Oregon Stars Surprise Cardinals By Ability

KELSEY HIGH POINT MAN

Interclass Meet Saturday; Seattle Relays April 25

Stanford's track and field athletes triumphed over the 19-man Oregon team last Saturday at Palo Alto by the score of 92½ to 38½, but that defeat did not rob the Oregon team of the value of the meet. Bill Hayward was highly pleased with the showing of the aspirants, some good times were made and altogether he declared it a successful meet.

"Every man showed up better than I expected him to," said Bill yesterday. "The boys worked hard. The Californians were pleased with the sportsmanship shown and surprised at the ability of the Oregon stars."

Walt Kelsey was high point winner of the team with nine counters. He was first in the low hurdles and tied for first with Liestner in the high sticks. Captain Chick Rosenberg was second to Kelsey with eight counters, made by winning first in the pole vault and second in the javelin. Flanagan won the broad jump with a jump of 22 feet 10 7-8 inches. Oregon won the relay.

Stanford Track Soggy

The meet was run off on a wet soggy track. In spite of its heaviness there was some fast time made. The meet showed that some of the men will have to be shifted around. Now Bill has three weeks to prepare for the relay carnival at Seattle. Warm weather has come and with the auspicious beginning the Oregon track team bids fair to come out of the rut and do some real winning for the rest of the season.

The Stanford meet will be an annual one on the track schedule. Bill plans to take a team down every spring just before the big California-Stanford meet. It will serve the purpose of stirring up enthusiasm among track aspirants and will hasten the conditioning of the Oregon team.

Next Saturday afternoon the big interclass meet will be run off. The men who went to Stanford will be permitted to enter any event they wish. Tryouts for the freshmen will be held today, Wednesday and Thursday. The tryouts for the Seattle relays will come the following week-end on April 25. Bill will take a half mile, mile, two mile and possibly a four-mile team up to Seattle for the carnival.

The unusual choral technique of the glee clubs will be displayed in a separate group of numbers to be rendered by each club. Many well-known numbers will be presented, among which are "Mah Lindy Lou," by Strickland, and "The Bird of the Wilderness," by Horstman, which will be given by the women's glee club, and "Castilla" by Protheroe, and "Songs of Araby," a solo by Richard Adam, accompanied by the men's glee club.

Only music of a high class nature, or that which ranks high in the realm, as well as this element of fineness, are beautiful and melodious and many of the selections aim at difficult part singing.

Admission to glee club concerts is always by student body ticket. However, as very few student body tickets will be issued by Thursday, students will gain admittance by recognition. General admission for townspeople is one dollar. Tickets may be purchased at Laraways Music store and at the Co-op.

SUMMER SESSIONS CALL FOR FACULTY MEMBERS

Seven Instructors to Teach in Other Institutions

Summer schools in institutions of higher learning outside of the state of Oregon have called on six members of the regular faculty of the University of Oregon to teach in their summer sessions. The two University summer schools, one at Eugene and one at Portland, will use several of the regular teaching staff.

Dean Eric W. Allen, of the school of journalism, makes his eighth trip to Berkeley to teach in the summer school of the University of California this summer. He will be in charge of the journalism courses.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, professor of geology, will give courses at the summer school of the University of Michigan. Columbia university at New York City has called on two members of the University school of physical education to give courses there this summer. These are Professor Harry Scott, head of the men's division of the school of physical education, and Professor Delbert Oberteuffer, in the same department of the school of physical education.

this summer. Dr. Raymond Wheeler will teach at the University of Iowa, while Professor Kimball Young will be a member of the summer school faculty at Colorado Teacher's college.

Three members of the faculty have planned to carry on their studies and further research this summer. Mrs. Alta Cooney Hoover, member of the faculty of the English department, will register as a graduate student at the University of Washington summer school at Seattle. Dr. Donald Barnes, member of the history faculty, will tour Europe. Dr. R. C. Clark, professor of history, plans on going to London, where he will carry on research work in the files of the Hudson Bay company. He is among the first of the American historians to receive this special permission from the Hudson Bay company. The permission was granted because of Dr. Clark's extraordinary good work in the research work in Oregon history. Professor H. R. Douglass of the school of education will teach in Stanford university during the summer session.

