The Foe Too Weak?

THE WHITMAN game is today. There has been some sentiment about the campus that it will not be much of a game.

Opinion was even-voiced here and there that there wouldn't be any point in having a rally Friday night, because—Oregon didn't need it.

It is tedious to repeat old sayings, old words of wisdom, but the temptation is too great before this "on-top-of-the-world" spirit.

The quotation is not meant as ominous prophecy. It is suggested just to remind that no foe is so weak, oneself never so strong, that it is wise to sally forth to the engagement and leave the armor hanging rusty upon the wall.

Any foe is worthy, of being well met, if he is worthy of being met at all.

There appear to be more junior cords about the campus than the official list published yesterday would lead one to believe.

"Are students as noisy in the classroom as in the Library?" asks a University librarian. It depends on the classroom.

"No potato salad nor ham." Another reason why anticipation and excitement for Homecoming should be enthusiastic.

Campus campaigns abolished? That will remove the weight incident to eating those "sugary sinkers."

One might say of the Friendly hall student's autographed east that it is plastered with signatures.

"House Debate Question Out."—headline. That means more crowding in the library.

The rally last night forecasts a good afternoon on the field.

BIBLE CLASS SUBJECT TO BE LIFE OF CHRIST

"The Temptation in the Wilderness," is the subject for discussion next Sunday of the interdenominational Bible class, which meets under the leadership of Rev. H. W. Davis at 9:45 in the Y. M. C. A. hut.

A canvass of University students made recently by the inter-church committee of the United Christian work, of which Mr. Davis is the head, to enlist them in the Bible classes of the various local churches.

day. Mrs. Dixon is a Delta Gamma, and visited the sorority house where her sister, Margaret Powers, is an active member.

MINNESOTA CHANGES FRATERNITY RUSHING

Fraternity rushing, strenuous at this time in former years, is notably quiescent this fall, in contrast to the concentrated rushing activities now prevalent among the sororities.

Smith's Crowd Johnson's From Place of Honor

Student Directory Discloses Oddities in Names

The Smiths have it. Which is another way of saying that the familiar nomenclature of the American nobility is more numerous on this campus than any other name.

Last year the 18 Johnsons reigned in triumphant glory. They were two more than the Smiths.

At the Theatres

THE REX—Last day, the fun film of the year, "In Hollywood with Potash and Perlmutter," it's a riot!

Coming: Cecil B. DeMill's "Feet of Clay," with Rod La Roque, Vera Reynolds, Ricardo Cortez, Theodore Kosloff, Victor Vareoni and Robert Edison.

THE CASTLE—Last day: Jack Hoxie in "The Man from Wyoming," a rapid-fire romance of the western range. Jack Dempsey in "Bring Him In," another of his "Fight and Win," knockouts. Castle musical score.

Coming—(Monday and Tuesday: "Open All Night," with Adolph Menjou, Viola Dana and Raymond Griffith.

HELLIG—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Buster Keaton in his most pretentious comedy, "The Navigator," first showing in the Northwest.

Coming—"The Spitfire," and Marshall Neilan's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles."

HELLIG THEATRE LAST DAY IT'S ROCKING THE TOWN WITH LAUGHTER

HELLIG THEATRE Buster Keaton in The Navigator FIRST SHOWING IN THE NORTHWEST Continuous today 1 to 11 p.m. REGULAR PRICES

The Johnson dynasty lasted but a year, with an overthrow by 12 superior forces in Smiths this year.

Twelve Wilsons are victors over 11 Williams in this revolution of names. The cryptic significance of 11 is upheld also by the Andersons, Clarks and Davis.

The familiar name of Jones occupies 10 places in this little booklet. Nine lines each are set apart for the Parkers, Millers and Rosses. The names of Campbell, Brown, Wood and Peterson appear eight times.

The colors are weak this year. Brown is the strongest with eight in this group. Black occupies the conspicuous and lone position of one. Green raises its standard to two cohorts. Gray and White meet each other in equal forces of six each.

The number of pairs in the directory daze one when a count is taken, but they're not twins. The names appearing in groups of six number 11. Powers, Parker, Gray, White, Hill, Baker, Burton, Buchanan, Fisher, and Hall are listed six times each.

There's gonna be lots of confusion over the date-line (alias the telephone line). And the cause will be too many names spelled the same way.
