

DEBATE FINALS ARE SCHEDULED

Three Women's Houses Compete Tonight

TWO CUPS ARE OFFERED

Men's Teams Will Meet For Championship

Alpha Xi Delta, Hendrick's hall and Delta Zeta will compete tonight for the women's debate cup. After two nights of eliminating debates these three teams, the winners, are left for the final meet to decide the doughnut series for the year. Delta Zeta tied with Susan Campbell hall the first night so a second debate was held to work off the decision.

One judge acted Tuesday night, three Wednesday night to decide on the tie and three will act tonight in the finals.

Doughnut Series to End The final debates for the men's doughnut series will also be worked off tonight. As a result of debates held last week, Alpha Beta Chi, Sigma Pi Tau and Friendly Hall are competing. The reward for the men is the cup given by Tau Kappa Alpha and the women's cup is given by Zeta Kappa Psi, honorary debating societies.

The men's debates will be run off at seven o'clock and the women's will follow them at eight.

These debates tonight will end the doughnut debates for the year, with the exception of a possible meeting of the winners of the men's group against those of the women's meets. Such a debate was held last year and proved to be of such success that it will probably be repeated.

Promptness is Urged The debates are being held in Commerce hall and the members of the competing teams are asked to be on time that the rather heavy program may be finished early.

The question for the women's debate is concerned with the immigration act of 1924 and its revision to permit the immigration of Japanese on the same ground as that of the Europeans.

The men's question is that of the men's varsity debates and deals with the power of Congress to overrule by a two-thirds vote decisions of the supreme court declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional. This latter question is one brought up by La Follette in his political campaign and has been much discussed.

CHAPEL IS MEMORIAL TO THOMAS CONDON

The approaching completion of the new Congregational church, which is being erected at Thirteenth avenue east and Perry streets, is of especial interest to University people, M. H. Douglass, University librarian, an officer of the church explained yesterday in announcing that opening services will be held in the new building some time next month.

"The chapel, to be called Condon Chapel, is to be a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Condon, venerated figures in University of Oregon history," said Mr. Douglass.

Professor Condon first came to this country as a Congregational missionary by way of Cape Horn, in 1852. Later he became one of the founders of the University of Oregon, and served it as professor of geology for 30 years, from 1876 to 1906. At the time of his death in 1907, he was a scientist of international reputation.

"We of the Congregational church deem it especially fitting that Professor Condon be given a memorial in our church," said Mr. Douglass, "for he was one of the first great scientists to maintain the Congregationalist belief that religion and science are reconcilable."

The proximity of the new church to the University campus, it is hoped, will enable it to minister extensively to University people, and the choice of the present location was influenced by the desire to do so, explained Mr. Douglass.

Professor W. R. B. Wilcox, of the school of architecture, is the architect of the building. It is to be of an Italian type and finished in stucco.

The building will not be completed until next February, but services will be held in it before that time.

Assembly Speaker

CHURCH TEAM TO HOLD LAST MEETING TODAY

Group Members will Speak In Y. W. C. A. At 4:15

The final meeting of the women's national church team, visiting the campus this week, will be held at 4:15 this afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. All women students and faculty members are asked to attend by Florence Magowan, Y. W. secretary.

Three members of the team will give brief talks at this meeting. Mrs. Helen Street Ranney will speak on "The Task of the Church Abroad." Miss Harriet Thomson will present another phase of church work in her talk on "The Task of the Church at Home," and Miss Frances Greenough will speak on "The Home Church and Community."

Personal conferences with members of their respective denominations, teas, luncheons and dinners were on the program for the team members yesterday. Tuesday, a luncheon was held at noon and a meeting in the afternoon at which Dr. Lapsley McAfee, California minister, spoke.

This is the last college to be visited by the team as a group. From here the members will travel separately, some of them going to California to visit their respective student organizations in southern colleges and universities. During their northwestern tour, six institutions were visited by the team.

A business meeting of the church co-operation committee and local pastors will be held at 5:15 today at the bungalow following the church team program.

QUINTETS WILL VIE FOR DOUGHNUT TITLE

The women's doughnut basketball tournament begins December 1, and is expected to end before the Christmas holidays. The Order of the "O" will furnish referees for the games.

