

STUDENTS WRITE ACT FOR VOD-VIL

Novel Musical Comedy to Make Appearance

TRYOUT DATES GIVEN

All Urged to Compete for Places on Cast

A musical comedy which promises to be of unusual excellence is now being prepared for the Junior Vod-Vil by a group of students whose names are being withheld until a later date. It is reported that the production will be a live comedy graced with several new and original selections, which will undoubtedly be accepted with enthusiasm by the University students.

Character Roles Available
Mrs. Lyle Palmer (Imogene Litcher), who composed the music and wrote the lines for the musical comedies for the past two years, is not on the campus this year. Others who feel that the musical comedy is one of the essential features of the Vod-Vil, are working diligently to produce a novel and appropriate number this year.

A day will be set aside during the week of the regular Junior Vod-Vil tryouts, in which the students who feel that they are capable of handling stage work, will be reviewed by the tryout judges and will be selected for the various roles in the chorus and character work.

Tryout Dates Scheduled

It is urged that all students try out for this musical comedy, as it will offer excellent opportunity to gain experience in this line and to make their talent available for the selection of the cast. Any of those who feel that they have the talent but perhaps not the "looks," should not be timorous about attending the "show-off" as there are a number of unusually good character bits which will require good acting, regardless of pulchritude.

The week of February 16 has been set aside by the committee in charge as the time for the Junior Vod-Vil tryouts. The day for the musical comedy tryouts will be announced later.

McKINDREE CO-EDS GIVE IDEAS ON COLLEGE MEN

McKindree College.—Have you shiny hair? Do you wear bell-bottom trousers? Can you cover the ground with man-like strides without seeming to hurry? Have you a mustache? If you possess these qualifications you are an ideal man in the eyes of the co-eds of this college. The traits most condemned were cursing and not knowing how to act in public. All these requisites of the collegiate Beau Brummel were revealed in a questionnaire circulated on the campus here last week.

BEULAH SMITH RECOVERING FROM CHOCOLATE BURNS

Beulah Smith, sophomore in the school of journalism, was severely burned Tuesday night at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. A container of hot chocolate was sitting on a stove, with the lid tightly clamped on the container. As Miss Smith was passing, the steam, because of the high pressure it had developed, pushed the lid off. The scalding hot chocolate covered her face, neck, and left hand. Miss Smith is now recovering in the infirmary.

KATHERINE SLADE TAKES POSITION AS SECRETARY

Miss G. R. Page, who has been secretary at the appointment bureau of education, since last fall, recently resigned, and will leave in about a month for California where she will visit for a time. Miss Katherine Slade, who has been employed in the administration office during the past two and one half years, and who has also been secretary to L. H. Johnson, comptroller of the University, will be the new bureau secretary.

STUDENTS WRITE MILLIONS OF WORDS DURING QUIZZES

University of Oklahoma.—Judging from the number of quiz books sold by the book exchange, and allowing only 60 words to the page, it is estimated that 720,000,000 words are written in quizzes each semester. That many words would fill 7,200 average size novels. One man writing in long-hand ten hours a day, would be more than 200 years old before he could accomplish so much.

PATRONIZE EMERALD ADVERTISERS

Volume Printed in 1863 Gives Timely Talks
Writer Expresses Ideas On Education

Tucked away behind a row of formidable Latin dictionaries in the library vault is an insignificant looking little old volume, with the front cover torn off, revealing the rather intriguing title, "Of Education, Especially of Young Gentlemen." The author's name is not visible on the title, but at the bottom of the page is the inscription: "Printed at the Theatre for Amos Curteyne, Ann. 1683."

A few quotations from this volume illustrate the writer's attitude toward topics of that day that are still discussed. For example: "Dancing is a moderate exercise, so much whereof is to be learned as may give a good and graceful motion of the body, but there is nothing which doth more dissipate the powers of the spirit, nor more enervate the forces of the Soul, than the ravishing harmony, the continual agitation of the body and the charms of the ladies' conversation."

Mencken himself might have said this: "Delighting in gallantry commonly portends lowness and weakness in spirit, as have those women who have nothing but their outsides to entitle them to humanity."

The one-sided athlete is analyzed: "Some there are who are lazy and unindustrious to study, yet very active and sprightly in bodily exercises; these many times are fitter for other employments than learning." And again: "Wisdom is made to rule, and yet magistrates generally are readier to make use of their power than their wisdom, of their will than reason."

This book, which contains much of what is said and done today, was written 250 years ago.

Varsity Captures Hoop Game From Montana; Personal Fouls Called

either make or break the varsity in its race for the conference pennant. The Oregon basketballers have scored seven straight victories, but the Huskies are doped to give the varsity a stiff battle tomorrow night. The northern team stands with about the same rating as the Oregon team in the northwest conference as neither five has suffered a defeat up to the present time.

The lineup and summary of the Oregon-Montana game is as follows:

WARNING!

We have been notified by the Holeproof Hosiery Company that certain house-to-house canvassers are taking advantage of the reputation and quality of Holeproof Hosiery and are going around the country posing as agents for Holeproof Hosiery and soliciting orders.

Many people have placed orders with these supposed Holeproof agents, paid a deposit, and have never received hosiery nor heard from them again. Holeproof Hosiery is sold only through retail stores and as dealers in this famous quality hosiery we carry complete stocks, and both we and the manufacturers stand back of every pair we sell.

Why take chances on being deceived or receiving inferior goods by buying from canvassers when you can come here and be certain of getting highest quality merchandise at lower prices than canvassers asks? We welcome the opportunity to prove this to you.
