

FROSH NINE HIT BY BAD WEATHER

Practice Game Prevented; More Work Needed

ASPIRANTS OUT TOTAL 61

Sorsby Segregates Men for Doughnut Competition

The recent bad weather and poor condition of the playing field has been playing havoc with the plans of Bill Sorsby, freshman coach, for baseball practice. A game scheduled for last evening with Eugene high school was put out of the question by the spring showers. Several other practice games have been scheduled with this high school, however, and will be played later in the training season. The poor condition of the field has made infield practice virtually impossible. The only real workout the infielders have had up to date has been in hitting and bunting.

Three more men signed up yesterday, bringing the total of freshman baseball aspirants up to 61. Competition for places on the yearling team has been strong with about six lively candidates for every position.

Some Likely Candidates

The men who have been making an exceptional showing at the present time are: Hugh Wallace, Fred Zeebuth, Howard Eberhart, first base; Beldon Babb, William Mathison, second base; Jim Hanley, Lindsey Doty, shortstop; Mark McAllister, Maurice Spatz, Jack Puusti, third base; Jack Hempstead, Roy Newby, Burton Nelson, Leonard Mayfield, Ray Edwards, outfielders; Merwyn Benke, Bob Hemmings, John Caughell, Bruce Fenton, Jess Dewey, catchers. The pitchers and outfielders are fast rounding into condition, but as yet the only pitcher in condition is Bill Baker.

The intramural baseball games will be played on the old Cemetery Ridge diamond three times a week from now on until the schedule is completed, making it necessary for Coach Sorsby to take his squad over with the varsity on the new diamond. This new field will accommodate only about 35 more, so it was necessary to post a list of eligibles for doughnut baseball who will not be allowed to go out for the freshman team until the completion of the intramural baseball schedule. Sorsby, in making up the list, picked those he thinks need more actual playing experience. These men will probably participate in doughnut baseball games and may return to the regular squad for a more thorough try-out at the completion of the doughnut schedule. The men not posted will be considered as the regular frosh squad.

Fast Team Expected

It is still too early to predict anything except that Sorsby is figuring on a fast scrappy nine, with plenty of fight if nothing else. The outfielders have been at batting practice and chasing fly balls knocked to the outfield. The men are beginning to hit better than in early practice but need much more work along this line. Practice yesterday, because of the rain, was limited to hitting, base running, sprinting, and right and left-side hook slides.

If weather conditions are favorable a practice game will be played with University high school next Friday afternoon on their diamond. Next week will probably see the Varsity and freshmen mix in several practice games. These will be played throughout the training period. A definite schedule of games for the frosh baseballers has not been completed.

University is Lacking In Athletic Equipment, Declares Dean Bovard

for the majority of students. Facilities for all branches of sport are provided, and men are on hand to instruct in these.

Coming to college to play football, basketball or baseball is not an unworthy ambition, Dean Bovard said. The men that do this can take up an athletic career, gain a background in the classroom, and then go forth as competent coaches or physical directors, he pointed out. Often, too, the man who comes to college to take up some sport, finds himself, and turns into an excellent student. Thus the stimulus is an excellent one, he declared, and students should be encouraged in this line if it occupies the larger share of their interest.

Work in Harmony

The several departments coming under the athletic regime at Oregon are working in close harmony, Dean Bovard said, and a bright era of athletics is at hand here. Oregon is expected to maintain a high place in Coast athletics, and at the same time, a large number of students will come into actual contact with the various sports, he pointed out.

The University is somewhat handicapped by lack of facilities, and such things as a new gymnasium, a new stadium, a new swimming pool, and other aids are vital needs, he said. The officials are now working toward a definite program, and in time sufficient facilities are expected to be available.

High School to Give Opera Of Flowery Kingdom

Mrs. Anne Lansberry Beck Directing Production

"Crimson Eyebrows," one of the most delightful operas of the year, will be presented this coming Friday and Saturday evenings by the glee club of the University high school in the new auditorium of the school of music. Mrs. Anne Lansberry Beck, of the University school of music faculty, is directing the opera. She is well-known as a director and composer of operas from the "Hour Hand," which was presented last year by University students. The proceeds from the performances this week-end will go into the student body fund of the University high school.

