

CHRISTMAS BALL TICKET SALE ON; PATRONS NAMED

Co-op, Sherman and Clay's, And Multnomah Club Do Selling for League

ADMISSION CHARGE SET AT $1.50 PER COUPLE

Foreign Scholarship Fund Will Receive Proceeds Of All-University Dance

Tickets for the annual Christmas college ball are now on sale at the Co-op, and in Portland at the Multnomah club and at Sherman and Clay's. Admission is $1.50 for a couple, or 75 cents a person. Groups of speakers will be sent Sunday to talk at the different men's houses on the campus concerning the dance.

The ball is given annually at the holiday season by the Women's League, this being the fifth year it has been sponsored. Proceeds go to the foreign scholarship fund, which the league maintains as one of its chief and most beneficial duties.

Dance is All-University
Because this is the only all-university dance of the year, students are expected to patronize it well. It is regarded as the best and most important dance of the Christmas season and is usually well attended, but more people can easily be accommodated as the floor is large.

Approximately 90 people have been asked to attend as patrons and patronesses. This list includes some of the faculty members and Portland people connected with the University. Many letters of appreciation have been received from them, acknowledging the honor.

Committees are Appointed
Committee members, appointed by Jeanne-Elizabeth Gay, head of the foreign scholarship fund and chairman of the ball, are: Publicity, Georgia Benson, Beatrice Harden and Helene Tyrrell; patrons, Hazelmary Price, Katherine Lauderdale and Frances Morgan; finance, Imogene Lewis. Miss Benson, who is now in Portland, has charge of all the publicity at that end.

The Pi-d Pipers, campus musicians who play for the grille dances at the Campa Shoppe, will play for the ball.

EDUCATION SEMINAR HEARS HOME ECONOMICS EXPERT
Miss Emaline S. Whitcomb, of the home economics department of the department of interior at Washington, D. C., spoke to the members of the education seminar in the education building Thursday evening. Miss Whitcomb's topic was the relation of home economics to education.

WASHINGTON PILES UP HIGHEST AVERAGE SCORE IN GRID GAMES

(By D. Mc. O.)
A different way of figuring one team's strength in comparison to other coast conference teams is very interesting and produces some unexpected results.

Of course some of the conference teams had harder schedules than others, but on the whole they were somewhere near equal. Some coaches do not believe in running up large scores on small schools. They give their second and third stringers a chance to show what they can do in competition. No doubt some very good material has been uncovered by coaches doing this very thing. Other coaches believe in playing their regular squad so as to give them the experience, and to further develop team work and coordination of plays which are essential to a winning team. This of course has its effect on the scores which are about to be given.

During the past season Washington in 8 games piled up a total of 276 points to her opponents' 24. This gives her an average of 30.6 points to her opponents' 3, which

Football Season For Next Fall Has Five Games

Portland, Oregon, December 11 (Special to the Emerald).—Five major football games have been scheduled for Oregon for next fall, it was announced today by J. W. Benefiel, graduate manager of the University of Oregon. Two home games, one with Idaho on October 10, and the other with O. A. C. on November 14 are arranged. The other games are with California, October 24, at Portland, Stanford, October 31, at Palo Alto, and the University of Washington at Seattle November 21 or Thanksgiving day.

The schedule is as follows: October 10—Idaho at Eugene. October 24—California at Portland. October 31—Stanford at Palo Alto. November 14—O. A. C. at Eugene. November 21—Washington at Seattle.

CHLORINE GAS IS USED FOR TREATING COLDS

New Machine is Installed By Health Service

About twelve colds were treated at the dispensary yesterday by the chlorine method which has just been installed and was used for the first time yesterday. Since President Coolidge was successfully treated by this method the chlorine cure has become most popular in this country and records show that it has been very successful.

The chlorine gas is generated by the usual formula in a large glass container and is emitted through a small tube. The amount of the gas given off can be regulated so that it does not become too strong for the safety of the patient.

The room in which the treatments are given at the dispensary is practically air tight, the window being tightly closed and the key-hole in the door being stopped up. There are six chairs in the room so that six patients can be treated at one time.

Yesterday the patients amused themselves during the hour of confinement by conversation, reading magazines, writing letters and studying. Several seemed to be dubious as to the likelihood of the gas effecting a cure. Dr. Ross has seen the treatment used and has studied its record and has confidence in its success.

