

DATE OF VOD-VIL TRY-OUTS SET

Students to Offer Stunts For Selection During Week of February 16

ACTS TO BE ORIGINAL

Entertainment Will Be Held In Heilig Theatre; Prices For Seats Are Announced

The week beginning February 16 will be given over to tryouts for the Junior Vod-Vil, according to an announcement made last night by Paul Krause, who has charge of this event. The entire week will be given over to the tryouts.

All students who contemplate taking part in this event will present their productions during the week designated for tryouts, said the chairman in charge. The act or other offerings must be original, but need not necessarily be memorized by the student. The lines may be read, instead of recited.

In judging during the tryouts, two other people besides Krause will be appointed to pass upon the offerings of the prospective entertainers. These will be appointed at a later date.

Although the tryouts will not require the finished production, a comprehensive outline of the act must be presented to the judges, so that a clear idea can be had of its value on the stage.

The hours and place of the judging will be announced later.

Prices for the seats have already been set. The entire floor in front of the posts will sell at one dollar a seat, while the seats behind the posts and under the balcony will sell for 75 cents. The first section in the balcony will sell for one dollar a seat, and seats on the second section of the balcony will be 75 cents. Disposition of the boxes has not been made as yet. The entertainment will be held in the Heilig theatre.

The staff of workers has already been named. In addition to those already appointed, Tom Robertson has been added to the corps as electrician.

The dates for the vod-vil have been set for May 8 and 9.

CAMPUS WOMEN LEAD GIRL RESERVE CLUBS

Girl reserve clubs of the local high schools, under the leadership of campus women, sent their leaders and representatives to the meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. building down town yesterday for the purpose of hearing Nelson F. McDuff, head of the national forest reserve service, present his plans for "Forest Reserve Week," which is to be held in April.

Lois Covatt, Genevieve Chase, Helen Martin, Edna Spenker, Emily Houston, Enid Sonnichson, and Adelaide Johnson are the campus women actively engaged in girl reserve work here in Eugene.

ASPECTS OF CO-EDUCATION DISCUSSED BY DEAN STRAUB

"While there are some good points in the co-educational system," said Professor John Straub, dean of men, "I sometimes doubt its value. There is no doubt that it enables men to measure up women at their real value, and not dream that they are angels. Again, it shows the women that men aren't all heroes."

An eastern college president has issued the statement that a student should have read 100 books in his four years at school. "One hundred books a year was the standard in my college days," said Dean Straub. "But then," he continued, "there were no dinner dances, nor mill race parties. When the men gathered around the dinner table at night, they discussed the day's news events. The students also

South American Republic Copies World's Customs

The language and nature of the people of Spain is about all that is left in Chile that is really Spanish. The very style of architecture is copied from English models. Chile, one of the most modern of the South American countries, imitates the world in general, and England in particular, said Italia C. Dalleria, who is now an instructor in the romance language department. Her home is in Santiago, Chile.

"Oh, of course we have the tango," she laughed, "but we have all of your dance steps too!" The music that is popular in America, is also popular in Chile. "Yes, We Have No Bananas" made its first appearance in a Chilean cabaret just after its introduction in Chicago.

The Chilean students love sports as the English do, just for the spirit of the sport. Football and tennis are the favorite games, while the Sunday races, of course, are the events which no one ever misses, Miss Dalleria explained. Basketball is just now becoming known among the students.

DATE FOR FROSH GLEE CHANGED TO MARCH 7

Former Time Included in Holiday Week-end

The date for the Frosh Glee has been changed from February 21 to March 7, on account of the Washington's birthday holiday week-end following the original date for the function.

In spite of the fact that the new date falls within three days of the two weeks limit placed upon all student affairs in examination time, the Glee was set for March 7. This action was taken after considerable discussion in the student affairs committee yesterday afternoon, when it was brought out that if the dance were held on the night of February 21, this would be the first night of a three-day vacation, and a large majority of the students would have gone home. Inasmuch as Monday, February 23 is allowed as a holiday, there is a vacation lasting from the last Friday afternoon classes until Tuesday morning following. This, it was pointed out in the committee meeting, will be taken advantage of by most of the students, which fact was overlooked when the affair was set for February 21.

Petition for change of date was presented by the executive committee of the freshman class, which has charge of this annual campus affair.

