Varsity Runners for Annual Coast Conference Meet Chosen By Cinder Coach

TEAM LEAVES THURSDAY

Proctor Flannagan Placed As Winner in Broad Jump; May Set New Record

By Web Jones

Fourteen varsity track men were selected yesterday evening by Bill Hayward, coach, to make the trip to Seattle for the annual Pacific Coast Conference meet. The team leaves Thursday afternoon for the trip north in order to arrive in Seattle in time for a light workout and if the qualifying heats are run off, to compete in them.

The usual custom, however, is for the coaches to prune down the squad themselves and thereby eliminate the qualifying heats.

The men making the trip: Jerry Extra, 100 and 220; I. Westerman, 100 and 220; Jim Kinney, 440 and relay; Joe Price, 440 and relay; Fred Gerke, half mile; Henry Tetz, mile; Tom Holder, two mile; Walt Kelsey, high hurdles and low hurdles; Roland Eby, high jump; Chick Rosenberg, javelin, pole vault, and broad jump; Proc Flannagan, broad jump; Don Cash, relay; Paul Ager, relay and Francis Cleaver, high hurdles and low hurdles.

Records Doomed to Fall

Among the seven Pacific Coast colleges entered in the meet from five different states there will be entered, some of the finest weight men ever turned out on the coast. Records are doomed to fall in all weight events. In view of these facts, Coach Hayward decided not to enter men in either the shot or the discus. Therefore the Oregon team will be lacking in these two events.

The strong team of the meet promises to be the Stanford fourteen-man team which has more potential record breakers in its lineup than any of the other colleges. But there is no denying the fact that there are record breakers on the other teams. The caliber of the meet promises to be high. Men have been cracking near record marks all season and this is the time when they are all gathered together to fight it out.

Stanford Figured to Win

The Oregon team is going to have its finger in the pie. George M. Varnell, sports expert on the Seattle Times, placed the Oregon team as winning 14 points in the conference meet. He places Stanford as the winner with 49 1/2 points and the other colleges on down the line.

He places Proc Flannagan as the winner in the broad jump and characterizes him as "Flannagan, the great broad jumper from Ore." (Continued on page four)

Ice Cream Bars Will Be Sold By Forensic Group

Ice cream bars will be sold on the campus Thursday by Zeta Kappa Psi, women's forensic organization. The sale is an annual event and the proceeds help defray the expenses of entertaining visiting debate teams.

Headquarters for the distribution of these chocolate bars will be around the library and near the Woman's building. Zero hour is set for 11 o'clock when the girls will storm the ranks of the assembly-bound crowd. The bars will sell for ten cents and are guaranteed to give necessary coolness during the assembly hour.

ART SCHOOL TO HOLD TERM JURY DAY TODAY

Dance Drama to Be Included As Part of Program

Jury Day, which will be held today in the department of art and architecture, will wind up with the Dance Drama to be held in the Woman's building this evening. The costumes, scenery and accessories for the Drama are the work of students and faculty of the art department, and so will be included in the exhibition.

Examples of student work in the various departments will be on display as usual, but there will be no competitive judging this term. The products will be viewed and discussed by the jurors, and individual conference groups for the students will be held by visiting architects during the day. At 2:15 Miss Bertha Stewart, who is an interior decorator of Portland, will speak to the students on "The Advantages of a Decorator in Handling Budgets, Clients and Materials."

The ladies of the Wednesday morning art class of Portland will be guests of the art department for the day. These ladies have been making an intensive study of all phases of art, and will visit the University to make a special study of the work of the students. At four o'clock they will be entertained at a tea in the Murray Warner oriental collection, and at six the faculty of the allied arts and architecture department will give a dinner for them at the Anchorage. They will also attend the Dance Drama this evening.

SPANISH CLUB WILL HOLD LAST MEETING TONIGHT

El Cirilano Castellano will hold its last session this year at the Bungalow tonight, beginning at 7:15. The Burton orchestra has been engaged for the musical selections, and Miss Italia Dallera, instructor in the Romance language department, will give the lecture. Refreshments will be served. All students of Spanish are invited. An admission charge of five cents will be made.

