

'OLD OREGON' OUT FOR THIS MONTH

New Editor Features Music And Sports

ENROLLMENT IS LARGER

Whereabouts of Unknown Alumni Are Sought

Another "Old Oregon," alumni publication edited by Jeanette Calkins, is in circulation among alumni and students. The February issue, off the press yesterday, contains stories by alumni and campus writers telling of their respective activities.

Herbert Thompson, ex-'96, who has in the past, contributed articles to "Old Oregon" is the author of "Singers, Reed Organs, and W. F. Squads." It tells of early musical days in Eugene.

Special Articles Appear

In each issue appears a sketch of one of the deans of the campus, running under the title of "Under the Gargoyles." Dean F. G. Young, of the sociology department is the subject of the latest sketch. Carlton Spencer, registrar of the University, has shown graphically the increase of enrollment in the University in the past 23 years, with an article giving in detail the registration figures of the various departments and schools on the campus.

A report of gift campaign directors appears in the magazine, with another article giving the progress of the campaign geographically. It is interesting to note donations from Alaska, Canada, Chile, Mexico, Haiti, Japan, and the Philippine Islands.

The cover of the booklet is a picture of the orchestra and the University choir in the new auditorium of the music building. On the subject of music is an article telling of the completion of the auditorium; a picture of the men's glee club accompanies the article.

Other Features Included

Harry Scott is the author of "Physical Education for Men at Oregon," an article taking up the various phases of athletics taught in his department. Scott is director of the men's physical education department. The article is illustrated by photographs of wrestling, boxing, and fencing.

A new feature in the magazine is a page of "These Are Lost!" It is a list of alumni whose whereabouts are unknown. The usual campus notes, sporting news, and alumni notes makes up a large part of the magazine. Accompanying the campus notes are several photographs of groups and activities—the women's glee club; a scene from "Yellow Candlelight;" a group picture of the Phi Sigma Pi's, telling of their installation into Theta Chi which is to take place next week.

The sport section contains pictures of the basketball squad, the Oregon Knights and "Dick" Smith, new football mentor. The section is edited by Webster Jones. Short news articles and editorial complete the make-up of the publication.

"Kempy" to Be Presented By Mask and Buskin At Heilig Next Thursday

Zehring; but out of spite, marries Kempy. Kempy is in love with Ruth Bence, Elizabeth Kerr, and finds himself married to her sister. "Dad" Bence, Gordon Wilson, wants Kate to marry Duke. The unravelling of this interesting tangle keeps the audience in suspense through the whole three acts.

Seat Prices Set
For several years past, Mask and Buskin has given one play a year at the Heilig with great success.

"The Dover Road" was presented last year with Darrell Larsen and Kate Pinneo in the leading parts. Plans are being laid by the organization to present "Kempy" in Portland some time during March.

The prices for "Kempy" have been set at $1.00 and 75 cents. Seats in the upper balcony will be sold at 50 cents. All of the business and advertising is under the direction of James Leake with the assistance of Robert Love.

Thursday night will be an open night. Students may have "dates," and University women will be allowed to stay out until 12:15.

VIRGINIA JUDY ESTERLY LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE

Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly left yesterday on the Shasta for Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will attend the National Conference of the Dean of Women which will be held at the Hotel Gibson, where Mrs. Esterly is to stay while there. On the way east, she plans to visit at the University of Chicago and on the return trip, at Northwestern university and the University of Cincinnati.

Reveals the beauty of the Scarlet Tanager

Remember This Pen's Record
Has Never Been Equalled
When You're Offered a Pen "as good as the Duofold"

REMEMBER the four crack Pennsy train dispatchers who have written at a grueling pace with Parker Duofold, 8 hours a day for about two years. Or the man in Los Angeles who signed his name to 1067 checks in an hour and 30 minutes, without refilling his Duofold once. Or the 31,000 hotel guests who registered with a Duofold that still writes as if only one hand had ever used it.

Yes, the Duofold's super-smooth point has a speedy gait on paper, and no style of writing can distort it.

And this black-tipped lacquered beauty will ever flash your eye its friendly reminder not to leave your pen behind when you lay it down.

EXTENSION LECTURES DEAL WITH EDUCATION

Four Addresses Scheduled To Be Given This Week

The extension division's lecture service will furnish four lectures this week to the state at large, according to Miss Mary Kent, in charge of this activity for the division. All four of the lectures will be in the field of education since the calls for the service have been from educational organizations.

"The Teacher, the Preserver of Civilization," is the title of a lecture to be given to a teachers' institute at Springfield, Saturday, by Dr. Dan Clark, head of the history department.

"What Shall We Teachers Read?" is the title of another teacher's institute lecture to be given at the Forest Grove teacher's institute Saturday by Professor E. F. Carl-