The University infirmary will remain open during the Christmas vacation for those who wish to be treated during that time and for the convenience of those few who will remain on the campus, according to Dr. Ross.

SPEAROW TELLS OF TRIP IN JAPAN

International Sports Are Bonds Between Nations, Says Assembly Speaker

VALUE NOW RECOGNIZED Individual Participation By Students in Athletics Held of Great Benefit

"In athletic competitions all nations meet on an equal footing, which serves to promote international friendship," said Ralph Spearow, speaker at the assembly yesterday, whose topic was "The International Significance of Athletics." Spearow, an Oregon graduate of '23, who just recently returned from a tour of Japan upon the invitation of the Japanese government, has had an opportunity to view the subject from several different angles.

Athletics among nations, Mr. Spearow said, started as most great undertakings do, in a small way. International athletic competition is the outcome of an ideal. That ideal is on the road to realization, since modern spirit has emancipated it from the half-hearted state it was in several years ago and has dedicated it to the nations, he continued. The world nations have recognized the value of such meets as the Olympic games and are striving to put them on a solid basis and insure their continuance.

As Oregon's representative to the Olympic games in the pole-vaulting event, in which Spearow holds the Pacific Coast and national inter-collegiate record, he mingled with the athletes from the (Continued on Page Four)

EUGENE BODY VOTES TO SECURE STATUES

The Eugene chamber of commerce at a meeting held Thursday noon, passed a resolution, inviting and urging Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, of Portland, to place his statues of George Washington and Joan of Arc on the campus of the University of Oregon.

Dr. Coe had recently offered the statues to the city of Portland, but as opposition had arisen to the efforts to provide bases for the statues, he is said to be planning to take them to Seattle.

The resolution of the local chamber of commerce was introduced by Paul R. Kelty, editor of the Eugene Guard and passed by the body. Mr. Kelty has been named chairman of the committee to act on the matter. A telegram was sent to Dr. Coe stating that the Eugene chamber of commerce felt that the statues should not be taken out of the state of Oregon and that the University campus offered a number of beautiful and appropriate settings for the pieces.

The telegram was signed by Carl G. Washburn, president pro-tem; Paul R. Kelty and John B. Bell, members of the committee.

W. K. Newell was appointed to confer with Dr. Coe Saturday.

ALPHA CHI-HENDRICKS FINALS TO BE TODAY

Hendricks hall, team 1, and Alpha Chi Omega will contend for the championship of the women's doughnut basketball league in the game to be played this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the women's gymnasium. This contest will close the doughnut league, with class competition scheduled for the first of next term.

Alpha Chi Omega won the right to play in the finals by defeating Kappa Kappa Gamma yesterday by a score of 14 to 12. It was a close, fast game, with good team work displayed by both squads. Hendricks, 1, defeated Hendricks, 2, yesterday, by a score of 24 to 16. The game was featured by fast, accurate basket shooting.

PURITAN STRAIN PRAISED BY DEAN

Dr. George Rebec Delivers Talk to Phi Beta Kappa On 'American Culture'

AMERICA NEEDS ART Middle Class Shapes Art; Material Advancement Goal Asserts Speaker

America's middle-class Puritan heritage and Saxon racial strain have been sources of great national strength, Dean George Rebec said in the fall Phi Beta Kappa address at the Anchorage last night, but an extreme and unthinkable accentuation of the traits and traditions growing out of this inheritance would in the end prove a weakness. He warned against the danger of such over-accentuation. America needs a more general recognition of the value of eager and active intellectual inter-play, the development of the reflective life, and the growth of an art.

Dean Rebec's address, the subject of which was "American Culture," followed the initiation of seven students and one faculty member into Alpha chapter of the national scholastic fraternity. The ceremony was held in Alumni hall, the Woman's building. Dean Rebec spoke at the Phi Beta Kappa banquet.

American ideals and preoccupations are of Saxon rather than Mediterranean origin, the speaker began. Despite the heavy immigration from southern Europe, the bulk of those who came to America have been from "the north lands."

KAPPA SIGMA WINS FINAL HOOP CONTEST

basketeers won the final game of the doughnut league by defeating the strong Psi Kappa team by an 18 to 16 score yesterday afternoon. Playing one of the most spectacular and thrilling games of the season these two teams furnished the large number of fans with a brand of ball that kept them sitting on the edge of their seats throughout.

