

OREGON MEETS IDAHO TONIGHT

Varsity Basketball Team Faces Crucial Contest On Moscow Hoop Floor

REGULARS IN CONDITION

Students Send Messages To Encourage Squad in Dash for Title Honors

Oregon meets Idaho tonight at Moscow. The game will be an important one for Oregon. Victory may mean a tie for the northern division honors. Defeat means that the varsity is in second place. If the game is won, only one obstacle stands in the way of a play-off series with O. A. C. That is the game with Washington. Coach Reinhart's men will have more than an even break with the Huskies.

Yesterday telegrams representing the entire student body, the Emerald, and dozens of individual organizations went over the wire to the Oregon coach and his hard fighting men. A marked copy of the Emerald, with its radio jubilee news display, went to every player by special delivery.

Send Many Messages
The entire student body is back of the team. That means a great deal to the men away from home, on a strange floor. It is the next best thing to a widely enthusiastic rooting section. The stimulus may be just enough to turn the game for Oregon.

The varsity was not pushed hard to win the Cougar contest Tuesday night, and the men are in excellent condition. A day's rest will take away any fog that the W. S. C. game might have caused.

The regular Oregon line-up will start against the Vandals. Hobson, whose playing was the most sensational seen on the Cougar floor this season, and Gowans, star floor man and expert converter, will start at forward. Okerberg, whose unerring eye has placed him among the leaders in conference scoring, will be at center, while Westergren, with either Jost or Gillenwater, will be checking at the guards.

Idaho will use their regular line-up. Nelson and Penwell or Green, forwards; Erickson, center; and Miles and Canine, guards.

The Vandals have a consistent scoring machine, and their teamwork is an outstanding feature. They will be further aided by the peculiar Idaho floor, which proved the undoing of the Washington five in their game at Moscow.

Expect Bitter Fight
It will be a bitter fight, for the Northerners are out to avenge the 48 to 35 defeat handed them here two weeks ago. Oregon will rely mainly on its checking ability to win the game.

If Oregon comes out of this contest victorious, several Oregon students are planning to journey to Seattle to support the varsity. Two victories will give the Oregon team a chance at a series with the Aggies. This may be played in Portland next week. The victor would then be entitled to play the winner in the southern division for Coast honors.

More telegrams, crammed with Oregon spirit, are expected to go to Moscow today. The address, "Billy Reinhart, Coach, Oregon Basketball team, University of Idaho, Moscow," will take any telegram direct to the coach and team.

TRY-OUTS FOR VODVIL WILL CONTINUE TODAY

Announcement of those selected for parts in the musical comedy, which will be presented at Junior Vodvil May 8 and 9, will not be made for several days, according to a statement made by Paul Krausse, chairman, last evening.

The first try-outs were held in the Campa Shoppe yesterday afternoon; but since they will not be completed until this afternoon, no selections have been made as yet.

Selections of the headliners for the Vodvil acts will probably be made within a few days.

Mrs. Warner Back After Shortening Trip Through Siam

Mrs. Murray Warner, donor of the Murray Warner art collection, arrived in Eugene yesterday. Mrs. Warner was beginning a tour with two of her friends which would take her through Siam and other oriental countries but, upon receiving word of the illness of her mother, discontinued the trip returning immediately to the United States.

Mrs. Warner brought many pieces of art with her but there is not room enough in the University Museum for them. She expects to remain in Eugene for a few weeks.

EXAMS FOR SWIMMERS SCHEDULED NEXT WEEK

Final Tests Will Be Held For Life Savers

Final preparations are under way for the examination of all students trying out for the Red Cross life saving corps, to be given by Rudolph Fahl, swimming instructor, and his five assistants. The final examination is scheduled to be given on March 6 and 7.

So far only about 40 men have signified their intentions of taking this test and as there will be openings for 45, Fahl asks that all other students wishing to participate, should make arrangements for instructions from him or an assistant. These men should report at the office of the physical education department as soon as possible.

The present board of examiners consists of Rudolph Fahl, L. Palmer, Bob Bartlett, and L. Webster. At least three of these members will have to watch the men taking the test and report favorably before they can become members of the local corps.

