

VODVIL TICKET PLANS GIVEN

Numbers Will Be Given Out From 3 to 5 p. m. Today At Heilig Theatre Office

40 TICKETS IS LIMIT

Heavy Demand for Seats Expected; Acts Declared Of Professional Caliber

The box office sale for the Junior Vodvil, the premiere event, Friday and Saturday, opens tomorrow morning, and to facilitate the sale James W. Leake, manager, has arranged for the office at the Heilig theatre to be open from three o'clock until five today, when numbers will be given to those desiring to obtain seats. These must be presented the next day, when the seats will go on sale at 10 o'clock. A limit of 40 tickets to a person has been set.

Acts are Ready
Every act on what is declared to be the best Junior Vodvil bill ever presented, is now ready, and final rehearsals are being held daily, announces Paul Krause, in charge of production. The show will be professional in every way, and W. B. McDonald, manager of the Heilig declares that the bill is strictly high class and up to the highest vaudeville standards.

Variety is the keynote of the bill, declares Krause, and every act was picked because it was different from every other one on the bill. Although no act is billed as the "feature" several will claim that position in the popularity with the audience. The Piped Pipers have been rehearsing in secret, but a few have managed to get close enough to hear their strains, and the act is characterized as one of the "meanest" of the year.

Songsters Tone Up
The Alpha Xi Delta's have been making daily pilgrimages to the Heilig and have become so familiar with the theatre that they send each carefully rendered note in their musical act to the far corners of the house. "Who Killed the Dead Pig" is declared to be so funny that it was days before the two comedians who are rendering Al Clark's masterpiece could keep their faces straight enough to go through their lines.

The barber shop harmony quartet has reached the zenith of harmony, and are now ready to tackle any note from a to z. Jane Scriptures has turned her voice up for any number of jazz song novelty numbers, and she will be ready to outdo any of her style on the stage today.

Eccentric Dancing in all its zip-piness and glory will be presented by Delbert Faust and Edna Dipple. Both are experienced dancers, and have an act that is of Orpheum quality in every way.

Promptness will be the key to obtaining good seats, declares Leake, for a good attendance is expected both Friday and Saturday.

STATELY CAMPUS TREES STAND AS MEMORY OF FORMER DAYS

Fifty years ago the Oregon campus was a barren, treeless field. Now it is covered with beautiful lawns, shrubs, flowers, and, best of all, delightful shade trees. On warm spring afternoons, students of present days lounge beneath the cool shade of the trees to study or rest; little thinking of when, by whom, or how these tall trees came to be a part of Old Oregon.

But classes of former years are interested in these trees, and watch their growth with joy and even reverence, because many are class memorials, planted by graduating classes to commemorate the time when they left college to begin their life's work. Most of the trees are very near Villard and Deady halls, the University's oldest buildings.

Some of those who helped plant the trees are dead, some have journeyed to far-away lands, some have

Alumni Secretary Wants Names of Lost Graduates

Lost! Scores and scores of alumni cannot be traced! Please turn in news of their whereabouts to alumni office immediately.

In the last "Old Oregon" is a list of alumni whose records in Jeanette Calkins' office are incomplete. The new directory is being compiled and it is imperative that all alumni be represented. Many students on the campus know of these former students and they are asked to drop a note in the alumni office as soon as possible, so that the names may be added to the directory. There has been no directory since 1913 and work on the new one has been in progress for several months. Part of it is at the press now. The Alumni directories will sell for $1.00 a copy or if bought with a new subscription to "Old Oregon" for 75 cents, making a total of $2.75 for the alumni magazine and directory.

THREE DEPARTMENTS TO COMBINE ON DRAMA

Plans for Coming Feature Are Well Under Way

Three departments—physical education, dancing and music—will collaborate to make this year's Dance Drama, to be given May 27, one of the most elaborate ever produced on the campus. The best talent in each department will be commandeered for this exposition of the three arts.

N. B. Zane, professor of design and interior decoration in the school of arts, will direct the work on the stage settings for the drama. Work has already begun on the stage scenery for "A Night's Mardi Gras," one of the three intervals composing the Dance Drama. The art department is taking full advantage of this opportunity to utilize all the richness of Oriental color and design. The setting is in the heart of an Oriental bazaar. In the distance, can be seen the towers of the minarets and temples of the city.

