

Varsity Plays Huskies Today

Game to Start at 3:15 p. m.
On New Baseball Field;

Harrison May Start

Contest With Washington
Will Close Home Stay;
Trips Scheduled Next

By Richard L. Godfrey

Fresh from its ninth inning victory over the Cougar nine Wednesday, the varsity will swing into action against the mighty Huskies this afternoon at 3:15 on the new diamond. Incidentally, this will be the last big contest for the home fans and their mates to view before the varsity begins its annual northern jaunt.

From all indications the Oregonians have hit their stride and if the flag of the Huskie's is not lowered today the signs of the prophet will be tossed aside.

Pitcher's Choice Uncertain

The choice for the mound stands between Fred Harrison and Ray Williams. If Harrison gets the call he will be starting his first intercollegiate contest for Oregon. He pitched an inning and a half in the latter part of the Cougar tilt and received credit for the win. Fred has a world of speed and if his stuff begins to take, the Washington hits will be far between. Williams already has shown what he is capable of doing in varsity competition. So far he stands one and one in games won and lost.

Washington is supposed to have a strong aggregation, but stooped to defeat at the hands of the Oregon Aggies yesterday, 6 to 3. This defeat may imbibe them with a superhuman fighting strength which will assure the fans of a fighting, close score game.

Hard Hitting Possible

If the local boys collect the hits they were talking about while practicing last night the game will be called on account of darkness before the termination of the initial inning. It seemed that everybody wants to garner at least one more bingle than anyone else.

Oregon probably will lineup with Jack Bliss, catching; Rex Adolph, first; Hobbie Hobson, second; Freddie West, shortstop; "What-a-ya-say" Cook, third; and Big Jones, Plunks Reinhart, and Minnow Minnaugh or Doug Wright roaming in the gardens.

MASS MEETING MONDAY

Will Oregon women support the new movement in women's sports? A big mass meeting Monday at 5 o'clock in the women's gymnasium will decide on the sport program for next year. Those who aspire to wear the Lemon O had better come out and ballot Monday afternoon.

PAUL BUNYAN STORIES, SOUGHT BY COLLECTORS, OUT OF PRINT

Unexpected prominence and fame has come to a University publication, printed four years ago, which is now being eagerly sought by collectors throughout the country.

The publication, a 24-page booklet entitled "Paul Bunyan Comes West," contained a collection of stories concerning the activities of the now famous fictitious lumber camp figure. The stories were gathered and put in form for publication by Ida Virginia Turney, formerly on the department of English staff.

The booklet was illustrated by a number of picturesque linoleum cuts, made by students in the architecture department. The paper used in the printing was fine imported Japan paper. Work of making up the booklet and printing it was done by Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, and Robert C. Hall, superintendent of the University press.

A limited number of copies, 200, were issued, and they were sold at

Trouble in Keeping Pets Discourages Would-be Petters

The Tau Nu girls are grief-stricken. A tragedy occurring last week has made them sad, and after an unsuccessful attempt at keeping a rabbit, they have decided not to have pets.

Billy, a puppy, whom they have had since he was three weeks old, came to a sudden and awful death at the age of eight months when the S. A. E. dog, Noble, chased him out into the street and a passing automobile ran over him.

Billy's many friends are glad to learn that death was instantaneous. The funeral took place almost immediately with the S. A. E.'s officiating.

After the loss of their dog, the Tau Nu's decided to choose a more home-loving mascot, so when two of the girls caught a rabbit Saturday, the problem was considered solved.

However, before they could even stage a christening, bunny became so agile that he kept the S. A. E. boys busy returning him from his wanderings. The girls decided it was cruel to keep the animal in captivity anyway, and so took him back to the fields.

REGENTS MAKE DRASTIC MOVES

Drama Department Ousted;
Staff Abolished; Two
Department Heads Out

SECRET LEAKS OUT

Sweeping Action Taken
At Board Meeting Last
Saturday; Facts Withheld

By Leon Byrne

The complete abolition of the drama department of the University, with the dispensation of the services of the entire staff; the demotion of two department heads in the University; the dismissal of another professor: these are a few of the events concurrent with the recent meeting of the board of regents; events which an attempt has been made to keep secret, but which are made public in this morning's edition of the Portland Oregonian and the Eugene Register.

Following the meeting of the regents last Saturday, a report was issued by the administration of the University, supposedly covering the entire business carried on by the regents—business with which the entire public is supposedly concerned. This report stated in an obscure place that:

"The board voted to consolidate the department of drama and the speech arts with the English department."

