OREGON MAN TO TAKE TRIP AROUND WORLD

Ambrose Cronin, a former student of the University, leaves from San Francisco, February 7, for an extended trip around the world.

Cronin left the campus last Sunday for San Francisco where he is preparing for the journey. He intends to go to China directly from San Francisco. From there he will travel to various places, visiting those which interest him most.

His trip which is purely recreational, will take him to many points on the globe. He expects to be gone for about six months.

PRESIDENT OF A. S. U. O. IS CONFINED IN INFIRMARY

Randall Jones, president of the student body, is in the infirmary as a result of smallpox vaccination and a general rundown condition. He was sent to the infirmary Saturday and is expected to be out again soon.

FAIRYLAND FANTASY ENCHANTS THEATRE GOERS AT PREMIERE

A touch of the magic wand turned Guild hall into Fairyland last night changed the dross of reality to luminous glittering star dust as the premiere of "Yellow Candle Light," Fergus Reddie's latest fantasy, caught the audience and took it back a million years—to yesterday—the day when we were all Fairies, the only real people.

That is the theme of the musical playlet, of which Perry Arant is the co-producer—that the real life of children, and perhaps of all of us, is the make believe life in which dreams are sweet, and bubbles do not burst.

"Yellow Candle Light" includes about every conceivable form of entertainment, from singing, dancing, and circus antics, to fantastic and

Yell King Orders Game Spectators To Be Less Noisy

All manner of "razing," and undue noise at basketball games hereafter must stop. This is the edict of Fred Martin, yell king. "Noise is fine in its place, but players of both sides must be given a fair chance," says Martin. "Lately spectators have been forgetting this, and their negligence has been a source of complaint by the coaches and players of both teams.

The code of behavior at basketball games is simple, and should be learned by everyone, says Martin. It is just this: never "razz" any players or officials; maintain silence while both teams are shooting fouls; treat both sides fairly at all times.

Oregon has always had a reputation for good sportsmanship, and this reputation should be carefully guarded, stated Martin.

ASSEMBLY DEVOTED TO FAMOUS MASTERS

Orchestra Preparing for Concert in Spring

The program for today's assembly at the Woman's building has been arranged by the University orchestra and stringed quartet under the supervision of Rex Underwood, director.

The program is as follows:

- Gladiators' March Orchestra
- Serenade Titi Duet by cello and flute with orchestral accompaniment
- (a) Andante Cantabile Tschalkowsky (b) Serenade Lalo Stringed quartet
- La Veeda Alden Orchestra
- Dancing Dolls Poldini Orchestra
- Second Hungarian Rhapsody Liszt Orchestra

"La Veeda" has been described by Mr. Underwood as the "grandfather of the modern fox trot," and in his opinion is one of the best of the early fox trots. It is for this reason he is reviving the old favorite in today's program.

Besides working up the assembly entertainment, the orchestra members have been devoting much time preparing for the formal opening of the new music auditorium and for their big spring concert.

ORATORICAL CONTEST TRY-OUTS ARE MONDAY

Try-outs for the old line oratorical contest will be held Monday, February 2, between the hours of 4 and 6 in Villard hall. The contest will be held at Monmouth, March 13. The try-out orations will be judged by members of the public speaking department. A copy of the oration, which must be 1500 words in length, must be turned in at the time the oration is given. All students are eligible except those freshmen who entered school this term.

SATURDAY NOON IS FEE DEADLINE

800 Students Must Appear During Next Three Days Or Pay Additional Sum

PENALTY WILL BE $3.00

Warning is Issued Against Giving of N. S. F. Checks; Few Issued Up to Date

With less than three days left for the payment of fees, about 800 students must appear at the business office before Saturday noon and settle their accounts, or pay the three dollar late payment fee.

"Strictly business" methods are to be adopted, it has been announced, and absolutely no leniency will be shown to stragglers. Last term the usual last minute crowd appeared on Saturday morning. As it was impossible to take care of all, many were given slips upon the presentation of which they were permitted to pay their fees on the following Monday, without the additional late fees.

Late Penalty Fee Charged

The edict issued this term, however, is that the windows of the office will be closed at noon Saturday, and those who will not yet have paid their fees must pay the penalty of three dollars for the first day late, 25 cents for each day thereafter. Post graduate students are included in this ruling and are subject to the same penalties.

