

PORTLAND STAFF NAMED IN PART

Campus Professors Listed For Summer Session

TEN MEMBERS CHOSEN

Dean Earl Kilpatrick to Be Director of Center

Besides the leading educators from other institutions of higher learning which always make up the faculty of the summer sessions of the University, there will be ten members of the regular University staff teaching in the Portland session this summer, running from June 22 to July 31. The extension division is not ready to announce who will make up the staff of the visiting educators from other institutions; but it points out that the following ten are definitely to be on the faculty at the Portland center.

Kilpatrick to Give Course
Dean Earl Kilpatrick will direct the summer school work at the Portland center again this year. He will also give his course in community organization. Alfred Powers, who will assist in the direction of the Portland session, will give a course in journalism.

Mrs. Leonard Jordan, formerly Miss Grace Edgington, of the English and journalism departments and at one time alumni secretary, will give two courses in writing. She will give a course in short story writing, and one in advanced writing.

Session Staff to Be Large
The following instructors complete the list of ten, Professor A. R. Sweetser, botany; Professor P. A. Parsons, sociology; Professor F. M. Warrington, Romance languages; Professor Harold Benjamin, education; Ralph Hoerber, public speaking; Miss Margaret Creech, sociology; and Professor E. E. DeCau, mathematics.

With courses to be given by the leading educators from the other institutions, the extension division believes that the faculty will be large enough to present a wide range of subjects so that a student will have little difficulty in supplying summer school needs.

L'Automne

The sun—
Like a dripping bucket of gold
Hangs over the earth-line.
Showers of emerald and amethyst grapes—
Frosted matins
Web the grasses
With nets of pearls.
—Trees
Peeling their flakes of gilt
Down on nymphs
With butter-yellow satin hair.
—Golden panthers
And red oaks—crouch alike.
Amber are the oranges
Against the holy blue skies.
Coral branches of sunset light
Feel across the valley tops.
—Air, like sea god's wine—
Blowing—
Through my heart.
—ELEANOR D. BURTCHAELL, '27.

"Let Me Not Forget"

Though I may go down far ways,
Let me not forget the wind
And the dark kind mountains—
The weary friendliness
Of the scarred earth at rest.
—EUNICE JONSRUD, '25.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED AT UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL

Election of second-semester officers was held at the University high school yesterday. Gordon Ridings was chosen vice-president; Roger DeBusk, secretary; Gordon Stearns, treasurer; and Franklin Hall, sergeant-at-arms. DeVerl Hempy, student body president, retains his office for the entire year.

STUDENT INJURES WRIST WHILE CHOPPING WOOD

Edward Erdner, a freshman in pre-law, accidentally cut his left wrist with an ax Tuesday afternoon while he was engaged in chopping wood. He was near the Eugene hospital at the time and was treated by Dr. F. N. Miller, a local doctor and part-time doctor at the University dispensary. Four tendons were cut in Erdner's wrist and there was some bone injury, although not of a serious nature, according to the doctor. Erdner is in the infirmary at present.

cussion. Frances Dodds is the leader.

At the meeting of the group studying Switzerland, which was held yesterday, Miss Sue Badollet told of the lace-making, wood-carving and the general peasant life of Switzerland. Miss Badollet travelled in Europe last summer and her talk was met with much interest on the part of the members of the group. Genevieve Chase is the leader of the group.

Other groups which met yesterday were those studying Italy and India. The former, of which Maxine Koon is the leader, was a discussion which took place at the Anchorage during the noon hour. At the latter meeting, also held at the Anchorage during the noon hour, Sayta D. Loompa gave an interesting talk on the politics of India. Deloris Pearson is the leader of this group.

C. D. THORPE RECEIVES OFFER OF PUBLICATION

Publication of his book, "The Mind of Keats," has just been offered by the Oxford Press, to C. D. Thorpe, associate professor of English, according to a letter recently received by Professor Howe. Professor Thorpe is, at present, taking his doctor's degree at the University of Michigan, where he holds an assistant professorship.

The book, which is based on his thesis, has been in preparation for several years. Professor Thorpe expressed himself as being very gratified at the offer. The date of publication is not known as yet. Professor Thorpe will return to the campus in the fall and will teach a number of new courses in advanced English. Students have previously had some difficulty in arranging for such courses, but Professor Howe says that next year the department will be able to take care of all those who desire to enroll in the more advanced English classes.

ADVERTISING CLASS HEARS TALK BY FRANKLIN ALLEN

Franklin S. Allen, '13, for the past two years manager of the real estate advertising of the New York American, spoke to Professor W. F. G. Thacher's advertising class yesterday on the phase of the work in which he is interested. He recited some of the experiences he had in his work, and emphasized the qualities an advertising solicitor should have.

"Beautiful!" He said to her — and she replied: "Don't Compliment Me—Thank Boncilla"

THERE'S a thrill of accomplishment in being able to command admiration for one's personal charm. And yet what an army of women there are who, through carelessness or neglect, fail to bring out in their faces the beauty with which Nature endowed them!

It's so easy if you will—so different if you do!

Boncilla, Clasmic Beautifier—a beautifier in fact as well as in name—is unlike any other skin-tone, both in method of operation and results.

Boncilla Beautifier absorbs impurities like a magnet. It draws out by its original absorption method from deep down in the pores. It removes all imperfections caused by clogging the skin with dirt, dust, excess oils and other impurities. Boncilla Beautifier gives your skin a "beauty bath" and permits your facial tissues to work their own wonderful magic of rejuvenation.

Boncilla Does the Real Work — You Merely Apply It

This blue-gray wonder-worker is both soothing and refreshing. The moment it meets your skin it begins to lift out lines and wrinkles—to banish pimples and blackheads—to strengthen tired muscles and make them firm and healthy—to freshen you up and put the glow of youth in your features.

50c Will Buy a Boncilla Pack O' Beauty

All toilet counters sell it. Get yours today and start the Boncilla treatments tonight. This package contains four trial Boncilla treatments—Boncilla Beautifier, the two Boncilla Creams and Boncilla Face Powder. Later, you will want the larger and more economical packages.
