

Varsity Hoop Team to Play

Oregon Quintet Will Take First Trip on Thursday; Three Games Scheduled

Five Men Vaccinated

Locals Make Impressive Showing for Aggregation Made Up of New Players

Thursday afternoon, the Oregon hoop quintet will start on the first trip made by the team this season. The tour takes in games with Multnomah Club, Pacific, and Willamette, to be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Although the games scheduled are comparatively easy contests, Coach Reinhart is faced with a rather dangerous situation at present. Five of the men on the varsity have been vaccinated against small-pox and it is quite possible that these men will be lost to the squad for a week. The players vaccinated were: Howard Hobson, Russ Gowan, Roy Okerberger, "Swede" Westergren and Frank Reinhart. Should these men be unable to play, it will leave the team in a rather precarious position with three speedy tilts on this week's program. All these men are working out with the team at present, having suffered no ill effects from the vaccination.

Meets Multnomah Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening, the varsity will meet Multnomah club in what should prove to be a rather one-sided tilt, with the Oregon five encountering little difficulty in winning. The club men suffered defeat early in the season at the hands of the Willamette quintet, so Multnomah should not prove dangerous for the Oregonians.

On Friday, the team will play a return contest with Pacific. Due to their impressive victory over the Badgers last week, the Lemon-Yellow basketeers are slated to repeat their former hoop victory.

Saturday, the team will line up against the Bearcats in the final game of the trip.

The men making the trip will include: Russ Gowan, Howard Hobson, Roy Okerberger, Ted Gillenwaters, "Swede" Westergren, Earl Chiles, Frank Reinhart, Chuck Jost and Jerry Gunther with Louie Anderson. Clarence Carter and Harold Llewellyn also probably making the trip as reserves.

In these three scheduled contests, the line-up will no doubt be the same as the team that started against Pacific. Howard Hobson and Russ Gowan at forward with Roy Okerberger at center and Ted Gillenwaters and "Swede" Westergren completing the quintet that (Continued on page four)

Basketball Teams Postpone Practice During Epidemic

Doughnut basketball has been indefinitely postponed because of the number of small-pox vaccination cases among the players. This is the statement issued yesterday by Miss Mary J. Shelly, basketball instructor in the department of physical education.

Teams may possibly resume practice sometime next week. It was decided that a postponed season was preferable to continuous substitution on class teams, which would only unjustly deprive players qualified for places on first teams of points they would otherwise earn.

Doughnut swimming meets have been postponed because of the vaccination preventing the girls from entering the water. These meets will begin again sometime about January 28, it is announced.

Assembly Speaker to Address Classes

Thomas Curtin Authority on Foreign Affairs

Besides his assembly address on Thursday, D. Thomas Curtin, famous newspaper correspondent and novelist, will "sit in" at Dean Eric W. Allen's Editing class at 10 o'clock, and at 2:15 will meet the students of the Modern Europe class at 105 Commerce, in an address dealing with the present situation abroad.

The committee of the Association of American University Women which is interested in the study of international relations will entertain Mr. Curtin at luncheon at the Anchorage.

Mr. Curtin has proved himself popular as a speaker not only because he is an authority on European affairs, but because he has a graphic and dramatic manner of presentation. All who are interested in the problems with which the speaker will deal are invited to attend the afternoon lecture to history students.

The tentative subject for the assembly address is "News in the Making."

DeCou's Hold Reception for Mathematics Majors

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. De Cou entertained major students in the mathematics department at a reception at their home, 929 Hilyard street, Thursday night. During the receiving hours, which were from 8 to 10 o'clock, between 30 and 40 of the students majoring in mathematics called. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. De Cou, who was assisted by Mrs. W. E. Milne, Mrs. L. L. Smail and Miss Marie Ridings.

Land of Fairies to Be Seen in Guild Hall Production

There is a decided atmospheric similarity between the musical fantasy, "Yellow Candle Light," the forthcoming production at the dramatic department, with the play "Peter Pan," famous throughout the world of theatre-goers. Both deal with children and their own exclusive province—fairy-land.

Fergus Reddie, the author of "Yellow Candle Light" has been especially considerate of his treatment of his childhood characters. Each of them is authentic because of the fact that they were described to him by a little girl friend of his who told him about her conception of fairies and fairy-land.

There are at least four characters in the fantasy who might be considered as being leads. Mr. Reddie will take the part of the Court Wizard in fairy-land who is in reality the country school master and who flirts with the country school mistress whenever the pupils are not around. His is a sort of part that Fred Stone, the comedian, would revel in. The Wizard will be played in an unreal, almost mechanical fashion, somewhat like a giant automaton with superhuman powers.

