Thoughts of our Mothers were foremost in our minds during the week-end and the days were filled with entertainment for them. The Junior Vol-vil both Friday and Saturday evenings, the tea at the Women's building in the afternoon on Saturday and Vesper services Sunday were perhaps the outstanding events arranged in their honor but many informal affairs were held at the sorority and fraternity houses.

One of the loveliest events of the week was the breakfast dance for which the freshmen and juniors of Delta Delta Delta were hostesses on Saturday morning from 8:30 until 11:30 at their house. Roses and sweet peas in pink and white were used in the rooms. The visiting mothers and their housemother, Mrs. B. Fitzsimmons, acted as patronesses.

Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity for men, entertained with a formal dance Friday at the Theta Chi house.

Patrons and patronesses for this affair were Dean and Mrs. Eric Allen, Mr. George Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Casey.

A charming event of Friday was the formal dinner-dance at the Osburn hotel given by members of Sigma Chi fraternity. Tulips on the tables and palms about the rooms formed the effective decorations. Miss Edna Dipple entertained the guests with a solo dance.

Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Sether, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn McCready, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Smith and Mr. and Mrs. William Reinhart were patrons and patronesses.

The ball room at Hendricks hall was the scene of their informal dance Saturday evening. Snapdragons arranged with other flowers in old-fashioned bouquets decorated the rooms. Miss Gertrude Talbot, Miss Margaret MacGregor, Miss Dorothy Gurley, Mr. Donald Barnes and Mr. Andrew Fish were chaperons for the dance.

An interesting informal dance was given by members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity on Friday evening at their chapter house. The house was artistically decorated with colorful flowers of the season, including iris in gold and purple, and huge bunches of roses. Streamers in the same colors were used about the rooms. Music was furnished by the Four Horsemen orchestra.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Prof. and Mrs. F. S. Dunn, Dr. and Mrs. Warren D. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Green.

An elaborate grille dance was given Saturday at the Sigma Nu house by members of that house. Fraternity colors of black, white and gold were in evidence, and a profusion of palms and ferns decorated the house. Special lighting effects produced an indirect orange glow. Supper was served on the balcony and porch of the second floor. Music was furnished by the O. A. C. Aggravators. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. B. W. DeBusk, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hunt and Rev. and Mrs. Fred Clarke.

Saturday evening the Alpha Delta Pi's gave an informal dance at their house. Spring flowers were most artistic in the rooms. Rush guests from Portland were especially honored at this time.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Lucy Perkins, Mrs. A. King Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Tillson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Jewett.

The Gra-Kos informal grille dance was given Saturday at the Anchorage. Miss Esther Setters sang during the evening. The committee in charge of the dance was composed of Clifford Powers, Harry Hemmings, Jimmie Johnson and Jack Renshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ireland were patrons and patronesses.

The Anchorage was the scene of the informal dinner-dance given by Kappa Omicron on Friday. An old-fashioned scheme was carried out in the decorations and in the motif for the programs. The younger sisters of the girls were guests at the dance.

Miss Sue Badollet and Mrs. Lucy Perkins were patronesses.

The Alpha Beta Chi house was beautiful Friday evening when they held their spring informal. Scotch broom, hawthorne and cut flowers decorated the house.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Stephens chaperoned the affair.

CONDON HALL CLEANED BEFORE OCCUPATION

Departments Plan to Move Into Building Soon

Condon hall, the new science building, is receiving a thorough cleaning and renovating before the department moves into it.

Workmen are engaged in washing and polishing the windows, mopping the floors, cleaning the woodwork and walls, and putting the entire building into first-class condition.

The science building is very pleasing in appearance. Floors and staircases are covered with a heavy gray linoleum, and the wood-work and walls are a soft grayish color also.

The basement floor has numerous rooms and laboratories for geology. On the second floor is the large room to be used as an annex to the library; it has about 2 large windows, which will insure the best lighting and ventilation possible. On the top floor, devoted to psychology, there are nearly 25 small rooms to be used for laboratory work.

