

PLEDGING SHOWS SOME INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

Kappa Kappa Gamma Leads Sororities With Total of Nineteen New Members

Phi Delta Theta Takes in Largest Number of Men During Freshman Week

A total of 369 students, 184 men and 185 women, pledged to the 33 fraternities and sororities on the Oregon campus during rush week. This marks an increase of 54 over last year's number, when 315 persons, 155 men and 160 women pledged.

Pledging started Thursday for men and extended over a period of three days. Sorority pledging took place Saturday night, following freshman week, which was spent in active rushing. Kappa Kappa Gamma leads the sororities with 19 pledges, Delta Gamma and Alpha Xi Delta each have 16, and Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi and Chi Omega each have 15. Of the fraternities, Phi Delta Theta leads with 20 new members.

Sorority Pledges Given
The list of sorority pledges follows:

Alpha Gamma Delta—Charlene Heaston and Elaine Crawford, Portland; Isabel Johnson, Fossil; Lea Alpha Chi Omega—Doris Gillilan, Milwaukie; Edith Fenwick, Oak

Books Taken Out of Condon Hall; Congestion Less

To relieve congestion in Condon hall where the new reserve for library books has been established, books on history and English, including public speaking, dramatics, and debating, have been moved back into the library building. The volumes on business administration are now housed in the Commerce building, the English and history in the library building, and the remainder of reserve books in Condon Hall.

DEAN SHELDON TO ADDRESS ASSEMBLY

Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, chairman of the University's executive committee, will present the address of welcome at the first academic assembly of the term to take place tomorrow in the Woman's building at 11 o'clock, the regular scheduled assembly hour. Walter Malcolm, president of the Associated Students, will preside and make the opening address of welcome to new students of the student body.

Mr. Malcolm, in his talk, will give a general outline of the policies of this year's administration bringing out definite and tentative plans for the year.

John Stark Evans, associate dean of the school of music has arranged the musical program for the assembly which will include special arranged numbers.

ARTS BUILDING FUND TO PROFIT BY EXPOSITION

Portland Organizations Join in Making Preparations for Conducting Bazaar

Plans Formed to Dedicate First Unit of Structure to Prince L. Campbell

Plans for the All-Oregon 1925 exposition to be held at the municipal auditorium, Portland, October 5 to 10, for the benefit of the proposed state fine arts building at the University of Oregon, are almost completed approximately 300 civic clubs and organizations are cooperating in making preparations for the affair.

The purpose of the exposition is to exploit Oregon products and manufactured goods and promote the cause of art in the state, according to Roy T. Bishop, president of the board of directors. Proceeds from the exhibits will be used toward construction of the first unit of the fine arts building, which is to be dedicated to the late President P. L. Campbell.

Two hundred dollars in cash prizes are being offered for the best essays written by high school and grade school students in the Prize Essay Contest conducted by the All-Oregon 1925 exposition committee, as a part of the statewide campaign. The awards for the high and elementary

Men's Glee Club Tryouts to Begin Monday Afternoon

Tryouts for the Men's Glee Club will begin Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the School of Music under the direction of John Stark Evans. All men in the university who are interested in this activity are urged to attend the tryouts. There are many vacancies to fill.

The glee club work this year will be more interesting than ever, according to Mr. Evans. There will be individual club work as well as combined work with the girls club. A new feature of the work this year will be the introduction of eight part singing. Several trips are being planned this year for both clubs.

NEW OPTION OFFERED FOR ENGLISH MAJORS

To stimulate the appreciation and criticism of literature, an option of general literature is being offered this fall for the first time to majors in the department of English. The introduction of the new option and several changes and additions to the personnel of the faculty mark the most important alteration in the department this term.

In the general literature section there are three courses; Introduction to Literature; Literature of the Ancient World, and Literature of the Modern World. These three courses are taught by Professor R. H. Ernst. Students choosing the general literature option will be required to pass a comprehensive examination covering the work at the close of their senior year.

The English course known previously as Outlines has been renamed Survey Course in English Literature.

TWENTY-NINE NEW MEMBERS JOIN FACULTY

Almost All Departments Are Represented in List of the Additional Instructors

S. Smith and W. Maddox, Rhodes Scholars, Come to Teach in University

Twenty-nine instructors were added to the faculty of the University during the past few months and took up their new duties at the beginning of the fall term. These additions bring to the campus one of the most interesting groups of instructors in recent years. Nearly every department is represented in the list of new members.

Numbered among the newcomers are two Rhodes scholars, S. Stephenson Smith, assistant professor in the English department, a graduate of Reed College, Portland, and William P. Maddox, Rhodes scholar from Maryland and instructor in political science.

Oregon Graduates Return
Five Oregon graduates have come back to their alma mater in the capacity of full time professors or assistants.

Some of the more important changes in the staff include change of the head of the Romance Language department with Dr. Ray Preston Bowen, formerly associate professor of French.

Appointed Chairman of Annual Reunion

James Leake

Y. M. C. A. WELCOMES MANY NEW STUDENTS

One of the busiest places on the campus during the last week or two has been the Y. M. C. A. hut. Mr. Henry W. Davis, director, and Mrs. C. R. Donnelly have been on the job since the first of September, getting things ready for the opening of the University.

Mrs. Donnelly assisted the Dean of Women in securing and approving the list of rooms for the use of entering students. Mrs. Donnelly has also been busy lining up jobs for the men who must, either altogether or in part, work their way through school.

Most of the members of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet returned early in order to be present at a "Setting Up" Conference, which was held at "Horizons," on College Crest, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis. Here, plans were made for the work of the fall months. This cabinet will meet each Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Hut.

JAMES LEAKE MADE CHAIRMAN OF HOMECOMING

Directorate and Committee Heads to be Announced Within Next Few Days

O. A. C. Game Will be Outstanding Feature of the Annual Alumna Reunion

Homecoming, the outstanding event of the fall term, will be under the supervision of Jim Leake, who has been appointed general chairman for the gala week-end by Walter Malcolm, student body president. One of the features of the celebration will be the outstanding grid clash of the year, Oregon vs O. A. C.

Besides the big game, Leake is hard at work planning many new features and means of entertaining the grads that will be here during the week-end.

He is organizing a committee and directorate which will be announced in the near future.

From present indications, a record attendance of alumni is expected at the football game, rallies, bonfire, dances and other features attendant with the annual celebration.

One of the factors that will do much to insure the success of the homecoming week-end, is the building of a new grandstand and the
