EMERALD DRIVE FOR CIRCULATION TO START TODAY

James Manning Appoints Students From Houses To Canvas Campus

Purpose of Drive To Urge Sending Publication To Parents and Friends

Today starts the biggest circulation drive in the Emerald history, representatives of all the living organizations on the campus will set out to canvass every student in the University in an endeavor to increase the student daily's circulation from 3,600 to 4,000 or more.

Frank Loggan, business manager, and James Manning circulation manager, have made the preparatory arrangements; and all that remains is for the representatives to gain the consent of the students to have copies mailed home and obtain from them the necessary student subscription rate.

Circulation Grows Yearly
Every year the Oregon Daily Emerald has increased in size and circulation until last year it reached the highest point in the total of 3600 subscribers. This number included the copies distributed to members of the student body who each receive a subscription upon payment of registration fees.

The purpose of the drive which starts today is to give all students an opportunity to send the Emerald to their parents, who are vitally interested in the student activities covered in each issue.

"We had 3600 subscribers on the list last year," said Frank Loggan yesterday, and "this year we want 4,100." Every effort is to be made to get the additional 500 subscribers.

Subscribers Prices Listed
Prices of subscription are seventy-five cents for one term and two dollars and twenty-five cents a year. "The Emerald," said James Manning yesterday, "is the most vital organ of student activities. It touches all phases of University life. Our parents and friends are all interested in our University and our activities here. The circulation department sees that the Emerald is delivered promptly every day to the parents or friends for whom we subscribe. Students seldom find time to do this themselves, even though they intend to. I believe the drive starting today will be the biggest success the Emerald has had."

Subscriptions may be secured any time at the manager's office as well as through the designated representatives. The office was just recently moved to the old dispensary office in the east end of Friendly hall.

Representatives Named
Assisting James Manning, circulation manager in conducting the drive are Burton Nelson and the following representatives: Men's (Continued on page four)

TEAMS TO ORGANIZE FOR NET TOURNAMENT

For the first time in the history of the University, a fall tennis tournament will be held on the University courts. According to E. R. Abercrombie, varsity and freshman tennis coach, and who will be in charge of the tournament, the purpose of the tournament is to find likely candidates for this year's varsity and freshman net teams.

All aspirants for positions on the varsity and freshman tennis teams and those just interested in tennis are to sign up on the bulletin board in the men's gymnasium. Those signing are requested to leave a copy of their class schedule so that officials will know when to schedule their matches.

Entry in the fall tournament closes Saturday noon and the schedule will be arranged Saturday afternoon. Actual playing of the tournament will begin next Monday. The tournament is to be on the line of an elimination, giving the new coach an insight on this year's prospects.

Changes on Campus Begun in Summer Near Completion

Many improvements and changes were made on the campus during the past vacation and others are still underway. Construction of the University Press building was started, changes were made in the Chemistry building and in the "Shack," and several of the old walks were paved.

The new Press building in the rear of the Household Arts building is a one-story concrete structure 60 feet wide and 120 feet long. Upon its completion the printing equipment of the University will be moved to the new building and the old one will be occupied by the Chemistry department buildings on grounds, left vacant.

The "Shack" is undergoing a complete remodeling and is being fitted for the offices of the University Health Service, which is to have its headquarters there.

The position of Superintendent of buildings and grounds, left vacant upon the resignation of H. M. Fisher, is now occupied by A. McKenzie.

EXPERIENCE IN TRADE AID TO ARCHITECTS

Dean Lawrence Advises Broad Foundation

Practical experience in trades such as plumbing and carpentering would be invaluable to an architect, but it is not necessary, according to Ellis F. Lawrence, dean of the school of architecture.

"Our architecture students study the trades in theory," said Dean Lawrence, "but any practical experience would reinforce their knowledge. Architecture is based on something else—the combination of engineering and art."

"An architect must have a knowledge of engineering to compute stresses and strains, the strength of materials," Dean Lawrence continued. "He must be a creative artist in order to express these beautifully."

Many architects have come out of the mechanics class, but their work as a whole is not superior to that of men who have not had the practical experience. Dean Lawrence believes, however, that work in the trades would be of material assistance to an architect, in that it would broaden his foundation.

"With the advancement of the sciences and increase in competition," Dean Lawrence said, "few men can succeed without a thorough foundation. One of the essential characteristics necessary to a successful architect is administrative ability. Because of this, we have a course here that covers architectural administration, in which the workings of the architect's office are discussed."

CLASSES IN FENCING START NEXT MONDAY

Starting on Monday, October 5th, the men of the University will have their second opportunity of learning the art of swordsmanship. Classes under the direction of Mr. Abercrombie, of the men's gymnasium, will be held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday between the hours of 4:45 and 5:30 p. m.