Starting the second half with the score tied at 8 all, the boys from Kappa Sig started in with a rush and ran their total of points up to quite a commanding lead, only to have the Psi Kappa's put added zest into their attack and run their side of the score up to within 2 points of this lead when the whistle of Joe Ellis, timekeeper, terminated the game.

Thomas Powers, running guard of the Kappa Sigma attack, and "Battling" Nelson, forward and threat man of the Psi Kappa's were tied for high point honors of the game. Each connected with the basket for a total of 9 counters. These two outstanding men of the doughnut series played opposite each other all through the contest and both scored 2 field goals and converted 5 foul throws.

Eberhardt, tall, rangy center, of the Kappa Sig's, showed up well with his ability to break up the formation of the Psi Kappa's when they started passing the ball down the floor. Besides getting the tip-off at center consistently he converted 2 field throws and one foul.

Hallaway, forward and running mate of the "Battler's" aided in keeping the Psi Kappa's within striking distance throughout the game with his brilliant floor work and foul shooting. He scored one field goal and dropped in 3 foul throws, tying Eberhardt for third place in scoring honors.

The lineup of both teams were: Kappa Sigma (18) Psi Kappa (16) Turner (2) F. Hallaway (5) Cushman (2) F. Nelson (9) Eberhardt (4) C. Veatch (2) Powers (9) G. Poetsch (2) Johnson G. Snyder Eddie Edlunds, referee; Joseph T. Ellis, timekeeper.

FOUR MEN SELECTED FOR FINAL CONTEST IN INSURANCE SELLING

Ivan Houston, Eston Humphrey, Charles Murray, and Myron Shannon To Try For Final Prize In Portland

Before an invulnerable business man, sixteen life insurance students appeared in succession and attempted to sell life insurance policies. Ivan D. Houston, Charles T. Murray, Eston B. Humphrey and Myron Shannon were selected by the judges as the four best salesmen and will go to Portland in the near future and deliver their talks before a meeting of the Managers and Underwriters association in Portland.

Cash awards totalling $112 will be given to the contestants of the Portland contests. The other twelve members who competed Wednesday night and last night each received a silver pencil. Professor C. L.

NEW TERM WILL OPEN MONDAY, JANUARY 5

Information Cards Must Be Filed First Day

The opening day of the winter term has been set for January 5, and, in order to assure that the University "opens" on that date, each student will be required to file an information card at the registrar's office on Monday. The penalty for non-compliance in this matter, will be a one dollar fine for the first day, and each succeeding day, until the card is filed.

Cards, which must be filed in person, are to be obtained in the first floor of the administration building, and taken to the registrar's window. Upon receipt of the card, each student will receive a copy of his study program for the winter term, as it is on file in the office.

On the first day of the term, this program may be changed without charge, by either dropping or adding a course. After the first day, the old system will govern the change in program, requiring the paying of a one dollar fee for each course added or dropped. No course may be added after Saturday, January 17.

Students will be held responsible for all subjects appearing upon the program, and no credit will be given for courses not on the program, even though all the work in that course may be done.

CHORUS FROM WALES WILL SING IN EUGENE

The Rhondda Welsh chorus from Wales, Great Britain, will be in Eugene, on December 20 and will sing at the Central Presbyterian church at 8:45. The chorus is a well known one and took the international glee club prize at Pittsburgh at the international contest held there about four years ago, the same year in which John B. Seifert, of the University school of music, received first prize as tenor.

The chorus has been making a tour and has every where met with success. In Canada it has been proclaimed the greatest male chorus ever appearing there. There are 16 members making the tour, 14 singers beside the accompanist and the director, Thomas Morgan.

The program includes, "On the Sea," by Dudley Buck; "Invictus," by Brune Huhn; "Man of Harlech," the Welsh national air; and several numbers which the University glee club sings. One group will be entirely Christmas carols.

Tickets will be one dollar and student tickets fifty cents. They are on sale at the Co-op and at several business houses in Eugene.

NEW PATH SAVES STEPS TO OLD JOURNALISM SHACK

A new path, branching from the main thoroughfare to the journalism building, has been made to the "baby shack" by the University workmen.

Kelly on presenting the gifts said that this award of pencil "might be considered as a gift from the insurance company each student represented."

