

DELEGATES HEAR DEAN OF WOMEN

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Council Opens on Campus

TALKS CONTINUE TODAY

Seabeck Picnic Scheduled For Coburg Tonight

"Just as there is need of a research in science, so there is need of research in the land of the spirit, and the Y. W. C. A. provides the opportunity for this spiritual research work," declared Dean Virginia Judy Esterly in addressing the opening meeting of the State Y. W. C. A. cabinet members convention at the Bungalow yesterday evening.

Margaret Boyer, president of the campus Y. W. C. A., welcomed the delegates to the Oregon campus, and Helen Andrews, general chairman of the conference, spoke of the need of a feeling of unity between the local groups and the national organization.

Dean Esterly referred to a talk she recently had with President P. L. Campbell in which he declared, "Beauty is the greatest thing in the world because it is the greatest expression of God," in showing that the great spirit of the Y. W. C. A. was not so much in mechanical duties, which are important, but in the worship of God.

"This is not a godless age but an age of spiritual development in which the understanding of the universe, of God as he shows himself through nature and humanity is the most essential part of an individual's development," maintained Dean Esterly. She emphasized the broadening influence of the Y. W. through its potentiality of bringing broad national ideas into the local groups.

In the discussion of campus problems, the dictatorship and the censorship of the faculties of the denominational schools in regard to religious thought and classroom discussion was bitterly denounced. The Oregon faculty was accused of having an element which delighted in shocking the innocent freshmen by their attitude of discouraging religious thought.

Discussions will be resumed today in the Bungalow from 9:00 to 11:30 to be followed by luncheon at the Anchorage. The hours from 3:00 to 5:00 will be devoted to final discussions. The Seabeck picnic, under the direction of Virginia Keeney will take place at 6:00 at Coburg bridge.

The Sunday program includes meditation and worship, Charlotte Winnard, 9:30-10:15, and Commitment service, Elsie Heller, 3:00-4:00.

COMMUNICATIONS

(Continued from page three) much Jazzmania if they were forced to go to school on Saturday. More study is just what some of these awfully powdered, "short skirts" and wrinkled-socked, just undecidable males need. My heart fills with tears every day I look upon such people, living with the devil. I pray to God, the Saturday classes come to pass.

JUNIOR DOES NOT APPROVE OF TACTICS

To the Editor: It is apparent that something is about to be attempted on the part of the faculty which vitally affects the students of the University but which has not been submitted to them except through the faculty bulletin. Such an attitude in any body is not commendable and least commendable in a faculty. As far as can be seen the real reason for this Saturday class measure is much different from the one commonly given in support of it. The faculty should at least come out in the open and explain the proposed measure and give honest and sincere reasons for its adoption instead of considering it only among themselves. The University will be most successful only when there is complete harmony between the faculty and student body, but their tactics in the present case are not conducive toward harmony.

Respectfully, JUNIOR.

Obak's TO OPEN MAY 10TH

On account of additional fixtures being added to the now almost complete billiard parlor, Obak's will not open on May 1st as expected, but they will be ready to accommodate the University billiard "sharks" by May 10. The extensive remodeling program is rapidly nearing completion, and May 10 will see the pool tables hitting on all six.

There are many surprises awaiting the pool, and billiard fan, in the form of the most modern equipment. The whole corner has taken on a new, and shining appearance. Watch this column next week for more on the Obak's Improvements.

LIMIT PUT ON MILK SHAKES

Because of the large number of Obak's Special Banana Milk Shakes being sold the firm has been forced to put a limit on the number allowed each person. It is the desire of the company to satisfy all the customers who enter. However, these fresh Banana Milk Shakes have become so popular and the demand so heavy that a limit of 25 a day per person has been set. "Tommy," the famous fountain wizard, says as soon as the new Obak Parlor has been finished the limit will be raised.

KAMPUS KOLLUM

Now they propose to take our Student Union money out of us when we pay our fees. That is all right, for we will not notice it so much if we pay it with a $30 or $40 fee.

If Saturday classes are adopted for next year, the boys at Obak's will probably only have one night open to play pool, Saturday night. This hardly seems fair as most of the "gang" have to work on Saturday, and this ruling would deprive them of this chance.

The Board of Regents are meeting today to consider some new amendments to the constitution. Among them is the amendment which provides for the collection of a building fund when the student pays his fees. It is too bad that the State of Oregon expects the students of a public institution to buy their own buildings.

It has been noticed that Bob Mautz is losing weight—a terrible condition. Lately, he has only been able to eat his six squares daily. It is thought that he has been calling $51 too often.