The reason for the stricter methods is that although a longer period has been allowed this year for the payment of fees, students have failed to take advantage of the opportunity. Ten days have been allowed, and two Saturdays have been included purposely to permit those who are busy on other days to visit the business office. Although the office was open from 8 a. m. until 3 p. m. last Saturday, only 91 students appeared. Since then they have been coming in at an extremely slow rate.

Few N. S. F. Checks Received

Few "N. S. F." checks have been received, it is reported, and this fact is serving to brighten a rather gloomy situation, according to members of the business staff. At the same time a warning is sent out that those who issue such checks in an effort to avoid paying the late payment fee, will find the effort worthless, as the fee will be added in spite of the fact that the check might be issued before the allotted time is ended.

PITCHING ASPIRANTS TO START TRAINING

The varsity pitching aspirants will begin their spring training next week. The first work-out will be held Tuesday, in the men's gymnasium. For the first few weeks they will get accustomed to the feel of the ball and get the stiffness out of their arms.

Twirlers who made letters last year and who will be back for this year are Williams and Brooks. Last year freshmen who will be out this year are Harrison and R. Adolph. Both of these men did good work for the fresh last year. Harrison pitched stellar ball in all his games, and Adolph also made a good record.

Coach Billy Reinhart is formulating plans for a barnstorming trip to take place during spring vacation. The plan is to go south and play Stanford and the University of California on their home grounds. The University of Southern California squad may be taken on also.

Work on the diamond on Kincaid field has not as yet begun, but will be started within two weeks. There is much work to be done as the field is in bad condition. If all plans for the work are carried out, Oregon will have one of the best ball fields on the coast.

CAMPUS LIBRARY ADDS 10,000 BOOKS IN '24

Latest Literature Indexed in New Pamphlet

More than ten thousand books were added to the University library during the year 1924, according to an official report recently issued by M. H. Douglass, librarian, making the total number of books belonging to the library at the end of the year, 140,823.

Of the books added, 282 went into the law library; 120 were sent to the stacks for the rent collection, and 71 went to the Pauline Potter Homer collection of beautiful books. Departmental fees, paid for 2,352 books, mainly for use in the reserve department.

Statistics compiled by the library show that 368,814 books were issued from the circulation, reference and reserve desks in the course of the year. Of this number, 63,899 were removed temporarily from the library for home use.

NEW ORATORIO SOCIETY TO GIVE 'THE CREATION'

The second meeting of the Oratorio society in the music auditorium Monday night, was well attended. There are the full number of voices in the group now, many of which are very good, reports John Stark Evans, director of the group.

Practice was begun Monday night on the production which will be given later in the spring by the entire group. The major work will be one of the best and oldest oratorios written, "The Creation," by Hadyn. It includes ten choruses and a great deal of solo work. Meetings are held every Monday evening at eight o'clock at the music auditorium.

FOOTBALL MEN TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON AT 4

Coach Smith Will Outline Plans for Grid Practice

Football men, all who are candidates for either varsity or freshman teams next fall, and newspapermen are to meet today at 4 p. m. in Commerce building with Coach Dick Smith and Virgil Earl. Every man who expects to be out in a suit is called for the meeting, Smith states.

The program for the year will be mapped out at this time, and the new coach will take the names of prospective men for the coming season. Plans for spring training will be announced too, and the athletic policy of the University will be explained.

The meeting will also be in the nature of a welcome for the new mentor, who will appear officially for the first time since his election. "Every man who knows what a football is should turn out this spring," says Mr. Earl, "and every one who is intending to turn out should be at the meeting today. It will be interesting enough for all."

TRACKSTERS TURN OUT IN SPITE OF WEATHER

The recent bad weather has not decreased the usual turnout of track men on Hayward field. This term the men are coming out three times a week to go through their paces and are gradually rounding into condition. The first competition is planned for February 7 and every Saturday after that there will be competition until the tryouts for the Stanford meet on April 4. On April 11, at Palo Alto, comes the first meet of the season with Stanford.

Bill Hayward has received invitations to participate in an indoor meet from the University of Kentucky at Louisville. He has also been invited to enter teams in an outdoor meet staged by the University of Illinois, the Drake relays, and the Penn relays at the University of Iowa and Pennsylvania respectively. Teams from Oregon will not be entered, since the distance is too great and the heavy track schedule will take up the time of the Lemon yellow entirely. Prospects in the javelin have been strengthened by the turning (Continued on page four)

Order of the 'O' Sponsoring Jitney Dance Saturday

An old time jitney dance will be held in the Campa Shoppe, Saturday afternoon, by the Order of the "O". The dance will start at 2 o'clock with everybody welcome. Harry Myer is chairman of the affair, and Steve Williams has charge of the music. Gordon Wilson and Sam Cook will take care of the tickets which will be on sale at the dance.