Any student passing the examination with a grade of 90 per cent or better will automatically become a member of the board of examiners. Students receiving a grade of less than 90 per cent will become ordinary members of the life saving corps.

Instruction hours have been changed and from now on C. A. Kilgore will hold a class every morning, except Thursday, from 10:30 until 11:00 a. m. The afternoon classes will be taken care of by Palmer on Monday, from 2:30 until 3:30; Smith on Tuesday, from 4 to 5; Bartlett on Wednesday, from 2:30 until 3:30; Stone on Thursday, from 4 until 5; and Hoblitt on Friday, from 2:30 until 3:30. Instruction will be given on Saturday by special arrangement with one of the instructors.

MUSIC FRATERNITIES GIVE JOINT CONCERTS

Joint concerts by Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu Alpha, national musical fraternities, were given last Friday and Monday evenings. The one Monday night was given at Wendling, twenty miles from Eugene. Friday night the program was presented at logging camp number 35, a distance of fifteen miles from Wendling.

The trip to Wendling has become an annual affair with the two organizations and the concerts this year like those previously given were well attended. Both concerts were followed by a dance.

The program was spontaneous which gave it a variety that was exceptionally appealing. Among some of the numbers were a piano solo by Esther Church, violin solo by Nina Warnock, vocal duet by Betty Nelson and Dick Adam, vocal solos by Aubrey Furry and Dick Adam and a piano, violin and vocal trio by other members of the organizations.

Following is the personnel of those making the trips: Betty Nelson, Esther Church, Frances Pierce, Nina Warnock, Mildred Berkeley, Harriett Baldwin, Aubrey Furry and Dick Adam. James Leake managed the concerts.

RELIGION TO BE ASSEMBLY TOPIC

Dr. P. A. Parsons, Director Of Portland Social Work Center, to Make Address

SPEAKER EXPERIENCED

Music Will Be Furnished By Lora Teshner, Cellist, and Alberta Potter, Violinist

"Status of Religion in Modern Culture" is to be the topic for an address by Dr. P. A. Parsons, director of the Portland center of the school of social work, at assembly this morning.

The musical program for the hour follows:
(a) A Dream Bartlett
(b) Polonaise Popper
Lora Teshner, cello

(a) Slavonic Dance
Dvorak-Kreislter
(b) Guitar Losvkowski
Alberta Potter, violin

Dr. Parsons will deal in his lecture with problems arising in connection with education and religion which have conflicted in the past.

Experience is Wide
Dr. Parson graduated from the Christian University of Missouri, and was a graduate student and research fellow in the school of philosophy at Columbia university in New York, receiving his degree as doctor of philosophy in 1909.

Until 1920, when he came to Portland, he was director of the University Settlement at Syracuse and a member of the faculty, as well as being a lecturer in the department of immigrant education for the state of New York. Since coming to Portland, he has acted as advisor of the social agencies there and has brought about co-operation among them.

Book is Published
In the fall of 1924, Dr. Parsons published a book, "An Introduction to Modern Social Problems," which deals with the historic elements of the social problems, and the causes for them. He deals with education and inspiration as a solution for the problems.

Dr. Parsons comes to the campus each week to meet a class in sociology.

New Club Formed For Purpose of Improving Radio

A radio club for the purpose of improving radio utility in Eugene was organized Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The group will attempt to secure some professional or government man to come to Eugene to check up on the amateur operation of radio, and any other interferences with radio reception which he may find.

All the students and faculty men who are interested may become charter members of the club by paying a dollar fee before the first of March. When O. R. Redfern, the government inspector for the Northwest is in Eugene, the body will be reorganized in respect to fees.

The officers elected for the club are: A. S. Myers, president; W. N. Winther, vice president; and Robert Callahan, secretary and treasurer. The time for the next meeting has not as yet been definitely determined.

PROFESSOR COMPARES THEOLOGY AND SCIENCE

Differences Attributed to Lack of Knowledge

"Honesty, charity, and faith," are the virtues of the scientist, in contrast with "faith, hope, and charity," of the Christian religion," said Dr. William P. Boynton, head of the department of physics, before an audience in Alumni hall, last night.