Charlotte Banfield, an instructor in the department, will play the part of the rotund, prim little Countess de Thimble who is mistress of the fairy princess's wardrobe and is, in reality, the country school mistress who accepts the school master's advances. The Countess de Thimble will wear a thimble for a hat as the sign, in fairy-land, of the wardrobe mistress.

The little girl, Virginia, who symbolizes the child in everyone, will be played by Florence Couch. Naturally when the scene of the play changes to fairy-land she is transformed into the fairy princess and her Japanese doll, Moonflower, played by Mary Fitch, becomes her lady in waiting. Virginia, or "You" as she is called, is the type of part with which Mary Pickford has endeared herself to millions of (Continued on page four)

Class Parties are Next Week

Friday, January 30, is Date Set for Various Affairs; Committees are Named

All Events Informal

Senior Class to Go Skating; Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen to Dance

Dates of class dances have been set for Friday evening, January 30. The affairs of the junior, sophomore and freshmen classes will be dances, while the seniors plan a theatre and skating party.

The senior affair will be informal, including a party at one of the theatres and skating afterwards at the Winter Garden.

"All of the seniors should do a little skating practice before the affair if they wish to enjoy themselves," said the committee head. "This will really be the last big party of the senior class and we want everyone to come."

Committees are Named

The committee for the party is: Entertainment, Jens Tergeeson, Margaret McGowan; refreshments, Ruth Sensenich, Claudia Broders, John Hulvey and Harmon Crites; patrons, Dorothy Scotton and Mary Griffin; theatre, Harold Goedecke, Edna Biles; hall, Russ Burton, James Powers, Helen Denham and Stella Van Vleet.

The junior class will hold a dance at the Campa Shoppe. Plans have not been completed for this affair at present.

Sophomores Will Dance

The College Side Inn will be the location of the Sophomore dance. The committees appointed by Russell Lawrence are: Verne Polts, chairman; entertainment, Anne Wentworth, chairman; Mary McKinnon and Earl Slocum; refreshments, Doris Brophy, chairman; Florence Allen and Darrell Elwood; decorations, Alan Christenson, chairman; Frances Morgan and Don Jeffries; feature, Edgar Wrightman, chairman and Katherine Short.

The freshman class will also hold a dance. Those in charge of the affair are: decorations, Mary McCarty; refreshments, Norrine Burke; music, Mary Clark; patrons, Irene Gerlinger.

Rojansky to Speak to Mathematics Club

The mathematics club of the University of Oregon will meet tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in Professor E. E. DeCou's classroom in the administration building. Mr. Vladimir Rojansky, research assistant in mathematics, will give a simple discussion of non-Euclidean geometry.

Mr. Rojansky is a graduate of Whitman college, where he made a brilliant record in mathematics and physics. He was born in southern Russia at Kiev. After graduating from the gymnasium at Kiev, he studied engineering at Petrograd. He was there at the outbreak of the Russian revolution, and served in Admiral Kolehak's army in Russia and Siberia. After leaving Russia, Mr. Rojansky came to the United States, arriving in Seattle about four years ago. Although he knew French and German in addition to Russian, he knew no English.

Mr. Rojansky went to Whitman, where he worked his way through, and gained a very good command of the English language. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa last year, as a result of his high scholastic record. At present, Mr. Rojansky is assisting Professor W. E. Milne with his work on "Damped Vibrations."

Seven-Day Shelf Receives 38 Books by Noted Authors

Art and Biography Lead New List

The library "seven-day book shelf," which has been attracting considerable attention during the past week, has been recently augmented by the addition of 38 new books. All the works are of recent print, written by well-known authors, on subjects of general interest.

Several of the books are listed below to illustrate the general nature of the collection:

Ossendowski's "Man and Mystery in Asia"; Andre Maurios' "Ariel: Life of Shelley"; W. H. Wright's "Modern Painting"; Horace Green's "Life of Calvin Coolidge"; Vincente Blasco Ibanez's "In the Land of Art"; Charles Bandorus' "Tolstoi, the Teacher"; Romain Rolland's "Mahatma Gandhi"; W. H. Hudson's "The Man Napoleon"; William Allen White's "Woodrow Wilson."

Business Office Open for Payment of Fees

Fines to Be Levied After Ten Day Limit

Today marks the opening of the fee-paying period for the winter term. The business office will open at 8 o'clock this morning and will remain open until 4 p. m. to take care of the opening rush.

Students will be allowed 10 days, or until January 31, to settle course and registration fees. This is a longer period than usual, and since it also contains two Saturdays, leaving time for those who are too busy during school days to pay their fees, the business staff expects to get most of the money collected within the allotted time.

Those who delay until the last minute will be in danger of paying an extra fee. This is three dollars for the first day after the period ends, and 25 cents for each succeeding day.

