

MEDICAL SCHOOL FUNDS GRANTED

Students Permitted Use Of Multnomah Hospital For Observation Work

AUDITORIUM IS PLANNED

Attitude of Legislature Favors University; All Appropriations Passed

Despite a strict economy program adopted by the state legislature in allowing appropriations, the University was granted the funds requested without reduction, according to Karl Onthank, executive secretary of the University, who returned to Eugene after the close of the legislative sessions, Thursday night.

The appropriations concerned only the medical school, at Portland. That branch of the University is maintained by appropriation alone, whereas the rest of the school is supported by the millage tax. No requests for funds were issued this year, other than for the medical school.

The school itself was allowed $114,161 for two year's maintenance. $61,060 was allowed for one year's maintenance of the Doernbecher children's hospital, on which construction will soon begin. Bids for work have been opened and the contract will be awarded within a few days. The structure will probably be ready for use late next fall. It is being built with money from a fund of $200,000 willed for such purposes.

Auditorium is Allowed

Two other bills passed allow students at the medical school the use of the Multnomah county hospital for observation and other work related to their studies, and permits the Eugene city council and the board of regents to make arrangements for erecting an auditorium on the campus. The latter provision is meant to remove obstacles which might arise to hinder work when started.

Besides these measures, 20 bills which indirectly bore on University affairs were introduced. The majority of these were withdrawn or failed to pass, while the remainder were so amended that they cannot have any injurious effect on the school.

Resolutions are Adopted

Resolutions were adopted thanking the Doernbecher and Jackson estates for their gifts to the University. Another asked Congress to build a veteran's hospital in Portland on the medical school grounds.

Mr. Onthank declared that the attitude of the legislature toward the school was exceptionally fine. Although other appropriations were pared as much as possible, the school was allowed its requests in full.

UNCLAIMED ARTICLES WILL GO TO HIGHEST BIDDER, TUESDAY

By E. Gady

"What am I bid for this fine scarf? One dollar? Oh, that's too little for this excellent wearing apparel. One-fifty? That's better. Two? Fine, who'll make it two-fifty? Two-fifty? Two-seventy-five? Anybody going to raise that bid? No! . . . Going for two-seventy-five! Going—going—gone, for two-seventy-five!" The voice of one of the campus auctioneers, Randall Jones, James Leake, and Bob Mautz, falls thus upon the ears of the listeners.

Scarves, jewelry, compacts, men's hats, coats and caps, umbrellas, and every conceivable object under the sun, will be knocked down to the highest bidder, next Tuesday, from 10 to 12, on the library steps. They come from the University lost and found department, being those accumulated up to last November. The auction sale is under the auspices of the Women's League.

'Shower' Yesterday Brings Useful Gifts For Y. W. Bungalow

The shower tea at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon, was successful, according to Virginia Keeney, chairman of the bungalow committee. "We received everything we could possibly need for the Bungalow," she said, "and the ladies from town were good about bringing things." A small girl opened the gifts for the guests to see after the tea was over.

Bessie Andrews, Margaret Hyatt, and Alberta Carson sang, Genevieve Phelps played the flute and Katherine Graef and Rosalie Parker gave piano selections. Four small members of the Girl Reserves served.

FROSH HOOPSTERS WIN FROM GRESHAM SQUAD

High Point Honors Taken By Joy and Eberhard

The frosh hoopsters won a listlessly played game from the Gresham high quintet yesterday afternoon by the lopsided score of 26 to 11.

The Gresham players seemed unable to locate the basket on many shots and were slow at breaking for the basket when in possession of the ball. The high point honors went to Joy and Eberhard, both of the frosh, with 8 markers each. S. Dousett, of Gresham, had 4 points and played a good game. Keenan, also of Gresham showed up best for the losers. Nelson also played well.

The frosh will next be seen in action at 3:30 today when they play the Washington high hoop men here in the men's gym.

The summary of yesterday's game is as follows:

Frosh	Gresham

FAULTY TEA WEDNESDAY HAS LARGE ATTENDANCE

The faculty tea held in Alumni hall Wednesday afternoon was well attended. The next tea will be on March 12, a change being made to the second Thursday of each month hereafter. The purpose of these teas is to enable the women of the faculty and the wives of the men connected with the University to get together informally once a month to spend the afternoon, or to drop in for a cup of tea at any time between three and six o'clock.