Those desiring to take the course are requested to leave their names with Mr. Scott in the gymnasium office. It is important that all members of the class be present at the first meeting of the class next Monday.

The shortage of equipment last year has been relieved by new supplies and facilities.

FROSH ATTENTION
A bleacher rally will be held today for all freshmen at 4:30 at Hayward field. All freshmen get their "Hello" books and learn Oregon yells and songs. Those desirous of trying out for class yell leader will be given a chance.

FRED MARTIN, Yell King.

SPORTS WRITER OF FAME VIEWS TEAM PRACTICE

Lawrence Perry on National Tour, Passes on Caliber Of Lemon-Yellow Squad

Expert Keenly Interested In Eleven That Trimmed Over Huskies Last Year

By Web Jones

Lawrence Perry, recognized as the leading expert on college football, as well as other sports, in the United States, and noted fiction writer made a visit to the campus Tuesday afternoon for the express purpose of looking over the Oregon varsity football team. Mr. Perry just came from the University of Washington and left late in the evening for Berkeley and Stanford. On his tour of the country the noted sports writer will cover every section and will see every team of any prominence. On the coast the four outstanding teams only were on his schedule—Washington, Oregon, California and Stanford.

Perry Non-committal On "Dope"

Out on Hayward field dressed in a collegiate yellow slicker which looked new, Perry watched the varsity pound the scrub line for a half hour. He chatted with "Doc" Stegeman and with the sports writers. His only comment was that he could tell nothing because of the wet weather and the earliness of the season. He was given a realistic introduction to Oregon mist.

"People out here, sports writers and others, ask me if there is any difference in football between the coast and the east. There is no difference—football is standardized and it is the same here as in the east."

Huskies are "Bohemoths"

"The reason why I wanted to stop off at Oregon was to see the team that beat Washington last year. They certainly have a bunch of 'bohemoths' up there this year. The finest material that I have ever seen."

Lawrence Perry with Herbert Reed are the pioneers in the modern school of sports writing. They were the first writers to write from an analytical point of view for the public. Back in 1898 when Perry graduated from Princeton he began his career writing sports for the New York World.

"I was the first one to write analytically. My first story was the American challenge Yacht race. I had studied yachting while in college and I knew the details. Well, I went out and reported the race from an expert's viewpoint, and I went out and reported the race from an expert's viewpoint, and I told where they should have tackled and they should not. The people liked that sort of stuff for they recognized it was written by an expert."

Studied Before Writing

"After that my reputation grew. I was studiously inclined and while at Princeton I studied football from every angle with all the why's and wherefores, so that I was even surprised myself, at the mass of material I had at hand when I started writing—the technical angles of the game that aided me."

A kindly, middle aged man, with an interest in everything that is going on, Mr. Perry is a fluent talker. He gave the writer enough material for five columns of stuff in the half hour's interview. Not only is he a veritable storehouse of football lore, but he knows what he is talking about. He has covered football in the Middle West and is saving the big eastern teams for the end of his trip. He will reach New York on October 10, where he writes Huddle System Favored

The "hulabalo" about the huddle system impelled the writer to ask the expert his opinion.

"The huddle system is gaining in the East and Middle West. Princeton used it to overwhelm Harvard 35 to 0 last year. Ohio State, one of the strongest teams in the Middle West is using it this year. It is by no means antiquated. And its good points overshadow its bad (Continued on page four)

Eleven from Lake County Are Here On Scholarships

Lakeview Man Wills Educational Fund

Of eighteen students who were elected to the Daly scholarship, eleven chose to attend the University as a means of securing their college training.

This scholarship was created by Bernard Daly, a physician and banker of Lakeview, who at his death, left his entire estate for the creation of a fund whereby a limited number of Lake county students might continue their education at any three of the state institutions of higher education.

At the annual election last June the following students who are now attending the University, were chosen: Carl E. Williams, Mildred Baker, Lawrence Ogle, Mary Johnson, Wellie Jane Blair, Ernest McKinney, Paul Angstead, Berdina Reeder, William Owsley, Jesse Brown, and Maxine McKendree.

FROSH FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGINS

Turnout For Team Practice Passes Hundred Mark

THREE TILTS SCHEDULED Scrimmage For Lighter Squads To Be Arranged

Freshman football practice started in earnest Monday evening with a record turnout of men. Although the rain came down in torrents during the entire practice period, Tuesday evening, 95 men were out for work. Last night, with good weather prevailing, over 100 men reported to head freshman coach, "Spike" Leslie. Every evening a few men drop out of the ranks, but there is a long list waiting for more football equipment.

