

WHITMAN GAME NEXT SATURDAY

Coach Borleske Pointing
Guns Toward Eugene;
Hopes to Defeat Varsity

MISSIONARY TEAM FAST

Oregon Eleven Has Hard
Tilt on Each Succeeding
Week Till Thanksgiving

In the Whitman game on next Saturday, the Oregon football squad will be right in the thick of a long and hard gridiron schedule. Including the tilt with the Missionaries, the varsity will not have the slightest let-up in the present grid season until the closing contest with the Multnomah club on Thanksgiving.

Although the Maize and Blue eleven has got off to a very poor start and has failed to furnish any recognizable opposition to their former opponents, Coach Borleske has a very fast but light team that is unable to stem the driving offense that many of the heavier teams such as Washington and O. A. C. have.

Whitman Defense Weak
Against the Huskies, the Whitman squad was powerless. The Seattle team ran up a 55-0 score in short order. In the aerial attack, line-plunging and end runs by Washington, the Missionaries showed an outstanding weakness in their defense. However, the Whitman squad has shown a decided improvement in form over that displayed in the O. A. C. contest.

The chief criticism of the Maize and Blue aggregation is that they are handicapped by lack of material and although they have a considerable number of lettermen, they have to depend to a large extent on new material to fill the gaps left by graduating veterans.

Play is Deceptive
The Whitman game from the standpoint of Oregon has never been an easy contest. Two years ago at Pendleton, the Lemon-Yellow squad barely nosed the Missionaries out of the game, winning by the narrow margin of a 6-3 score. Last year, the varsity had little difficulty in running up a 21-0 score against the eastern Washington team.

This year the Whitman team is one of the fastest combinations in the Northwest conference. Coach Borleske has developed a team that is adept in a deceptive style of play. An open style of football is featured to a considerable extent by the Missionaries, who depend more on the aerial attack and open field running to pierce the defense of their heavier opponents. What the Maize and Blue squad lacks in weight they make up in cleverness.

For the last three years, Coach Borleske has pointed his guns against the Lemon-Yellow grid teams in the hope of someday watching the Oregon aggregation going down in defeat.

In Saturday's game, Coach Mad-

McMULLEN IS HEAVIEST MAN ON SQUAD; STOCKWELL FIGHTS

John C. "Fat" McMullen has the distinction of being the heaviest man on the varsity football squad. "Fat" made the trip to Palo Alto as substitute center, but did not get into the game.

McMullen played three years for Columbia University. He was at center on the fresh squad in 1922 and since then he has been out for the varsity with dogged persistence,—spring football included. He will get his chance next year, and if anything happens to the regular center in the remaining six games, he is going to go in before that. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 200 pounds, making a real bulwark in the line.

He is a typical fat man, easy going and rather hard to get rolled up. But in a game with the proper stimulus his great bulk would make

Yellow Journalism To Outdo Itself At Friday's Mix

Blaring revelations of campus scandal and otherwise are soon to be bared to the public eye. On the eve of the Y. M.-Y. W. mix, next Friday night will appear a sheet that will set a high water mark for yellow journalism. Professors who fall asleep in class, will be mercilessly exposed. The team and all the campus celebrities tremble with fearful anticipation of this glaring spotlight of publicity.

Hitherto unknown facts will be boldly presented, for the sleuths who are racing down the juicy news are the men journalists, and when a man starts on the trail of gossip, women are simply out of the running. Although the price of the sheet is so moderate as to render it obtainable by any and all, it has been rumored the cost of keeping well-known names out of the thing will afford the Sigma Delta Chis many a hearty meal.

HOMECOMING PLANNED BY PORTLAND ALUMNI

Luncheon Rally to be Held
At Multnomah Hotel

Lyle F. Brown, president of the Portland branch of the Alumni association, has issued 700 double postcards to alumni, summoning them to a luncheon, Saturday, October 25, at the Multnomah hotel. The card is yellow, printed in green.

On the side addressed to the alumni is found the news of the lunch and of Homecoming. "Who?—You! What—Of O. Alumni Luncheon! When—12 M., October 25, 1924. Where—Multnomah hotel. Why—First: to renew acquaintance with your friends of campus days. Second: to lend your help and wisdom in picking officers to represent you for the coming year. Third: to advise how Portland can best participate in the 1924 Homecoming (in Eugene) November 1, 1924. Fourth: to urge you to be in Eugene, November 1, Homecoming day. Fifth: to hear some songs and fiery talks."