The scientist must work on the assumption that the universe is organized in an orderly fashion. This is faith, said Dr. Boynton. A spirit of tolerance is essential to the man of science, the speaker continued. The open mind, is also a necessity.

Most of the supposed conflict between science and religion is due to lack of knowledge, the speaker asserted. As there is a difference of opinion between the young and old, so is there a difference between theology and science. Religion is older than any recorded history; science is a "veritable youngster."

The religionist is the man who is devoted to the very real values of religion. The scientist attempts to discover the new real things. He

(Continued on page four)

McCROSKY IS TRY-OUT WINNER

Freshman Will Represent Oregon in the Oratory Contest at Pacific Soon

TWO PRIZES TOTAL $125

Nine Institutions Compete; Winning Orations to Go In For National Award

Benoit McCroskey was chosen winner in the try-outs for the Peace Oratory contest, held Tuesday afternoon. Jack McGuire placed second in the event. McCroskey will represent the University at the Peace Oratory contest at Pacific college, Newberg, on April 3. Five other students also entered the try-outs.

Oscar A. Brown, E. W. Merrill and H. E. Rosson, of the public speaking department, acted as judges of the contest.

Contest is Annual
McCroskey, a freshman, was a member of the debate team which defeated the University of Idaho here two weeks ago. While attending high school in Salem he was active in forensics, winning the state high school oratorical championship and representing the state of Oregon in try-outs for the national oratorical contest held in California, in which he placed second.

The Peace Oratory contest is an annual affair held under the auspices of the National Intercollegiate Peace association, which also sponsors similar contests in colleges throughout the United States.

Two Prizes Offered
Two cash prizes of $75 and $50 will be given to students placing first and second in the state meet at Newberg.

In addition to these awards, the winners' orations will be sent to the national headquarters of the association for a final competition, where they will be judged for thought and composition. The prize to be awarded for the winning oration of this contest is $100.

Nine educational institutions in the state are entering the contest. They are: Pacific college, Albany college, Linfield college, Oregon State Normal school, Eugene Bible university, Oregon Agricultural college, Willamette university, Pacific university, and the University of Oregon.

Students Organize Coos County Club With 50 Members

To interest high school students and the people of Coos county, 50 students from that district who are attending the University organized last week the Coos County club.

The club is planning a dance for high school seniors from the southwestern portion of the state who will enter college next fall. This University dance will be given during spring vacation in Marshfield.

Other plans include several dances and parties to be given on the campus. The first of which will be a skating party to-night following a business meeting at 7 o'clock at the College Side Inn.

UNCLAIMED ARTICLES TO BE PLACED ON SALE

Women's League to Dispose Of Various Objects

The auction sale, to be given next Tuesday morning by the Women's League, necessitates the immediate identification of articles lost last year on the campus.

Owners of these articles will be given a chance to identify them every afternoon, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday, between 3 and 3:30. The articles, given by the University Lost and Found department, are stored in the Theta Sigma Phi room on the second floor of the journalism building.

If the half hour between 3 and 3:30 conflicts with those desiring to identify articles, special appointments can be made by calling Margaret Vincent, at 851. No articles can be claimed at the auction or later than Monday afternoon. The stock includes umbrellas, coats, pens, scarfs, jewelry, and other things. None of the material was turned in to the Lost and Found department later than last November.

Randall Jones, Bob Mautz and James Leake are to serve as auctioneers. The sale will be held in front of the library from 10 to 12 Tuesday morning. Speakers will canvass living organizations Monday.

PI BETA PHI BEATEN BY SIGMA BETA PHI

Sigma Beta Phi won the swim-off of their tie with Pi Beta Phi last night by one point, 34-33. The meet between the Kappa Alpha Theta and Hendricks I teams stands unfinished, 32 to 30 in favor of the Thetas, with the relay yet to take place. It is expected that this meet will be completed today at 12 o'clock.

