

TRACKMEN MEET THIS WEEK-END

Competition Tomorrow is First One of Year

EVENT STARTS AT 2:30

Distances Are Cut Down Because of Season

Rain or shine, the first competition of the track season is scheduled for next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on Hayward field. Seven events will be run off, with approximately 80 men competing. Bill Hayward says that the men on the list must turn out on time or they might as well turn in their equipment. Intense work is beginning in track with these competitions every Saturday until the meets begin so that Hayward must eliminate all the men who are not willing to work.

In the field events the freshmen aspirants will be combined with the varsity but in the sprints they will come in different heats. The events to be run off are all cut down from the regular distance because of the early season condition of the track men. They are 75 yards, 3-4 mile, 60 yard high hurdles, 300 yard dash, shot put, high jump and javelin.

Event to Place Men

The main idea of the competition is to give Bill Hayward a chance to see who are his best men and the men whom he can figure on for the spring training. Another value of the meets is to place the men in their proper events. Many of the freshmen have entered events which they have chosen themselves. These may be the wrong events and the competition will bring that out.

"The showing has been good so far, considering the bad weather," said Bill yesterday. "But I expect every man out there Saturday afternoon. The events will start promptly at 2:30."

The track will be in fairly good shape. The new 220 yard straightaway will not be in condition until later in the year. A new layer of cinders will be put on and other work done on it. Officials for the competition will be picked later.

Events are Listed

The events and the entrants as they will be run off are as follows: 3-4 mile—Broderon, Overstreet, Kelly, Nash, Mathews, Barnes, Swank, Keating, Tetz, Button, Nelson, Humphrey, Blakney, Martin.

The relays will be on Hayward field this year. They will include, the 4 mile relay, 2 mile relay, 1 mile relay, 880 relay, 440 relay and medley relay.

WASHINGTON STUDENTS BUILD SETS FOR STAGE

University of Washington.—The theatre workshop, one of the new features of the rapidly growing dramatic department of the university, has for its principle work the designing and construction of model stage sets. The instructor is Burton W. James, instructor of dramatics at the Cornish school, who teaches university classes in dramatic interpretation and the theatre workshop.

Designing and construction of model stage sets have been the principal work of the past quarter, and some clever and colorful sets decorate the workshop. The class also did practical construction work on the stage for the last all-university play.

This must be done before nine o'clock on the day of the game. These regulations will be strictly enforced, it was announced. Responsibility in these matters will be a determining factor in the awarding of points and appointment on the Mythical All-Star and special teams at the end of the season. All players are asked to appear in regulation gymnasium clothes.

Points will be adjusted for first team substitutes who play in a full game.

VISIBLE MOON ECLIPSE TO OCCUR FEBRUARY 9

Lunar Phenomena Foretold By Mathematics

"A partial eclipse of the moon will occur Monday, February 9, at one A. M."

Such is a statement given out by Professor E. H. McAlister, of the mechanics and astronomy department.

The next solar eclipse will take place July 21, Professor McAlister said. It will be unusual in that a circle of light will be seen around the outside of the moon when it covers the center of the sun. He suggested that a dime, representing the moon, be placed on a nickel, the sun, to illustrate what the effect will be.

"Eclipses can be foretold for several centuries ahead," Professor

McAlister said. "It is all a matter of mathematics. Eclipses of the sun always come at the time of the new moon, while those of the moon come with the full moon. There are always at least two solar eclipses a year, and never more than five. Some years see no lunar eclipses, while three is the maximum number."

"One year, every eighteen years there is a total of seven eclipses," stated Professor McAlister. "In 1917 we had four of the sun and three of the moon. There will be five solar and two lunar in 1935."

An eclipse of the sun, he explained, is the result of the moon's coming between the earth and the sun, so that the light of the sun is shut off. A lunar eclipse is caused by the moon going through the shadow cast by the earth on the side farthest from the sun.

NO RULES FOR WOMEN AT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY

Baylor University.—There are no rules for co-eds laid down by the dean of women at Baylor university. When the girl does things that are not considered proper, she is brought before the dean for a frank discussion.

Some of the things mentioned as not being proper are conversing through windows to persons on the outside, sitting in cars parked about the campus, leaving candy and cake in rooms because it encourages mice, and returning to the dormitories after the doors are locked.