House teams have been arranged in the following leagues, League 1: Hendricks Hall I, Susan Campbell Hall I, Theta; League 2: Hendricks Hall II, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta; League 3: Susan Campbell Hall II, Phi Phi, Alpha Phi; League 4: Delta Zeta, Oregon Club, Thacher; League 5: Delta Gamma, Kappa Gamma, Alpha Omicron Pi; League 6: Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi; League 7: Kappa Omicron, Tau Nu, Alpha Xi Delta.

The teams in each league will play among themselves for the championship of their league. The game schedule follows, Monday, December 1: Susan Campbell I—Theta; Delta Delta Delta—Gamma Phi; Pi Phi—Alpha Phi; Delta Zeta—Oregon Club. Tuesday, December 2: Kappa Omicron—Tau Nu; Alpha Chi—Chi Omega; Delta Gamma—Kappa; Hendricks I—Susan Campbell I. Wednesday, December 3: Thacher—Oregon Club; Alpha Omicron Pi—Kappa; Hendricks II—Delta Delta Delta; Susan Campbell II—Pi Beta Phi. Thursday, December 4: Hendricks I—Theta; Hendricks II—Gamma Phi; Alpha Delta Pi—Chi Omega; Tau Nu—Alpha Xi Delta. Friday, December 5: Alpha Phi—Susan Campbell II; Thacher—Delta Zeta; Alpha Omicron Pi—Delta Gamma; Alpha Chi—Alpha Delta Pi. Monday, December 8: Kappa Omicron—Alpha Xi Delta.

League champions will then compete, until by the elimination of the defeated leagues, the Doughnut champion is determined.

SENIOR FORMAL BALL WILL BE JANUARY 17

Committees are Appointed To Carry Out Plans

A report by Junior Seton, general chairman of the senior ball to be given January 17, was heard and accepted by the senior class at their meeting, yesterday afternoon. The plans call for a rather elaborate, strictly formal dance which will be held in the sun parlor and gymnasium of the Woman's building, with the use of Alumni hall as a reception room.

It was decided to limit the attendance to about 350 couples so that the floor would at no time be crowded. Two dollars will be charged for the tickets and this will go to defray the expenses of the music, refreshments, professional talent for the feature, and costumes for the musicians and waitresses.

The dance is considered in the light of an organization affair to which both the men and women have the privilege of inviting a partner who may or may not be in the senior class.

The senior men and women will have a week in which to secure their tickets, and after this, juniors and sophomores can take advantage of the ticket sale until the total number of tickets is sold.

The committees as appointed by Seton are: decorations, Ed Bohman, chairman, Hilda Chase, Hal Lundberg, Walter Backstrom, and Alice Lindell; construction, Willard Marshall, chairman, Gibson Wright, Russ Burton, Eugene Kelley, Carl Skoog and Harry Hulac; lighting, Louis Carlson, Chuck Spear, and Clayton Hughes; costumes, Hazel Borders, Penelope Gehr, Helen Sherwood, and Pauline Bondurant; patrons, Martha Shull; invitations, Mary Hathaway; refreshments, Rebecca Ireland, Mary Dustin, and Joe Ellis; feature, Mary Skinner; floor, Harry Skinner; programs, Ed Britts; music, Junior Seton; publicity, Pauline Bondurant.

A motion was made and carried that class meetings in the future would be held after dinner at either the College Side Inn or Campa Shoppe dancing rooms, and after the business meeting, the class members would participate in a free dance for one-half or three-quarters of an hour.

Bill Poulson suggested for a senior class party next term that the members of the class dress in kid costumes and hold a skating party at the Winter Garden after attending the first show at one of the theatres in town. This would be some time in February, and tentative arrangements will be made for such an affair.

The class decided to have the front seats in the two main sections of the assembly occupied by seniors only—the men on the left side and the women on the right.

Ted Gillenwaters, senior class president, had charge of the meeting.