Miss Avakian, who directs the department of costume design in the school of arts will design and supervise the making of costumes for the event. Miss Kerns' poster class will also co-operate.

The cast for the drama includes the following names: Neva Service, Edith Pierce, Irene Buckley, Louise Bartlett, Mary Ann Hansen, Augusta Hamilton, Bernice Lamb, Kate Lambert, Betty Lewis, Doris Parker, Beatrice Peters, Grace Potter, Maude Schroeder, Laverna Spitzneger, Margaret Stahl, Grace Sullivan, Bell Taggart, Louise Wisecarver, Janet Wood, Charlotte LaTourrette, Violet Read, and Alene Larimer.

Rex Underwood's orchestra will play for the drama. Mr. Underwood is professor of violin in the school of music.

THREE STUDENTS ARE CANDIDATES

Mary Hathaway, Winifred Graham, T. Gillenwaters, Albert Prize Aspirants

SECRETARY IS ELECTED

Seniors to Disperse With Picnic; Money to Go Into Old Oregon Subscriptions

Winifred Graham, Mary Jane Hathaway, and Ted Gillenwaters have been selected as likely candidates for the Joseph H. Albert prize, by the committee on awards, it was reported yesterday at the senior class meeting.

Mr. Albert has consented to change the nature of his award from a $25 prize in cash to a loving cup to be awarded each year to the senior having a record for faithful study and a scholarship not below average, who during his college course, opportunities considered, has made the greatest progress toward an ideal in (1) character, (2) service, (3) wholesome influence.

Class Casts Votes
The committee suggested that the class should eliminate the candidate receiving the smallest number of votes and take the second in case no candidate receives a majority on the first ballot.

These candidates will be voted on by seniors at the coming student election.

Other matters settled at the meeting were the election of Marie Myers as permanent secretary, the decision that Thespians will be given the privilege to assist at graduation, and a decision relating to the usual class picnic. In regard to the latter point it was decided to dispense with this, and to use the money left in the treasury in paying for a year's subscription to Old Oregon for each member of the class.

This will not only set a precedent but it will also save the expense of sending out circulation material.

BUREAU PLACES MANY TEACHERS IN SCHOOLS

The May rush for teachers has begun at the University appointment bureau. Though work has been going on for about the last month, actual appointing has been largely limited to the last two weeks. Up to the present time 21 teachers have been given positions.

"There are two types of teachers which we handle," declared Professor H. P. Rainey. "The experienced and the inexperienced. The appointments which we have made up to the present time have been to all sorts of school positions. Some have been for superintendents, we have placed several principals, athletic directors, and, of course, teachers. Then too, some of our appointments have been made with some of the best high schools in the state, the interesting part of it being that many of the best positions have been gained by inexperienced applicants."

Of the 21 appointments made, 12 were filled by experienced teachers and other 9 by inexperienced.

"At present there is on hand a large list of vacancies and more will continue to come in," Mr. Rainey continued. "Some of the openings are in outside states, Washington and Idaho mostly. There are between 75 and 80 inexperienced prospects and a similar number of experienced on record."

A great amount of vacancies will be filled during the May rush but there will be another, an eleventh-hour rush, in August when schools will be seeking people capable of filling positions vacated through broken contracts and other reasons. There are almost as many positions filled in August as in May, Mr. Rainey said.

Campus Lawyers Highly Indignant Over Baseball Tilt

The campus lawyers are highly indignant over the misrepresentation of their attitude toward the approaching baseball game between the lawyers and the sports-writers by some aspiring young sports-writer. The lawyers claim that the postponement of the game from last Saturday to next Thursday was at the earnest request of the scribes.

"We made allowances once," said Jimmy King, captain, "when they came to us about not having time enough to prepare for the game, but we are not going to postpone the game a second time at their request. We will be on the field at two o'clock Thursday, and they will forfeit the game if they are not there. It is my private opinion that they will not be there."

PARENTS' WEEK-END PLANS ARE COMPLETE

Program to Include Junior Vodvil and Vespers

Varied entertainment including the Junior Vodvil and Sunday evening vespers services is being planned for visiting mothers and fathers by the committee for Mothers' and Fathers' Week-end, headed by Bill Poulsen. Other members of the committee are Jean Harper, Roy Bryson, Pauline Bondurant and Beatrice Peters.

