

FROLIC PLANS NOW COMPLETE

Houses to Hand in Detailed Reports of Expenses to Doris Brophy on Friday

MEN BARRED FROM FUN

Music and Refreshments to Feature Between Acts; Nine Stunts to Be Given

April Frolic, the one time in the year when men are barred from a women's entertainment, is next Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock. The women's gymnasium will be the scene of the frolic. Houses must hand in detailed reports of their expenses to Doris Brophy, in charge of the affair, not later than Friday night. Lillian Luders, in charge of the stage, should be notified by Saturday morning of any preference in the color of the spotlight.

The idea of the committee, in limiting the cost of the acts, was to lessen the competitive spirit among the houses, and make less work. The Frolic will thus be more of a playtime for all the women on the campus than a contest between those houses presenting stunts, and the committee expresses the hope that everyone will comply with the $15.00 expense limit.

Houses Stunts Listed

Houses competing, with the names of their performances, are: Delta Delta Delta, "Behind the Moon." Tau Nu, "Oh! Listen!" Susan Campbell hall, "Carnival." Alpha Omicron Pi, "A Night in Georgia." Kappa Omicron, "Progress of Petticoats." Delta Gamma, "Memory Land." Gamma Phi Beta, "Jabberwack Jingle." Pi Beta Phi, "Boots." Alpha Delta Pi, "A Moonlight Fantasy." Patrons for the evening are: Mrs. Karl Onthank, Mrs. Louis Johnson, Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Mrs. Colin Dymont, and Mrs. W. S. Jewett. Judges are: Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. George Rebeck, Mrs. Eric W. Allen, who will take the place of Mrs. Dean Walker, because of the latter's illness, Miss Gertrude Talbot, and Miss Victoria Avakian.

The programs are decorated with a silhouette effect over a blue background. The shape has been changed from the long narrow folder of the past to a larger, more nearly square size.

Reserved Section Established

A reserved section will be established for town women, the tickets being 50 cents. Unreserved seats in the balcony will be 25 cents. Admission to the floor will be 10 cents, and everyone downstairs must be in costume. The doorkeepers will keep a strict surveillance over the entering crowd, in order to detect, if possible, any men who may try to attend the Frolic.

Between acts, music will be played, and the girls on the floor will have an opportunity to dance. (Continued on page four)

Embryo Anatomists Get Barrel of Eels To Pet and Preserve

"Do you want some eels?" It was Leonard Mayfield, freshman in the physical education department, speaking to the zoology professor.

"Sure," answered the professor.

So Leonard Mayfield went to Oregon City falls, famous for its eels—long slippery things that look like snakes with fin-like tails—and got a whole barrel of the specimen called lamprey. The barrel held one hundred or more of them.

The anatomy class is delighted with its new pets and has proceeded to inject them with preserving preparation which smells distinctly like formaldehyde of the most penetrating kind.

The embryo anatomists like to fondle these odoriferous beings, which are one of the lowest of vertebrates. One of the qualifications for an anatomist is said to be a fondness for this sort of creature.

MUSIC AUDITORIUM FORMALLY DEDICATED

"Open House" Held Informally Sunday Afternoon

Formal dedication of the school of music auditorium took place last Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. Mrs. George Gerlinger delivered the dedication address Saturday evening before one of the largest audiences ever assembled in Eugene. The new Renter pipe organ, which was a gift to the University by an anonymous donor, was heard for the first time when John Stark Evans, assistant dean of the school, gave the dedication recital. His numbers were all of a high appealing nature and among those especially enjoyed were "Meditation," Thais, by Massenet and "Symphonic Poem" Les Preludes by Liszt.

The dedication program Sunday afternoon was in the form of an informal "open house." The people came and left as they liked, enjoyed one or more of the three programs presented by the school of music faculty. The University orchestra and men's and women's glee clubs were featured in the first concert. "The Land of Hope and Glory," sung by the combined clubs accompanied by the orchestra, was without a doubt the most popular number on this program.

John Siefert, Jane Thacher and Lora Tiesner, members of the faculty, were heard in the second program. Many interesting numbers were rendered by these artists. The third program was opened by Mr. and Mrs. Rex Underwood who gave a beautiful rendition of Cesar Franck's "Sonata," a piano and violin solo. Madame Rose McGrew sang "Care Selre" from the opera "Atlanta" by Handel and "O Boeca Dolorosa" by Gabriele Libella. Jane Thacher, accompanied by the University quartet, closed the program with "Piano Quintette" by Schumann.

DOUGHNUT BALL TO START SOON

Arrangement for Schedule Of Playing Completed; Sixteen Teams Signed

VIRGIL EARL GIVES PLANS

Games Must Be Adjusted So As Not to Conflict With Frosh and Varsity

The cavorting warriors of the doughnut baseball league will again be seen on old Cemetery Ridge diamond, according to a statement by Virgil Earl. This announcement came after the termination of the special meeting of the doughnut representatives of the various entering organizations held yesterday afternoon.