Varsity Works Til Dark For Last Big Clash Of Season With Old Rival

(Continued from page one) gon and O. A. C. made against the same schools, the offensive and defensive power of the varsity and the Beavers is about equal. Oregon has scored 54 while the Aggies have run up 58 points against the same opponents. This makes the offensive power of the two teams about on a par. The opponents of Oregon have scored 29 points on the varsity, while the opponents of the Beavers have scored 41 points on the Aggies. This gives a slight edge to Oregon as to defensive power.

Oregon Score Highest Against all the teams played this season, the score of Oregon and O. A. C. and their opponents run as follows: Oregon scored 80 to their opponents 50 points. O. A. C. scored 68 to their opponents 64 points.

In summarizing the scores of the different teams, it is just about a toss-up as to which team has the edge; however, due to the fact that

Oregon topped the Huskies, the varsity will really enter the Bell arena with slight advantage as far as "paper-score" does.

In previous years, Oregon has just about had her own way when she met the Aggies. Seventeen times the varsity has walloped the Beavers in the past twenty-nine contests. Only five times have the Aggies managed to defeat Oregon and seven games have ended in a tie.

State Title at Stake The outcome of the game will little affect the standings of either team in the Pacific coast or Northwest conferences. However the championship of the state will be at stake when the two elevens meet.

Tonight and Friday evening are the only two remaining times for the varsity to workout before going to Corvallis. With the game but a few days away, signal practice and perhaps a light defensive practice will be the only drill held by the men.

O. A. C. Team is Ready For Saturday's Battle; Two Men Help Lineup

(Continued from page one) man is willing to give his best, to fight to the last ditch and be carried from the field rather than yield an inch. The morale of the present team is a splendid thing. Not a man is overconfident, but each realizes the task cut out for him.

The men as a whole are in better physical condition than they have been at any time since the beginning of the season. "Big Jim" Dixon, the star Beaver tackle, who suffered torn elbow ligaments in the scrimmage prior to the W. S. C. game is again working out with the team and will be ready to start against Oregon. Clarence Bell, half back, is also in the game after a lay-off caused by a broken finger sustained against U. S. C. The presence of these men in the line-up will add both defensive and offensive strength to the Beaver machine.

The Aggies had their last scrimmage before the big game last Saturday. Coach Schissler is spending this week in polishing off the rough spots in the team work and in working up speed in the team play. The men have been impressed with the idea that the team which gets the breaks will be on the long end of the score at the finish and all work is being done at top speed.

No more do any of the students at O. A. C. believe in the legend of the ancient "Oregon Jinx." That belief was dispelled in the game last year. Now all believe that the team which wins will do so on its own merits, and by virtue of the fight displayed.

GRANDSTAND SEATS SELLING OUT RAPIDLY

Reservations for the O. A. C. game on Saturday are coming in by telephone, telegraph and by person and each grandstand is practically sold out, according to Jack Benefiel, graduate manager. The upper deck of the south grandstand on Bell field at Corvallis has been thrown open for the game. Although it is not in the center of the field, the view will be as good as it is on the sides because of the altitude. Every seat will be under cover.

Reserved seats are on sale for $2.00 at Obak's, the Co-op and Jack Benefiel's office. Students can get their tickets at the Co-op, on presentation of their student body cards, for fifty cents.

Everyone is urged to take the rally special instead of driving, to relieve the congestion in Corvallis. The tickets for the special are $1.80.

The city quota is coming along in fine shape, according to reports. A great many more townspeople subscribe now as a regular thing, and students are asked to do the same.

UNIVERSITY HIGH PLANS SCHEDULE OF DEBATES

All preliminary interclass debates at the University high school will be held Monday, November 24, and the finals on the following day, according to the new schedule.

The freshman and sophomore teams will meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock; and the junior and seniors, at two o'clock. All upper division classes will be dismissed for the preliminaries. The finals will take place Tuesday afternoon at the student body assembly, at 3 o'clock, in the campus high school auditorium.

The team to represent the campus high school in league debates will be selected from the group of interclass debaters. The question is "Resolved: That the Japanese should be admitted to the United States on the same quota as other emigrants." The high school interclass teams use the Socratic form of debate; but the high school team will use the formal method in debating with the other schools.
