actual life on the respective campuses represented.

The appointment and announcement of committees to take care of all work connected with the entertainment of the guests will be announced later in the week, according to Miss Hathaway.

Fraternity Houses Raided at California

University of California. — Six fraternity houses at the University of California were raided by the police at Berkeley recently and "souvenirs" of a semester's gathering were confiscated.

Among the trophies were: one "No Parking" sign belonging to the city of Berkeley; one blue and gold smoking stand from the Stevens Union; 14 red railroad lanterns; one advertisement from a motion picture house; one "Stop, Look and Listen" sign from a local railroad yard; and six pieces of furniture which had been secretly removed from a nearby sorority house.

Girls Get Thrill From Farce Fire; No Damage Done

In great agitation at seeing smoke pouring from the partitions of the kitchen wall, the girls at the Alpha Phi house turned in the fire alarm about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Being alone, they were very much frightened and did not stop to discover the source of the smoke, but summoned the fire department at once.

The fire engines arrived with their usual ado to find that someone had turned the draft too low in the furnace, and the smoke was merely seeking the path of least resistance. The heating system is new and not very well regulated, so the unusual things which is does are not surprising. The fire department retired in relief and the girls settled back to their usual routine with the knowledge that they had at least gotten a thrill, even if it was a farce.

Governor Pierce will be present on the occasion. He will be introduced by Judge J. W. Hamilton of Roseburg, president of the board of regents.

Dr. Carson Gives Books to University Library

Dr. Luella Clay Carson, former dean of women and professor of English at Oregon, has given a set of books entitled "Luther Burbank, His Methods and Discoveries and Their Practical Application," to the University library. This is the de luxe, autographed edition, bound in tooled leather, in twelve volumes. The set will be placed in the Pauline Potter Homer Collection of beautiful books.

Y. W. Drive on for Members

Two Weeks to be Devoted to Personal Solicitation of All Campus Women

Last Year's Quota 600

Religious Purpose is First Interest of Local Group; Bible Study Carried On

The Y. W. C. A. membership drive, which will probably continue for the next two weeks, during which time the committee of 20 students, under the leadership of Mary Bartholomew will endeavor to reach every new student on the campus, started yesterday.

The purpose of the campus Y. W. association is, to lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ; to lead them into membership and service in the Christian church; to build them up in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible; to influence them to devote themselves, in united effort with all Christians, to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world.

Large Number Expected Last year the membership list reached 600. This number has been greatly depleted by graduation and failure to return to the campus, but the committee expects to raise the number as high, or higher this year, as there are many more new students than ever before. Those who were members last year, are still considered as such, as it is necessary to sign a membership card only once during the school life. There is no membership charge.

There are eleven different departments in the campus association: membership, social work, service and employment, finance, bungalow upkeep, girl reserves, Bible study, meetings, publicity, (Continued on Page Three)

Plans are Under Way for Women's Debate

The nature of the subject for women's triangular debate with O. A. C. and Willamette, was selected at a meeting held in Salem, Friday at which all of the colleges were represented. The question will be on the Japanese exclusion act, considering its revision to allow the admission of Japanese into the United States on the same basis on which Europeans are admitted. The exact wording of the question has not as yet been determined.

The debate is to be held on February 19, and plans are now being made for the tryouts which will be held shortly after Homecoming. Positions on the team will be open to every one, including the freshmen.

Negotiations are under way for a Washington-Oregon women's debate, but plans are being delayed because there is a chance that California will enter and make it a triangular rather than dual debate.

The men's squad from which the team to meet O. A. C. will be chosen is working on its question under Mr. Oscar A. Brown who will have full charge of the coaching of this team. The debate will occur on January 8.

Dean Sheldon Receives Picture of Convention

Dr. Henry D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, who was a lecturer at the high school convention in Ketchikan, Alaska, during August, 1924, received from the association a framed picture of those attending the convention. Dean Sheldon gave a series of six lectures at the three day convention which is held annually by the high school teachers in the municipal schools of Alaska. There are two kinds of schools in Alaska: those for Indian children, and those called municipal schools for white children.