DEAN DYMENT ATTENDS MEETING IN PORTLAND

Dean Coliin V. Dymont left for Portland yesterday to attend a meeting of the University of Oregon Medical school curriculum committee, of which he is chairman.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Doughnut wrestling, men's gymnasium, Monday, January 26, 4 p. m. All entrants required to be on floor.

RECENT YEARS BRING VICTORY

Basketball Gains Attention Since Coming of "Bill" Hayward to the Campus

STATISTICS ARE QUOTED

Improvement in Varsity's Playing is Indicated By Sports Staff Writer

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series on basketball by the Emerald Sports Staff stacionian, Don Osborne. The next will follow in an early issue.)

Through a string of victories in the last few years, Oregon has gained for herself a reputation of always being a strong contender for the basketball championship for both the coast and northwest conferences. However, until about four years ago, this story was entirely different: not enough attention was given to basketball. All interest was turned to other sports, chiefly, of course, to football.

Few Games Won

The University of Washington has won a big majority of the games played between the two schools. Stanford has never lost a game to the varsity; they have won 10 straight. However, they have not played Oregon for the last two or three years. The University of California, too, has won a majority of her games against Oregon. The O. A. C., the W. S. C. and the Oregon teams have all been in somewhat the same class. O. A. C. has won a little over half and W. S. C. a little under her half of their games with Oregon. They too have been putting out much better teams in the last three or four years than they did before.

Last W. S. C. Game Thriller

Remember the Washington game in the Armory last year. The last minute of play found Oregon one point ahead, when an Oregon man fouled a man from Washington. With the game actually handed to him the Washington player handed it back by missing both shots. For excitement this game has been equaled only by the one played by the same two teams on the same floor the previous year. When the final gun was fired the score was tied 32-32 which necessitated the playing of an extra period of five minutes. Here a thing happened which probably will not happen in the next million games played. At

DOUGHNUT WRESTLING TO BEGIN ON MONDAY

The doughnut wrestling artists will break into the sport program when they open their intramural contests in the men's gymnasium Monday afternoon.

All men partaking of this sport will have to be on the mat at 4 o'clock and be ready for their turn. The weighing in process will be handled in the office at the physical education department.

There have been a few changes listed in the matches. B. Epping, Phi Sigma Pi will wrestle in the 138-pound class and has received a bye for his first match. L. Oxford, Oregon club, is entered in the 148-pound class and receives a bye. A. Strauss, Oregon club, will meet C. Williams, Friendly hall, in the 178-pound class. S. Stevens is entered in the unlimited class and receives a bye for the first match.

If men fail to make arrangements for non-participation for their match a decision will be given to their opponent according to the set of rules drawn for the occasion.

Earl Widmer, varsity wrestling coach, will officiate at the meet and will render all decisions.

The matches will take place on the second floor of the men's gymnasium and arrangements will be made for the care of the spectators wishing to see the men in action.

Varsity Defeats Pacific By Final Score of 65 to 21

Gowans is Varsity High Point Man

Forest Grove, Oregon.—(Special)—The varsity basketball team triumphed over the Pacific Badgers at Forest Grove last night in a hard fought game by a 65 to 21 score.

According to Reinhart, Oregon's mentor, the game was fast and clever. An improvement was noted in the varsity teamwork and passing ability and although the game was a bit rough at times comparatively few fouls were called.

This gives the varsity two wins so far in their northern invasion and as the next game is with Willamette tonight they are expected to return home with all wins.

Gowans was high point man of the fracas with Hobson and Okerberg running a close second and third. The lineup is as follows:

Oregon 65	Pacific 21
Gowans, 17	Jesse, 2
Hobson, 12	Tucker, 3
Okerberg, 10	Emerson, 6
Westergren, 7	Adams, 7
Gillenwaters, 10	Coons, 3
Substitutes: Oregon, Reinhart, 7;	Chiles, 2; Gunther, Jost, Carter.
Pacific, Lyons, Blackman.	Referee: Coleman.

Y.M.C.A. MOVING PICTURES SUCCESS

Educational Pictures Feature Of Show

About fifty persons attended the free picture show given in the Y. M. C. A. but last night under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. student cabinet.

A number of short travel, scenic, sport and educational pictures were shown. They included several taken by the United States government, which showed the work of some various governmental departments. One such was that of the activities of the Department of Agriculture. "Transportation," another government-taken picture, graphically traced the development of modes of transportation from the time of weary foot travel to the present age of electric locomotives. A picturization of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" proved to be popular with the audience.