After due deliberation and knowledge of the possible obstacles which will make their appearance during the season, it was unanimously decided to play by the men present. One of the outstanding difficulties of the tournament, will be the lack of playing space. At present, there are but two playing fields on the campus, and the varsity and freshmen are using both.

Games to Follow Practice

Due to the non-playing field handicap, Earl will arrange the schedule so that immediately after the termination of the freshmen practice one or more will be played off each afternoon. The starting time will be announced later, but according to Earl, the earliest time possible, under the circumstances, will be 4:20.

If two games are scheduled for the same afternoon, the first will be allowed one and one-half hours in which to elect a winner. Providing a game runs over the allotted time, the umpire will call the game over when the sides have played an even number of innings.

All games will be played under the rules and regulations of the doughnut league. Special regulations have been drawn up for baseball however. All contests, except the two semi-finals and the championship games, will be of five inning duration. The final three games will be regulated by either the five inning or the time period allotted.

Another vital clause in the rules is that all entering teams must have two baseballs in their possession when they report for a scheduled game. The athletic department will furnish equipment, consisting of a scorebook, umpire, catcher's mit, bats, and a catcher's mask and protector.

Elimination is Basis

The games will be played on the straight elimination basis. However a losing team will have a chance to challenge any other team in the league with the exception of the one which humbled it. The challenged games will not count in the championship running and will be classed as practice games in the standings.

The one outstanding rule which will be enforced is in regard to the eligibility of men participating. The rule reads: "Men having participated in a varsity or freshman contest for this or any other college in intercollegiate competition are not eligible for the doughnut league in the events in which they have participated."

Earl has asked that the representatives of the organizations desiring practice hours on Cemetery ridge sign on the placard which will be posted in his office. This is for the purpose of giving each team a special time in which to put forth some practice links.

Drawing Held for Teams

Drawings of the various teams were held at the meetings yesterday and the following teams will meet for the preliminary games: Psi Kappa vs. Kappa Sigma; Friendly hall vs. Beta Theta Pi; Sigma Pi Tau vs. Phi Delta Theta; Sigma Nu vs. Phi Kappa Psi; Theta Chi vs. Kappa Delta Phi; Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Gamma Delta; Delta Tau Delta vs. Alpha Tau Omega; Bachelordon vs. Oregon club.

Anti-Smoke and Other Traditions, Committees' Topics

To smoke on the campus or off. This is one of the questions to be discussed at a meeting of the traditions committee, appointed by Randall Jones, student body president, Wednesday afternoon at 4:15.

The status of other traditions of the campus also will be taken up at the meeting, which will be attended by student body and alumni representatives.

Recommendations made will be presented to the student council, which is to meet Wednesday evening. Existing traditions will be codified for presentation to the council.

COL. WM. S. GILBERT ASSEMBLY SPEAKER

"Romance of Astoria" to Be Subject of Lecture

Col. William S. Gilbert, veteran chaplain of two wars, minister, and a present member of the board of regents of the University, is to appear as assembly speaker this week with "The Romance of Astoria" as his topic.

Colonel Gilbert has resided at Astoria practically ever since the Spanish-American war, and has been in a position to watch its growth. Previous to the war, he was pastor of the Central Presbyterian church here. He graduated from a United Brethren college in the east, and was a pastor of that denomination for some time in Eugene, as well as president of Philomath college.

When the Spanish-American war broke out, Dr. Gilbert received appointment as chaplain in an Oregon regiment and went to the Philippines.

In the trouble with Mexico, preceding the world war, when the American troops were on the border, he saw service again as chaplain. He went to France when the American troops were sent over, being promoted to rank of major. Dr. Gilbert was recently promoted to rank of colonel among chaplains because of his 25 years of service.

Colonel Gilbert is at present executive secretary for the Presbyterian mission work with headquarters in Portland.

'CRIMSON EYEBROWS' SPARKLING COMEDY

A light musical comedy sparkling with humor which carries with it an unusual story around which is woven a pretty love affair, characterizes "The Crimson Eyebrows" to be given Friday and Saturday evenings, April 17 and 18, by the University high school glee club in the new music auditorium. The proceeds from the opera which Mrs. Anne Landsbury Beck is directing, will go for the benefit of the University high school student body fund.

The seat sale is now in progress, and James Leake, business manager of the opera, reported yesterday that the tickets are selling very fast. Fifty cents will entitle one to any seat in the house. Tickets may be procured from any member of the cast. Starting today tickets can be exchanged for reserved seats in Mrs. Beck's office in the University school of music.