Students are asked by the committee to be sure to send the distributed invitations home and to co-operate in showing the parents the best time possible during the week-end.

The program of entertainment is to be as follows: Friday and Saturday night—the Junior Vodvil.

Saturday afternoon—Baseball game for the fathers and a tea given by the Women's League for the mothers.

Sunday evening—Vespers, University Music Hall, 4 to 5 p. m.

"We are especially anxious to have mothers and fathers attend the vespers service," said Bill Poulsen, "and as it will be over at 5 o'clock, there will be plenty of time for Portland parents to catch the 6 o'clock train home."

OREGON NINE TO PLAY W.S.C. COUGARS TODAY

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, Oregon's baseball nine will swing into action against the Washington State ball tossers on the Hayward diamond. Although dropping a game to the Vandals Monday, the local squad will attempt to wrestle the lost honors from the visitors today.

Fred Harrison, who has been on the ineligibility list but has now cleared his academic deficiencies and will probably start in the box against the Cougars. Harrison has been training and is ready to swing into action.

In the game against the Idaho nine Oregon was off color and did not put up the exhibition they are capable of doing. Frank Reinhart as lead-off man has been hitting the ball hard and can be counted on for his share of the hits. Fred West has found his batting eye and although batting in eighth place he should strengthen the lower end of the list.

CAMPUS CULTIVATION NOW IN FULL SWING

Spring cultivating is in full swing on the campus, as the few days of warm weather have caused the ground to be in excellent condition. The entire grounds will be gone over, and H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, expects that it will take three or four men several days to complete the work.

Three dozen window boxes have been planted, and placed around the campaign building behind Johnson hall, on Susan Campbell hall and Hendricks hall, and at the University high school. Geraniums, fuchsias, wandering jew, dusty millers, creeping Charlie, and myrtle are used for the most part in the window boxes.

KIRK ENTERS RACE FOR EMERALD POST

WOMEN'S SPORTS MAY BE CHANGED

Two Delegates From Each House to Make Decision On Intra-Mural Athletics

TWO PLANS SUGGESTED

A drastic move among Oregon women athletes to subordinate competition in sports to the English attitude of "the game for its own sake," may mean a revolutionary change in the program of women's sports for next year.

Inter-house competition in women's sports may be abolished. An open mass meeting sponsored by W. A. A. to which each house will send at least two delegates, has been called for tomorrow.

The matter which has been on foot all year among women athletes, came to a head at a recent meeting of the W. A. A. The general feeling expressed was that there were too many activities on the campus going on at the same time, that women were being forced, under the present program, into sports in order that the house to which they belonged might be represented. This condition, it was maintained, is undermining the traditional interest of Oregon women in sports for which this campus is noted, and is placing the emphasis upon competition when it should be upon spontaneity and love of the sport for its own sake.

Committee to Report
A committee on necessary changes in the sport situation which will report at the mass meeting tomorrow, declined to make any definite statements when approached by the press last night. The greater mass of suggestions and detail will come from the meeting tomorrow, it was stated.

It is understood however, that the committee will report in favor of either of two plans. One plan will call for the adoption of an entirely new sport program. All house competition would be abolished. Individual participation in sports organized into a few teams would be substituted. Teams would be balanced in strength. Competition would take the form of a round robin tournament among the teams. The regular class tournament would be held as usual.

Changes are Planned
The second plan would continue the present program of sports with various changes, including the following: 1. Volley ball and swimming seasons would take place simultaneously, no girl being allowed to participate in both sports. 2. Basketball season would be the entire winter term. 3. In baseball, practices would be cut down and games increased.

Another matter which will have a direct bearing upon the sport situation is the Hendricks-Susan Campbell conference. The conference between the two big halls of residence is an attempt to equalize the unbalanced relation between the hall and house teams due to the great difference in numbers.

JUNIOR CLASS PICNIC WILL BE HELD MAY 16

Plans for the junior class picnic which will be held May 16, are well under way. The place is being kept a secret, but dancing and swimming facilities will be provided. The affair will last all day, and trucks will be furnished for transportation.

