

GIRL DELEGATES TO ARRIVE TODAY

Forty-four Institutions to Be Represented at Third Women Students' Meeting

PROBLEMS TO BE TALKED

Scholarship, Honor Systems, Activities Will Be Topics; Oregon's Welcome Warm

The third biennial national convention of the Associated Women Students will open here tomorrow morning, with registration from 8:30 to 10, and the first business session from 10 to 12. Delegates will probably be arriving during this afternoon, however, and will be registered at once.

Directories, with the name of the delegate, the school she represents, and where she is staying on the campus, will be posted in the phone booth of each women's organization, so that inquiries may be easily answered.

Forty-four schools will be represented at this conference, including most of the universities and colleges west of the Appalachian mountains, many of the institutions sending two or three girls.

Stunts to Be Put On

Tomorrow evening, a dinner will be given in the Woman's building, and will be followed by "Stunt Night," similar in character to the April Frolic, although those attending will not be in costumes. Any university women who wish to attend this program are extended a cordial invitation. Sentiment for the whole week is to make the delegates feel as much at home as possible, and the welcoming committee urges everyone on the campus to renew the Oregon "Hello," especially for the guests.

Among the problems to be discussed at the business sessions of the conference will be the place of the W. S. G. A. on the campus, extra-curricular activities, vocational guidance, scholarship standards and honor systems, and round-table discussions, including the dormitoryless campus, small-college problem.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED IN REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

The spring habit of displaying a diamond on the left hand has spread to the business office of the University, and one has been observed behind the sign "Oregon State Educational Aid" in Mr. Tuttle's office. Miss Gladys Price is the new addit. It is said that Earl Ashworth, of Eugene, is the man in the case. Mr. Ashworth is employed by the Standard Oil Co.

GAMMA PHI BETA WINS FROLIC CUP; DELTA GAMMA GIVEN NEXT PLACE

The silver loving cup offered by Women's League for the best April Frolic stunt was awarded to Gamma Phi Beta last Saturday night. The next award, honorable mention, was given to Delta Gamma for their stunt, "Memory Land." This stunt of Delta Gamma with the "Jabberwock Jingle" of Gamma Phi Beta and "Carnival" of Susan Campbell hall will be put on Wednesday at the stunt night for the delegates to the Women's League convention.

The prizes for the best characterizations were won by Beatrice Mason, who was given $5.00 for first place for her costume representing a Knight Templar, and Jean Ross, who received $2.50 as second prize for her costume depicting a hat box in lavender and yellow.

Honorable mention for costumes were given to four couples for their characterizations and to Margaret Galloway for her representation of a Russian peasant. This, the judges said, was very true to life and realistic. The four couples mentioned were Peter Pan and Wendy, Maggie and Jiggs, the Hottentots, and Tom and Huck.

GLEE CLUBS COMBINE IN COMING CONCERT

Thursday evening, April 16, in the Woman's building, will be heard the home concert of the men's and women's glee clubs, under the direction of John Stark Evans, which will mark the fourth number of the series of concerts sponsored by the University music committee. This concert is anticipated with more than the usual interest this year due to the combining of the two clubs, which is an entirely new and distinct feature.

"Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" by Coleridge-Taylor, which is a musical setting of Longfellow's famous poem, is one of the most beautiful and novel numbers on the program. It has never been heard in Eugene.

STUDENT UNION DRIVE TO START

Work of Raising Funds Will Be Launched At Assembly Hour, April 23

PLEDGING ENDS ON 26TH

Committee of Three to Work Out Percentage Basis for Each Class on Campus

The Student Union drive for 1925 will start at the assembly hour on April 23, and will close at six o'clock Saturday evening, April 26. During these three days the committee and teams will endeavor to get pledges from all transfers from other schools, those who did not pledge last year, and all the freshmen.

The members of the Student Union committee are to choose captains, a man and a woman from each class, who will in turn choose their team workers. The teams will work in pairs, an arrangement which proved very successful last year. In the freshman class, upon whom the burden falls, this will provide for one pair of workers to every 14 students. The main committee is to compose the flying squad, who will get pledges from the harder prospects, not landed by the regular teams.

Committee Supper Wednesday

The little white shack which served as headquarters last year will again be the office for the drive. A committee supper will probably be held on Wednesday evening before the drive begins, in order to give final instructions and complete plans for the beginning of the drive the next day.

A subsidiary committee consisting of Betty Rauch, Emerson Wright and Ralph Staley was appointed by Bob Mautz, general chairman, to work out a percentage basis for the amount which each class is to raise in proportion to the number of members who did not pledge last year, and from new students.

Personal Requests Planned

All possible pressure will be brought upon those who can, to give and give ungrudgingly. Freshmen and those who have not pledged will be interviewed personally, made acquainted with the importance of the Student Union undertaking and urged to give financial assistance and moral backing to make the drive as unflinching a success as it was last year.

The goal to be attained this year has not been set yet, but the more definite plans will be rounded into shape at the next meeting of the committee tomorrow.

CAMPUS SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE TO OPEN TODAY

The spring term Oregon drive will begin today and will last through Wednesday. Subscriptions will be taken by house representatives and also on the campus at the Graduate Manager's office which is located in the A. S. U. O. building next to the journalism building.

At the present time there are 150 copies available for student subscriptions. It is expected that this small surplus will be subscribed quickly. After this books will be unobtainable.