Squads To Be Formed

According to "Spike" Leslie, the main objective of the coaching staff at the present time is to get the men into condition. The first year men are being taught the fundamentals of the gridiron game. "What we want to do as soon as possible is to get acquainted with the men," said Leslie when questioned on the strength of any individual group. As soon as their abilities are sufficiently known to the coaches, the men will be segregated into squads to train for the respective varsity squads. A player who at first may be placed on the third squad or less in the line always has a chance to make the first squad through regular attendance to practice and hard work.

Three Games Scheduled

There is some possibility that the varsity-freshman scrimmage may start next week. Attempts are being made to arrange games with the high school eleven of Eugene for the lighter freshman squads according to Leslie. Every man going out will have a chance to get into the scrimmage. Assisting Leslie in the lighter freshman squads are Dick Reed, captain of last year's team, George Allison from the University of South Dakota, George Bliss from the University of Oregon, and Pug Toole, local physical education major.

Three games have been scheduled for the yearling team by Jack Benefield, graduate manager. The first game will be against the Chemawa Indians here, Friday, October 16. The second game will be against the University of Washington babes here, Saturday, October 31. The Oregon babes will wind up their season against the Oregon Aggie Rocks at Corvallis on Friday, November 13.

WEEKLY VESPERS WILL BE GIVEN IN AUDITORIUM

Music to Be Under Direction Of John Stark Evans; Glee Clubs to Assist

Meetings To Be Conducted In Accord With Wish Of Late P. L. Campbell

Vesper services will be held every Sunday afternoon this year in the auditorium of the music building from 4:30 to 5:00. Twenty minutes of the service will be devoted to music under the direction of John Stark Evans of the school of music. During the remaining ten minutes prayers and scriptures will be read.

The services will open with an organ recital or prelude. The musical program will be assisted by the glee clubs and the stringed quartet. The Vesper committee, composed of students and members of the faculty, and which has complete charge of the services plans to have the doors closed at 4:30 so that the repose of the meeting and the beauty of the music may be enjoyed and appreciated to the utmost.

President Expresses Wish

In keeping with a wish of the late President P. L. Campbell that there be short religious services on the campus every Sunday for all students as soon as a suitable place for such meetings should be built, the committee plans to make these services non-sectarian. The person who is to read the prayers will also preside. It is planned to have ministers of Eugene and of the state, members of the faculty and noted visitors on the campus read the prayers and scriptures which will be selected by the vesper committee. Townspeople, also, may attend the services.

Visitors To Conduct Services

The following will be asked to conduct the services in the near future: Prof. F. S. Dunn, Prof. Warren D. Smith of the faculty, R. A. Booth and Mrs. E. E. De Cou of Eugene, Rev. A. H. Saunders, Presbyterian church, Rev. E. V. O'Hara, Catholic church, and Rev. E. V. Stivers of the Christian church, all of Eugene and W. T. Sumner of the Episcopal church of Portland.

Last year long vesper services were held once a month in the Methodist church at which time a sermon was delivered. This year only on such occasions as the Saint Cecilia mass and the Seven Last Words services, at which time the crowd could not be accommodated in the music auditorium, will the Methodist church will be used.

METHODIST MINISTERS WILL BE ENTERTAINED

The reception and tea to be given this afternoon in the Woman's building in honor of the Methodist ministers attending the 73rd annual session of the Oregon conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, is also in honor of Methodist students on the campus, according to Professor Frederic S. Dunn, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

"I wish to emphasize the fact," said Professor Dunn yesterday afternoon, "the reception is in honor of the students as well as the ministers and they are all urged to come. It will give them a chance not only to meet prominent Methodist ministers of the state but also to become acquainted with each other."

ASPIRING YELLSMITHS IN DEMAND SATURDAY

Try-outs for the varsity yell staff will be held during the Oregon-Multnomah football game next Saturday afternoon, according to Fred Martin, yell king. No freshmen will be allowed to try out. He especially urges all upper classmen who desire to lead yells to turn in their names to him. All men, including sophomores, who aspire to the position should turn their names into Martin before Saturday.

Women's Houses Must Stay Put For 'Open' Night

The committee for open house will not accept any changes in location of women's organizations for Saturday night from now on, according to an announcement made today by a member of the committee. Schedules will be made out today and delivered to the men's organizations Friday and Saturday.

All women's fraternities will be at their regular addresses except the Gamma Phi Betas, who will be at the Beta Theta Phi fraternity house, as their own residence has not yet been completed and Alpha Chi Omega who will be at the Sigma Nu fraternity houses. Delta Delta Delta will be found at its new home at the corner of University and Nineteenth street, and Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta will be at their new residences at the corner of Fifteenth and Alder streets.