Department is Eliminated

The truth of the matter, according to the minutes of the meeting, is that the department of drama has been eliminated from the University; the services of the entire staff discontinued at the end of the present term, with any classes of this nature to be conducted by the English department.

The report stated that "it would take too long to explain the combination of the departments." A member of the board, when asked for a statement as to what really happened at the meeting, referred the reporter to the University officials. Fergus Reddie, head of the dramatic department, has been with the University for practically thirteen years. When he came here there was no dramatic department of any kind. Since he has been here he has built up one of the finest and best known departments in the West. There are at present 64 students majoring in drama, and there are over 150 enrolled in the courses taught by the department.

Herbert C. Howe, head of the English department, and Timothy Cloran, head of the Romance language department, have both been demoted, it is understood. Professor Howe with a $500 decrease in salary. It is not known whether or not other men have been appointed to fill these vacancies.

FLOWERS TO BLOOM NEAR ART BUILDING

Additional flowers and shrubs are to be set out in the flower-beds at the south end of the art building, in the near future.

Miss Maude Kerns, of the art department, has suggested a number of varieties for the purpose, such as chrysanthemums, peonies, snap dragons, hollyhocks, centurion bells, columbine, gladioli, zinnias, fox glove, red hot poker and others.

H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, expects that it will be necessary to spade up additional ground in order to make enough room for the new flowers.

To Mothers and Fathers:

We welcome you to our campus. We are glad that you have come and that you have given us this opportunity to entertain you. We hope that you will enjoy your visit and that you will come again.

Vic Risley Injured In Library Scuffle With W. Rosenberg

Suit for Damages Filed
In Lawyers' Court

Wistar (Chic) Rosenberg is in trouble again, and it seems to be a rather serious matter this time. As the result of a library brawl, in which he severely injured, or caused to be injured, one Victor Risley, vice-president of the law school student body, he is being sued for damages amounting to the sum of $5,000.

According to the plaintiff, Mr. Rosenberg entered the reserve section reading room last Thursday afternoon and demanded a certain book which Mr. Risley was reading. Mr. Risley, having just taken out the book and seeing no reason why he should comply with the other's demands, resented Rosenberg's attitude. It is charged that Rosenberg referred Risley to the infernal regions and then attacked him.

In the ensuing struggle Risley's hip came violently in contact with the corner of a table, and, according to Dr. Ross, the injury received may possibly be a permanent one. Ralph McClaffin, attorney for the plaintiff, says that Oregon will lose one of her premier track men, for it will be impossible for Rosenberg to keep out of jail. The defendant, however, has been wearing his customary smile of late, seemingly confident in the abilities of James King, defense attorney.

The case will be up for hearing before the next session of the moot court, which is scheduled for Tuesday night.

To the Fathers and Mothers:

May I add my welcome to that of all the students and faculty to you who are here for the week-end. We hope that you will visit every department of the University. We welcome and appreciate your interest in coming. We especially appreciate the opportunity of identifying your interests and ours in the welfare of your sons and daughters. Please feel free to call upon any of us while you are on the campus.

Very sincerely yours,
VIRGINIA JUDY ESTERLY.

FROSH TO MEET CINDER CHAMPS

Oregon Babes' Individual

Assure Strong Sprints

CLOSE COMPETITION DUE

Wetzel to Handle Weights;
Distances to Be Managed
By Kelly and Overstreet

The Jefferson high school track team, for eight years Portland high school track champion under the coaching of Harold W. Quigley, will show their wares against the freshman team on Hayward field this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the first regular track meet on the freshman schedule. The meet will be over in time for the ball game.

The visitors are coming down with a strong team which promises to make competition hard for the Oregon babes. In their meets this season they have won by large margins and promise to again annex the high school track honors in the last year that Coach Quigley will be with Jefferson. He has a reputation for turning out strong track teams and this one is not falling down in the least. The personnel of the team was not announced last night.

Frosh Team Strong

The Oregon babes with their surprising showing in the Frosh-Rock relay carnival last week-end, show that they have almost overcome the loss of three of the most dependable men on the team. The individual showing of the men was good. Kelly in the mile and Overstreet in the half mile make the distances fairly sure for the frosh team. The sprints will probably be strong with five men entered who place about even; Allen, Kuykendall, Wetzel, Winslow, and Guttridge. The weights will be handled by Wetzel, who has been getting some good distances in the discus, shot and javelin in the last week.