WOMEN'S WATER MEET TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

The decisive swimming meet for women in the elimination-consolation tournament scheduled to take place between League I and League II last night at 5 o'clock will be one of the aquatic events this afternoon. This meet, which will take place at 4:15, between Tri-Delt and Theta will be followed by the Sigma Beta Phi-Susan Campbell I meet scheduled for 4:30.

"As soon as a team loses a meet it is eligible for the elimination-consolation tournament," said Miss Page, swimming instructor, in explaining the elimination-consolation basis. It is the championship of these teams which will be decided at their next meet Saturday afternoon.

The League championship will be determined after the consolation tournament has been terminated. The teams to engage in this second contest will be the winners in their separate leagues, and will each have a clear record. The plan is worked out on the order of a spell-down and the consolation. VARSITY-O.A.C. SWIM IS TODAY

First Intercollegiate Home Contest to Start At 3 This Afternoon

CLOSE MEET PREDICTED

Boggs Ineligible Through Registration Rule; Burk Out With Sprained Wrist

The varsity swimming team will engage in its first home intercollegiate meet against the Aggie aggregation here this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

"Bob" Boggs, holder of the state record in the 220-yard dash, will be ineligible for this meet because of the intercollegiate ruling which states that all men have to have at least one full year registration in school prior to entering meets with varsity teams. Peterson of the Aggies comes under the same ruling but will be eligible for freshman competition.

Burk, Oregon entrant in the 50 and 100-yard dash and member of the relay team will not be able to compete because of a sprained wrist which has played havoc with his swimming for the week.

Teams Evenly Matched

This is expected to be a close meet if comparative scores made against Multnomah club of Portland are used. Both teams hold about even scores against the clubmen.

The freshman team will line up against the Rooks as a preliminary meet for the varsity contest. They are slated to start at promptly 2 o'clock. According to Coach Fahl they have a fair aggregation and are expected to hand the Rooks a real surprise.

The varsity lineup this afternoon will be: 100-yard dash, Lombard; backstroke—Erickson; breast stroke—Sinclair; plunge—Samuels; 220-yard dash—Lombard and Boyden; 50-yard dash—Stone and McCabe; diving—McCabe and Stone; relay—Lombard, McCabe, Stone and Erickson.

The freshman lineup will be: 100-yard dash—Reavis and Benton; 50-yard dash—McCook and Reid; 220-yard dash—Benton and D. McCook; breast stroke—McGregor and O'Shea; plunge—George H. Mason, Brundage and Hamilton; backstroke—Wright; diving—Byerly and Fowler; relay—Hambo, Reid, Benton and McCook.

Officials are Appointed

The officials of the meet will be: Referee and starter, Robert Boggs; judges of finish, Charles Stockwell, Bob Boggs, Jens Terjeson, Robert Bartlett; timers, L. Palmer, Basil Burke and Harry Scott; clerk of course, Hadden Roekhey; judges of diving, L. Palmer, Y. Herren, Frank Biggs; announcer, Kenneth G. Cooper.

Women's Fencing Discontinued Due To Lack of Foils

All women's classes in fencing are to be suspended until sufficient equipment can be obtained. To continue classes under the present regime necessitating the use of numerous makeshifts would do more harm than good to the knowledge already gained, according to Clinton Davison, instructor of the sport.

"It is indeed unfortunate that our first attempt to introduce fencing to the girls has met with so many obstacles," he said.

Although eighty women signed up for the sport only a scant sixty reported for class work. Before the suspension of this activity, it was estimated that there were fifty girls attending classes regularly twice a week. These "regulars" are highly enthusiastic and declare that the sport is unusually fascinating. There is magic in the very terms of foils, rapiers, etc.

The work has consisted mainly in drill in the basic exercises; the girls have learned what is meant by "parry" and "lunge;" they have been told how to perform offensive and defensive movements. The point to be stressed now is practice.

DOUGHNUT HANDBALL FINALS DUE MONDAY

Sigma Nu and Oregon Club To Play Final Game

The doughnut handball final game will be played Monday afternoon between the teams from Sigma Nu and Oregon club. These teams have downed all competitors so far and will vie for the doughnut championship.

In the semi-final games held this week, the boys from Sigma Nu derailed the hopes of Kappa Delta Phi by slipping a score of 21-15 21-12 over them. Oregon club left Sigma Pi Tau holding the small end of a 21-19 and 21-3 score at the termination of two rounds.