The purpose of the drive is to give the students entering this term an opportunity to subscribe and also to give others who were unable to subscribe last January. The price of the book is $4.50, of which $2.00 must be paid when the book is ordered.

Houses which did not subscribe a 100 per cent last term can still get a complimentary copy by filling out their quota, the business manager of the Oregon, Gibson Wright stated.

The work on the year book is progressing nicely. Proofreading of the various sections has been occupying the time of the staff during the past few days.

All the women on the campus are expected to vote at League elections, and everyone is urged to come out today. Hilda Chase is in charge of the voting.

Officers elected at the regular Thursday election were, Anna DeWitt, president; Frances Morgan, secretary; Annette Heckman, treasurer; Pauline Stewart, reporter; Marian Barnes, sergeant-at-arms.

PRESIDENT OF MILLS TO ADDRESS ASSEMBLY

Distinguished Woman Again Visitor at Oregon

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of the American Association of University Women, and president of Mills college at Oakland, who will be on the campus this week for the Women's League convention, will address the students at the assembly period on Friday.

"Dr. Reinhardt is probably the most representative woman the West has ever had," Dean Virginia Judy Esterly said when asked for an estimate of the visiting executive. "I think she is probably the foremost woman of the West. She speaks remarkably well, and we are especially fortunate to get her." She was especially interested, Dean Esterly said, in receiving the invitation to attend the convention directly from the girls themselves. She has not been on the Oregon campus since she made the dedicatory address for the Woman's building in 1920.

A graduate of the University of California, Dr. Reinhardt also received her LL.D. degree from there in 1919. She received a degree as doctor of philosophy at Yale in 1905. She has been connected with the English department at the University of Idaho and taught at the Lewiston (Idaho) State Normal School. She has been president of Mills since 1916.

THOMAS SHORT AGAIN ON TRIAL; STUDENT ACCUSED OF ROBBERY

Regardless of how many times Thomas Short is acquitted of crime his ever pursuing fates seem to be always on hand with a new charge for him. First it was murder; now it is robbery—and robbery dug up from the dim and distant past of last October.

"Thomas William Short is accused by the Grand Jury of the County of Lane, by this indictment, of the charge of robbery, being armed with a dangerous weapon. . . . The alleged crime was committed in this fashion: About 9:00 o'clock on the evening of October 9, 1924, said Thomas Short armed with two revolvers, a Colt automatic and a six-shooter, and armed also with the intent to kill if resisted, entered the College Side Inn. After sitting in for a couple of hands in a poker game that was in progress he suddenly pulled out his guns and ordered the dealer to put up his hands and shove his stack across. Then he backed out of the place, covering all those present with his trusty weapons, and made his escape. The State charges that his booty was $6.75 taken from one Armand De

DEAN WILL AID TORNADO RELIEF

Earl Kilpatrick Appointed On Rehabilitation Staff Of American Red Cross

REGENTS GIVE CONSENT

Powers to Be Acting Head Of Extension Division During Director's Leave

Earl Kilpatrick, dean of the University of Oregon extension division, will leave for the Middle West immediately on a two month's leave of absence from the University to serve as a member of the American Red Cross executive staff for the rehabilitation of the great area swept by tornado on March 18. He was summoned by telegraph, and leave was granted by a committee of the board of regents this morning.

James L. Fieser, vice-president of the Red Cross in charge of domestic operations, wired Dean Kilpatrick requesting him to report at St. Louis. The Oregon man is an experienced relief worker and has been on the staff of the Red Cross for emergency call since he served during the war as manager of the Northwestern division of the organization.

Helped in Astoria Relief

Dean Kilpatrick was ordered to Astoria when the city was swept by fire three years ago, and he served as director of relief for the Red Cross, recruiting and organizing his staff, drafting at that time a number of the faculty of the school of social work in Portland. In 1921, when the city of Pueblo, Colorado, and nearby towns were visited by floods that caused $20,000,000 of property damage and caused thousands to desert their homes, Dean Kilpatrick served as assistant director of disaster relief. He helped distribute a $500,000 relief fund and aided in reconstructing the communities that had been destroyed.

When America entered the war, Kilpatrick helped through the Uni-

FRESHMAN COMMISSION

TO HOLD MEETING TUESDAY

The Freshman commission will hold its first meeting of the term today at 4:30 in the Bungalow. The subject for discussion is "Foreign Nations in relation to the Y. W. C. A." During the past term the freshman members of the Y. W. C. A. of which the commission is composed, discussed problems concerning their own relations to the campus. The first topic for this term takes them out of their own sphere and presents problems of other lands.

Merrit—this being the alias under which Ed Keech does his gambling. This last witness will lend a dramatic touch to the trial.

The defense will most likely rest their case on the contention that the accused became so drunk on a half a pint of Virginia Dare that in the brief interval between 8:30, when he imbibed it, and the time of the robbery he was suffering from delirium tremens, and therefore should not be held responsible for the crime.

Marion Dickey—the defending attorney—left Friday morning for Portland where it is thought he consulted with some of the state's leading criminal lawyers and medical experts. He assures those interested in the outcome of the trial that he will get the defendant off. The defendant seems to be taking the whole thing stoically but it has come to the ear of the reporter that he has had to sell the old homestead to satisfy the demands of his attorney.

The states attorney in this case will be Jean F. DuPaul, and he will put the accused on trial at seven o'clock this evening in the county court house.