Judged on Approach
Each student represented some prominent insurance company of North America. The pseudo-salesmen were judged on the three points of approach, presentation and closing. They were graded on the percentage basis of fifty per cent as a minimum and ninety per cent as a maximum.

The selling attacks were varied as each student gauged his prospect. Facts, figures, good defense and shifting argument characterized these earnest salesmen. Ivan D. Houston represented the Aetna Life Insurance company and based his argument for a 20 year endowment policy on the fact that his proposition was a good investment.

Arguments are Given
Charles Murray offered a policy from the Fidelity Life Insurance company and his argument combined fact with the fraternal appeal of carrying insurance that on maturity could be used for the education of his prospect's son.

Myron Shannon also used the fraternal and educational appeal in selling for the Equitable Life Insurance company.

Eston B. Humphrey represented the Sun Life Insurance company of Canada.

The atmosphere of the business office was maintained through the reluctant concession of the prospect. The man of affairs was willing to be convinced but refused to yield until thoroughly convinced.

Several of the salesmen had to talk half an hour to land the man they were interviewing.

Portland Men Visitors
Several of the insurance men from Portland happened to be in town and witnessed the contests. They made brief complimentary comments upon the speakers.

There were many different attacks tried. The salesmen varied their talks with indirect introductions, factual appeal mingled with sentiment and the appeal of protection. Shrewd and subtle flattery brought around some of the wavering prospects.

Eight of the sales insurance students gave their talks Wednesday night. The other eight competed last night. Those who took part were Gordon Wilson, E. B. Humphrey, M. Austin, R. W. Frankson, P. B. Irelan, Wanda Plinez, S. S. Selak, C. T. Murray, D. W. Searbrough, H. E. Kidwell, Jeanette Dentler, Ivan D. Houston, A. E. Grimm, Myron Shannon, Donald Husband and E. F. Peterson.

GIRLS' DEBATE TEAMS TO COMPETE IN MARCH

Arrangements have just been completed with California and Washington for a series of varsity debates among the girls of the respective universities. These will take place March 4 and 5.

Washington and Oregon have competed in dual debate previously but this is the first time California has ever consented to participate. All three universities will be represented in each debate held.

DEAN ALLEN WILL ATTEND JOURNALISM CONVENTION

Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, is going to Chicago during the Christmas vacation to attend the annual meeting of the Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism and the Association of Teachers of Journalism, December 29, 30 and 31.

LAST EMERALD TOMORROW

The last number of the Emerald for this term will be issued Saturday morning. All persons wishing to have announcements or stories appear in this issue should call the Emerald news office, phone 655, after 3 o'clock today.

Quickly taken up by the University friends of Tiny Shields for the benefit game on Christmas day, the ticket organization on the campus is having considerable difficulty in disposing of pasteboards to students outside of organizations. Bill Poulson, University chairman of benefit drive, states, "The ticket sales captains urge that all students outside of living organizations that wish to aid Tiny Shields in his battle for health, get their tickets at the College Side Inn or see Joe Ellis or Jim Forestel."

Portland Leads Cities
Further reports from Portland indicate that this place is leading every city in the state in regard to the amount of tickets sold. Jack Benefiel, who is in Portland at the present time, wires that Portland will quickly go over the top at the rate in which they are now subscribing to the drive.

The Corvallis and the Hood River chamber of commerce have both heartily endorsed the Tiny Shields benefit drive and have pledged to support the drive whole-heartedly.

Sales Close Tomorrow
This afternoon and tomorrow are the only remaining days in which students may buy tickets on the campus as the campaign closes at 4 o'clock on Saturday. Both today and tomorrow a rather extensive drive will be carried on in the downtown business district in an effort to help Eugene to subscribe its quota.

SOPHOMORES MAY GET BLUE JEANS AT CO-OP

Sophomore men may order their "Blue Jeans" at the Co-op, any time today. The entire balcony has been given over to the sophomores and it is planned to have tailors in attendance who will fit the trousers to the prospective wearers exact measurements.

A large number of men of the class of '27 have already been approached by the committee in charge of selling the "Blue Jeans" and they report that every man has signed up. The cost of the trousers is but $2.00 and a deposit of one half that amount is being required when the measurements are taken. The "Blue Jeans" will all be ready for wear by the beginning of the winter term and sophomore class officials expect that by that time every man in the class will have outfitted himself according to the new style.