In the Sigma Beta Phi-Pi Beta Phi meet, individual scores were as follows: Sigma Phi—Emily Houston, 8; Marie Strube, 8; Marian Hays, 9; Helen Reynolds, 3; Laura Prescott, 1.

Pi Beta Phi—Janet Wood, 13; Myrtle Mast, 9; Adelaide Hall, 4; Mildred Coleman, 7.

The meet by events:
20-yard free style—Emily Houston, first; Marie Strube, second; Mildred Coleman, third.

Plunge for distance—Marian Hays, first; Emily Houston, second; Mildred Coleman, third.

40-yard free style—Janet Wood, first; Marian Hays, second; Adelaide Hall, third.

Strokes for form—Mildred Coleman, first; Myrtle Mast, second; Marian Hays, third.

20-yard back crawl—Marie Strube, first; Janet Wood, second; Myrtle Mast, third.

20-yard breast stroke—Myrtle Mast, first; Adelaide Hall, second; Emily Houston, disqualified; Marie Strube, disqualified.

Dives—Janet Wood, first; Helen Reynolds, second; Laura Prescott, third.

Relay—Sigma Beta Phi.

MASK AND BUSKIN COMEDY TONIGHT

Ten-Thirty Rule for Women Wishing to Attend Play Lifted By Committee

WALTER MALCOLM LEAD

Good Seats for Production Of 'Kempy' At Heilig Still Available Says Manager

The first and only performance of "Kempy," side-splitting farce comedy, by Mask and Buskin, chapter of Associated University Players, will be given tonight at the Heilig theatre, at 8:30 o'clock. Although some plans have been made to take "Kempy" to Portland, it is certain, according to Bernard McPhillips, president of the organization, that there will be no other performance in Eugene.

Tickets are selling rapidly for the production, announced James Leake, business manager for Mask and Buskin, late yesterday, but there are still many good seats which may be purchased at the box office of the Heilig. Prices as announced are $1.00, 75 cents, and 50 cents.

Comedy Plot Given

"Kempy" is a "sure-fire" comedy with Gordon Wilson, as "Pa" Bence, father of three marriageable daughters, playing the chief humorous character. Bernard McPhillips takes the part of the snappy, flashily-dressed real estate agent who has married one of the Bence daughters and who attempts to aid "Pa" in his plans to marry off the other two. Helen Park as "Ma" Bence, is the mother, and Jane BoDine, Elizabeth Kerr, and Helga McGrew as Kate, Ruth, and Jane, respectively, are the three daughters themselves. Clifford Zehring as the millionaire lawyer, Duke Merrill, is the bait for which the Bences are angling and Walter Malcom, as Kempy, the plumber with ambitions, is the one who is caught.

Success of Play Noted

"Kempy" was written by two vaudeville monologists who are veterans of the theatre and have combined in it all the elements which make a comedy successful—humor, clever lines, suspense, surprise—all are included. Two years ago, "Kempy" was the biggest comedy hit of the New York season and it has only recently been released for amateur production.

Mask and Buskin has presented each year for several seasons past, at least one play, usually given at the Heilig theatre. Many students remember "The Dover Road," presented last year with Darrell Larsen and Kate Pinneo in the lead. "Come Out of the Kitchen" was the play given the year before.

By special permission of the student affairs committee, tonight has been made an open night. Students may have "dates" and University women are allowed to stay out after 10:30 o'clock, to attend.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN CAMPUS PIPELINE

A few minor improvements are being made on the campus from time to time as the weather permits. Work is progressing once again on the laying of the section pipe from the mill race to the heating plant. This has required several days labor as the pipe had to be taken up from its old place where the old heating plant used to stand. The necessity of crossing the railroad tracks has made the task more difficult.

"This weather has played havoc with the work, as the rain filled in the trench which had been made and now the mud has to be taken out," said Mr. Fisher, who is in charge of the laying of the section pipe.

Another improvement is the removal of the wire fencing which stood around the old tennis courts between the library and commerce building.

"KEMPY," SHOWING TONIGHT

Left to right—Walter Malcolm, Betty Kerr, Clifford Zehring, Gordon Wilson, Jane BoDine.