

Oregon Daily Emerald Editorial Page

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1925

Editor: Frank H. Loggan; Associate Editor: Wayne Leland; Managing Editor: Phillipa Sherman; Sports Editor: Webster Jones; etc.

The Oregon Daily Emerald, official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, Eugene, issued daily except Sunday and Monday during the college year.

Assistant—Bill Haggerty

Day Editor—Jack O'Meara; Night Editor—Ray Nash

EDITORIAL

Good Sports

The Parade-Mix, last Saturday, was a good show. Everyone enjoyed it—spectators, senior cops, sophomore and frosh.

The most outstanding feature of the Mix was the good sportsmanship of the participants. Several of the events aren't exactly tea parties.

Bring Back the Stetson

A few years ago—before the time of the Sombrero—all Seniors at Oregon wore Stetson hats as a mark of their Seniority.

The Sombrero is dying a well deserved death. It is too large and cumbersome to be easily handled; too expensive to be within the reach of all.

The Stetson, on the other hand, is trim looking; it can be worn to good advantage by most everyone; it is not overly expensive; and can be worn after leaving the University.

Adoption of the Stetsons by the present Senior class would insure the re-establishment of a worthy Oregon custom and would provide a highly desirable means of demarcation between upperclassmen.

Call for Managers

Abroad now is a call for freshman aspirants for managerial positions. A letter sent to each men's living organization urges each group to send at least three frosh to assist in managerial activities.

This is the first move under the new managerial program voted last spring in student body elections and inaugurated for the first time this fall.

For many years the managerial system at Oregon was a mess. Men worked long and industriously to find themselves unwarded, or in positions of little responsibility and still smaller reward.

The fate of the new system lies largely at the door of the graduate manager and the first general manager; in their hands lays the power to put the system on the basis where it belongs.

LETTERS

Down With the Seers

To the Editor:

We have noticed a radical change in the editorial policy. Frankly, I think the editorials have a better effect than heretofore and the movie box is very helpful, especially if you are in a hurry and are trying to find out what the shows are playing.

As for your Seven Seers column, it is neither humorous nor entertaining. If it had a purpose, I must have missed the point entirely.

I appreciate the fact that you are trying to encourage the local talent towards greater things, but it is very sad indeed that in a school of 2700 there is no one who possesses the ability or the sense of humor to put this column over with a punch.

Since space in the Emerald is none too plentiful, I would suggest that you dispose of the column and fill it up with a little more of the spicy kind of poetry we had last year.

S. H. W.

From Beau Brummel

To the Editor:

Judging by the attire of the male portion of our latest "biggest and best" class, the impression seems to be abroad that it is necessary to be suited, staycombed, pressed, shined and powdered to appear on the campus without losing face.

Far be it from me to curb the liberties of dress or to suggest that anyone be required to step beneath his accustomed habits of accoutrement. Perhaps they were all raised that way and can't help it but it does seem as though they might lay aside the best suit once in a while in favor of any old pants and a sweater.

There is really no harm in these joyous and repleatent habiliments but we are merely afraid that someone might get the idea that the whole show is necessary and indispensable to an education.

BEAU BRUMMEL

At the Theatres

REX—Last Day: Bebe Daniels in "The Manicure Girl," a rollicksome comedy of a cute little cutie cutup who just loved to hold hands, and of a breezy young fellow who "nailed" her; it's Bebe's best! Rex comedy, "My Hero," a fearless farce.

THE McDONALD—Last day: Adolph Menjou, Betty Bronson, and Florence Vidor in "Are Parents People," a delicious comedy of marriage and divorce. Comedy, Lloyd Hamilton in "The Movies."

SEVEN SEERS

Advice to Frosh

Associate Members of The Seers

Dick Smith, Tom Murray, Bob Mauns, Miss America, Lee Luders, Will Rogers

In order that our first year men may adapt themselves as readily as possible to college conditions, and may assume with a minimum of delay that "collegiate" air so admired by present-day novelists and high school senior girls, the Seven Seers offer the following suggestions.

Practice at every opportunity the Hi Fly Slump (sometimes locally known as the Slouch), with hands deep in your pockets, head bent between shoulders, and an 18-carat scowl.

The next step is the perfecting of the glad hand. This accomplishment is only attained with a great deal of practice. Extend the hand limply forward, on a line with the solar plexus, and, holding the hand rigid, wave the arm languidly in a circular motion until you have achieved the full floating elbow.

Next proceed to the promiscuous application of what Caesar would have called the Softus Soapas. This is the highest and ultimate attainment of the collegiate air, and freshmen can not be expected to assimilate it without plentiful preparation.

To Edward M. (Marion) Miller, Reputed Editor of the Emerald. Dear Eddie:

It has reached our sensitive ears, Ed, that the first page of your sheet, while far better than the products of your predecessors, is open to criticism. It's strange, my lad, but nevertheless true, and I, as one of the Seven Seers, think it my duty to comb the invincible Emerald and in this quiet way help you about.