RED CROSS TEST WILL BE TODAY

Seventeen Signed to Take Life Saving Examination For Membership in Corps

SUMMER SESSION PLAN

Swimming Instruction Will Be Given At Seaside For Period of One Week

Old clothes will be in order today for the aspirants who are signed to take the final test before becoming eligible for membership in the local corps of the American Red Cross life saving corps. This was the order issued by Rudolph Fahl, swimming coach and lifesaving instructor.

Examinations will start at 4 o'clock and will end at 5. During the same hours the examination will be repeated the following day. This will give the large number of aspirants an equal chance to go through the necessary details to become members.

A man taking this test even though he does pass it cannot become a member of the corps unless he makes a showing which the board of examiners think verify his ability to save lives in case of emergencies or otherwise. The main purpose of these tests is to turn out men who will know what to do in the pinches. Also, it is the desire of the men in charge to interest non-swimmers on the campus and put them on a basis whereby they will be able to care for themselves if occasion arises.

Three Examiners Present
The board of examiners for these tests will be composed of Rudolph Fahl, Webster and Hoblitt. These men will be present throughout the allotted time and will judge the aspirants.

This will be the last test given this year and the following students have signified their intention of taking advantage of it: Donald W. Woodward, Adrain French, Arlington Crumb, Ted Hendry, Dwight Hedges, Edward Sommer, Lee M. Brown, Carvel Nelson, T. Graham, Bachman, Swigart, R. Henagin, Don Adams, R. Gledhill, Merlin Swarthout, George Dodds, and Fred Stevens.

Five men are scheduled to help the examiners test the ability of the aspirants, they will be: Perry Davis, Oscar Richards, Van Atta, Yaden and E. Conway.

Instruction Planned
Plans have been made for a summer session of intensive instruction in life saving, swimming, camp protection and first aid and will be (Continued on page four)

GRADUATES WILL HEAR REVEREND MATTHEWS

Frank B. Matthews, pastor of the University Baptist Church at Seattle, has accepted the invitation of the University to deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the graduating exercises of the class of 1925, June 14. Rev. Matthews is a graduate of the University of Oregon and will also attend the exercises as a representative of the class of '95.

In securing Reverend Matthews for the graduating exercises the University was fortunate in obtaining a pastor who is familiar with students and student life. He is head of a congregation, near the University of Washington, which contains a large number of college students and he has two sons studying in the University of Washington at the present time.

Reverend Matthews was very prominent while on the Oregon campus, having been captain of the varsity football team in his senior year and president of the campus Y. M. C. A. He has been pastor of the University Baptist Church in Seattle since 1919 and previously served for ten years in the pulpit of the First Baptist Church of Redlands, Cal. He also worked among the army camps in California during 1918 as a lecturer.

Five Column Paper To Be Published By Summer Students

"The Summer Sun," official student organ of the summer schools for both the campus and the Portland sessions, will appear in the summer schools again this summer, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dean Alfred Powers, acting head of the extension division.

Rising once a week, "The Sun" will be turned out by the classes in journalism in both sessions. It has been described as a small five column publication, containing no advertising, and reflecting the spirit and tone of the summer schools perfectly. Professor Ralph Casey's classes on the campus and Professor Alfred Power's classes in journalism in the Portland center will turn out the publication.

BISHOP SUMNER BACK FOR ANNUAL ADDRESS

Border Lines Chosen Topic For Assembly Talk

Bishop Walter T. Sumner, assembly speaker for Thursday, has chosen "Border Lines" as his subject. Evidently he does not expect a large attendance Thursday as he said he could not blame the students, who are lectured to every day, for not wishing to attend assemblies on such lovely days as we are now having.

"I can't blame them," said the Bishop, "I don't believe I would attend myself."

"A great and admirable change in the buildings on the campus has taken place in the last 11 years," said the Bishop, who is here for his eleventh annual visit. "The very fabric of the buildings is improved," he said, "but that might be expected under the able leadership of President Campbell and the regents."

"I have been much impressed," he said, "by the progress in the high standard of scholarship attained. It has been much elevated during the last 10 years."