The game Monday is expected to be a real clash with honors about even as the comparative scores so far show. Both teams have been handling out decisive drubbings to the opposition.

This final game will terminate doughnut activities for this term but with the opening of the spring term other sports will be put on the program that will call for real team work and individual prowess. Baseball and track are the outstanding sports for next term.

AUSTRALIAN SPEAKS TO DISCUSSION GROUP

Miss Hayden, an Australian who has been in the United States only one month, spoke to the World Fellowship discussion group studying Australia at the Anchorage yesterday noon.

"The national flower of Australia is the wattle flower, a yellow blossom which grows on large trees. Oh, yes, of course we have kangaroos, emus and boomerangs!" At this point Miss Hayden brought out one of the weapons and showed it to her audience.

Wool is the greatest source of wealth in Australia, according to Miss Hayden, and is closely followed by wheat, fruit, poultry and grapes.

The foremost problem in Australia today, Miss Hayden said, is whether the government shall restrict immigration to English immigrants and keep the country idle, or open the doors to all and put uncultivated lands into immediate use. America's increased restriction has caused the problem to grow, she said.

CYLBERT McCLELLAN GOES TO DENVER CONFERENCE

Cybert McClellan, junior in the school of economics, started Thursday morning for Denver, Colo., where he will represent the local chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the Western division conference. It is expected that he will return to the campus Sunday evening.

PENNANT CHANCES AT STAKE TONIGHT

NATIONAL Y.W.C.A. OFFICER COMING

Miss Grace Louks Will Be On Campus to Help With Convention Preparations

VISITOR TO MEET GROUPS

Development of Leadership Object of Discussions To Be Held Next Week

Miss Grace Louks, representative of the national student board of the Y. W. C. A., will be on the campus March 4, 5 and 6, according to Ellen McClellan, chairman of the World Fellowship discussion groups.

Miss Louks plans to hold two discussion groups with students here. Each group is to meet with her one hour every day of her visit. The first group will consist of about fifty invited girls who will take part in the discussion of campus problems. These girls will be chosen for the interest and ability they have shown in past activities on the campus. The second group will be smaller, and made up only of girls who have led discussions this year or may lead next year. Their talks will be based chiefly on technique of leading discussions.

Leadership is Desired

The discussions, Miss McClellan believes, will be a help in developing leadership among the girls, and will be a preparation for coping with problems which will necessarily arise in connection with the Woman's League convention which will be held here during spring term.

Having done special research work on discussion groups at Columbia university, Miss Louks is well equipped to instruct the girls. She had charge, with Harrison Elliot, of all discussion feature work at the Student Volunteer convention at Indianapolis, Indiana, in 1923, which was attended by several students on this campus.

Attendance May Be Arranged

This is Miss Louks' first trip West. She is visiting many parts, but particularly the Pacific coast. Assisting Miss McClellan in receiving and entertaining Miss Louks are Ruth Corey, Mazie Richards and Frances Plimpton.

Anyone who has not been invited and is particularly interested is requested to see either Miss Magowan or Ellen McClellan.

TELEPHONE OFFICIALS TO VISIT UNIVERSITY

Next Monday and Tuesday, March 2 and 3, officials of the Bell Telephone company will be on the campus for the purpose of meeting and interviewing students who may be interested in securing positions with that company, according to a letter just received by Dean Robbins of the school of business administration from E. J. Heffner, secretary of employment and training of the Bell company.

On Monday at 3:15 p. m., a meeting will be held in room 105, Commerce building, at which time the Bell representatives will address the students who may be interested. The visitors will be especially interested in students of business administration, economics, or physics; but all students are invited to be there. The talks will be on the educational nature, organization and policies of Bell system. Mr. Heffner announces that there will be representatives of several departments of the work present, so that a practical picture will be given.

The remainder of the telephone officials' time will be given over to (Continued on page three)

Chinese Program Will Be Presented On Tuesday Night

"Chinese Night," expresses what the next meeting of the Cosmopolitan club will be on Tuesday evening at the Bungalow, according to Miss Andre Pellion.

The entire program will be Chinese. Two talks will be given; one by L. K. Chung, on "The Social and Political Situation in China," and the other by Ta Lee, on "Student Life in China."

Frank Jue will give a vocal solo, and Lilly Hing will present a Chinese dance. As an added feature Chinese refreshments will be served. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

JUNIOR COMMITTEE DISCUSSES WEEK END

Big Canoe Fete and Prom Will Be Features

Reports were made by the heads of the various committees of the directorate for Junior week-end at the meeting of the committee members in Condon hall yesterday afternoon.