A good orchestra and floor are promised. The proceeds from the dance will be used to pay for the dinner given to the football men last homecoming. Order of the "O" dances have already made a name for themselves on the campus and this one will be truly typical.

PRIMITIVE RELIGIONS IS DR. SMITH'S TOPIC

People of Remote Pacific Regions Described

"Religion is the deepest and most wide-spread concern of mankind; crude as his religious behavior be, it is the result of his most serious thinking, and should be respected as such," said Dr. Warren D. Smith, speaking on primitive religions in Alumni hall last night. The address was the second of the great series of lectures on religion being given weekly under the direction of the United Christian Work of the University of Oregon.

"Philosophy and science have their roots in religion, for philosophy began in an attempt to explain things about us," said Dr. Smith, "and man's first speculation on the things surrounding him were expressed in his religion. In this sense, science is an advance over both, but this does not mean that science is higher than religion. It is merely later in its development."

The speaker spoke principally of primitive peoples of the Pacific; inhabitants of the remote parts of the Philippines and Hawaii, with whom he had, while on United States Government commissions, had years of intimate relation. "Science, industry and education will vindicate the gods finally," concluded the speaker, "when man learns to predicate earthquakes and the other inimical forces of nature, he will also learn to reconcile it and his religion. It is a part thereof, not an enemy to it."

DEAN HALE TO SPEAK AT EUGENE MEETING

William G. Hale, dean of the law school, will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting of students and townspeople to be held Saturday night in interest of the world court and the attitude of the United States towards this proposed covenant of nations. The meeting is being sponsored by the Association of American University Women and the Federated association.

Dean Hale will discuss the operation and features of the world court. Citizens of Eugene will give five minute speeches expressing their approval or disapproval of the world court.

The meeting will be held Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce. It comes as a result of many expressions of the citizens of Eugene regarding the isolation policy which the United States has pursued.

FATHER OF VIRGIL EARL DIES IN PORTLAND HOME

MONTANA GAME SET FOR TONIGHT

Oregon Hoopsters Will Play Against Quintet Composed Of Men of Football Fame

GRIZZLY TEAM STRONG

Varsity Five Handicapped by Poor Playing Condition As Result of Vaccination

When the Oregon varsity lines up against the Montana quintet at 7:15, it will be matched against a team of stars from the gridiron. The Grizzly quintet is made up from a squad of football luminaries.

Should the Lemon-Yellow check the smashing and sweeping offensive of the Northern team, they will stand a good chance to defeat the Montana five. Due to their unexpected victory over the Idaho quintet, the Grizzlies are rated as one of the strongest teams in the conference. Also in the Washington-Montana contest, Montana proved to be a dangerous opponent to the Husky five, since only in the final part of the second period were the Washington forwards able to break through the Montana defense, step into the lead and consequently defeat the Grizzlies.

Oregon Yet Undeclared

The Oregon basketball team is slated to give Oregon a torrid battle this Saturday in the Oregon-Husky contest.

The varsity will be handicapped in the respect that the team is in poor playing condition. Hobson is still suffering from a sore arm due to a recent vaccination and is not able to play his usual standard of game. The rest of the regulars have also been vaccinated but are able to play with little difficulty.

So far this season, Oregon has not met a coast conference team and sports experts are rather doubtful if the green Oregon basketball team can stand the attack of a powerful quintet.

Probable Lineup Given

Should the varsity lose to the Montana quintet tonight, the rating of the Oregon five in the coast conference standings would not be affected, and Oregon would still be in the race for the conference pennant. However, in the Northwest ratings, Oregon would be marked down for a defeat. Montana is in the coast conference, but the results of the games do not count for or against the opponents of the Grizzlies—Montana being the only team that records the results of her contests.

The probable lineup for the game tonight is as follows:

Oregon	Montana
Hobson	F..... G. Dahlberg
Gowans	F..... Vanev
Okerberg	C..... Illman
Gillenwaters	G..... Sweet
Westergren	G..... O. Dahlberg