The business office will be open daily until 4 p. m., and students are asked by the business staff to come as early as possible in order to cut down the last minute crowds. Those who come early in the day will likewise have the most chance of receiving attention.

Again the warning against issuing N. S. F. checks is sounded. Last term students paid to the University over $1,000 worth of checks which were not covered by funds. Such action, it is declared by University officials, will not receive the usual toleration, and severe penalties are imminent unless the evil ends. Realizing that the issuance of such checks is often due to carelessness, students are asked to make sure that they have enough in the bank to cover the amount of the checks before issuing them.

Five Men Elected to Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi, men's national journalism fraternity Monday afternoon elected to membership Sol Abramson, James Case, Jalmar Johnson, Wilbur Wester, and Lyle Kelling. Kelling, who is news editor of the Eugene Daily Guard, will be initiated as an associate member. He is a graduate of Whitman college, and has been with the Guard for the last two years.

Abramson is a sophomore, and has been on the staff of the Emerald for the past two years. He is also prominent in forensic work. James Case, a junior, has served on the Emerald as a reporter and is at present a daily news editor. He is also associate editor of the Oregonian.

Program Listed for Jury Day

Decorations and Features to Portray Vivid Color of a Modern Bohemia

Portland Judges Here

Students' Work and Taos Collection to Be Viewed by Judges and Public

With jaunty airs and colorful atmosphere the school of architecture and allied arts will celebrate its annual Jury day today and this evening, a Bohemian aspect, which only art students can effect, prevailing in methods of decoration and entertainment. Work of the students of the various departments will be on exhibit in the different exhibit rooms during the day and will be reviewed and criticised by the judges.

Those coming from Portland to pass criticism on the work are: Mrs. Lucy Dodd Ramberg and Miss Elizabeth Barker, both artists, travellers and connoisseurs, and C. D. James, Folger Johnson, Morris Whitehouse, John Bennis, and Joseph Jacobberger, architects. These men will give short talks to the members of the architecture department and judge the problems of those students, and Miss Barker will address the Allied Arts club in the architectural lecture room on the color, weave and use of textiles. Criticism, addresses and student conferences will take place during the morning from nine until twelve o'clock, with the exception of Miss Barker's talk which will be given at 2:00 in the afternoon.

Tea Will Be Served

At 4:00 in the afternoon tea for the visiting artists will be served in the faculty clubroom, followed by a dinner at the Anchorage at six. In the art gallery at 7:30 the official opening of the Taos exhibit of New Mexican Indian and landscape paintings takes place and at 8:15 stunts offered by the different groups in the department will be presented in the classrooms fitted up for the occasion. These features are to be of both humorous and artistic vein and the costumes and scenery as well as the dramatization are the result of much work during the past week.

With the exception of the exhibit of the students' work in the different departments and the showing of the Taos collection, the features of Jury day are for the members of the Art school and their special guests only.

Fresh Grapplers and Corvallis High to Mix

The University of Oregon freshman wrestling team will journey to Corvallis, Friday night to meet the high school team of that town in the first meet of the year. The Corvallis team won the state high school wrestling championship last year.

Coach Widmer has been drilling his green-cappers for the match and his men are in good condition. In meeting the Corvallis preppers, however, Widmer is sending his men against one of the best teams in the state. Robin Reed, wrestling coach at O. A. C., is also tutoring the high school squad.

The Oregon frosh last year lost to Corvallis by a score of 46 to 41. The preppers are in trim for the meet, as they have been working out with the O. A. C. men for the past three months and are well trained in the fine points of the grappling game.

Those selected by Coach Widmer to make the trip to Corvallis are: Leslie Kirkham, 121 pounds; Vernon Jarrett, 128 pounds; Burl Betzer, 135 pounds; LeRoy Oxford, 145 pounds; either Levi Ankeny or Alden Potter, 158 pounds; and Ellis Shull, 175 pounds.

Kappas Are Victims of Campus Thief; Small Loot Taken

The Kappa Kappa Gamma house was entered and robbed of about $10 in small change Saturday night, bringing the total amount of money recently taken from campus houses to $60.50. A week ago $50.50 was taken from the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Several amounts of $16, $25, and $4.50 were taken at the men's organization, as well as smaller amounts which were lying loose on the study desks. A watch chain was also taken. The front rooms, furtherest away from the sleeping porch, were the ones molested.

Only the rooms on the second floor were disturbed at the Kappa house. The thief had pulled down all the shades in these rooms and turned off the lights at the switch. Burnt matches were strewn about the floors.