Margaret Vincent, chairman for the campus luncheon, announced that a meeting of the members of her committee would be called the first week of the spring term. Previous to that time, no definite plans for the luncheon will be made.

Clarence Toole, canoe fete chairman, reported that the lighting committee had been selected, and that plans are rapidly being shaped. New bleachers at both ends of the present bleachers will be constructed to accommodate a larger audience, because there have not been sufficient seats for the large crowds which attend the fete each year. The new bleachers will increase the seating capacity approximately 400.

The queen for the fete will probably be chosen the first of April by popular vote of the class. Further plans for the naming of the queen will be published later.

James Scripture, junior prom chairman, named Arthur Gale, of Bandon, as chairman of the decorations committee. George Mansfield, who was originally appointed to take charge of the decorations, is not enrolled in the University this term, so a re-appointment to fill the vacancy was necessary. The prom will be held in the Armory, May 24.

The next meeting of the directorate will not be held until the first week of next term.

NIGHT WATCHMAN TELLS STORY OF LONG HOURS OF DARKNESS

By J. De P.

"Wonder what a night watchman thinks about?"

The question as mere speculation is not quite so intriguing as when the same query is directed at the nightwatchman himself. J. W. Bradway, nightwatchman for the north end of the campus for 13 years, has thought about a good many things.

During the course of his nocturnal vigil he has philosophized, pondered, schemed and dreamed—and has his own explanation of things.

"My job isn't what you would call downright interesting," said Bradway, speaking with a drawing mid-western accent. "During my thirteen years I haven't run across anything more startling than a couple of quarrelsome cats. It never gets monotonous and I have plenty of time to think about things folks never give a second thought."

"Now take some folks," he continued after lighting his pipe lei-

VARSITY-HUSKIES IN FINAL CLASH

Oregon Must Win Game to Tie Aggies for Pacific Coast Conference Title

PLAYERS IN GOOD SHAPE

Washington Wants Revenge For Defeat on Gridiron; Victor in Previous Tilt

Oregon and Washington, traditional rivals, meet in basketball on the Seattle floor tonight in the last scheduled game of the conference for both teams. Oregon must win the game to keep in the running for the Pacific Coast conference title.

Washington will fight hard to win in order to make second place. The Huskies will battle hard also because they have never forgotten the defeat handed them last fall in football.

The odds seem to slightly favor the varsity, for Oregon has won more games so far than has Washington, and has beaten teams that have defeated the Huskies. Idaho soundly trounced Washington, and Oregon in turn defeated Idaho.

Huskies Have Advantage

The Huskies will have a distinct advantage in playing on their home floor, and also they will be hopped up because of their victory over the Webfeet earlier in the season at Eugene. The game will easily be the hardest fought contest played this year on any conference floor.

In addition to the flood of telegrams that have gone to Coach Reinhart and his team a good sized rooting section will be on hand. Every student who could find a way to go to Seattle left last night, and the old Oregon "Oskies" will ring out in the Huskie gym with the spirit, if not the volume, of the 3,000 Oregon students praying for victory.

Team in Good Shape

The Oregon team, to judge from stories of the previous games, is in good shape for the contest tonight. Okerberg will start at center, Hobson and Gowans at forwards, and Westergren and Jost at guards. Washington will probably start Heaketh and Frayne, forwards, Anderson, center; and Coby and Hale at guards.

If Oregon wins the contest, a three-game series with O. A. C. will be arranged, probably for next week, to determine the Northern squad that is to meet the southern winners for the Pacific Coast title.

NIGHT WATCHMAN TELLS STORY OF LONG HOURS OF DARKNESS

surely, "you know how they always say they hate silence and seem to shun it! Well, I can't say that I've found it so bad—after I found out it was about the only place a man can be really truthful with himself."

"It's funny how I can sort of fashion things in the silence of the night and then take them out and air them when it grows daylight. Then, too, at night there are no shadows or disturbing sounds to occupy the mind—everything seems to work in a kind of silent harmony."

"I was thinking about this thing of shadows in real life and the shadows of the mind. They are always behind us in the morning and the same it is in the morning of life; around about noon, we step all over 'em; and at evening they stretch way out in front of us to remind us of what's coming, I guess. I was thinking of that the other night and wondered if that