The grading of the grounds around the building is progressing rapidly, and the lawn will be seeded soon. H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, expects that, by the end of this week, the work of moving into Condon hall will begin.

For fear that this rumor bears the truth and for the further reason that the campus at large is clamoring to see their champions in action, the Law School has seen fit to issue the following invitation, to wit:

Any sufficiently plain and correctly addressed challenge or invitation to meet upon the field of contest in the national pastime will be gladly received and forthwith accepted by the Law School baseball nine.

NEW PLATOON SYSTEM ATTRACTS ATTENTION

"The two courses in platoon school problems offered by Dr. W. F. Kennedy, Superintendent of the Platoon system in the Pittsburg public schools, are at this early date beginning to attract wide attention," said Alfred Powers, acting director of the extension division. "Already there is an extensive preliminary enrollment. They promise to be the largest educational classes ever held in the Portland summer session," he said.

The public schools of Spokane and Portland are already beginning to use the platoon system. This will mean that the greater part of the enrollment of those classes will come from educators and school

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA INITIATES FOUR MEN

Professor W. F. G. Thacher Gives Banquet Speech

Four men were initiated into Alpha Delta Sigma, national honorary advertising fraternity, Sunday evening at the journalism building. They were Milton George, Earl Slocum, Jasper Crawford, and Calvin Horn.

Following the ceremony, a banquet was held at the College Side Inn at which Professor W. F. G. Thacher, of the journalism department, delivered a short talk on "The Qualifications of an Advertising Man."

"While there is no one quality or qualities which you can set your finger on that enables the advertising man to attain the highest in his profession," he said, "I have noticed, from contact with leaders in that field, that they all possess the one ability, the ability to meet men."

After the banquet an election of officers for the ensuing year was held. James Leake succeeded George Howard Godfrey as president of the Oregon chapter, and Wayne Leland was elected to replace Harold Kirk as vice-president. Claude Reavis was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

filled without increasing the department budget.

In the department of Romance languages, this year's budget will be maintained by readjustment of personnel within the department.

The 50 cents addition per term for infirmary fee will bring $1,250 into the University as an added sum next year, and the expected increase in the incidental student fees due to increased enrollment next year will mean an additional $5,000.

A saving of $19,000 was made in staff salaries by readjustments of faculty positions, some department economies, and by the drastic curtailment of work in drama and the speech arts. By action of the board of regents, a saving of $6,000 a year was made in drama and the speech arts, largely in salaries, through failure to reappoint Professor Ferguson Reddie and other staff members in this department.

It was originally estimated that to fill faculty vacancies for next year and to make necessary advances in salaries, particularly in the lower faculty grades, $25,000 would be required next year. This sum was cut to $13,000, a net saving of $12,000.

Three men were lost to the department of philosophy, Dr. Ernest S. Bates, Kerby Miller, and Dr. Fritz Marti. Dr. Marti asked last winter to be released, his resignation to take effect next fall. Dr. Bates and Mr. Miller were not reappointed. In place of these three men, the board authorized the appointment of two new teachers. The net saving in the department of philosophy is approximately $2,000.

The administrative committee says the departments of English, Romance languages, and zoology were instructed to continue next year on budgets that do not exceed their present allowances, the board also releasing several persons in minor faculty positions to make possible internal readjustments without increase in budgets. In the English department, Mildred Hawes, instructor; Frank J. Palmer, assistant; were not re-engaged, and the salary of Professor H. C. Howe was cut $500. Other department economies will be necessary in order that a new head of the English department may be appointed without increasing the budget.

A saving of $5,000 was made in the original estimate of the outlay for a site for the Student Union building. The administrative committee declares that the allowance made will provide a site entirely suitable for the union building, even though the original plan to purchase a half block of property adjoining the campus had to be curtailed.

The University officials expect to make a saving on the summer session of next year, as student fees were raised from $12.50 to $15. A saving of $2,500 was also reported in equipment of the new Science building.

Other expenses, which it was believed would have to be budgeted
