Some Needed Stimulus

The free Intellectual Activities committee in its meeting a few days ago discussed the feasibility and the desirability of bringing eminent scholars and speakers to the University of Oregon campus.

In considering the question such names were brought up as that of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, whom one instantly pictures as a bulky figure wrapped in heavy furs and skins, trudging across white polar wastes, or forcing a fragile vessel through menacing iceflows and one feels the tenacity and set purpose displayed in such a career.

And calling to mind the name of David Starr Jordan one visions the man with his prophetic vision of World Disarmament—a dreamer perhaps, but what a dream! Dr. Jordan, then active president of Leland Stanford Jr., University, undoubtedly startled the world with his idea of world peace, and helped to stir it to action of lasting benefit to humanity.

It is by men of this type that one is inspired with the urge to do. Such men as these who have passed through the fire of trial and error, and who have the sympathy of past experience coupled with the superiority of the first-rate mind, cannot help but kindle in the student a spark of inspiration.

Too few of the present generation come under the influence of the well-informed teacher, scholar or intellectual leader—an influence which makes itself felt above the din of specialization—of taking this course and that. Rather should the student choose this scholar or that speaker who can give him the mental stimulation so necessary to the preservation of the future.

"Student Knocks Out Window in Saying Hello."—headline. And then they say the Oregon Hello isn't as hearty as it used to be.

SEVENTY BEST BOOKS PUT ON SHELDON SHELF

Seventy of the best books in the library are collected and arranged on the Sheldon shelf—so named because it was largely from Dean Sheldon that the idea came. The books are not in the nature of reference books or novels but rather are classed among the outside reading books of a more serious nature.

Regardless of the fact that these are seven-day books, as many as 10 or 15 are signed ahead for the more popular ones. The collection was started last spring and the first day about half were taken out, while now there are seldom more than 15 to be found on the shelf.

Those most in demand are: "Countries of the Mind," Murry; "The Latin Genius," France; "The Creative Life," Lewisohn; "Contemporary Portraits," Harris; "Modern Painting," Wright; "Aristotle—Life of Shelley," Maurois; "In the Land of Art," Blasco Ibañez; "Modern Essays," Morley; "Life and Letters of Emily Dickinson," Bianchi; and "A Few Figs from Thistles," Millay.

TEN TO BE INITIATED BY HONORARY GROUP

Hermian club, women's honorary physical education organization, will initiate ten new members this afternoon at 5:30. The initiation, which is to take place at the society's club rooms in the Woman's building, will be followed by a banquet at the Anchorage at 6:30. The new initiates are Grace Caviness, Iva Dale, Stella Haglund, Augusta Hamilton, Alta Knips, Elizabeth

Lewis, Mary Josephine Shelley, Grace Sullivan, Lillian Vulgamore and Janet Wood.

Twenty-two members were present at the Hermian club pledging, held last Sunday at Hermie Inn, the society clubhouse on the Willamette river. After the pledging supper was served around the campfire, and was followed by group singing. The group came home by moonlight later in the evening.

MUSIC AUDITORIUM TO HAVE ORGAN SOON

The pipe organ for the school of music auditorium which arrived in Eugene yesterday is being removed to the music building, awaiting the arrival of an expert from Laurence, Kansas, to install it.

The entire organ weighs over 19,000 pounds, and was carefully packed in many boxes. The work of setting it up will commence as soon as the Kansas man arrives.

The lighting fixtures for the auditorium have also come, and will be installed immediately. The seats are also here, but until the organ is in place they cannot be fastened down.

TRANSPLANTING OF EYES ACCOMPLISHED BY DOCTOR

University of Chicago — Dr. Theodor Koppanyi of the department of physiology, at the University of Chicago has been successful at last in transplanting eyes from one animal to another. The trials have been in progress for some time and the transplantation must be made over a long period of time before attempts will be made with the human eye.

Accommodations Sought for 2500 Homecomers

A committee of five, under the chairmanship of Harold Lundberg, is trying to find accommodations for 2500 people, for Homecoming. They have about 250 rooms lined up, but they need a good many more and wish to appeal to the townspeople of Eugene to come to their aid. Any one who has a room to offer is asked to call Mrs. Donnelly at the Y. M. C. A. hut, 1085, before Saturday of this week. One dollar a night is the price that will be given for the rooms. "We must have the whole-hearted cooperation of every resident in Eugene," says Harold Lundberg. "We are going to do everything possible to make our 'alums' feel that they are welcome, and we can't do this unless we can give them a place to stay. We are depending on the people of Eugene to help us."

Besides the 2500 'alums' there will be approximately 1000 students from Washington. These people are to be taken care of by the different living organizations on the campus.

SENIORS URGED TO CALL FOR THEIR SUMMARIES

A list of senior summaries telling just what courses each senior must complete before graduation, has been compiled in the registrar's office. All seniors are urged to call at once and obtain the information so that they may have time to fulfill their requirements.

