A Tingle in the Air

THE YEARS roll around rapidly. Those who are "out," more rapidly and more rapidly as the hair on their head grows thinner and thinner, as the number of candles on the annual cake becomes greater and greater. The seasons become increasingly precious, increasingly elusive and fleeting.

Just two weeks and it will be time to crumple another leaf closed our markets to German manfrom the calendar and toss April into the waste basket. May, ufactured goods for a long time afto the Oregon student, among other diversions, means a period that German goods were cheaper of tense times, glad hands, renewed interest in the languishing than others, of better quality and "Hello," appraising looks, "invites" to drop in for a meal, and persuading, whispered words. Politics!

The soft spring air has a slight tingle already. You know, not be a big one, according to Mr. Some One asks Someone Else, "Who will run for Chief of the Fisher; the State Fire Marshall Committee of Buck Passers? Do you thing Jack Nicotine con- the rule is being violated every siders he has a chance for Custodian of the Vile Weed? Who day from the President's office to will be put up for Lookout of the Law School Sidewalk Gazers? Is anyone mentioned for President of the Smokehouse?"

And Someone Else answers, "I don't think so, but of course, by the crowds of loafing smokers I really don't know. Then, again, he might." Following this is most undesirable and disgust

It is hard to understand how such a tradition has lasted so long, especially o when o such a great amount of improvement would be wrought through the change, for it is very distasteful and embarrassing for the co-ed who undergoes inspection by the Obak-like order of Thirteenth street smokers. #### DUKE CARTER SPEAKS UP ON CAMPUS SMOKE

To the Editor of the Emerald:

It is a . . . note when traditions have to be legislated. Oregon traditions would be a sight better ns committee or Stu- kept if left strictly to the Order again attempt to stem of the "O". Yes, the tingle is in the air!

The joint concert planned for tonight by the men's and women's glee clubs under the direction of John Stark Evans should be well-attended. Musical events are always supported by a large percentage of the University student body. The home concerts given by the glee clubs in past years have been exceedingly enjoyable. With both the men's and the women's clubs participating in one program, it is not illogical to expect increased pleasure from their efforts at the Woman's building this evening.

Not a bad idea at all! Classifying birds by their notes as the field class in biology is entertaining itself. The class expeets to classify 30 or 40 species during the term. Birds other than those wearing natural feathers may be identified by their notes this quarter, also. Referring, of course, to the students who will "fly the coop" when the Student Union solicitor drops in for a signature.

If you have a canoe and are tired of paddling it yourself, it might not be a bad plan to look over the roll of the girls' canoeing class. The benefit would be mutual. They wish to practice with the paddle; you wish to practice lolling amidships.

It's bound to be painful at any time. Might as well lift the weight from one's mind early as late. The weight is sure to be lifted from your pocketbook. Registration fees are payable today.

Three-fifths of the "Society" column this week concerned itself with engagements. Is there any need to state the season of the year?