Among the unique features of "Crimson Eyebrows," the origin of the story is reputed to be the most interesting. With the opening of the Christian era, a usurper by the name of Wang Mang, played by Dean Scott, who had been a powerful official during the reign of Emperor Gaiti, came to the Chinese throne. Wang Mang at the death of Gaiti had himself proclaimed emperor. A conspiracy was formed by the great men of the state to overthrow Wang Mang, but he crushed all their efforts until a young rebel chief by the name of Fanchong gathered a huge army and opposed Wang Mang. Fanchong, played by Franklin Hall, had his fellows paint their eyebrows red to show that they would be faithful to the last drop of their blood. They were known in Chinese history as the "Crimson Eyebrows."

Tickets for the "Crimson Eyebrows" are being sold for 50 cents, which will entitle one to any seat in the house. Tickets can be exchanged for reserved seats at any time in Mrs. Beck's office in the school of music. The seat sale is going very rapidly, according to James Leake, business manager of the opera, and those who wish tickets may procure them from Mrs. Beck or any member of the cast.

PRESIDENT CAMPBELL RETURNS TO CAMPUS

President P. L. Campbell has returned to Eugene after three months and a half in Coronado, California, where he went late last December to avoid the winter weather.

Dr. Campbell stood the long trip quite well, according to his physician, Dr. William Kuykendall. "President Campbell is in better condition than when he left Eugene for Southern California last winter," the doctor said. "However, the associated physicians have joined with me in advising him not to attempt to resume the work of his office this year."

The recent agreeable spring days in Oregon made it possible for the President to return. He was anxious to come more closely in touch with his intimate friends and to learn more intimately of the life of the campus. He is now at his residence on the campus under the care of a physician and a nurse. Dr. Campbell has been unable to actively discharge the duties of the presidency for more than a year, although he has been in touch with institutional matters. In recent months his physicians have insisted upon complete rest, and when he left for California his illness was alarming. His last public appearance on the campus was a year ago when he spoke at a student assembly inaugurating the Student Union campaign.

"TINY" SHIELDS BETTER IS REPORT FROM SOUTH

"Tiny" Shields, former Oregon football star, has "improved a lot," since his arrival at Camp Kearney, near San Diego, California, according to a letter written to Jack Benefiel, graduate manager. "My back seems to be in good shape," "Tiny" wrote.

He now has a brace, and is able to sit up a few minutes a day. It is expected that in a month or two he will be able to be up a little. He has been at Camp Kearney for about three months.

WOMEN'S DOUGHNUT FINALS BEING PLAYED

April 22 Time Limit Set For First Round

Women's doughnut finals are now being played, with the time limit for the first round set for April 22. House managers are requested to make the necessary arrangements for matches in order to get them all played off before the time expires, as otherwise, the games will go by default.

The schedule for the first round of doughnut tennis is as follows: Singles: Gamma Phi Beta-Alfa Gamma Delta; Oregon Club-Hendricks hall I; Susan Campbell hall I-Alpha Xi Delta; Thacher-Delta Zeta; Chi Omega-Sigma Beta Phi; Kappa Alpha Theta-Pi Beta Phi; Kappa Kappa Gamma-Susan Campbell hall II; Hendricks hall II-Delta Delta Delta.

Doubles: Gamma Phi Beta-Alfa Gamma Delta; Girls' Oregon club-Hendricks hall I; Susan Campbell hall I-Alpha Xi Delta; Thacher-Delta Zeta; Chi Omega-Sigma Beta Phi; Kappa Alpha Theta-Pi Beta Phi; Kappa Kappa Gamma-Susan Campbell hall II; Hendricks hall II-Delta Delta Delta.

The winner of each match must report the score to Rhona Williams, it was announced.

"Plans for class teams are under way," reports Irene Buckley. "The material from which the class teams will be selected is of unusually splendid quality and predictions for women's tennis are of a highly optimistic order."