A bit of humor is found at the bottom of the page in the announcement, "Absolutely no funds of any kind will be solicited at this luncheon."

The second part of the card is a reservation to be sent back to Brown, by the alumni.

SENIORS MUST APPLY FOR DEGREE AT ONCE

All students who are expecting to graduate in June or January must apply for their degree at once, according to an announcement from the registrar's office. This is necessary in order that a student who has to make a change in program will not find the term too far gone for such action. Those who do not apply for degrees, whether they have any changes to make or not, will receive neither degree nor diploma, is the warning issued.

CHANGES MADE IN HOMECOMING

Annual Parade Will Begin
At Eugene Armory at 6:15
Before Burning of Pyre

LINE OF MARCH GIVEN

Signal on Skinner's Butte
To Start Noise Making
Affair on Way to Campus

The Homecoming noise parade, annual feature of the gigantic football rally held on the Friday preceding the game, will be slightly changed this year from last year's in the matter of routing. The Homecoming directorate plans to have the parade before the bonfire, as was the old custom, instead of after, as was done last year.

The band will lead the students down to the armory, where the parade will start, at 6:15. At the armory there will be trucks prepared for transportation of the women when the parade leaves there for the bonfire.

McClellan Leads Parade
All noise making machines are requested to be at the station which will be assigned to them, not later than 6:30. Oregon Knights and members of To-Ko-Lo will give assistance in clearing and keeping the line of march free from all vehicles other than those in the parade.

The noise parade committee, headed by Cybert McClellan, plans to have the band head the parade, followed by trucks and noise machines, alternating. The first few trucks will carry members of the team. The line of march will be from the armory down Seventh avenue to Willamette, down Willamette to Eleventh avenue, out Eleventh to Alder, down Alder to Thirteenth avenue and thence to the bonfire.

Fireworks Make Signal
The signal for the start of the parade will be given by setting off fireworks on top of Skinner's

R.O.T.C. SENIORS GET GOVERNMENT CHECKS

Government checks to the amount of $416.00 have arrived at the E. O. T. C. headquarters, and will be paid to seniors of the advanced corps of last year.

Although these men are not all military majors, they have taken an interest in the military department, and it is the policy of the government to pay student officers for their services.

These checks cover the period from June 13 to September 22, the amount which was paid the men while at summer camp being deducted, thereby making the amount received by each man approximately $19.80.

The men who are to be paid are requested to see Captain Culin at E. O. T. C. headquarters. They are: T. E. Amstutz, W. M. Backstrom, R. W. Burton, E. N. Calef, L. H. Carlson, D. R. Cook, H. F. Crites, T. Gillenwaters, B. C. Homewood, E. C. Hughes, C. E. Jost, H. E. Kidwell, W. N. Larabee, H. Metcalf, R. F. Murphy, C. H. Newell, W. Seton Jr., C. H. Skoog, E. W. Smith, and L. A. Withrow.

Missing Bull Dog Has Private Taxi For Journey Home

Noble, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity bulldog "high-browed" the brothers last Sunday evening. He had been missing from the fraternity fireplace for most of the day and not a few of the members were becoming anxious concerning his whereabouts.

As evening approached and anxiety became more pronounced, a taxi drove up to the curb, the uniformed driver sprang out to open the door and then stood at attention beside it. The occupant of the rear seat who was curled contentedly on the seat cushion, raised his head to see that he was at the right place and then lazily jumped down and made for the front door, growling as he passed the driver as if to say, "Thank you, that will be all."

And at the door there was great rejoicing among the members. One of the group detached himself and approached the taxi driver to pay the fare.

"Some young boys found the dog down by the railroad station wandering around as though looking for someone," explained the driver. "They brought him to the taxi company, where the fraternity initials were found on his collar. We put him in a cab and brought him out."

Noble has resumed his "fire-side" life.

ORDER OF 'O' MAY RUN GRID-GRAPH MACHINE

Present Admission Charge
Will be Reduced

Plans to take over the grid-graph machine now owned by the Associated students are being made by the Order of the "O," according to Vic Risley, president of the order. The matter must be passed on at the next meeting of the finance committee of the executive council before it is final, but it is practically certain that it will be handed over to the Order of the O, Risley said. Ted Gillenwaters, vice-president of the organization, will manage the machine, as he has been in charge of it so far this fall.

"There will be a reduction in the price of admission from the present charge of fifty cents, when the Order of the 'O' takes over the machine," said Risley. "Although it will be impossible to eliminate the charge entirely, due to the fact that half of the cost of the grid-graph, which is $1200, must be paid off this year."