Committees in charge of the arrangements are: Food, Bud Pearson, chairman, and Dorothy Myers, transportation, Babe Sherman; patrons and patronesses, Ellen McClellan; games and amusements, Jack Seabrook, chairman, and Edna Murphy; place, Warren Small.

A paper will be posted on the bulletin board in the library, and all juniors who intend going on this picnic must sign their names there either Thursday or Friday.

Class in Printing Offered Prize By Eastern Type Firm

The printing class of Robert C. Hall, head of the University press, has received an extremely practical assignment. This consists in making out an order for the equipment of a mythical country printing plant.

Frank E. Carr, manager of the Portland branch of the American Typefounders association, has heard of this assignment and proffered his co-operation. He has offered to assist in grading the assignments, and to point out just where the student has too much or too little equipment for his plant, and how good his judgment is in regard to the outfitting of a printing establishment. In addition Mr. Carr has offered a prize to the winner, a box of cigars or of candy, according to whom the winner proves to be.

WOMEN FINISH SECOND DOUGHNUT NET ROUND

Teams Enter Semi-final Contests for Honors

Saturday saw the completion of the second round of women's doughnut tennis with the following teams in line for the semi-finals: singles; Laura Braske for Hendricks Hall I, Wanda Plinez for Susan Campbell Hall I, Camille Burton for Chi Omega, Ruth Melsome for Hendricks Hall II. Doubles; Isabelle Amon and Helen Tyroll for Gamma Phi Beta, Velma Scholl and May Borquist for Thacher, Harriet Adams and Olga Jackson for Kappa Alpha Theta, Mable Fransen and Anna DeWitt for Hendricks Hall II.

The consolation-elimination tournament is not progressing as rapidly as was anticipated. Since the girls asked for this arrangement of tennis, and since it was granted them purely as accommodation, whether or not they play off their matches according to the schedule provided, is considered entirely the girls' responsibility. Edith Boyer for Delta Zeta is in line for the second round of consolation singles. Florence Huntress and Edna Spender have placed Alpha Xi Delta in the list for consolation doubles.

Today is the final date given for the completion of the first round, according to Rhona Williams, head of tennis. Girls should begin playing off the second round of consolation tennis by Wednesday.

The turn-out for class tennis has been unusually slow. The schedule for class tennis was posted on the bulletin board this morning. Four class practices are required, all of which must be worked off before class tournaments begin. Semi-finals and finals are scheduled to follow this second round of doughnut tennis. May 16 has been set as the time limit.

Politics are always uncertain and seldom is one year similar to another, but the spring term elections of 1925 stand fair to prove the most startling and unconventional of any held on the Oregon campus before this time. With but one issue of the Emerald left in which to announce candidacies, and nominations scheduled for tomorrow's assembly, only six persons have signified their intentions of entering the troubled waters.

Hal Kirk is the third to enter the ring and he will contest Ed Miller, who was announced yesterday, for the editorship of the Emerald. Kirk has been managing editor of the Emerald since the winter term and is serving in the capacity at present. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity, president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising group, and of the Craftsmen club.

Before entering the university Kirk was advertising manager of the Oregon City Enterprise, later working on the Morning Register.

Margaret Vincent Enters
The first woman to venture forth is Margaret Vincent who will place her name on the ballot for the position of senior woman on the executive council. Miss Vincent has been a member of the Emerald staff since her freshman year, and has charge of the campus luncheon for junior week-end this year. She had charge of the Women's League auction sale, and was on the freshman and sophomore swimming teams during the first two years. During the last two years she has been a member of the staff of the Oregana, and has been prominent in class committee activities.

Floyd McKalson, a junior in the University, will run for one of the three senior men vacancies on the student council. During his first year he had charge of construction of the bonfire, was general chairman of the Frosh Glee, and won his numeral in freshman track. He was general chairman of the Sophomore Informal for his class, chairman of "College Night" in both 1923 and 1924, and is now serving on the Greater Oregon Committee. McKalson also served on the Student Union drive last year.

The last candidate to announce his intentions last night was Eugene F. Richmond, sophomore, who turned his name in for the office of junior man on the student council. Richmond was freshman president