"In my talk with President Campbell yesterday," said Bishop Sumner, "he stressed the point that he has been greatly gratified that the student body has come to see not only the practical value of art and the beautiful but its moral and spiritual effect on the life of the individual. Inventions and research work of scientists are producing so many labor saving devices that even now, and in the future to a still greater extent, masses of people will have more leisure which will afford an opportunity for the study and expression of the beautiful in life. This means an elevation of moral and spiritual standards of living."

"I have great confidence in the future of the University," said the Bishop, "and I base it upon the fine spirit of loyalty continually exhibited by graduate and undergraduate bodies. While only on the campus once or twice a year, I am in touch with it through the press and friends and I know that never does an appeal go forth looking to the welfare of the University but that it is immediately and successfully met. No state in the Union has greater reason to be proud of its University and its student body than Oregon."

OLD LIBRARY RESERVE ROOM TO BE USED AS STUDY HALL

From seven to ten o'clock in the evenings, the old reserve room of the library will be open as a study hall during this week and next week. Those students who are not using reserve books are requested not to use the new reserve room as a study hall in the evenings as all available desk space is needed for those who do use books on the reserve shelves.

JUNIORS ATTENTION!

It is absolutely essential that members of the junior class who expect to graduate next year file degree cards at the registrar's office immediately. Those who do so will receive, during the summer, information concerning their deficiencies, if they have any, and what they must do in order to graduate.

CLASS ELECTIONS WILL BE TODAY

MEMBERS FOR ALUMNI COUNCIL NOMINATED

June 'Old Oregon' Contains Election Ballot

Thirteen members of the Alumni Association have been nominated for the alumni council, five of whom will be elected this June. The council is composed of nine members, each holding office for two years. Elections for five members are held every two years with four new members entering the year between. The council meets with the president, vice-president and secretary of the Alumni Association twice a year to decide matters of policies and alumni activities.

The June "Old Oregon" will contain ballot for this election. The ballot is to be cut out and returned to the alumni office with the annual dues of $2.00. Life members of the association need to send just their ballot. A small picture of each nominee will be printed in the magazine.

The retiring members of the council are: K. K. Kubli, '93; James H. Gilbert, '03; Mary Watson Barnes, '09; James S. Johns, '12; Nicholas Jauregui, '17. The four members who will serve for another year are: Margaret Barnard Goodall, '04; Earl Kilpatrick, '09; Dorothy Duniway, '20; Herald White, '20.

F. H. Young, '14, of Portland, Mrs. Mary McAlister Gamber, '00, and Jeannette Calkins, '18, both of Eugene, are president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the Alumni Association. Those nominated for the council, by a committee appointed by Mr. Young, are: J. C. Veazie, '91, Portland; Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris (Jennie Beatie Harris), '96, Eugene; Clarence Keene, '96, Silverton; Homer Angell, '00, Portland; Walter Whittlesey, '01, Princeton, New Jersey; Mrs. Dick Hathaway (Ella Dobie Hathaway), '06, Portland; Harold Bean, '12, Portland; Andrew Collier, '13, Klamath Falls; Barbara Booth, '14, Eugene; Mrs. Leonard Jordan (Grace Edgington Jordan), '16, Portland; Jennie Higgins, '17, Portland; A. C. Hampton, '18, La Grande; John MacGregor, '23, Eugene.

VARSIITY BALL SQUAD FARES ILL ON JOURNEY

Unable to gain the breaks, the varsity ball team did not fare so well on the northern baseball trip, dropping three out of four contests. Against the Whitman nine, the Lemon Yellow team broke through with a 5 to 2 win. Washington, Idaho and Washington State however, were victorious in their tilts against Oregon.

The day that spelled defeat for the varsity was last Friday. The team arrived at Pullman on Thursday and a drizzling rain made the playing of the scheduled tilt impossible. Therefore on Friday, Oregon played Washington State and then journeyed over to Moscow and on the same afternoon, met the Idaho nine.

The scores of the games played on their northern jaunt were as follows: Washington, 10, Oregon 5; Washington State, 4, Oregon 0; Idaho, 9, Oregon, 5; Oregon 5, Whitman, 2.

This week-end marks the close of the varsity baseball schedule. On Friday, Oregon meets the Aggies at Corvallis, while on Saturday the two teams meet here. The Friday contest, is being played as the result of the postponed game on May 16. This will complete the Oregon schedule.