The entire football squad and the coaching staff will be present at a meeting of the Order of the "O" to-night, and Dean Dymont will give an address. All the members are urged by Risley to be present at the meeting.

DR. HODGE WILL SPEAK AT TECHNICAL MEETING

At the meeting of the Technical society this evening Dr. E. T. Hodge, of the geology department, will deliver a talk on the subject of "The World's Next Great Engineering Problem." It is understood that a part of his discussion of the problem will deal with the control and development of water power.

The lecture will be delivered at 7:30 in room 105 Deady Hall. All pre-engineers are especially invited to attend and anyone else interested will find himself welcome.

F. S. LAURENCE IS UNABLE TO TALK HERE THURSDAY

Word was received by long distance telephone from F. S. Laurence, secretary of the National Terra Cotta society of New York City, that he is detained in San Francisco and will be unable to lecture at the University Thursday evening as previously announced. He was to have addressed the students and all others interested on the subject "Manufacturing and Uses of Architectural Terra Cotta." He is on a tour of the United States delivering lectures illustrated by motion pictures before students and local groups of architects.

OREGON TO HEAR NOTED SPEAKERS

Free Intellectual Activities
Group Plans Series of Talks by Eminent Men

EXPLORER MAY BE FIRST

Purpose is to Stimulate
Campus Thought Outside
Regular Classroom Work

At its first meeting of the year, the Free Intellectual Activities committee discussed the matter of bringing to the University campus eminent scholars and speakers. The purpose of the committee, according to Dr. Warren D. Smith, of the geology department, its chairman, is to sponsor intellectual activities outside of the classroom and the curriculum.

The committee is chiefly interested in such clubs as Crossroads, Agora, Dial, and the Cosmopolitan club. It is its purpose to encourage the formation of more such discussion groups on the campus. "This, however," says Dr. Smith, "depends entirely on the initiative of the students themselves."

A number of well known men were considered at the meeting, as possible campus visitors. Among these were Vilhjalmur Stefansson, well known Arctic explorer, who has just crossed the Australian desert by automobile, and David Starr Jordan, Chancellor Emeritus at Stanford university, zoologist and greatest living authority on fish. The speakers obtained will depend, of course, on the men in the country at the time, on their itinerary, and on the committee finances. The committee is handicapped by lack of funds.

Dr. Smith suggested two possible ways of financing the project,—first by means of another small tax on all students, or, second, by means of paid admission at each occasion. He also suggested the adoption of some annual affair,

DOUGH-NUT DEBATERS WILL MEET IN VILLARD

Plans for the men's dough-nut debate will be formulated this afternoon at a meeting of the representatives of the men's fraternities. This is the first conference on this matter held this year and each house should make sure to have a representative present. The meeting will be held at 4:15 in Villard hall.

The questions which will be brought up and discussed are the topic for the debates, the time of the contests, and the method of judging which will be used.

Last year's dough-nut debate was won by the Friendly hall team, against Beta Theta Pi and Psi Kappa, the closest contests in the men's league. The subject of the debate was: "Resolved that the state of Oregon should adopt a severance tax on timber." A larger number of men's houses was represented in the contest than that of previous years. The same large number is expected to turn out this year.

The Tau Kappa Alpha loving cup is awarded to the winning team each year.

MARGARET SKAVLAN HAS POEMS PUBLISHED

Margaret Skavlan, senior in the school of journalism, recently placed three lyrics, "Lilith" with "Palms" published in Mexico, and "Black Magic" and "Coin Song" with Voices, a leading magazine edited by Harold Vinal, a well known poet.

During the past six months her poems have appeared in several other leading magazines. Last year Miss Skavlan won second prize with a short poem, "Flotsam," in the Fugitive contest, and second place in the Booth song contest.

Salutation Given Through Window Of Arts Building

Friendly greetings are all right in their way and most people like to receive them. One Oregon student, however, has conceived a new method of salutation which is both startling to the person met and expensive for the giver.

A friend entered the court of the art building yesterday afternoon and in an attempt to hail him this original one knocked out one of the large windows on the second floor of the building. The friend jumped upon hearing the resultant crash and looking up saw the head of a startled young man poking out of the empty frame.

"Hello," called the owner of the head, "tried to open a window to call you and the whole thing fell out. Only one pane is broken, though. Funny, isn't it?"

The head then disappeared.