Following is the cast of characters: Princess Ting Ling, daughter of the former Emperor, DeLillian Olson; Ah Me, Ting Ling's cousin, Ruby George; Wang Mang, the usurper Emperor, Dean Scott; Yi Kang, the court astrologer, nicknamed "Star Eye," Hiram White; Ko Moo, a distant relative of Ting Ling's nicknamed "Old Buddha," Bradford Datson; Fanchong, leader of "The Crimson Eyebrows," Franklin Hall; Hing Lee, an officer of the court; in reality a spy of Fanchong's, Charles Marlotte; Yen Chen, an accomplice of Wang Mang's who impersonates "Nephtune," Kenneth Stevens. Ancient Pedometer Settles Argument Of Library Force

It has long been a matter of speculation, among the assistants at the main circulation desk in the University, as to how far a person on duty walked, during the course of an average day. Wagered distances ranged all the way from one to several miles but no one knew exactly.

Yesterday the dispute was settled. One of the young ladies discovered an ancient pedometer at home and carried the antiquated instrument with her during the afternoon. From time to time during the four hours on duty she looked at the watch-like register, noting the feet, yards, hundreds of yards and—yes—miles pile up. Finally, when the six o'clock whistle blew she drew the pedometer forth and showed it to the rest of the force. It registered six miles for the five hours' work.

"And even then I sat around quite a bit of the time," she said.

HOLY WEEK OBSERVED SPECIALLY ON CAMPUS

Rev. C. E. Dunham Speaks At Opening Meeting

The first of a series of Holy Week services being conducted on the campus was held last night in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. Rev. C. E. Dunham of the Eugene Baptist church delivered a sermon on "Authority and Religion."

The meetings, arranged especially for University people, are given under the auspices of the United Christian Work. Four meetings, including the one last night, are to be held each evening from 7:15 to 8 until Thursday in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. This evening Rev. A. H. Saunders of the Central Presbyterian church will talk on "The Day of Controversy." Tomorrow Rev. J. Franklin Haas of the First Methodist Episcopal church will speak on "Christ's Bequest of Peace," and Thursday Rev. Henry W. Davis, student pastor, will speak on "The Garden of Gethsemane."

The concluding meeting will be held Friday at 8 p. m. in the M. E. church. The sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words" will be given by the University choir under the direction of John Stark Evans.

Special Easter services will be held in all the Eugene churches Sunday. All students will be encouraged to attend some church, and the day will be known on the campus as "go-to-church Sunday."

The subjects of the campus talks are based on events of the last week of the life of Christ. Each day's talk will deal with the facts of the corresponding day in the original Passion Week.

Special musical numbers, including vocal solos, will be given at each meeting. All services are for both men and women.

DEFENDER OF ACCUSED MAN DISAPPEARS FROM CAMPUS

Harley Covalt, if he appears on the campus today, will defend Thomas Short, accused of murdering Bill Dills on the library steps, this evening at 7 o'clock at the county court house. But, how explain Covalt's absence from classes yesterday?

His friends and his enemies have theories enough. Covalt has fled the campus filled with the cowardly fear of ruining by defeat his unblemished reputation. Then, of course, there is the possibility of his prejudicing the jury by his appearance on the campus during the days preceding the trial.

The most plausible hypothesis is that he has been abducted by the prosecuting attorney; for t'will be almost impossible to secure conviction with such an able lawyer defending the case.

Bill Dills died, at least legally, on the library steps by a shot fired by himself or by Short. There is undisputed evidence that Short

BILL WILL TAKE 16 MEN SOUTH

Coach Pleased At Showing Made At Tryout; Time Fast for Heavy Track

MAUTZ AND HOLT LOST

Bob Has Appendicitis; Extra, Star Sprinter to Tackle Cardinal Flashes

The varsity track tryouts held last Saturday for the Stanford meet were successful in every way and as a result sixteen men will definitely make the trip south. Coach Bill Hayward is making every effort to take a nineteen man team for the meet. He is confronted with the problem of taking second men and has found it hard to reduce the number to sixteen.

There is always the possibility that some of the men will not be able to run, so the three extra men are regarded as about the right number. Bill is taking men in every event, and he plans to enter men in each. At the last moment he was handicapped by the loss of Harry Holt, winner of the 100 in the tryouts last Saturday, who was found to be ineligible. Jerry Extra, star sprinter from the frosh squad of last year, who was the only man in the 220, has recovered partially from an attack of tonsillitis. He will make the trip and will probably go strong when he gets down there. Bob Mautz, weight man, will have to be left behind on account of appendicitis. Louie Anderson, javelin thrower, and Harry Hemmings were both found ineligible at the beginning of the term. That cuts the squad to some extent.

Those Who Will Go

The probable nineteen men whom Bill has picked to take south with him for the Cardinal meet and their events follow.

100-yard dash—Westerman and Stonebreaker.
220-yard dash—Extra and Stonebreaker.
440 yards—Kinney and Wilbur.
880 yards—Mauney and Gerke.
1 mile—Holder and Swank.
2 mile—Keating and Tetz.
Hurdles (both)—Kelsey and Caruthers.
High jump—Eby, Flanagan, and Kelsey.
Pole vault—Rosenburg and Kelsey.
Shot and Discus—Johnston.
Javelin—Rosenburg.
Relay team—Kinney, Hermance, Price, Wilbur.

Stanford Meet Hardest