Whitman-Oregon Tickets Will Be On Sale at Noon

The tickets for the Whitman-Oregon game next Saturday will be placed on sale today noon at Laraway's, the Co-op, and Obak's. Grandstand seats are $1.50, general admission $1.00, and students will be admitted on presentation of their student body tickets.

Applications for places for the Homecoming game with Washington will be received until next Saturday only. After that the sale will be open to the public. Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, urges early reservations, as the demand for the tickets is very great.

Applications for the Washington State college game, in Portland November 15, will be received at the Multnomah club in Portland.

Dr. Hoover to Speak at Next Assembly

European Student Life is Faculty Man's Topic

Dr. Glenn Hoover, professor of political science and economics, will be the speaker at the assembly, Thursday, in the Woman's building, according to Karl W. Onthank, executive secretary.

Dr. Hoover has just joined the University faculty, having returned during the summer from Europe after taking his Ph.D. at Strassburg university. He is a graduate of the University of Washington where he was well known as a student and as a talented orator.

Dr. Hoover's assembly topic will be on the general subject of European student life. He will discuss the life of the students as he saw it in Europe, particularly on the continent. The speaker was in close contact with the various youth movements and will touch upon that topic during his address.

Because of the congestion caused by freshmen and sophomores using the same door into the Woman's building, a new system is to be tried out. Faculty and freshman women are asked to enter by the south door, through the sun room. It is expected that this system will cause less trouble and will allow more time for the assemblies.

California South Branch Has Enrollment of 5000

University of California.—The 5,000th student to enter the southern branch of the University of California was enrolled with ceremonies befitting the occasion. The demonstration marked the apex of student registration at the branch and included a parade and fetes by various student organizations.

Rooting Webfooters Paddle in San Francisco Chinatown

(Editor's note: Several carloads of rooters drove 1400 miles to Palo Alto and return over the week-end to see the Oregon-Stanford football game. The trip was not uneventful. One who made the trip recounts the following:)

The trip? Great stuff, excepting for a headache. No, I didn't get drunk, although at Frisco anything from wine to Haig & Haig can be had for the asking and paying. The headache comes from trying to sleep in the machine.

We pulled out the back cushion, placed it on the floor of the machine, spread blankets, pretended we were undersized dwarfs and took turns sleeping and driving. I slept over the unpaved roads in northern California and almost jarred my brains loose.

We left Eugene, five in a seven-passenger Buick, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. Driving steadily we reached Oakland at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. We spent an hour or two on the road keeping track of the other two machines in our party. At Oakland one of the boys furnished fraternal board and room—an item which enabled us to make more of a splash in San Francisco the next night.

Three Rhodes Candidates Up

Committee Names Clinton Howard, Don Woodward, Henry Sheldon for Honor

Final Test in December

Applicants Highly Praised for Character and Energy, Says Dr. Rebec

After three days of consideration, the Rhodes scholarship committee announced their decision Saturday. The three men of their choice are Clinton Howard, journalism major, Don Woodward, journalism major, and Henry Sheldon, business major. These three men will appear before the state committee in Portland sometime between December 1 and 13, when the final choice will be made.

"A number of the candidates were both encouraged and deliberately keen to take the examination with the view of being better able to get ready two years from now," said Dr. George Rebec, head of the graduate school, when summing up his opinion in regard to the Rhodes scholarship examinations. "Both they and the committee were aware that at present they were not ready. Therefore, to these men, there was no personal disappointment."

Candidates of Good Type

"In one or two other circumstances, it was the frank judgment of the committee that the candidate, though in certain directions excellently prepared, had not been working in a direction where Oxford would be the most useful place for him to go, or where he would make the best impression. This was in no sense a judgment of inadequacy."

"In general," Dr. Rebec continued, "it may be said of the candidates that they represented an admirable type of young American. In character, energy and personal presence they were all that could be desired."

Few Seniors Out

"The weakness was the one which displays itself throughout the American student body. The students were deficient in orderly, precise and sure scholarship. Their intellectual and cultural individuality did not in any way measure up to the personality which they exhibited as men among men. The committee was not surprised at this."

"If there was dissatisfaction, it was in the fact that so few seniors were in the running, and that the juniors had to bear the brunt of maintaining Oregon's reputation as (Continued on Page Three)