DR. HOOVER DESCRIBES FRENCH STUDENT LIFE

Universities Compared by Assembly Speaker

French universities and American ones are quite as dissimilar as French and American students, according to Dr. Glenn Hoover, instructor in economics and political science, who is to be the speaker at tomorrow's assembly.

"American universities," said Dr. Hoover, "are still run on the theory that the students are pretty young and have to be looked after. I'm inclined to think that is right."

"In France," continued Dr. Hoover, "it is taken for granted that students are old enough to take care of their own affairs. I don't think that there is a roll book in all of France. On the whole, the French university student is about two years ahead of the American. He is probably only on an average of a year older, but he goes at a faster pace in the secondary schools."

"Can you imagine the University of Oregon," questioned Dr. Hoover, "without the A. S. U. O., without the Emerald staff and the daily, without intercollegiate athletics, without a dean of men or women, and without any interest taken in the way in which the student lives or spends his time outside of the classroom? If you can, you have an idea of the French universities."

Dr. Hoover's talk tomorrow is to be on "European Student Life." The assembly will be held in the Woman's building at 11:00 o'clock. Freshmen women are requested to use the south entrance to the building, in order to avoid congestion.

MAJORS IN NORMAL ARTS TO GATHER AT TEA TODAY

Normal arts majors will gather at the art museum today and have a get-acquainted party. All the new members of the department are asked to be present at this tea which is set for 3:15 o'clock. Officers of the club will be elected.

ELLIOT DEXTER, ACTOR GIVES ADVICE TO ASPIRING THESPIANS

A tall, dark well-built, and well proportioned man; a handsome figure with remarkable ease of manner and poise; this is Elliott Dexter, actor and moving picture star, who was entertained at dinner last night at Hendricks hall, before his performance in "The Havoc" at the Hellig theatre. When asked whether he preferred the stage or the screen, Elliott Dexter like the true artist that he is, answered that when he is on the stage, he prefers legitimate acting, and when working in the moving pictures, he prefers the screen. "The moving pictures portray just as much emotion and characterization as the stage does," he said, "but more acting is necessary on the stage, because it is the silent drama, and has not the advantage of the human voice." Mr. Dexter's years of practice on the stage before taking

THREE STUDENTS OUT FOR OFFICE

Special Election Held to Fill
Vice-President Vacancy
Felt by Russell Gowans

FOUR POLLS TO BE USED

Ruth Akers to Have Direct
Control of Board; Votes
Will be Cast in Villard Hall

CANDIDATES FOR VICE PRESIDENCY
Harold Lundberg
Erroll Murphy
Victor Risley

Three candidates are to be voted upon today for the office of vice-president at a special student body election in Villard hall from 9 until 3 o'clock. The candidates for this position are, Harold Lundberg, Victor Risley and Erroll Murphy.

The office of vice-president is one of the most important and responsible positions in the whole student body organization. There is a vast amount of work connected with it and much of the success of the organization is dependent upon a responsible man in this position. He is a member of the executive council, the student council and the finance committee and sits on various special committees of the student council, and represents the president whenever he is not able to be present.

There are to be four polls to simplify the election, under the control of the student council, with Ruth Akers, secretary of the student body, in direct charge. The members of the election board, which were announced yesterday, have been notified of the time they are expected to serve, and as there are plenty of them, everyone can vote without a waste of time.

The position was left vacant by the failure of Russell Gowans, elected last spring, to return to school. He is employed in a Portland bank and it is reported that he will be back to resume his studies in the winter term.

FORMER SUSAN CAMPBELL HEAD RESIDENT IS IN EAST

Miss Helen Broocksmit, who was head resident of Susan Campbell hall last year, after spending the summer at her old home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and in the Adirondack mountains, has gone to Groton, Massachusetts, where she is studying landscape architecture. As Miss Broocksmit has not entirely recovered from the effects of her illness of last spring, she is taking only part time work at present but hopes to be able to take up the full course next year.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCED

up screen work, make him well fitted for either.

"I admire anyone who takes up acting as a profession and sticks to it," he stated, when questioned on the subject, "but I would discourage anyone in considering it as a life work, who did not care enough about it to put it above everything else. Of course, a certain amount of talent is necessary, and a great deal of study. A person intending to be an actor should read plays, and create an actor's environment around himself as much as possible, so that he may get into the spirit of his work." Mr. Dexter came to the campus expecting to be the dinner guest at a men's organization, and although it was not until he arrived at Hendricks at the dinner hour, that he knew where he was being entertained.
