

HOUSE DEBATES QUESTION IS OUT

Twenty-one Organizations
Are in Competition

THREE CUPS OFFERED

Other Teams May Still Be Entered in Contest

Entire plans for the doughnut debate work of the year have been arranged and many houses are entering teams. This year a different method than that formerly used has been adopted.

The men's doughnut debate has been taken over by Tau Kappa Alpha, men's honorary forensic society. The work is under the auspices of Ernest Henriksen, president of the society. The men's houses taking part are Friendly hall, Oregon club, Alpha Beta Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Sigma Pi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Pi Tau, Lambda Psi, Bachelordon, Beta Theta Pi and Psi Kappa.

Dates are Chosen
The dates for the men's debates are November 10 and 11. The men have decided upon the same question as that of the women's debate: "Resolved that Congress should repeal the Japanese immigration act."

The women's houses entering teams are Delta Omega, Oregon Club, Delta Zeta, Hendricks hall, Tau Nu, Alpha Delta Pi, Pi Beta Phi, and Alpha Xi Delta. The women's debate is being taken over by Zeta Kappa Psi, women's honorary debating group, of which Eugenia Strickland is president. She is at the head of the debate work. November 19 and 20 are the dates set for the women's contests.

Each house competing in the debates enters two teams, an affirmative and a negative, of two debaters each. Both teams of the house debate each night, meeting different teams each time. The system of judging has been changed this year. Heretofore there were three judges for each debate, but with fifteen debates going on at once it was difficult to secure competent men. This year the one judge system will be used, as it has been approved by the delegates from the houses. There are sufficient faculty members, it is believed, with experience along this line for a supply of competent judges.

Winner to Get Cup
The winner of the men's contest is awarded a cup by Tau Kappa Alpha, while the winner of the women's contest will be the recipient of a silver cup, given by Zeta Kappa Psi. The winning teams in the women's and the men's debate will meet each other in a final contest, for which another cup is offered. A definite schedule will be worked out and printed later on. Any organization which has not yet entered the debates but should like to send in a team, should see the head of the men's or women's debate.

MEAD AND HEBER GO TO FINALS IN MEET

in tennis, is of the type of player that puts speed and flash into his game. He is of smaller stature but what he lacks in build he makes up for in fight.

"Rudy" Fahl, varsity tennis coach, says, "The games today will be the hardest fought of the series and the winner, whoever it is, should deserve the support of the whole student body. I expect a larger crowd witnessing this game than has yet turned out. The bigger the crowd the better the game." Interest in the freshman class is also going strong, about 20 candidates having turned out for their tournament. The preliminaries are being run off in regular order. If the weather holds out the finals will be played next Thursday.

STUDENTS TO OPERATE HABERDASHERY STORE

Two University students, Howard Hobson and Richard Gordon are opening a haberdashery store back of the Campa Shoppe. They say that they intend to supply the University men and women with all necessary articles of apparel. The shop has not yet been named and the boys are holding a contest among the students to select a desirable cognomen. Suggestions should be taken to the store, which will open today noon, and a suitable prize will be awarded for first choice, either man or woman.

Sport Chatter

by
WILBUR WESTER

California still stands out as the most important game on the Washington schedule. Twenty thousand tickets have already been disposed of for the annual clash to be played in the University of Washington stadium on November 8. Walter Camp, who is touring the west, will look over the two teams when they meet.

The Oregon squad suffered a rather severe loss with the announcement of the ineligibility of Huber Agee for this season. Agee was a crack halfback, and his loss will somewhat weaken the possible strength of the team.

Jim Dixon, star tackle on the O. A. C. squad, is out for the season with a dislocated elbow. Carpenter, an end of considerable ability, is also out of the lineup.

Beginning this Saturday, the University of Washington will broadcast the results of all games played by the Huskies. (However, the distance that they will broadcast will no doubt depend on the final outcome.)

Oregon fans will get their first chance to watch the varsity play with their new suits when they meet Whitman on Saturday.

Ernie Nevers, the flashy Cardinal back who has been nursing a twisted ankle, will play his initial contest this season when he starts against the Vandals at Portland this week-end.

"One man can bring a team out of the ordinary and make it a real eleven." When one sees the Illinois squad play with "Red" Grange, or the Columbia University team with Koppisch, or the Stanford team with Ernie Nevers, they realize the necessity that a varsity eleven have one good back in the lineup who will bring and help deliver that offensive punch that raises their team above the average. Elmer Tesreau or George Wilson at Washington have aided considerably in making the Huskies a pennant contender. Houston Stockton at Gonzaga or possibly Wes Schulmerich on the Aggie squad and Lynn Jones on the Oregon eleven are good examples of what one good backfield man will do for a team.

However, the thing that beats having one good man in the backfield is having four stars as backs. Notre Dame is in just such a "predicament." Their star combination backfield from last year is back this season and Notre Dame is having little difficulty in bowing over opponents.

Those enrolled in the foods and food selection class this year, in the household art course, have the choice of taking this class with or without credit. The food selection class although primarily intended for house managers may be taken with a credit, or visitors who only wish to go to this class irregularly may take the course without credit. Foods and food selection class has a large enrollment of boys as well as girls this term, and due to the new choice of taking it with or without credit, many more than usual are enrolled.

A course in camp cooking, with or without credit, will be offered in the spring term. As registration in this course started quite late in the term, Miss Tingle announces that no late registration fees will be charged for registration now.

cation for women. . . . November 8, the day of the Purdue-DePauw gridiron clash has been set as the date for the third annual "Dads" Day.

FUNDS FOR FOOTBALL TRIP RAISED BY SUBSCRIPTION

dances and probably by the sale of cushions at the games.

FERRY FIELD "TOO SMALL," MICHIGAN WANTS STADIUM

Michigan fans are clamoring for a new stadium at Ann Arbor. Complete sellouts have been reported for every game this season and orders for tickets still are pouring in to the Wolverine athletic department.

Ferry field, the present play-ground for the Wolverine football team, can accommodate 40,000 persons. A new stadium with twice that much room would cost $500,000, enthusiasts estimate.