STUDENT DIRECTORY TO BE FINISHED SOON

Names, Telephone Numbers And Addresses Listed

Work has just started on the official 1925-26 student directory which will make its appearance on the campus in about two weeks according to information just received from the registrar's office. Every year it is the custom for the graduate manager to issue this booklet which contains the name, phone number and address of every student and faculty member on the campus.

Some difficulty is being experienced by those who are compiling the information because many students when they registered failed to leave their Eugene address. Those students are requested to report immediately at the registrar's office in the administration building and make the necessary change on the records.

STUDENTS NOMINATED AT UNIVERSITY HIGH

Nomination of officers, in preparation for student body election Friday afternoon, was the principal feature of an assembly held at the University high school yesterday morning.

Wilbur Adams, chosen as president of the high school students will continue in that position this year. Nominees named yesterday follows:

Vice-president, Roy Ford. Katherine Karpenstein, Juanita Kilborn; secretary, Mary Bugar, Robert Allen, Margaret Hurley, Edna Curtis; treasurer, Arthur Rogers, Ernest Powers, Doris Hardy; sergeant-at-arms, Lloyd Gardner, Lyle Grines. Principal R. U. Moore yesterday complete enrollment classification, with the following result: Seventh grade, 37; Eighth grade, 36; Ninth grade, 36; Tenth grade, 31; Eleventh grade, 33; Twelfth grade, 33. Total, 215, including six special students.

FROSH FARADE TOGETHER WITH UNDERCLASS MIX

A long uneven line progressing at a very irregular pace, sometimes walking, sometimes running. The pace will not be the only obstacle in the path of those in the line. Before we depict the other obstacles to those in the line of march, let us find out just who makes up the long uneven line.

Freshmen men of course. There are other men on either sides but they are those despised Sophomores and they are not on the receiving end of the numerous paddles. From the 'O' on Skinkers' Butte the parade wends its weary way through the town, out to the University then on to Hayward field where the worst is yet to come.

The Freshmen, judging from experience of past years think it's a tough old world. Their clothes are rumpled, and covered as are their hands with conspicuous yellow paint. And a certain section of the anatomy is none too comfortable.

STUDENTS MEET FOR ASSEMBLY THIS MORNING

First Gathering of Term To Be Held in Woman's Building at 11 O'clock

Dr. H. D. Sheldon to Speak; Walter Malcolm Will Outline Year's Plans

Bringing together for the first body and faculty of the university, today at 11 o'clock in the Women's building the opening assembly will be held this term the entire student body with Walter Malcolm, president of the Associated Students, presiding.

"The Future of the State University" will be the topic of the address to be made by Dr. H. D. Sheldon, chairman of the University's executive committee and dean of the school of education. Dean Sheldon will also make the address of welcome in behalf of the student body, while Mr. Malcolm will welcome the students and faculty in behalf of the student body. He will also outline the policies and general plans for the ensuing year which are to be carried out by the student administration.

Glee Club To Sing

Rev. Henry Davis, director of United Christian work on the campus will give the invocation. The traditional singing of the "Oregon Pledge Song" by the combined glee clubs and special vocal selections by Mme. McGrew, dramatic soprano and head of the opera department of the school of music will also be parts of the opening program.

John Stark Evans, assistant dean of the school of music has requested all former members of the glee clubs to meet in back of the stage at the opening of the assembly hour.

DEAN WILL ADDRESS EDUCATION MEETING

Meeting tonight in Room 2 of the education building, members of the Educational club of the University will hear a program of varied interest, including as principal features discussions by Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, and David P. Jones, superintendent of the Eugene public schools.

Dr. Sheldon's subject will be "Advanced and Graduate Study in Education." Superintendent Jones, who spent a part of the last summer in Wales, in connection with studies for the degree of doctor of philosophy, will discuss "Education in Wales."

Following these discussions, the remainder of the meeting will be spent by the club members in a social way, with the purpose of welcoming new members into the organization. The Educational club is a departmental organization for senior and graduate majors in the school of education.

Then comes the underclass mix, where Frosh pit their strength against the hated Sophs, in fair combat. Yes, it's a square mix. Who ever heard of a round one?

Comes the crowning of the first year men with green caps, a climax to a full program—a day no Freshman forgets. The Frosh are barred from then on to the end of the year with their green hats. What has the program shown them? Have they grasped the significance of the parade and mix? Do they realize what it means to be a bona-fide student in the University? They should know after Saturday that in organization there is strength and if so they and the University may well be commended.

Freshmen having the stuff that makes good Oregon students will have gained something of the Oregon spirit. That is the object of the whole ceremony. How will they take it?