I have heard it rumored that you fill your paper with too much news and that the advertising creditors are howling for more room. Why not give them all the room they want, Eddie? Besides, people would much rather know the latest in "Hart, Schaffter and Sparks" clothing than all the football games combined.

If I were you, Ed, I'd just chuck some of those silly old front page stories back into the fire-box again and make over a nice attractive front page with the finest ads you can find in the morgue. Then, besides, people wouldn't have to turn to the inside pages to read Emerald advertisement at all and it seems to me it would be an economic saving as well as working for expediency.

Above all, Ed, don't let any member of your staff refer to wine or women. Be careful about giving them any colorful stuff, for this is primarily a sterling institution and a paper should only reflect the minds of the masses it serves.

Yours for purified publications, OLAF DARNU.

One of the pleasing and quaint little customs of the Oregon campus which have been observed by the Seven Seers is the famous "Oregon Hello." We had heard of such a tradition, but did not believe such a feeling of democracy and good fellowship possible under modern conditions.

Campus Bulletin

Theta Sigma Phi—Important meeting this noon at Anchorage. All members must be present.

Pot and Quill will meet this evening at 7:30 at the Theta house.

Important meeting of the Women's Swimming Club Tuesday—7:15 P. M. at Woman's building. Those who passed life saving test last spring please be present.

The meeting of the Advisory Board of the United Christian Work will be held at a luncheon at 6:10 this evening in the Anchorage.

French Club meeting at Y. W. Bungalow, 7:30 tonight. All French students invited.

Motar Board Dinner at Anchorage, 6 o'clock tonight. All members invited.

Coming Events

Glee Club try-outs, Wednesday 5:00 at school of music auditorium. Zeta Kappa Psi luncheon at College Side Inn Wednesday noon. Sigma Nu Announces the pledging of James Johnson, of Berkeley, Cal.

ANNOUNCEMENT

A meeting of the French Club will be held at the Y. W. bungalow this evening at 7:30 for the purpose of electing officers for the year. During the hour, Dr. Ray Preston Bowen, head of the Romance Language department, will address the members on "The Reaction of an American Professor Teaching at Sorbonne." Miss Olga Jackson will give several selections on the piano.

Send the Emerald Home

MR. HAPPY PARTY. NO DREAMS OF BLISS BRING MORE DELIGHT THAN THIS TO ANY APPETITE!!!

WHAT conjures up a more delightful entertainment than the idea of a nice juicy roast served with the proper vegetables. This market makes such dreams come true.

Watch for Mr. Happy Party

EUGENE PACKING CO. 675 Willamette St. Phone 38

TODAY LAST DAY ADOLPH MENJOU BETTY BRONSON FLORENCE VIDOR The Perfect Cast in

"ARE PARENTS PEOPLE" The Laughing Hit of the Year! COMEDY Lloyd Hamilton in "The Movies" —It's Good!

McDONALD THEATRE. Mates — 20c Evenings — 35c

CITED AS AUTHORITY

Dean Allen and the school of Journalism of the University of Oregon, are recognized as authorities in Europe as is shown by a letter recently received on the campus from the Association of Journalists

Professors at Lisbon, Portugal. The body of men stated they were desirous of starting a school of journalism and would like all the information on the subject that Dean Allen could give them.

Send the Emerald Home

Pictures of Frosh-Sophomore Mix

Also of the OREGON - MULTNOMAH GAME

At Baker Button Kodak Shop

7 West 7th

"SEE YOURSELF IN THE MIX"

TAILORED AT FASHION PARK

For Right Style this Fall Choose

Royal Park

Fashion Park Suits $45

New fall fabrics and splendid tailoring insure your getting excellent value in this Fashion Park assortment.

New Greys and Browns $50

Particular care is evident in the choosing of these fine Gamefeather browns and Channel greys. New shades that are popular and handsome. Tailored in Royal Park models, single and double breasted.

Green-Kilborn

OREGON LIKED IN EAST

Prof. De Cou has received a letter from Mr. Joseph McCready, who entered the University as a senior and who graduated with high honors from Pacific University last year, Scholarship as a major in mathematics last June. Mr. McCready has just entered Harvard University as well thought of here." a first year law student. In his letter to Prof. De Cou, he stated, "I appreciate the training that I received at the University of Oregon, and I find that the school is

Send the Emerald Home

REX

Last Day

BEBE DANIELS

"The MANICURE GIRL" —it's Bebe's best

CLEVER COMEDY TOMORROW — REX NEWS

"Wings of Youth"

Renew Your Subscription Now

Your subscription expires with this issue; renew it now, it will furnish you with the exact news during the year.

Follow Dick Smith's "Wonder" Team Through Emerald Columns

Name Address

1 Year $2.25 2 Terms 1.50 1 Term .75 (Check Amount Enclosed)

Oregon Daily Emerald JAMES MANNING Circulation Manager