Piano accompaniment was played by Clifford Constance, while Charlie Spear served as operator.

Last night's performance was somewhat of an experiment to determine if there would be enough interest to warrant the giving of more frequent entertainments of a similar kind. R. Romayne Brand, chairman of the social committee in charge, declared the affair a success.

There will probably be similar shows given in the future but definite plans have not been made.

DR. WARNER HONORED WITH SOCIAL EVENTS

Dr. Estelle Ford Warner, medical director for the Bureau of Child Hygiene, Oregon State Board of Health, informally addressed a group of senior majors in the department of physical education yesterday on the subject of, "Principals of Physical Education."

Dr. Warner spoke before the Hermitian club on health education, Thursday evening, and she devoted a large part of Friday morning to majors in physical education who are preparing theses related to her work.

A number of social events honoring Dr. Warner were given during her visit on the campus. Dr. Warner and Miss Florence Alden, head of the women's physical education department, were the guests of Dean and Mrs. Bovard at luncheon at the Anchorage Friday.

Susan Campbell hall entertained, Thursday evening at a dinner in honor of Dr. Warner. Guests included all the members of the physical education faculty.

NEW MANAGER SYSTEM IS PLAN

Committee Recommends Change in Handling Music Athletics and Forensics

PROMOTION IS BASIS

Council Receives Plan As By-laws; Question to Be Placed on Spring Ballot

A new managerial system in regard to athletics, music and forensics, was discussed by the committee which was appointed to investigate the present system, and make recommendations. This committee consists of Randall Jones, chairman, Victor Risley, Ted Gillenwaters, Lester Smith and Jack Benefield.

Present System Bad

The conclusions which the committee came to, provide for a system wherein the freshmen in an athletic activity are given a chance to work up, and persist in the activity, contrary to the present system which is not very well defined and smoothly working. The idea is that the first year men are to do the actual work, and learn the plan and procedure of the management. In their sophomore year, the best of them will be promoted to the place of assistant managerships. In the third year, the best one will be the direct manager of the activity working in co-operation with the graduate manager, and taking care of all the business and financial matters which the activity entails. From among these direct managers, one man will be chosen to be the general manager of all activities, overseeing the actual working and the personnel; seeing that the ranks are filled and the activity is functioning smoothly.

Sweaters are Recommended

Music and forensics will be handled a little differently. They will be under the direct attention of the graduate manager, who will appoint assistants to take charge of the orchestra and glee clubs.

The committee also recommended that one stripe sweaters be given to the managers, and a sweater bearing two stripes be given to the senior manager. The committee expects to get these recommendations in the form of a by-law, to present to the executive council. If it receives approval from this source it will be put on the ballot and submitted to the students for vote at the next election of the A. S. U. O.

STATISTICS COMPARE SALARIES AT SCHOOLS

Statistics recently computed from figures of the United States bureau of education report, compare the average salaries of the faculties of the state universities in the United States with those of the faculty of the University of Oregon.

These statistics show that 17 universities have larger enrollments than the University of Oregon, while 27 have smaller enrollments. Figured on a basis of the 45 universities in the country, 27 of them pay higher salaries to their instructors, 17 pay higher salaries to assistant professors, 25 pay more to professors, 31 pay more to their deans, and 26 university presidents receive higher salaries.

These figures show rather a large discrepancy at the University of Oregon. Only the salaries paid to assistant professors here, are as high as in other state universities, on a basis of enrollment. With Oregon eighteenth in enrollment, it also ranks eighteenth in the matter of salaries paid assistant professors. However, in the case of salaries received by instructors, professors, deans, and presidents, the University of Oregon ranks from eight to fourteen places lower than she should, in consideration of the comparative enrollment of the various state universities.

Amber Fluid Puts Valentino Sheen On Touselled Locks

A mystery has raised its head on the campus almost over night, as it were. It appears as if certain touselled locks have suddenly ceased to be touselled, and have acquired brilliance and beauty. In short, the owners of said formerly touselled locks have taken on the appearance of Valentinos.

Magic? Mysticism? Hardly. The answer lies in a small bottle of a certain amber liquid, guaranteed to make touselled locks stay put, to put a coat of varnish on the most unattractive of hempen or other mops of hair, and to absolutely make them stay put for—well, several hours at least.