BRIDGE TEA TO AID MARY SPILLER FUND

Alumnae Raising $5,000 for Permanent Scholarship

(Continued from page one) Sponsored by the Alumnae association, a bridge tea will be given at the Osburn hotel on Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of the fund for the Mary Spiller scholarship, which is maintained by the association. The tea begins at 2 o'clock and is one of a series of affairs given by the organization to raise the permanent fund of $5,000 for the scholarship.

The Mary Spiller scholarship fund was founded in June, 1908, by the Alumnae association, and is awarded each year to a woman graduate of an Oregon high school. It provides for room and board for one year at Hendricks hall and the recipient of the gift is not necessarily a freshman. Since the establishment of the scholarship 16 years ago, three women have graduated from the University by virtue of the award. Originally the scholarship was financed by the $1 membership fee paid by members of the association, but two years ago a plan whereby a permanent fund of $5,000 was to be raised and interest used each year for the maintenance of the scholarship was adopted. The scholarship has not been awarded since the inauguration of the new plan, but will be as soon as the $5,000 of the fund has been raised, and it is expected by members of the alumnae that before June the amount will exceed $1,500, which is an average of $500 each year.

Mary Spiller, in whose memory the scholarship was named was the first woman professor at Oregon, having been a member of the faculty from 1876 to 1888. She was at the head of the preparatory department for eight years, after which she became professor of elocution.

Officers of the Alumnae association who will be in general charge of the tea on Wednesday are: Mrs. Herbert Clarke, Springfield, president; Mrs. Frank L. Chambers, Eugene, vice-president; Mrs. J. O. Holt, Eugene, secretary, and Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Eugene, treasurer.

Appointed on Commission A few months ago, Dean Kilpatrick was appointed on the commission of American experts for the study of the causes of calamities and of measures to be taken for their prevention. The appointment was made by Dr. Raoul Montandon, president of the geographical society of Geneva.

The area which was swept by the tornado last month includes towns in Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Missouri. Approximately 1600 persons were killed, many were injured, and the property damage ran into the millions.

In Mr. Kilpatrick's absence, Alfred Powers, assistant director, will act in his stead.

BREAKFAST'S READY

Doesn't the gang sometimes get everlastingly tired of the same breakfast? Get a bag of cornmeal and ask the cook to make you hot cakes tomorrow for a change. Wouldn't they taste good—browned to a crisp in sizzling bacon fat and spread with melted butter and thick maple syrup?

And then for a change at lunch time—a plate heaped with steaming squares of cornbread, with plenty of butter and tart jam, served with lettuce salad with a French dressing and a fruit for dessert is a lunch in itself. Cornmeal can always be mixed with other flours in breads and puddings to give a more decided flavor. Mixed with cracker crumbs it makes the best of covering for your breaded veal. And besides, cornmeal is inexpensive. Its use will help you keep down the house's food bill.

The Greatest Historian Of Them All

Homer wove history into his songs. The Pharaohs carved it in stone. Julius Caesar painstakingly penned it on papyrus.

Today, history is written and given to you simultaneously with its occurrence. Every day, the important events of the world are summed up fully and comprehensively in your newspaper. You are able to keep abreast of history in its making.

And not the least important phase of modern history lies in the realm of industrial progress. You find this chronicled in the advertisements.

Advertising is a priceless boon to those who use it properly. It keeps their information up-to-date on the great variety of things that make life what it is today. It tells them of the thousand and one things they need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives.

The consistent advertiser pays money to tell you about his wares. He knows they are good—he backs them with his money because he is confident that they will satisfy. For only merchandise that is consistently good can be consistently advertised.