IDAHO PEOPLE ARRIVE FOR SUMMER SESSION

The first arrivals on the campus for the summer school session this year are Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Shambaugh of Parma, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Shambaugh, who have been teaching at Parma for the past year, finished their year's work May 15, and left immediately. Mr. Shambaugh is principal of the Parma high school and Mrs. Shambaugh is an instructor.

They intend to begin their work immediately and not wait for the summer session to begin. Mr. Shambaugh is working towards his master's degree in education and history and Mrs. Shambaugh is working toward her bachelor's degree.

LAWYERS WIN HECTIC CONTEST; CLAIM CAMPUS CHAMPIONSHIP

By Dick Godfrey
A galaxy of hits, an unaccountable number of boots, spontaneous umpire decisions and antelope-like base stealing featured the lawyer-physical education baseball contest held on cemetery ridge diamond yesterday. The lawyers broke a nine all tie in the last of the sixth and gathered in enough runs to completely hush the champion cries of the education aggregation.

The breaks were about even and the lead in scoring changed with each inning. Then the lawyer ball tossers took things into their own hands and knocked in, garnered, collected, counted and were given enough runs to put the game on ice. All this happened in the last of the famous sixth. In the first of the seventh the physical specimens were so dumfounded and scared that they failed to even garner one infield hit. Several sacrifice hits were placed but no one was on the bags.

Talk about big league material—the way Mautz hit in the

POLLS TO OPEN IN VILLARD HALL

Time for Casting Votes Set From 12:30 to 3 O'clock This Afternoon

CHAIRMAN HAVE CHARGE

Senior, junior and sophomore class elections will take place today. The polls will be open from 12:30 o'clock to 3 p. m. in Villard hall, where each class will have a separate table at which the votes will be cast. Class spirit is needed to make this election a success, in the opinion of the class presidents. To make this election the biggest in history, they continued, can only be accomplished by every man and woman casting his or her vote today.

With the exception of two positions all the offices are contested. This gives the class members a fine opportunity to vote for the most representative members of their class.

Polls Open 12:30 to 3 p. m.
The polls are open only from 12:30 to 3 p. m. and not from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. as were the polls for the A. S. U. O. election held recently. The class executives for this year are exceedingly anxious that class members note the short period at which the polls are open, so that they will be sure and cast their votes.

Class Chairmen Named

LAST EXTENSION LECTURE TO BE BROADCAST FRIDAY

"Ancient and Prehistoric Oregon" is the title of the radio lecture to be broadcast Friday evening at 8 o'clock by Dr. E. T. Hodge, professor of geology from station KGW of the Morning Oregonian.

STUFFED CHICKENS ARE TAKEN FOR LIVE BIRDS BY WORKMEN

Three hens, which arrived at the University depot last Saturday, caused a great deal of trouble and worry for everyone concerned in caring for them. These chickens, for the zoology department, were quite dead and even mounted on small sticks, but no one seemed to realize that they were not alive.

First, the man in charge at the University depot called up L. H. Johnson, the comptroller. "There are three live chickens here in a crate for the zoology department," he said. Mr. Johnson came over to see the chickens, and fearing they were not being properly cared for, insisted that the watchman should feed them at once.

Next the mail carrier went to look at the latest arrivals. They were standing in unruffled calmness in the midst of their noisy surroundings. "They looked a little too quiet, I thought," he said, "so I walked up closer and saw that they were not alive."

Then a very brave member of the campus workmen entered the room where the chickens were. He stuck his finger in the crate, and even touched one of their bills. But the hen didn't bite. He tried again, and then concluded the chickens were not alive.

P. G. Bradway, employed on the campus, was the last and most badly fooled victim. Perceiving that no one had watered the fowls, and being a very tender-hearted fellow, he resolved to see that those hens weren't thirsty any longer. He filled a dish with water, and advanced cautiously to the crate, holding out the water. "Drink, chickie, drink!" he begged, but the hens remained motionless, even though he insisted. Several of the men who were watching him couldn't keep still any longer, and he found out that he was watering dead birds.

The chickens have been taken over to the zoology department, but Mr. Bradway is still distributing cigars to all his fellow workers, as he feels he owes everyone a treat for being so badly fooled.
