A Pledge of Service

TODAY is one of the significant days on the University calendar. Following a custom started over ten years ago, Governor Walter Pierce, of Oregon, will administer the "Oregon Pledge" to the students and faculty of the University.

Since the inception of this annual custom, there has never been an occasion when the head of this commonwealth has failed to lay aside his pressing duties to hear this expression of allegiance to our state and country.

Nothing could be said to impress more deeply the realization of opportunity given us by the people of Oregon than the spirit contained in the words of the pledge itself:

"As a student at the University which is maintained by the people of Oregon, I heartily acknowledge the obligation I owe. The opportunities open to me here for securing training, ideals and vision for life, I deeply appreciate, and regard as a sacred trust, and do hereby pledge my honor that it shall be my most cherished purpose to render as bountiful a return to the Oregon people and their posterity, in faithful and ardent devotion to the common good, as will be in my power. It shall be the aim of my life to labor for the highest good and glory of an ever greater commonwealth."

A reading list of recommended books has been placed on the circulation desk of the Library, by Mrs. Mable McClain of the staff, who used the group last summer in a course in book selection. One of the greatest obstacles to the acquirement of an interest in reading for the cultural, or intellectual ecstasy derived from this beneficial habit is in knowing how to "break in." Possession of this list, obtainable at the Library, will be of inestimable help to the earnest beginner.

Mu Phi Epsilon performed a real service to the campus and to townspeople of Eugene in presenting Miss Ebba Frederickson in concert at the University last evening. The large attendance is a fair indication that students here are not entirely unconcerned in developing aesthetic tastes nor utterly oblivious to the delights of worth-while entertainment.

The Y. W. C. A. drive is worth a thought. Were its sole function maintenance of an employment bureau, its existence would be justified and be worthy of support. To feel that one's contribution has helped procure work for a needy student and thus allowed continuance of University residence is a big dividend on a small amount of capital.

Oregon frosh have something to be thankful for. There is nothing "rotten" scheduled here like that egg fight at the University of Colorado.

Remember to put a nickle or two in your jeans before going "up to the campus." It may save a lot of embarrassment and you'll want some of those "sugary sinkers" anyway.

Are you planning to join the crowd in Portland this week-end?

Help "break the camera" after assembly today.

W.A.A. MASS MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The Women's Athletic association will have a mass meeting tonight at 5 o'clock in Room 121, in the Woman's building. All members are asked to be present, as the meeting is important. No games or practices are scheduled to interfere with the meeting.

Several faculty members of the department of physical education will speak. Miss Alden is to give a short talk, and Miss Thomson will speak on "Health and Training Rules." Miss Ruth Shelley, coach of basketball, and Gola Boone, head of basketball, will discuss the game from a University girl's viewpoint, and why it is a good and valuable sport for her.

A plan will be devised at the meeting whereby the points made in athletics may be recorded so the girls can check up on the total number of points they have received.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCEMENT

Phi Sigma Pi announces the pledging of LeRoy Draper and Harold Whitlock, of Portland, Oregon. Sigma Nu announces the pledging of John Robinson, of LaGrande, Oregon.

Vagaries

In Saturday's Emerald we had a humorous comment upon the way some folks misspell their French, and we quoted them. However, by the time the quoted words got into print they were changed to spell in part, correctly, while the one word in French we used on our account was misspelled. And of course this rather vitiated the content. Whenever you see anything of mine in here that sounds goofy, dear reader, take my word for it, it is due to the creative impulse (politely speaking) in the printing department.

We have been asked what is the main purpose of this column, what we are attempting to do.

At the Theatres

THE CASTLE—Last day, Eric Von Stroheim's wonder picture, "Blind Husbands," with Von Stroheim himself in the leading role. Comedy, "Stretching the Truth," Fox News Weekly. Standard Castle prices.

THE REX—First day, Zane Grey's greatest of all dramas of our own great west, "The Border Legion," a stirring tale of the adventures of the most notorious outlaws that ever rode the western range, some rode for luck; some for loot; but one to prove his courage to the girl who had turned him down. The cast features Antonio Moreno, Helene Chadwick, Rockcliffe Follows and Charles Ogle; Christie comedy, "High Gear," with Bobby Vernon; Rosner, featured organist, in western musical setting on the mighty Warlitzer.

Coming: Pola Negri in Ernest Lubitch's production, "Forbidden Paradise," with Rod LaRocque and Adolphe Menjou.

"One of our chief objectives is to wage a successful campaign in favor of getting ash-trays installed in the local eating places such as College Side Inn, Campa Shoppe, and Oregana."

"I must be getting absent-minded," said the professor of psychology, as he travelled down the clothes-chute, after he had thrown his shirt in bed.

"IF YOU DON'T LIKE THIS PLACE, WHY DON'T YOU GO BACK TO WHERE YOU CAME FROM?" SAYS THE DEFENDER OF COOLIDGEISM, TO SETTLE THE ARGUMENT.

"I WOULD ONLY THAT IS EVEN WORSE," REPLIES THE GUY FROM ASTORIA.

11:00 a. m.—Assembly, Woman's building.

MORE STUDENTS CLAIMING LOST ARTICLES THIS YEAR

Many more lost articles are being claimed this year by their owners from the lost and found department at the University depot, says H. M. Fisher, superintendent of the campus buildings and grounds. "They come over in droves after their things," he observed. "It keeps one person busy almost all the time waiting on them." In spite of this there are still many unclaimed articles there, he said.

Enjoy the comic antics of Douglas in escaping the fatal sentence of the eminent physicians, the divorce doctor with his Parisian vamp and the sure-shot gunman who missed his victim.

The funniest romance ever screened — with the fastest-working bridegroom who ever slipped a ring over a bride's finger—the most fascinating Parisian vamp who ever busted a romance—and the most furious fiancée who ever lost a girl!

At the uproariously funny things that happen to rough the road to romance — the thrilling ride ever taken—in a horseless, driverless, runaway cab—the bee which almost upsets the medical profession—a howl in every scene.