Whether any of the recipients of the small samples of amber fluid have given it the several-hours tryout or not is not known, but as long as the fluid lasts, it continues to be employed to dazzle the eyes of the—or—the opposite sex. It is said that the staying qualities of this fluid will be best known when the last drop has been used.

FOUR CLASS TEAMS TO COMPETE MONDAY

Women Will Start Season With Interclass Mix

The first interclass women's basketball game of the season has been scheduled for Monday, February 2. The freshman first team will play the sophomore first team, and the senior second team will play the junior second team.

Every woman, as listed on the four class teams in the Friday Emerald, should report as follows: Wednesday at 5 o'clock, freshman players in the indoor gymnasium; junior players in the outdoor gymnasium; Thursday at 5 o'clock, sophomore players in the indoor gymnasium, senior players in the outdoor gymnasium.

A meeting of score keepers and timers, furnished by the Order of the "O" for the coming games, has been called for Monday, January 26. Those who have been asked to serve in the above capacities are as follows: Beatrice Fish, Augusta DeWitt, Florence Huntress, Helen Dickey, Helen Robson, Edith Pierce, Grace Caviness, Augusta Hamilton, Betty Raugh and Hilda Chase.

AUSTRALIA STUDIED BY DISCUSSION GROUP

The geography and natural resources of Australia was the subject of an animated discussion held yesterday noon at the Anchorage by the World Fellowship study group of which Katherine Reade is a leader. This is the first time this group has met for discussion.

All except the group studying Mexico has had its first meeting, which takes up the discussion of the geography and natural resources of the country. This group will meet next Thursday at the Anchorage for a dinner meeting.

CONDON CLUB INITIATES SHOW SKILL IN WELDING SKILLET'S

(By E. S.)

Five of the toughest and roughest fellows you've ever seen rampaged over the campus yesterday and showed their crudeness in the difficult and delicate task of flapping flap-jacks.

The geologic neophytes of Condon club put into practice their skilled muscular control, acquired by long use and familiarity with the shovel and pick. This time the adeptness was not in tossing nuggets across the bar and flashing the shooting-irons from the hips. Nope, the husky miners tossed a mean mixing spoon in the pan-cake batter and spun the flap-jacks into air. The spectators collected bets at each miss. And raucous guffaws razed the miner of uncertain aim when his flap-jacks flopped to

YEARLING SQUAD TO PLAY TODAY

Hard Battle Predicted in Basket Contest in Gymnasium This Afternoon

FRANKLIN TEAM STRONG

Visiting Quintet Said to Have Had More Practice Than the Freshman Five

The freshman basketball team will get its first baptism under fire when it meets the speedy Franklin high school quintet from Portland in the men's gymnasium today at 2 o'clock.

The first year basketballers have been gradually rounding into shape under Coach Evans, and they will give the aggressive Franklin team a hard battle. A number of promising players are numbered on the frosh squad and they should develop into a strong combination when they get going.

Grades Take Toll

Ineligibility took its toll from the ranks of the freshman candidates when eight men were ruled out of the squad because of grades. This will of course be a severe blow to the team for the time being at least.

The Franklin team is reputed to be one of the strongest in the Portland high school league this year. It is composed mostly of veteran players who have been practicing far longer than the freshmen have. "Red" Scallon, all-around athlete of the Franklin school, is probably the most outstanding player on the visiting aggregation. He is a clever player and one of the surest shots in Portland. He will be a man for the yearlings to check closely.

The men from whom the freshman lineup will be chosen today are Beeny, Turner and Krudson, forwards. Beeny was a member of the state championship Medford team coached by "Prink" Callison. Turner hails from Spokane, Washington, and he is a good floor man and an accurate shot. Krudson also from Portland.

Choice is Between Two

The choice for the center position lies between Eberhart, of Eugene, and Sawalish, who comes from Oklahoma. Both men are lengthy and work well in the teamwork. They should take advantage of their height for a number of shots around the basket for points.

The guard positions are being contested by a number of promising candidates. Powers, former University high guard, will likely get a chance to start the game. Morton, of Marshfield, and Hutchison, former Jefferson high basketball captain in Portland, also may start the game. Richstien, also a member of the Medford championship five last year, is certain of breaking into the lineup during the contest. Puust, former Astoria player, has been showing up well and will be given a chance to show his wares in action.