Coming—"The Spitfire," and Marshall Neilan's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles."

THREE APPOINTMENTS OPEN TO WEST POINT

Examinations to be Passed By All Applicants

"There are three appointments open to West Point for the state of Oregon," said Capt. F. L. Culin, at the R. O. T. C. headquarters yesterday. "Two of the appointments are in the hands of representative Elton Watkins of the third Oregon district. The other appointment is in the hands of U. S. Senator B. N. Stanfield," continued the captain.

It is the custom of the government to hold competitive examinations once during each year. The applicants must be between the ages of 17 and 22, and citizens of the United States. A principal and two alternates are appointed.

This gives more than one man a chance for each appointment. If the principal fails in the examination the first alternate is accepted providing he passes the physical examination. If both men fail, the second alternate is appointed. In this manner there will be an opportunity for nine candidates—three men to each appointment. The R. O. T. C. requests men who are interested to call at headquarters.

CELLIST WILL APPEAR IN PORTLAND CONCERT

Miss Laura Teshner, cellist, will go to Portland, Saturday morning, where she will appear as soloist at a Mu Phi Alumnae club concert to be given at the Central Presbyterian church in Laurelhurst. Jane Burns Albert, popular concert soprano, will be joint artist.

Miss Teshner is an instructor in the University school of music, and is president of the local chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon.

HOMECOMING STICKERS ARE READY FOR STUDENTS

Windshield stickers, advertising Homecoming, are now ready for distribution, and may be secured from Jack High, chairman of Homecoming, in his office in Alumni hall, or from Junior Seton. The sticker is rectangular in shape, with green printing on a yellow background and everyone is asked to decorate his car with them.

EDITORIALLY CLIPPED

Colorado.—A spectacular pageant is to be the form of dedication of the new University stadium to take place Homecoming day, before the Varsity-Utah football game.

The new electric grid-graph has been received and is being set up by workmen.

Texas.—There is an exclusively freshman band at Texas. The first year men have met and have effected a permanent organization. They chose a director and elected their officers for the coming year.

By popular vote the university has chosen a Duchess, the most beautiful girl in school, to represent the students at the Collegiate Circus to be held in Dallas, under the auspices of Southern Methodist university which is located at Dallas.

The Ohio State faculty furnished 75 names for the 1924 edition of "Who's Who in America." The book appeared the latter part of July and contained biographies of 25,357 people. Persons chosen are outstanding in their field of endeavor or in their respective communities.

The faculty men honored come from 44 different departments. In pointing out interesting features about the volume, the editor brings out the points that 64 out of every 100 persons listed are college graduates, and that 77 out of every 100 attended college.

Wisconsin.—"There are no cuts in the university," says Dean Selery. "Regular attendance is required of every student. Instructors may excuse absences if they wish. Clinical excuses are recognized by all professors and instructors on the hill. The no cut rule is in force before university vacations such as Christmas and Easter, and no unexcused absences are permitted at these times," he concluded.

Wednesday night, just before midnight, an antiquated flivver chugged up to the postoffice with the last of the 7500 invitations to the fathers of all students in school from President Birge inviting them to attend the Fathers' Day week-end of October 18.

The question was "How, were they printed and addressed, stamped and mailed, in time so the fathers could get football tickets by October 9." That week's job was done in just one half day, Saturday afternoon.

CAROLL WAGNER VISITS GEOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Carroll Wagner, graduate of the University, visited the campus Tuesday and renewed acquaintance with the geology department in which he majored. Wagner stopped over only for the day. He is at present one of the younger geologists of the General Petroleum company of Los Angeles. Wagner is a nephew of Frank Anderson, the chief geologist of the Southern Pacific railroad.

TEXAS STUDENTS WIN MEXICAN SCHOLARSHIP

University of Texas.—(By P. I. N. S.)—Four students at the University of Texas are enjoying the privileges offered by the board of regents in Mexican scholarships. Each of these students has chosen a different field of work.

The awarding of the scholarships was begun in 1921 when six were offered. A special committee composed of both American and Mexican government and educational officials nominate the students who are accepted by the board of regents of the University of Texas.

W. A. C. SELLS MILK, NUTS IN WOMAN'S GYMNASIUM

"Eat more raisins" and "Drink milk" are a few of the signs one sees posted around in the women's gymnasium department these days. Under the auspices of W. A. A., milk, crackers, nuts, raisins and apples are being sold, with a hope to cut down on the list of underweights. The sale is to continue indefinitely.

FORMER PACIFIC COLLEGE STUDENTS HOLD RE-UNION

Former students of Pacific college, at Newberg, Oregon, held a reunion at the home of Gordon Wells last Saturday evening. Those present were Flora Campbell, '23, Ethel and Arlounie Johnson, Florence Heater, Chi Sung Pil, Chester Jones, teaching fellow in chemistry, Therman Evans, and John Chenevert. All of those mentioned, with the exception of Ethel and Arlounie Johnson, are attending the University of Oregon.