Varsity Swimmers Will Meet Freshmen

Tonight is First Chance to See Men in Action

Varsity and frosh swimmers will meet tonight in the Woman's building tank for the first swim of the season. The first race will start promptly at 7:30 and the events will be run off in quick order. Much interest has been shown in swimming this year and competition for places on the teams is keen. This is the first open meet of the year and the first chance to see the varsity men in action.

The varsity is especially strong this year in all events. In the dashes, Bob McCabe and Ben Lombard are doing excellent work. Lombard is an especially fast swimmer and will give the freshmen strong competition. He makes his best time in the 40-yard, and the 80-yard swims. In the 80-yard backstroke Art Erickson and Bob Gardner show good form. Erickson is doing good work and is one of the best men on the team. He holds the backstroke record for the Pacific coast. Distance swimmers are also doing well. Bob Boggs and H. Boyden are the strongest in this event and promise to give their opponents a battle.

In diving Bob McCabe and Lee Stone are showing great form. They hit the board and execute the dive with grace and ease. The plungers, Samuels and Heider, do 40 feet without effort and show promise of making records. Al Sinclair will swim the breast-stroke. The relay team will be composed of Stone, Erickson, Boggs and Lombard. Coach Fahl says that he is confident that this array of all good men will bring home the bacon in this season's meets.

Frosh dash-men will be Riggs Reid and Fish. In the distance swims the water-babes will be represented by Benton, McCook, Sheridan and Washer. McCook and Benton will also swim the backstroke. The yearlings are strongest in their divers. Riggs, Byerly and Fowler are all doing exceptionally good work. Competition will be strongest between the varsity and frosh in this event. Hamilton, Bundage and Mason are the frosh plungers. They are slated to give the varsity a battle. E. C. Kreiss will swim the breast-stroke. The frosh relay is made up of Benton, Riggs, Reid and McCook.

H. A. Scott will be referee and starter. Timers are Spike Leslie and Bill Reinhart. Judges are Webster, Park and Miss Page.

Norman Burke, who had been swimming with the first year men, is still in the infirmary and will not be out in a suit till Saturday.

Losing Team of Shields Campaign to Pay Wager

In payment of a wager, the losing team of the Tiny Shields ticket committee will entertain the winning team at a dinner which will be held at the Campa Shoppe tonight at 5 o'clock. James Forestel and Margaret McGowan were the members of the losing team, while Joe Ellis and Anna DeWitt composed the winning one.

Students Named for Councilors

Campus Debater Chose

Beatrice Tidd, Eugene, and Walter Malcolm, From Portland Are Appointed

Beatrice Tidd was named senior woman, and Walter Malcolm, junior man on the student council by Randall Jones, president of the student body, last night. These two places were left vacant by Margaret Powers, who was elected senior woman last spring, and is now travelling with her family in California, and Otto Mauthe, junior man, who is working for the McCormick Steamship company in San Francisco.

Walter Malcolm, of Portland, is well known as a debater on the campus, having participated in the Reed-Oregon-O. A. C. triangle debate, the British Columbia-Idaho-Oregon triangle debate, the California radio debate and the Oxford debate. He was chairman of the underclass mix, is chairman of the forensic committee, a member of Tau Kappa Alpha honorary forensic organization, member of the Dramatic company for the past two years, of Mask and Buskin, Agora and of Phi Delta Theta.

Miss Tidd is Eugene Girl. Miss Tidd, of Eugene, is a major in the school of physical education. She is a member of El Circulo Castellano, Thespians, and Alpha Xi Delta.

At the next meeting of the student council, plans for Dad's Day, held annually on the campus, and the University policy in regard to rallies will be discussed.

Exposed Students Ordered Vaccinated

At five o'clock yesterday there were still 27 students who have been exposed to smallpox who have failed to report to the dispensary for vaccination. Those who have complied with the ruling comprise a comparatively small percentage of those who were in classes of which Miss Marian Norman was a member.

Miss Norman is in Portland with small pox and the state board of health has ordered that everyone in any of her classes be vaccinated or quarantined. Beginning today all those 27 students who have not been vaccinated will be refused admittance to classes until they have submitted to the requirements. If they fail to be vaccinated soon, steps will be taken to have them quarantined.

Letters were sent out yesterday to the various living organizations telling them of the quarantine ruling and informing them of the students in their organizations who have as yet failed to report to the dispensary.

Yesterday there were 242 patients at the dispensary as compared to the usual number which averages about 80. Of the patients yesterday, 155 were there for vaccination. This makes a total of between four and five hundred who have been vaccinated since the small pox broke out last week.

Clean bandages will be supplied at both the men's and women's gym, stated Dr. G. A. Ross. They can also be obtained at the dispensary. No excuses from gym classes will be issued to students by the dispensary, with the exception of those taking swimming. Excuses from swimming will only be given when students become ill from the effects of vaccination.