Lineup for Meet

The frosh entries:
100 — Allen, Kuykendall, and Wetzel.
220 — Allen, Winslow, Wetzel.
440 — Cooper, Pearson and Hicks.
880 — Overstreet, Ross, and Peterkin.

Mile—Kelly, Jamison and Manning.

High hurdles—Guttridge, Burns and Chandlee.

The officials for the meet will be: Rosenberg, starter; Harry Scott, Gordon Wilson and Westerman, judges of finish; Stockwell, Anderson, Dills, Hemmings and Gardner, field judges; Zimmerman, clerk of the course; Harry Scott, timer; Barnes, Holder and Snyder, inspectors; Peak, scorer.

LLOYD WEBSTER CHOSEN HEAD OF NEW CLUB

University men, physical education majors, and norms in the department, have formed a club to get acquainted with the problems in the field of physical education and methods of dealing with them. Lloyd Webster was chosen president of the organization and Harry Scott, faculty advisor. Other officers elected are Roland Belshaw, vice-president; Glen Howard, secretary-treasurer; Leonard Mayfield, sergeant at arms; Clifford Kuhn, reporter; Clarence Toole, editor.

The club expects to publish a small paper each term containing interesting reports of the field of physical education and allied subjects. This will be sent to high school superintendents and other interested persons throughout the Northwest.

Seniors Warned Of Requirements Before Graduation

Seniors are warned that, if they wish to graduate, there are certain formalities which must not be overlooked. Most important of these requirements are those pertaining to the payment of a graduate fee and the filing of cards of application for degrees. This should be done as soon as possible.

No student's record for graduation is considered until an application for degree card has been filled out and filed at the registrar's office. This should be done immediately.

The University regulations require that students expecting to graduate this year must pay their graduation fee of $10 before noon of June 6th. Money may be turned in at once to the cashier of the Administration building. June 6 is the latest possible date allowed for payment if the student's name is to appear on the program.

No student shall be recommended for a degree who has not complied with these requirements, it has been announced by L. H. Johnson, comptroller. In the event the degree is not granted the fee will be refunded.

ADDITIONAL FEE TO BE EXPLAINED BY COUNCIL

Students Urged to Vote At Coming Election

At a special meeting of the student council called yesterday afternoon it was decided to send speakers to the various campus clubs and living organizations to explain thoroughly the proposed amendment to the constitution providing for a $5.00 fee addition for new campus buildings.

In the opinion of the members of the council, many University students do not fully understand the nature of the proposed amendment, and are not familiar with the circumstances which have led to the introduction of the amendment.

Members of the council were unanimous in the belief that no attempt should be made to coerce the student body into voting for the amendment. Accordingly, the efforts of the council will be informative in their nature, and will be carried out through the medium of speakers in the campus organizations. The talks will be given during the first part of next week.

It was decided to carry on an active campaign urging the entire student body to visit the polls on election day that a representative opinion on the amendment may be obtained at that time.

McCROSKY TO GIVE ORATION OVER OREGONIAN RADIO

Benoit McCrosky, winner of the state peace oratorical contest will deliver his oration from radio KGW, of the Morning Oregonian, on Friday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock. Because of a special program being given from the Portland public auditorium, the extension division found it advisable to change the date of McCrosky's oration which was to have been last Thursday evening.

PINNEO-WOOTEN-WILSON ACT PROVES JUNIOR VOD-VIL HIT

By Leon K. Byrne

Before you read this review, remember that it is the opinion of one person, not the entire audience which witnessed the Junior Vodvil last night, and that the writer's tastes may differ from yours. You may disagree with him or you may agree, that is immaterial. This writing is supposed to serve more or less as a basis of discussion.

With that off our journalistic chest, what about the show? It is good, as vaudeville shows go. Better than the vaudeville shows produced at local theatres, although not superior to the "best in the West" as the producers claim.

The best number on the program? Take your pick. The Pi-id Pipers with their novelty offerings are by far the most professional, and the music they dispense is perfect—44 jazz may be called perfect. The Pinneo-Wooten-Wilson act, burles-

A lovely and appropriate program for the occasion has been arranged by the committee in charge of Margaret Hyatt and Charles Dawson.

Dr. M. K. W. Heicher, professor in the San Francisco Theological Seminary, will give the address. He is not known to University students as he was a temporary pastor at the Congregational church in Eugene last year. He originally came from Cedar Falls, Iowa, to Corvallis, where he was pastor of the First Presbyterian church for two years with an unusually large student following. For several years he was a missionary (Continued on page four)