May 16 is the date set for doughnut finals. Class practice will begin May 11, and class finals will be an event of Field Day. Practice has been going forward steadily, with Rhona Williams on the courts every afternoon from four to six to give assistance to any of the team members requesting it. She will continue to assist during the entire practice season.

The consolation-elimination plan is to be tried out in tennis this season for the first time. This scheme of playing matches tends to interest a larger number of girls as more of them have an opportunity of playing in meets and also, because girls have a definite idea of their ability.

"If a girl comes out winner of the consolation-elimination meet,

At a meeting of house managers and team members yesterday noon, each house was provided with a list of approved umpires from which to select for their matches. The list is as follows: Grace Sullivan, Maude Schroeder, Florence Baker, Dorothy Evans, Anna DeWitt, Mildred Onslow, Golda Boone, Wanda Plinez, Ruth MacGregor, Alta Knips, Rhona Williams, Mildred Crain, Regina Davault, Augusta DeWitt, Betty Lewis, Charlotte LaTourette and Janet Wood.

OGDEN MILLS, FORMER OREGON GRID MAN DIES

Ogden R. Mills, a member of the University of Oregon football team during the fall of 1923, died at his home in Pauline, Tuesday night.

Mills had been seriously ill for the last six months, following an operation on his ear. Several weeks ago he was reported near death, but rallied and was supposedly on the road to recovery at the time of his death.

"Ike," as Mills was known on the campus, played on the varsity in the guard and fullback positions. During his freshman year he played both football and baseball. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta.

Dean Henry Sheldon Starts National Meeting With Welcome for Delegates

Vocal solos by Roy Bryson and Ruth Akers, added to the program of the morning.

The afternoon session was opened by Winifred Graham, president of the conference, and reports on the latest national conference at Columbus, Ohio; the midwestern conference at Missouri university; and the western convention at Arizona university; were called for and accepted.

This session dealt with the place of W. S. G. A. on the campus, and Anna Deam Mote, delegate from University of Arizona, gave a talk on Work in relation to associated student organization, telling of the way in the University of Arizona had overcome some of their problems.

Self demand, and self control, are necessary factors of government, she stated. The average student bodies, if given the chance to choose between right and wrong, inevitably choose the right. Miss Mote went on to say, that the women of the campus can be the right arm of the student body, connected by the A. W. S.

Arizona Has Method

A different method the University of Arizona has to adjust freshmen to campus conditions, is to compel entering students to take a one-year orientation course. In this course they are instructed how to study, how to take lecture notes, and anything else that will make their adjustment more easy.

A long discussion followed this talk, many of the college delegates interested in finding out more about the system used at Arizona, and about ways used for gaining student co-operation.

Miss Margaret Brookhart, representative from Iowa State college, spoke on Judicial Powers, in relation to administration. "The Woman's Guild co-operates with the Cardinal guild, the all-student governing body, in carrying on all college activities," she said. "The executive board, numbering 28, is made up of one representative from each organized house and dormitory, the president of the Y. W. C. mittee, Grinnell college, chairman, A. of W. A. A., of the Home Economics club, the Dean of Women, and five officers; student body president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and point supervisor."

Reports from these committees will be made at the last business sessions, Friday afternoon.

Speaks on Finance

This phase of student problems was also discussed at length, and was followed by a talk on Methods of Finance by Miss Marie Amundson, of Washington State college. One of the best means they had found to raise funds, she explained, was by the annual College Review, when tryouts are held for 50-minute stunts by the different women's living organizations.

Three committees were appointed by the chairman, after which the sessions was adjourned. They were: Constitution committee, University of Montana, chairman, Washington University of Missouri, Stanford, DePauw university, and Oregon university; Recommendations com-

BLA-A

Isn't human nature just too funny? As you can see this fellow isn't old enough to shave but here he is crying his soul out because his mama won't dress him like his big brother.

You see he has already decided that just as soon as he has any say in his affairs, he'll be wearing a Kuppenheimer "U" suit. Poor devil he can't help how his mother dresses him.
